BASE BALL.

Games Played and Standing of Clubs.

Philadelphia, August 2—Philadelphia made it three straight from St. Louis today. Orth kept the visitors' hits scattered, while Carsey was hit connectedly and for quite a number of extra bases. Score. Philadelphia, 8; St. Louis, 2.

Washington, August 25—The Reds could not hit McLames while "Red" Ehret was not difficult for the Senators. The game was neither lively nor interesting. Washington, 4; Cincinnati, 0.

Brooklyn, August 25—The Brooklyn and Pittsburg started out to play two games this afternoon, but failed, as it took from 2 to 6 o'clock p. m. to play the first game. At one time rain delayed the contest one hour and forty minutes and it was then finished by mutual consent. The Brooklyn won by heavy hitting. Score. Brooklyn, 14; Pittsburg, 6.

Baltimore, August 25—The Champions today took the last of this series from Chicago in a game of no especial interest. Pon's pitching was the feature. Score. Baltimore, 3; Chicago, 1.

New York, August 25—The rain stopped the first game today, but in the second the Giants proved the better mud horses and shut the Indians out. The water from the recent rains had backed up until it covered nearly the whole out field and a ground rule allowing two bases on hits into the pond, was established. Seymour pitched a good game. The features were the playing of Childs and Donnelly and a tread water catch by McCreery. Score. New York, 5; Cleveland, 0.

Boston, August 25—Boston and Louisville played two games today and in the first the home team had a picnic with Frazer, batting him almost at will. A wonderful catch by Clarke in the fourth was a feature. Collins and Hamilton also distinguished themselves. In the second game the tables were turned and at the close the Bostonians found themselves shut out for the second time on the home grounds this season. Sullivan was batted hard. The visitors bunched their hits in the first and fifth innings with telling effect. The fielding of Hamilton, Collins, Allen, Stafford and Clingman and the batting of Clarke and Collins were the features. Score. Boston, 17; Louisville, 7.

Second game—Boston, 0; Louisville, 11.

Get Your Share.

To judge from the quantities of new goods coming in, the merchants are expecting a heavy fall trade. Liberal advertising will help them dispose of those goods.

We heard some hunters say squirrels were numerous in the river low grounds.

A BUSY PLACE.

Another Plant That Helps Greenville.

The Gorman & Co. factory building occupied by the Greenville branch of the American Tobacco Co., is a veritable bee hive of industry.

Mr. F. M. Hodges, book keeper of the company, showed us through the plant this morning and explained the working of the huge automatic machine. Everything moved with the regularity of clock work and is very interesting to witness.

There is a force of forty hands at work in and about the plant and they are a busy, hustling crew. Mr. J. W. Morgan, buyer for the Company, attends sales on the warehouse floors, and some idea of the work he does can be judged from the fact that he keeps all this force of hands and machinery busy getting his purchases ready for shipment. The working force in the factory is under the direction of Mr. Hodges and Mr. Lightfoot.

STATE NEWS.

It is said there was a light fall of snow in the western portion of the State on Monday.

The Motor is the name of a new weekly paper at Rocky Mount edited by H. R. Kielaw. It makes a good beginning.

The Salisbury Evening World has enlarged to a seven column paper and is again taking the afternoon press dispatches. The World is a live paper.

Surry county got Col. J. S. Carr's prize of $500 for carrying more townships for the school tax than any other county. And Surry only carried it in two townships.

N. R. Anderson, Esq., of Hunting Creek, caught a large possum last week which had teeth an inch and a half long. He exhibited one at this office.—Winkesboro Chronicle.

They say now that sheriffs should not enforce that new law which puts men in jail for not paying their poll tax. Whether it is enforced or not it is the law just the same and will remain the law till a decent Legislature can be elected and repeal it. It is a running sore, and no man has yet been found who is willing to admit that he voted for it.—Lexington Dispatch.

All Eyes on Greenville.

So many prominent tobacco men from the large trade centers visiting Greenville during the last few days means something. It means that Greenville is attracting the attention of the tobacco trade generally and that all are interested in what this market is doing. Those who have been here express surprise at the large volume of business done and declare it among the best and most substantial markets known. Most of them placing large orders here means also the making of Greenville a still stronger and better market than it has ever been.

Fine Cotton.

Today Mr. A. S. Walker, of Beaver Dam township, brought a stalk of cotton to town with him. This stalk was 6 feet high and had 40 well developed bolls, besides enough squares and forms to run the number over 100. Mr. Walker says this was not a picked stalk, but one he just pulled up while walking along his field. He has plenty that is taller than this and with more bolls on it. He says if it matures he will get a fine crop.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 27, 1897.

Oak Ridge Institute has opened her 47th. year with the largest attendance in her history. From all parts of the State, from the mountains and beyond the mountains, to the sea and beyond the sea, from all parts of the South, students have been assembling for a week. This is a substantial compliment to the superior advantages, in climate, in equipment, and in management, offered there. The enrollment will reach 800 this year. Large numbers from the east.

A great sensation has been sprung in political circles around Raleigh, and one in which the whole State is interested. The Governor has written letters to Maj. J. W. Wilson and S. Otho Wilson, members of the Railroad Commission, demanding that they appear before him and show cause why they should not be removed from office. He charges them with being under the influence of the Southern Railroad because of their connection with Round Knob hotel. Senator Butler has got a finger in the matter as he is out with S. Otho Wilson.

A Million Dollars Daily Destroyed

"Every working day in the year Uncle Sam destroys a million dollars: deliberately tears up and grinds to pulp one million dollars' worth of paper money—genuine bank notes and greenbacks," writes Clifford Howard in the September Ladies' Home Journal. "A million dollars in one, two, five, ten, twenty, fifty, one-hundred, and one-thousand dollar notes are daily punched full of holes, cut into halves and thrown into a machine that rapidly reduces them to a mass of mushy substance.

"Whenever a piece of paper money becomes soiled or torn it may be presented to the United States Treasury and redeemed. Sooner or later every note that circulates among the people becomes unfit for further service, for it is bound to become dirty or mutilated by constant handling, and the United States Government stands ready to give the holder of such a note a new note in exchange for it; or, in other words, the Government will redeem it.

"The majority of the clerks employed in this important department of the Government are women, many of whom are the most expert money counters and counterfeit detectors in the world. In fact, only experts can properly perform the work that is required; for not only must the soiled and mutilated money be accurately and rapidly counted, but all counterfeit notes must be detected and thrown out. When we consider that some counterfeiters can so cleverly imitate genuine money that their spurious notes will circulate throughout the country without detection, and are not discovered until they are finally turned into the Treasury, some idea of the proficiency of these experts can be gained, especially when we bear in mind that these notes are often so worn that the imprint on them can scarcely be deciphered. It not infrequently happens that these bad notes are detected simply by the feel of them, which, in some cases, is really the only way of discovering the fraud; for while a counterfeiter may occasionally succeed in so perfectly imitating the design of a note as to mislead even an expert, it is next to impossible for him to counterfeit the paper used by the Government."

She Married the Man of Her Choice in Spite of Her Family.

A Raleigh (N. C.) special to the Washington Post says:

The most sensational affair in the history of North Carolina society occurred today, when Miss Bessie Boylan Tucker, the wealthiest young woman in Raleigh, left her home and forfeited all claims upon her share of her father's estate by marrying Mr. Edward Fellowes, a young Englishman. Fellowes has lived here for the past three years, and has been a leader of society in the capital city. Mr. W. R. Tucker, brother of the bride, ranks high among the bankers and financiers of the city, and is a stockholder in the A. and N. C. railroad, Seaboard Air Line and other railroads.

Nearly a year ago Mr. Fellowes was denied the privilege of calling at the Tucker mansion. The young lady spent the days and nights since Friday with her sister, Mrs. James Boylan. Miss Tucker wired Mr. Fellowes, in New York, immediately upon his return from Europe that day, which gave gossips something to talk about. When it became known that the Tucker family had made themselves conspicuous by their absence at the ceremony, society was divided, with the family sympathizers in the minority.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for Atlanta. Mr. Fellowes has been connected with the cotton buyers, Charles E. Johnson and E. H. Lee, here, for three years. He goes to Albany, Ga., to represent a big Liverpool company on the cotton exchange. Miss Tucker is a daughter of the late R. S. Tucker and a sister-in-law of John H. Winder.

The Journal tells that a farmer was in Winston one day last week with a load of melons and found them dull sale. Late in the afternoon he announced that, rather than haul them back home, he would sell the melons at a penny each. Thereupon the populace fell over each other in the mad rush to get a melon for a penny. The load was soon sold and the farmer pocketed the proceeds and departed. Then came a revelation. The melons, instead of being "prize choice," as was thought, proved to be a green and knotty lot that had been picked over and rejected by other buyers. Score one for the farmer! He has his innings sometimes.

A New Study of American Fashionable Life.

Julien Gordon (Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger) has used for her last novel a study of New York, Newport and Boston life, which promises to be read with wide interest by all who are interested in American fashionable life. No one knows the society of these three centres of fashion better than Mrs. Cruger. From her girlhood up she has had every opportunity to observe, and we have had no American woman of more brilliant powers, not only of reading the human heart, but of putting her impressions in delightful fashion.

A charmingly fresh Massachusetts girl is sacrificed in her youth to the ambition of a "rich marriage." Deprived of love, she throws herself into the race for social leadership, and we follow for twenty years, with ever-increasing interest, the career of this able and beautiful woman as she captures outpost after outpost, failing in Boston only to change her base of operations to England, and then attacking the main works of the enemy at New York, and so on to Newport, and finally beholds the capitulation of Boston itself. The first chapters open in the September Cosmopolitan.

Convicts on the Roads.

North Carolina is making a success of the experiment of working convicts on the public roads. Thus far it has not been attended by complaints from any quarter. The convicts are said to be more easily managed than they were while locked in close, narrow cells, and huddled in a mass that generated disease and sickness. Free labor has found no objection to this utilization of convict labor in North Carolina for free labor there, as in every other part of the country, has an aversion to working on the public roads despite statutory requirements and the attached penalties. Missouri and other Western States which are always wrestling with the problem of convict labor and the improvement of their system of public roads should learn a lesson from the North Carolina experiment. Less than one half of the convicts in the Missouri penitentiary are afforded employment, chiefly because of the objection of free labor, and this proposition probably holds true in the penal institutions of other States of the West. This enforced idleness is not only a burden upon the tax payers; but it also aggravates the problem of prison management. If the convicts were put to work on the highways we should soon have an improved system of public roads, and the agricultural interests of the State would be especially benefitted.—St. Louis Republic.

Like the Dark Days of '68.

It is a fact that the Messenger's Raleigh bureau report in yesterday's issue reads as if our correspondent had gone to the old files of the Sentinel—time, 1868-9 and 1870—and had torn out a leaf. It is a repetition of the dark days of reconstruction, when the plunderers abounded like Egyptian locusts, and there was a great deal of "good stealing," as that northern rogue wrote of South Carolina somewhere about 1870. The squandering of the people's money by their robbers and betrayers will put honest men to thinking. If the taxpayers do not get together in 1898, and send trustworthy, faithful, capable men to the legislature and to the congress then they ought to suffer, for it will be righteous retribution for personal neglect and political sins. What a shameful revelation is made of jobbery and venality and depotism.—Wilmington Messenger.

A Bribe Guard

Weldon, Aug. 25.—It now crops
out that John Dols, alias Forest M. Rivers the white convict who escaped some days ago from the Northampton State farm, was aided by one of the State's guards on a promise that Rivers would send the guard $500 as soon as he (Rivers) reached his home,
which he claims is Leavenworth,
Kan. The guard's name is J. E.
Kinney, of Davidson county,
and he was recommended to Superintendent Rhem by Hon. Zeb Vance Walser. The guard not only allowed Rivers to walk away, but also loaned him money, and there is evidence that he gave him a pistol and several rounds of cartridges. As soon as these facts became known to Captain Rhem he promptly dismissed
Kinney, who left for Richmond, Va. and when last heard from he was trying to join the United States Army. He is a Republican in politics and had been in service of the State since the administration took charge.

What Bread May Cost

The 3,000,000 population of Greater New York, uses 2,000,000
loaves of bread per day.

At the reigning retail price of 7 cents for the one and one-half pound standard loaf, this means $140,000 per day.

If the wheat boom continues,
and $1.30 for cash wheat is reached this week, the retail price for a loaf of bread will go to 8 cents, or $160,000 per day.

If wheat goes to $1.50 (the figure set by Pillsbury et al), the price will go to 9 cents, and Greater New York's bread will cost $180,000 per day.—New York Journal.

The Maine man who began a lawsuit against his neighbor for occupying three inches of the former's land was a bit discom-bulated when the deeds proved that the supposed injured man was really the trespasser to the extent of 2 feet and 11 inches on the defendant's property. The suit terminated by the two-foot and eleven inches man shaking hands with the three inch fellow and telling him the fence needn't be moved.—Lawiston (Me.) Journal.

A Georgia office-seeker, stranded in Washington, has addressed the following note to the president: "I have given up all hope of obtaining a government job and am anxious to return home, as my family needs me. Will your excellency kindly lend me your railroad train for a few days? I will take the best care of it and return it as soon as possible.

An exchange says that the ground in Alaska freezes to a depth of forty feet during the winter and all funerals are postponed until some pleasant day in spring.

The Hanging is Public.

Sheriff Dixon has heeded the sentiment of the people and will execute the condemned rapist, Dock Black alias, Kelly Dock and Dock Kelly, on Court house square in view of so many of the people as come to see his crime punished and justice thus done. The hour of hanging will be between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. on Wednesday, September 1, 1897.—Show Him Standard.

We believe it is a mistake to have an execution public, as the crowd who go to witness them, regard them more as a circus than in the light of paying the penalty of a crime.

Another Wreck.

This afternoon there was another wreck on the Greenleaf Johnson Lumber Co's road near Whichard. The engine and five flat cars were badly wrecked, and the crew had almost an hair breadth escape. There were nine men on the train at the time, and fortunately none of them were injured beyond some bad bruises and a severe shaking up.

Captain T. M. Britt, of this city, a popular conductor on the Atlantic Coast Line, and Miss Mattie Mayo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Mayo, of Mildred, were united in marriage at the bride's home yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, by Elder Sylvester Hassell, of Williamston. The bride and groom arrived in Wilmington on the 5:45 P. M. train yesterday and are stopping with Captain Britt's mother, on North Second street.—Wilmington Messenger.
