BASE BALL.

Games Played and Standing of Clubs.

Washington, August 20—Two new men, Gettman and Fox, made their appearance on the diamond for Washington today. The first game was lost because of bases on balls and errors. In the second game Swaim pitched a masterly game, while Briggs, in the fourth was pounded for eight hits for a total of sixteen bases. Six double plays were made in the first game. Score. Washington, 2; Chicago, 6.

Second game—Washington, 2; Chicago 1.

Brooklyn, August 20—The Brooklyn had another easy time with the St. Louis Browns today. In the first inning Donohue was hit for four singles, four two baggers and a sacrifice, netting seven earned runs. Southoff, an amateur from Paducah, Ky., then went in a pitch and acquitted himself well. Score. Brooklyn, 12; St. Louis, 7.

Boston, August 20—The Boston batted Killea hard today, played a perfect fielding game and backed up Klobdanz in fine style. Davis was ordered off the field by Umpire O'Day for disputing a decision and Hardner was substituted. Ely did the best work for Pittsburg, while Sugden, Rothfuss, Donovan, Killen and Smith made pretty plays. Score. Boston, 15; Pittsburg, 2.

New York, August 20—Two singles a double and a home run is why "Cy" Seymour gave way to "Lawyer" Sullivan in the fourth inning today. The Louisvilles had made six runs in the meantime, which were enough to win the game. Sullivan was not a puzzle to the Colonels for more than one inning and during the remainder of the game they touched him for twelve hits with a total of thirteen bases. Frazer held the Giants down to five hits up to the ninth inning. Score. New York, 3; Louisville, 9.

Baltimore, August 20—Powell had the Champions guessing from the start to finish today, the result being another shut out for the home players. The contest was marked by sharp fielding, the errors on both sides being excusable. Keeler's magnificent catch of McKean's fly to right field fence was the feature. Score. Baltimore, 0; Cleveland, 5.

Philadelphia, August 20—After dropping twelve straight games, the Phillies broke their losing streak by winning the first contest from Cincinnati this afternoon. The game was marked by constant wrangling during which several of the visitors were fined and Ehret, who succeeded Dwyer in the second inning, was sent to the bench. The Phillies won principally through the bad errors of Cincinnati. Breitenstein had the locals guessing in the second game, until the eighth inning, when they bunched four hits. Fifield was very effective except in the innings in which the Reds made their runs. Score. Philadelphia, 6; Cincinnati, 2.

Second game—Philadelphia, 3; Cincinnati, 4.

STEMMERY COMPLETED.

A Superb Plant For Handling Tobacco.

The mammoth stemmery of Gorman & Co. has been completed, and steam was turned on today for the first time. This factory is fitted with the very latest improved automatic drying machinery, the best invention known to the trade. The machine itself is 90 feet in length, and is so constructed as to do automatically in 40 minutes the work that formerly required many hands several hours to perform. At each end of the machine are huge cinders around which passes a broad wire belt, and all the handling necessary is to place the tobacco in one end of the machine and take it out the other. The belt carries the tobacco entirely through the machine which is divided in different apartments for thoroughly drying, cooling and ordering the tobacco, so that when it comes out it is in perfect condition for packing and shipping.

The factory is occupied by the American Tobacco Company under the efficient management of Mr. J. W. Morgan.

The REFLECTOR congratulates Messrs. Gorman & Co. upon having such an excellent plant. There is not a better equipped one in the State and it will add much to the Greenville market.

GREENVILLE MALE ACADEMY.

Fall Term Begins Monday, September 6th, 1897.

It will be seen from the advertisement that the next session of this school begins on Monday, Sept 6th. Prof. Ragsdale has taught so long and acceptable among us, and has attained even a State wide reputation as a teacher of ability, that it's hardly necessary for us to say anything about this school.

We do not hesitate to say, however, that those having boys who wish a thorough, practical, business education, or who wish to prepare for a college course can have no better opportunities offered them any where than here.

This is a favorable time to put your boys in school and we commend this institution to you when you are considering the question of "Where shall the boy go?" Your patronage helps to make school what the town and county demand that it shall be.

ROCHDALE ITEMS.

ROCHDALE, N. C., Aug. 23, '97.

Cotton has begun to open and the farmers have commenced to prepare their cotton houses and gins.

Much of the fodder pulled last week was damaged by rain, though the rain did more good than injury.

We are sorry of the fact that S. P. Irwin lost a tobacco barn and its contents by fire Thursday morning. The barn was nearly full of tobacco.

C. C. Case was showing us several leaves of very bright tobacco a few days ago and said it was not a good sample of his tobacco. We would like to see some of Mr. Cases' best tobacco.

James Cobb, wife and two little sons, of Ayden, were in our town visiting relatives last week.

Rev. Mr. Wyche preached at Bethlehem Sunday on his regular appointment.

Misses Betie and Mollie Manning, from near Bethel, and Miss Maluna Newell, of Greene, were visiting the family of T. A. Nichols, Sunday.

MONDAY, AUGUST 23, 1897.

The present good crops in Pitt county mean something to the agricultural classes. For several years short crops and low prices have cramped the farmers to such an extent that they have had to deny themselves and their families many things which they would have enjoyed. This crop will not make them easy, but it will aid very materially toward this result. The cramped condition of the agricultural interests generally effects every other, and none probably more than the educational interests. Many a boy and girl have missed an education because father and mother taought they could cut off here first. This is a mistaken idea. The last place a man should begin to stint is in the education of his children. They are growing and their opportunities are fast slipping away, and what you do for them must be done quickly. It is a mistaken idea to try to accumulate property for them to the neglect of their mental training. It will be much better for them to start in life without a penny, fully equipped to make a living, than to start with property and not even an ordinary education. The present conditions in the South imperatively demand that a man shall educate as far as possible his children. If this is not done he will soon find that his own off-spring has fewer opportunities in life than an inferior race by whom he is surrounded. The object of writing this is to suggest to you fathers and mothers in Pitt county that you avail yourself of the opportunity offered by the present good crops and send your children to school. It will soon be time for the schools to begin. There should be a large increase of patronage for the schools of the county. You need not think the time will ever come when all things will be ready for you to spare your boys and girls. You must make some sacrifices if you would give them the opportunities which you owe them. Now is a good time to begin. The best time you have had for five years presents itself. Don't neglect it.

Here is a question we want to refer to the Charlotte Observer, the Statesville Landmark and the Asheville Citizen, as those papers are pretty good at keeping up with wrong words that sometimes find their way in print. The Philadelphia Record of Thursday used the word "attornies" in an editorial, and we would like to know if it is correct.—Greenville REFLECTOR.

Our contemporary does The Landmark too much honor. It is guilty of using wrong words itself and knowing its own weakness it doesn't claim to be an authority nor make a habit of pointing out other folk's errors. However, as we are included in the list we make bold to say that while there may be authority for the word "attornies" we have never seen it and we do not think it a good word. It is likely, however, that in the dim and distant past the plural of attorney was "attornies," just as the plural of money was "monies." Some of the older lawyers yet write the word "monies" in legal instruments but it has nearly fallen into disuse.—Statesville Landmark.

The Charlotte Observer turned the question over to the Gastonia Gazette.

AN ENOCH ARDEN OF TO-DAY.

Three years ago the care and trouble of supporting a wife and four children became too arduous for Patrick Hawley, so informed his wife that he or she would have to get out. Mrs. Hawley, who has done the bulk of the supporting, anyway, promptly took the two girls and went away. Hawley had the two boys committed to an institution, and for two years he roved around the country enjoying himself and never giving a thought to his family. In one way and another Hawley managed to save up a little money while roving about and when he came back here several months ago and got a good job, it occurred to him that he would like to have his wife back again. He searched high and low for her, but never a trace of her or the girls could be find. He advertised in vain, and he made inquiries among her old friends, but all to no purpose. Mrs. Hawley had disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed her up. Then Hawley began to be unhappy. Now that he couldn't find his wife, he was very sure that he was madly in love with her and could never be happy without her. He finally made up his mind that she was dead, and went about his work day by day, looking sad and woe-begone?

It happened about a month ago that a fellow workman, taking pity on Hawley's lonely condition asked him if he wouldn't like to go to a little evening company at the house of a friend of his. The friend was James Patterson, of 440 West Thirty-sixth street and Hawley's friend was sure that Patterson would be glad to see any friend of his. So Hawley went. He was drinking a bumper to the health of the Patterson family when Mrs. Patterson came in.

"Margaret!" gasped Hawley. "Pat!" gasped Mrs. Patterson, as she sank on a lounge in a swoon. When she recovered, Mrs. Patterson, rising up, pointed to the door and bade Hawley begone. Hawley went, completely crushed, while his wife explained things to Patterson.

Now that he knew where his wife was, Hawley couldn't keep away from her. He haunted the Patterson home, and became such a nuisance that Patterson asked the policeman on the beat to keep him away. The policeman warned Hawley, and the latter took care not to be around when the policeman was. On Saturday night Hawley made up his mind to get his wife back at all hazards. He took a revolver and a good jag with him to the Patterson home, entered unbidden, punched Patterson around, and snapped his revolver at his successor's head several times. It didn't go off, because in his haste Hawley had forgotten to load it. Having, however, thus subdued Patterson, Hawley commanded his wife to come with him at once. Mrs. Patterson, or Hawley declined. She told Hawley that Patterson was a decent man and treated her well, and that she would never desert him. Then Hawley attacked her, and her screams brought a policeman to the house. He arrested Hawley and his wife and Patterson. They promised to appear against him in the Jefferson Market Police court yesterday, but didn't and Magistrate Cornell discharged Hawley after warning him to adopt more lawful measures to regain possession of his wife.—N. Y. Sun.

Notes from Trinity.

The outlook for Trinity was never so bright as it is now. Everything is being put in readiness for the opening in September.

The first Woman's Building is going up and will be one of the handsomest Boarding Homes of any Southern College. It will be fitted with all modern improvements, and will accommodate twenty or twenty-five young women.

Among the young ladies who will enter Trinity in September are Miss Elias, daughter of Hon. Kope Elias, and Miss Moore, daughter of Rev. Dr. Moore, of Fayetteville district. Several young women will take advantage of the opportunity offered them at Trinity. This is the greatest opportunity for higher education ever offered our young women.

A large attendance of students is expected.

Joke on The Turkey Too

MINISTER STONED TO DEATH. Rev. H. H. Burgoyne, aged 60 years, a highly respected Methodist minister of Hurlings, Tucker county, W. Va., was murdered a few days ago. Coleman Pitzer a young day laborer, is charged with the deed. He was committed to jail at Parsons, and today made a confession to Sheriff Harper, charging his brother Lewis with the crime. No one saw the murder. Both men were today remanded to jail without bail for the action of the November grand jury. The murder, it seems was most cruel and unprovoked, has thoroughly aroused the community which has not yet recovered from the Eastham-Thompson homicide, which occurred only three miles further south a few months ago, and lynching is freely talked of. The trouble arose from a bill which Coleman Pitzer held against Rev Burgoyne. Last night he asked the preacher to pay it. When the latter said he had not the money, at the same time asking Pitzer to wait a little while longer, he was assailed by the Pitzer with stones. He was badly cut in the neck and head, a furious bombardment being kept up on the old man as he attempted to make his escape. He was at last felled with a large sharp stone, which struck him on the back of the neck, breaking it. Death was instantaneous. The Pitzers are regarded as worthless fellows. Rev. Burgoyne was identified with the community for many years.

This is Butler's Game. Butler's ambition seems to be to advocate some measure that is so very extreme that conservative men will not follow him. He does not appear to want a majority party. He wants a party large enough to hold the balance of power and keep him in the Senate -- a party that he can trade and sell at his will and always be able to deliver the goods. --Shelby Star

A superstitious subscriber, who found a spider in his paper, wants to know if it is to be considered a bad omen. Nothing of the kind. The spider was merely looking over the columns of the paper to see what merchants were not advertising, so it could spin its web across the store door and be free from disturbance. --Schenectady Union.

Every true North Carolinian should constitute himself a committee of one to redeem North Carolina from the clutches of incompetent, and in some instances, disgraceful rule. Efforts should be directed, first, towards legislative and county officers next year, and, second, towards the State officers two thereafter. --Winston Sentinel.
