BEAUTIFUL CLOTHES.

THE Latest Touch

THAT

TAILORS CAN GIVE THEM

They don't cost too much. They are ready to put on without a wrinkle. You have seen the browns, olives, green mixtures, plaids--the swell colorings of the of the season--we've got them here plenty as pie at a fair. We show the best.

C. T. MUNFORD.

Base Ball.

Philadelphia, June 10--Philadelphia and Chicago played a double header today, and honors were even. The fielding in both games was wretched. In the second Chicago batted Johnson and Fifield freely, and the Phillies did not wake up in hitting until the ninth inning, when they got in three singles and a double. Score. Philadelphia 7; Chicago, 4.

Second game -- Philadelphia, 7; Chicago, 10.

Washington, June 10--Kissenger and Hart, who succeeded him in the third inning, were easy for the Senators today. King pitched well, with the exception of the sixth inning, when two base on balls counted in the score. Score. Washington, 9; St. Louis, 3.

Baltimore, June 10--Cleveland narrowly escaped a shut out today at the hands of the Champions. Viewed from any standpoint, the game was the finest seen here this season. Lightning double plays were the crowning feature of the game. Score. Baltimore, 4; Cleveland, 2.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 10--Pittsburg and Brooklyn played in a drizzle at Eastern Park this afternoon. The grounds were in very poor shape, still the teams managed to furnish a close and exciting struggle. Score. Pittsburg, 2; Brooklyn, 3.

New York-Cincinnati game postponed on account of rain.

Boston-Louisville, postponed; rain.

County Commissioners.

The Board of County Commissioners at the meeting on first Monday issued orders in favor of paupers amounting to $98.50; for general county purposes the aggregate was $747.92; in Swift Creek stock law territory $14.80; in Greenville stock law territory $16.50.

W. M. King was ordered to contract for repairs of Court House.

S. W. Andrews was released for the hire of John Cobb and contract cancelled.

Wester Langley, Aaron Andrews, Mack Statez, J. B. Gay and Edmond Barret, were released from poll tax for 1896.

The tax levy for county purposes was made as follows: Schedules B. and C. the same as the State; ad valorem tax 23 1/2 on the $100.

The committee appointed to assist in settlement with R. W. King, former Sheriff, made report showing that he had settled in full with the county.

This was the warmest day since summer came in.

A Reading Room for Greenville.

Much has been said and written of late, about what Greenville ought to have to quicken its industrial life, and make more vigorous its progressive spirit.

Some have said one thing, others have said another, factories, railroads, &c.

The motive of this is right and no doubt the result will be good. Greenville does need other industrial enterprises just as all cities and towns need them. It needs them to make business better, to make money easier and to give employment to the idle.

There is something, however, Greenville needs more than it needs factories or railroads. Greenville needs a reading room and a library.

Railroads and factories may quicken industry and increase trade, but a reading room and library will do something which these can not do. It will stimulate the young people of Greenville to read. It will furnish an opportunity for the old people to read. It will help to turn the thought of the boys and girls, of the young men and young women, of the old men and old women into a better channel. It will furnish a place for those who have one or two hours each day to spare, to go and improve themselves and feed upon the best thought of the day instead of throwing away the time loafing on the streets. It will build character and develop a higher type of young manhood and young womanhood. It will develop the social and intellectual side of life, a development greatly needed in our town.

Such a place can be fitted up and managed with little cost, comparatively speaking.

Other towns have it and why not Greenville?

It would not be a money making investment, neither are churches and schools, but the results obtained are more valuable than money. A reading room and library would mean more to the real life of Greenville than double the outlay in money.

Bank Times in Billville.

The Billville city council has abolished the church steeples because they were higher than the town hall.

The superior court judge was ten minutes late the other morning, and the city council has decided to discharge him and revise the Code of Georgia.

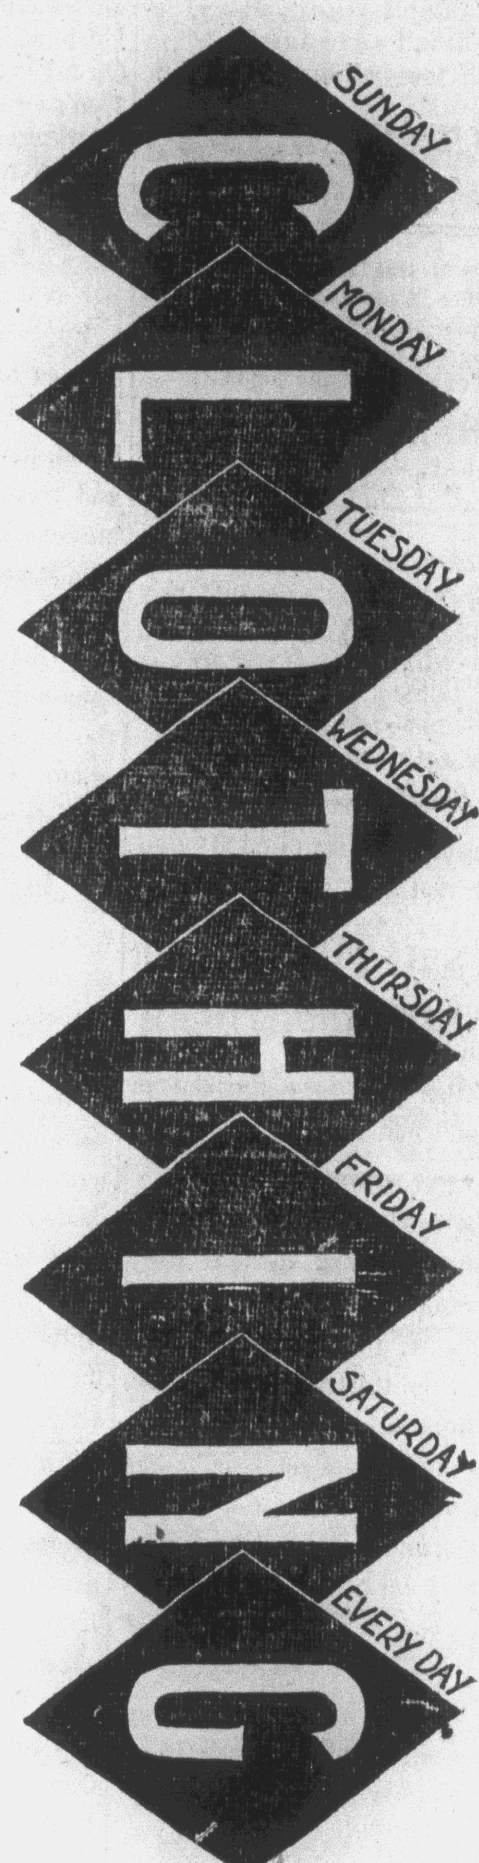

Our efficient city council has also dismissed the board of education, with the statement that the best board of education is a pine shingle vigorously applied.

We don't hardly know what is to become of us. Our esteemed city council has discharged the mayor of Billville and is now thinking of electing a new governor of Georgia.

No services will be held in any of the churches tomorrow. The ministers preach so loud that they actually wake up the city council.

Many of our citizens are emigrating. They are going to establish a new town where they will be allowed to govern themselves.

SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1897.

Lee B. Baker, aged thirty-two years of Elizabeth City, N. C., was instantly killed Wednesday night by a train on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad, at Ridley Park, ten miles from Philadelphia

State Treasurer Worth and Auditor Ayer decide that the sheriff's convention at Morehead City shall be held August 1st, and that all registers of deeds, county commissioners and ex-sheriffs shall be invited to attend, as well as all other persons concerned in the listing and collection of taxes.

It may be somewhat surprising to some who argue that a tobacco town possesses an unhealthy atmosphere for college students, to know that not a single one of the thirteen seniors who graduated from Trinity college Wednesday has the habit of smoking. The class was invited to tea in the city a few days ago, and when cigars were passed around not a single one was taken.—Durham Herald.

Having first thrown open the forest reservations to the pillage of timber thieves for another year, Congress follows that action, up by providing a tariff bounty for the rascals. Of what use is it for the States or the Federal Government to take measures for the preservation of our forests or for reforesting waste lands if at the same time taxes are laid upon the supplies of lumber logs obtained from Canada and other countries?

On account of the large sums of money made by truckers in Eastern Carolina this season the price of land is rapidly advancing, and it will not be many years before our lands will bring something like their actual value. This is the golden spot of the world, but even our own people are only commencing to find out its vast capabilities. When strangers learn of them we may look for a magic like upbuilding of Eastern Carolina.—Rocky Mount Argonaut.

That a woman may show great presence of mind in the face of sudden peril is proved by this story told the other day by a Great Bend, Pa., correspondent of the Philadelphia Record. "Young and pretty Miss Lillie Cosgrove entered the postoffice in this town recently with several other young ladies, when she gave a little start stood still and clasping one of her limbs at a point above the knee looked fixedly straight before her. "Girls, girls," she whispered to her companions, "when those men go out I want to tell you something." The men soon departed, and when she released her grasp upon her skirts, a dead mouse fell upon the floor. She felt the intruder cavorating about her, but she never screamed a scream or tried to mount the table or the letter boxes. She just gripped him, stood quiet and squeezed the life out of that rodent's body."

Buttons Made of Milk.

For a long time buttons, and other articles for which bone is generally used have been made from congealed blood, purchased at the lighter houses and treated with some substance that hardens it to the sufficient consistency. The same articles can be made from milk by a process invented by an Englishman. The milk used is the skim-milk. The process of turning this liquid into buttons, combs, back of hair brushes and similar articles consists of mixing it with a substance, the ingredients of which are a secret of the inventor, and compressing it. At the end of three days the substance is as celluloid and is ready to be cut and shaped in any way the manufacturer wishes. At present a factory in Holland is engaged in fashioning the hardened milk into various articles, buttons being the chief. The buttons made in this peculiar way differ very little in appearance from ordinary bone buttons. They are a creamy white in appearance, but can be colored black or red or any other color by simply mixing the coloring matter with the milk before the hardening process begins. They are said to possess advantages over the bone and celluloid article in being less brittle and less liable to chip. For combs the milk substance has been found to be especially well adapted, as it is smooth and delicate to the touch, and derives from its creamy origin a glossy surface. In the same way it is a good substitute for ivory in billiard and pool balls.

The Smart Aleck.

The smart "Aleck" is a drawback to any community. He is the fellow that knows something about everything. Nobody can do anything just right, in his estimation. He always has an idea. If a new enterprise is started he is ready to make a suggestion. If a building is to be erected he has a plan that will make the edifice look the neatest. If the town in which he lives speaks of making certain improvements he can tell the officials exactly where they should begin, how it ought to be done and what it should cost. He knows how to run a newspaper better than the editor does. He knows what ought to and what ought not to go in the paper. In fact he knows more on this line in an hour than the editor does in a whole day. He is what might be called a "daisy." If the smart "Aleck" happens to be an editor, and there are some among the fraternity, he is sure to give more attention to his neighbor's paper than to his own. He can find more inaccuracies in one addition of a neighbor's paper than could be found in his in a year. He really could run it better than he does his own. The smart "Aleck" is a fellow who does the town no good. There are always a few of these fellows to be found in every community.—Salisbury Sun.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away.

Chinese Do Things Backward.

The Chinese do everything backward. They exactly reverse the usual order of civilization.

Note first that the Chinese compass points to the south instead of the north.

The men carry on dressmaking and the women carry burdens.

The spoken language of China is not written and the written language is not spoken.

Books are read backward, and what we call foot notes are inserted at the top of the page.

The Chinese surname comes first instead of last.

The Chinese shake their own hands instead of the hands of those they greet.

The Chinese dress in white at funerals, and in mourning at weddings, while old women always serve as bridesmaids.

The Chinese launch their vessels sideways and mount their horses from the off side. The Chinese begin dinner with desert, and end with soup and fish.

A Household Necessity.

Cascarets Candy Cathartic, the most wonderful medical discovery of the age, pleasant and refreshing to the taste, acts gently and positively on kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the entire system, dispel colds, cures headache, fever, habitual constipation and biliousness. Please buy and try a box of C. C. C pay 10, 25, 50 cents. Sold and guaranteed to cure by all druggists.

A Word to Women.

If women would only keep themselves as daintily and attractively gowned after marriage as when they were sweethearts they would retain their husbands' attentions and devotions until the end of the chapter. A man likes for his wife to remind him of his sweetheart, and she should strive to make herself just as winsome and charming as possible.

This is the advice of an attractive woman, who, though the mother of a grown daughter, is frequently taken for the young woman's older sister. The mother does not gown herself in an excessively youthful fashion, either, but she is still a beautiful woman, and far from being an old one, and she is as careful of her toilet now as when she was the belle of her maidenhood home.—New York Tribune.

"The famine sufferers" in India are holding on mighty well. The United States has been engaged for over a year in hurrying a couple of ship-loads of grain to them. The grain hasn't been sent yet, nor are the famine sufferers dead. It is now stated that the grain which has been collected here will be sold, and the money instead, sent to India. In view of the famine talk that has been dinged into the ears of the people for a year past, this seems strange. What good will money do a starving people? It is bread they have been crying for, and as bread is not to be had in India, why send them money that they cannot eat? It begins to look like there is something not altogether straight about this "famine sufferer" business.

A chap named Berry has just put in an appearance in the town of Salem, Ill., where he is making things hum and putting money in circulation. Two years ago he was a tramp, and is now rich by property inherited from his parents who died in New York State several years ago, a fact which he but recently learned. The first thing he did after reaching Salem, was to hunt up a bar-keeper who lent him $2 when he passed through the town as a tramp, and give him $2,000. But we wouldn't advise you on the strength of this to give every tramp you see $2.—Wilmington Star.

its Class in the State

W. H. BERNARD

A Michigan woman who discusses the well worn question why girls prefer shop and factory work to domestic service says that the chief objection to the latter is the loss of caste involved. One girl who had tried both means of livelihood is quoted as saying: "I am not one whit better now than I was when I worked as a servant, yet now, when I go out in society, I meet people of refinement and am treated the same as anyone else. I board at a nice place and am often invited to spend the evening among people who would never have given me a second glance if I had remained a servant."

The Fool and His Money.

There is another old saying that "the gods give us everything for toil." Those who are outside of the class of fools ought to ponder this saying. There is no royal road to anything. We get everything by toil. We get it in no other way. The notion that you can drop $100 in a slot and draw out $25 a week profits is so utterly preposterous, so wildly absurd, that it is difficult to think of any man in his right senses being deceived by it. But many are deceived by it. To all to whom this warning may come, we say, "Don't." There is no operation of anything in civilization that can yield such profits. The suggestion that somebody has mysterious information by which he knows of deals and combinations that are making, and so shrewdly buys ahead and then turns around and buys back, and thus catches the market coming and going, is quite a piece with the fantastic notion that profits of 25 per cent a week, or 5 per cent a week, or 300 per cent a year, or 30 per cent a year, can be paid on investment.—Indianapolis News.

"FROM FIRST TO FLOWERS."

California or Mexico?

Both are such desirable objective points for a Winter trip that it's perhaps hard for you to decide where to go.

Let us Help You to a Decision.

A trip via New Orleans and the Southern Pacific to either Mexico or the Pacific Coast is one you will never forget.

It's a Transition from Frost to Flowers.

And the service is so luxurious that people who have tested "Sunset Limited", call it incomparable.

If you are Thinking of going, Write Us.

We have a book entitled "Through Storyland to Sunset Seas," a handsome volume of 205 pages, fully illustrated, which we will send on receipt of 10 cents in stamps to cover postage. We also have a delightful little guide to Mexico, which we will send on receipt of 4 cents to cover cost of mailing.

You Really Ought to Read them Both.

Shall we put you down for a copy? If so, or if you want any special information, it will be cheerfully furnished by addressing,

S. F. B. MORSE,

General Passenger and Ticket Agent,

You may never,
But should you ever?
