Base Ball.

Washington, June 22.—Today's was another slugging game, in which both King and Fifeid were knocked out of the box. German went in at the end of the first after five hits had been made off King. Taylor replaced Fifeid in the tenth. The visitors made a batting rally in the ninth, but in the next inning German did not give them a hit. Score. Washington 12; Philadelphia 11.

Pittsburg, June 22.—Korwan's lack of control and five errors by the visitors gave the game to Pittsburg. Hawley was batted hard, the ten hits netting a total of 22 bases. Score. Pittsburg 7; Chicago 3.

Cincinnati, June 22.—The Reds won today's game easily from the Browns. The latter were unable to hit Rhines. Score. Cincinnati 7; St. Louis 3.

Baltimore, June 22.—The Champions took today's game from the Giants. It was a pitcher's battle throughout, in which Corbett had decidedly the best of the argument. The fielding on both sides was full of snap and fast double plays were the feature. Score. Baltimore 4; New York 3.

Cleveland, June 22.—Peppallau pitched his first full game for the Cleverlands today and was hit hard. The feature of the game was the throwing to bases of Crigar, who caught six men while trying to steal. Score. Cleveland 6; Louisville 14.

Brooklyn, June 22.—After scoring seventeen straight victories, Boston fell down before the Brooklyns at Eastern park this afternoon. It was by no means a model contest, and the Bean Eaters had several chances of winning, but let them slip by. Score. Brooklyn 7; Boston 4.

STATE NEWS.

Mr. William Pulliam, aged 90 years, and Capt. Henry Presnell, aged 93, both citizens of Marion, died Friday morning. They were both carpenters and long-time residents of Marion.

The Charlotte Observer reports a strange case. Monday night a man broke into the house of Mr. R. B. Orr, near Newell, and cut off the hair of two of his daughters.

Miss Charlotte Rice, of Ohio, who was visiting in Asheville, was injured in a runaway accident Saturday and died Sunday morning.

ANOTHER LARGE ADDITION TO THE GREENVILLE MARKET.

J. N. Gorman & Co. Will Enlarge Their Factory About Double Its Present Size.

BY O. L. JOYNER.

Each year since the first warehouse was built in Greenville there have been added improvements which gradually has placed the market on a more solid basis. This year there will be more done to force Greenville ahead than ever before. Nearly all the prize houses that have been built in Greenville, in fact all except one were built by the tobacco warehousemen either directly or indirectly. This year several of the buyers have invested their own means in equipping factories for their own use. This shows very conclusively that these gentlemen have confidence in the future of the market. In a letter to the writer J. N. Gorman & Co. say they will enlarge their factory to about double its present size as to be more accurate we quote their words: "In answer to yours will say we shall add to our factory forty-five feet in width and sixty feet in length three stories making it about as large again as it now is and we will add one of the Philadelphia Textile Co's automatic machines. This machine is one which does not require the tobacco to be hung, but it is fed to it on a belt or apron and when it comes through it on the other end it is dried and reentered ready to be packed in keeping order. The writer will be in your city in the near future and will then start the work as we have already bought the brick for the building."

This sounds like business sure enough. It will be remembered that Messrs J. N. Gorman & Co. were the first tobacco buyers on this market to purchase property here. This factory they bought in 1892, and since that time they have been permanently identified with the market. Mr. P. H. Gorman resident buyer for the firm on this market is now in Europe looking up business for his concern and those who know Pat's capacity for hustling business, with his all around good looks and genial gentle manners are satisfied that he will return profitably repaid for his trip across the seas.

She Cut Bryan's Coat.

"When Mr. Bryan spoke in Lincoln last fall," said Mr. T. G. Marsden, of the Nebraska capital, at the Riggs last night, "he lost a piece of his coat, and I don't believe he knows now how it occurred. At any rate, I have never seen the story in print, and but few people saw the incident. As Mr. Bryan left the platform a great crowd pressed forward to congratulate him on his magnificent speech. In the throng there was a demure little woman who was as eager to reach the candidate's side as any of us.

"She was right in front of me, and I saw a small pair of scissors in her hand. Visions of an attempted assassination floated through my mind, and I was preparing to distinguish myself by saving Mr. Bryan's life. When the little woman was within a foot of Mr. Bryan, whose back was turned, she reached forward like a flash, and seizing the skirt of his coat, but off a bit of the cloth before you could wink your eye. I was astonished I could not speak. She did not pause to shake Mr. Bryan's hand; but pushed her way out of the crowd and disappeared. I have always entertained a high opinion of that little woman on account of her nerve. She doubtless has that piece of cloth yet, and values it highly."—Washington Post.

Faithful Unto Death.

A passenger who arrived here over the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad from Greensboro, tells an interesting story of a strange carrier pigeon that while flying over the plantation of Mr. J. E. McKnight, three miles north of Greensboro, fell to the ground dead. The carrier is believed to be one of two pigeons that were recently sent out from New Orleans to Philadelphia on a wager. When picked up the wanderer was carrying a bright metallic band on one leg and a brass one on the other. On the bright band were the letter "T" and the figures "14,327." On the inside of the other band was the letter "P." The bird was observed about 6 o'clock approaching from a northwardly direction. It came near the residence of Mr. McKnight and began to fly about in a confused manner, apparently exhausted from long and continued flight. The faithful little messenger after some moments then suddenly closed its tired wings and sank down to the ground to rise no more.—Wilmington Messenger.

A Good Suggestion.

While the tariff fiends are at it why don't they put a high duty on imported husbands for American millionaire's daughters. The unrestricted importation of this class of raw material is certainly working a serious hardship to the young manhood of America, and if the Republican party has any regard for our infant industries let it demonstrate the fact now by adding this item to the schedule of taxed imported articles at once.—Durham Sun.

Earthquake Shocks Revives a Body in the Hands of an Undertaker.

An undertaker by name of Bartholomew Flynn, of Watertown, N. Y., tells a startling story of the earthquake shock last week. A middle aged man, whose name is not given, for professional reasons, had been seriously ill for some time, and about 9 o'clock Thursday night he gasped once or twice, and then to all appearances died. Flynn was summoned and laid out the body. He had just finished his work when a rumbling as a heavy wagon over a rough pavement was heard. The house shook and trembled to its foundation, and the windows and doors shook and rattled. This vibration lasted perhaps 20 seconds, and as it died away a tremor passed through the limbs of the supposed corpse, and the man slowly raised himself to a sitting position. He is now alive and is recovering.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke You Late Away.

If you want to quit tobacco using easily and forever, be made well strong, magnetic, full of new life and vigor, take No-To-Bac, the wonder-worker that makes weak men strong. Many gain ten pounds in ten days. Over 400,000 cured. Buy No-To-Bac from your own druggist, who will guarantee a cure. Booklet and sample mailed free. Ad. Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

Full of Woe.

Mr. J. H. Nunnelee, of the Selma Times, having been mentioned for some office in the gift of the people of the State, takes the sound journalistic position that he already holds an office superior to any that can be given him, and that political office is full of woe to its possessor. He says: "We have an ambition to be independent, and of all the servile, cringing, ignoble creatures on earth, is a man who has once held an office, kicked out by the people, and then going around telling about how badly he has been treated. Such a man, having once had his head in the official crib, is incapable of making a living thereafter, and sings his little song of woe until death comes and puts an end to his prating." Mobile Register.

When bilious or constipated, eat a Cascaret, candy cathartic, cure guaranteed 10c, 25c

What It Is.

"It seems terrible," he said.
"What does?" she asked.
"This account by a physician of the way bicycling affected him."
"What does he say?" she inquired.
"He says," he explained, "that after a long ride he experienced paraesthesia in the fourth and fifth fingers, with impaired sensibility, and paresis in the interossei, lumbricales and the adductor pollicis."
"I don't see why it is," she returned in her superior way, "that a man can't say he had that tired feeling without making so much fuss about it."—Chicago Times Herald.

When to Stop Your Paper.

When you are convinced that a paper is dishonest and deceitful, stop it. When convinced that it is unclean, stop it. When it lacks enterprise and fails to give you the news, stop it. But don't stop a paper you believe to be honest, courageous, enterprising and clean simply because its editor has written his own sincere views instead of yours or somebody else's; for if you do, you are putting a premium on insincere journalism and serving notice on an editor that the way to succeed is to write what he thinks will best please his readers instead of what he honestly believes the truth.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Just try a 10c. box of cascariets, the finest liver and bowel regulator ever made.

President McKinley's Letter to Queen Victoria.

LONDON, June 21.—President McKinley has sent the following personal letter to Queen Victoria, which was delivered to her by Mr. Whitelaw Reid, special envoy:

"To Her Majesty, Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India:

"Great and Good Friend: In the name and on behalf of the people of the United States, I present the sincere felicitations upon the sixtieth anniversary of your majesty's accession to the throne of Great Britain.

"I express the sentiments of my fellow citizens in wishing for your people the prolongation of a reign illustrious and marked by advance and science, arts and popular well being. On behalf of my countrymen, I wish particularly to recognize your friendship for the United States and your desire of peace exemplified upon important occasions.

"It is pleasing to acknowledge the debt of gratitude and respect due to your personal virtues. May your life be prolonged and peace, honor and prosperity bless the people over whom you have been called to rule. May liberty flourish throughout your empire, under your just and equal laws and your government continue strong in the affections of all who live under it.

"And I pray God to have your majesty in His holy keeping
Your good friend,
WILLIAM McKINLEY.

By the president,
JOHN SHERMAN,
Secretary of State.
Done at Washington this 28th day of May, A. D., 1897."

A Household Necessity.

Cascarets Candy Cathartic, the most wonderful medical discovery of the age, pleasant and refreshing to the taste, acts gently and positively on kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the entire system, dispels colds, cures headache, fever, habitual constipation and biliousness. Please buy and try a box of C. C. C. pay 10, 25, 50 cents. Sold and guaranteed to cure by all druggists.

To Be Despised.

The man who will so far forget that he is a man as to speak a slanderous word and stab with intendo, or with a shrug of the shoulders, or a toss of the head, carries with him, and about him, the odor of sulphur.

He who wilfully lies about his fellow man and causes strife between friends is next of kin to his Satanic Majesty.

A man who tells a falsehood about a woman, with the intention of injuring her reputation, in order that he may carry his point, will find that even in the deepest hell he will be despised, and the imps of darkness themselves will shun him, and Satan will be so afraid of him that he will chain him fast in the darkest corner of his illuminated realm and place a guard about him with pronged forks to prevent his escape.—Durham Sun.

When bilious or constipated, eat a Cascaret, candy cathartic, cure constipation.

The New York Times publishes the replies of over twenty Clearing House presidents in various parts of the country to the inquiry: "Do you, in your business relations, see evidences of the coming of good times?" In the main the answers are extremely hopeful and encouraging. There is undoubtedly increased confidence in the future, and a slow but substantial improvement. People have been practicing economy. This helps. There is a prospect of fine crops. That also is a breeder and harbinger of good times.—Philadelphia Record.

W. H. BERNARD

To Sleep Well Eat Before Retiring.

A light supper just before retiring is usually of advantage. Baby and brute animals are usually somnolent when their stomachs are well supplied with food, the activity of the stomach withdrawing the excess of blood from the brain, where it is not needed during sleep. On the other hand, people who are very hungry usually find it very difficult to sleep. And then a habit of sleep at a regulated time and during proper hours should be cultivated in case this habit has been lost. In accomplishing this the attainment of a favorable state of mind is of great importance. Sleep cannot be enforced by a direct exercise of the will.

The very effort of the will to command sleep is enough to render its attainment nugatory. The mental state to be encouraged is one of quiescence, one of indifference, a feeling that the recumbent posture is a proper one for rest, and that if the thoughts are disposed to continue active they may be safely allowed to take their course without any effort toward control. This state of mind and thought is next akin to dreams, and dreaming is next to sound sleep.—Medical Record

From the number of towns in the State that have voted for local prohibition recently it would seem that the temperance sentiment is growing in North Carolina. There are many who question the wisdom of prohibition in small towns who would vote for it on a broader scale. So after all the number of places that vote for local prohibition do not give a good index to the temperance sentiment in the State, for it is greater and stronger than is indicated by local prohibition.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Janin's Advice.

One day a rich but ill-natured man, who made sad havoc of the French language called upon Jules Janin, the famous French critic, and began a tirade upon some trivial matter in execrable French. After listening politely for some time Janin at last replied to his visitor in Latin.

"What do you mean, M. Janin?" demanded the man angrily. "I don't understand you. I can't speak Latin."

"Try, sir; try!" cried the great critic. "You could not speak it worse than you do French."

The Benefits of Exercise.

Piano Maker—How does it happen that in this house the pedal is broken every week?

Servant—Oh, our young lady rides a wheel.—Fliegende Blätter.

Singers' Throats.

Some wise body has been discovering that public singers are freer from throat troubles than any other class of human beings. The reason assigned is the constant exercise of the voice, giving exercise to the muscles of the throat. At which a clever man suggests that the musical and medical profession join hands and substitute glees for gargles, chansonnettes for cauterization, madrigals for mustard plasters and choruses for croton oil. He continues that tenor songs may be prescribed for tonsillitis and ballads for bronchitis. In time, perhaps, a musical medico hospital may be established, with special songs written to suit special cases. Of course this is all very pleasant sounding, but when the neighbors are taken into consideration it is doubtful if the old methods are not to be preferred.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

The week ending Monday, June 21st, was generally very favorable for farm work, especially haying and harvesting, and for the growth of crops, which have improved materially. The weather was very warm and dry up to the 14th, with maximum temperatures above 90° everywhere, and abundant sunshine. Good showers followed, which were extremely beneficial. Some severe local storms occurred. The wheat harvest is about over. Cotton is beginning to bloom in extreme south portions. A good crop of hay has been saved in the past two weeks.

EASTERN DISTRICT.

A very warm week, ending with fine rains. Crops on high land suffered first part of the week from drought, but all were improved by a favorable season after the 17th, and crops are generally clean. Local heavy rains or hail damaged crops over limited areas in Nash, Bladen, Chowan, Camden and Brunswick counties. Cotton is doing very well, though still small. Corn is growing more vigorously; some farmers through hilling it; tobacco slender and inclined to button to early; some leaves have been cured. Peanuts are growing fast. Oats being cut; crop not good generally. Cantaloupes and watermelons blooming. Peaches and pears ripening, but crops very short; June apples very inferior; berries abundant.
