QUINERLY ITEMS.

QUINERLY, N. C., Aug. 30, 1897.
L. J. Chapman returned on the 20th inst. from New York and Baltimore, where he had been to purchase new goods.

Miss Vina Ward, of Pactolus, is visiting the Misses Brooks.

Revs. C. W. Howard and D. H. Petree have just closed a protracted meeting at Riverside church (Christian) with 27 additions as the result. Many of the young people of this vicinity attended during the meeting.

S. W. W. Dawson will occupy the office in front of L. J. Chapman's residence on Grifton street.

Dr. W. C. Whitfield is kept quite busy now looking after his patients.

A young son of E. A. Lancaster had his flesh badly torn from one of his legs by getting it caught in the sprocket wheel of his bicycle.

L. C. and John Quinerly, of Ayden, were here Sunday.

J. R. Harvey, of Grifton, was in town on Sunday accompanied by his best girl.

Miss Ella Wayne, of Newberry, is visiting at W. C. Butlers.

Miss Stella Evans has returned from Maple Cypress where she had been visiting several days.

The latest fad here is a nice little tete-a-tete on a rustic seat under a pear tree at dewy eve. There is nothing like it.

It was not "May-day" in Quinerly last Sunday.

Your iemizer was on the sick list last week consequently no items.

BETHEL ITEMS.

BETHEL, N. C., Aug. 31st, '97.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Harris and daughters spent today in town.

Miss Lillie Bell, of Mount Olive, who has been spending the past two weeks with Misses Effie and Mattie Grimes, returned home Saturday morning.

Mrs. W. A. James and daughter, Mrs. Carrie Roberts, of Asheville, arrived Monday evening and will spend several weeks with relatives and friends.

J. R. Bunting, Robert Staten and son, John, returned from New York Thursday evening.

Dr. J. D. Bull ck and J. C. Carsen went to Greenville today on business.

Willie Peal returned from a trip to Fortress Monroe Thursday evening.

James Butler, who has been in Raleigh the past few months, is visiting his brother, H. P. Butler, of this town.

S. T. Carson's Landsome brick store on main street is nearing completion.

Mrs. Maggie Gardner, of Tarboro, (formerly of Bethel) is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. J. Whitehurst.

F. S. Gardner, of Tarboro, spent Sunday in town.

Rev. D. B. Rickard preached in the Baptist church Sunday morning and night.

Ed. Grimes, colored, a thief of several years experience entered the smoke house of Mrs. E. A. Nelson Saturday night and stole a lot of hams. He was caught over in Edgecombe and brought here this morning and given a hearing before W. J. Teel, J. P. who committed him to jail in default of bond.

Prof. B. F. Hassell's school opened today with thirty five pupils. We are glad to learn that the prospects are bright for a full school this fall.

JUST FOR FUN.

An early fall—Adam's.

O. Y. Star comes to town this week.

The fickle belle is told by her engagement rings.

The corn-t player is apt to blow about his profession.

The huckster with the barrow tone voice is right in the push.

What's in a name? The laziest man in Frankford is Percy Vere.

The man who sleeps too long in the morning is apt to miss his calling.

The poker player may not be bashful among his relatives, but he is often shy with his ante.

Minde, dear, we have never heard that people who frequent bucket shops are invariably pale faced.

No sensitive man would fight a duel in these times. He couldn't stand having so much fun poked at him.

Mrs. Wigwag—"You are always finding faults." Mr. Wigwag—"Yes; I found your wig and teeth under the bed this morning."

Customer (to laundryman)—"Just look at the way that shirt has been done up. The bosom looks as though it hadn't even been washed." Laundryman—"Well, I suppose I may as well make a clean breast of it."

Thirsty Thingumbob—"I had the craziest dream last night." Rollingstone Nomoss—"Didn't dream ye was working?" Thirsty Thingumbob—"Naw; it seems as if it was rainin' beer, an' I was kickin' meself fer not havin' no umbrella."

THE PENSION INIQUITY—A NEW SCHEME OF PLUNDER.

We sometimes fear that we fatigue the public patience with such frequent reference to the pension enormity, but it is one of the gravest and most interesting problems with which the public has to do. We have before quoted a prophecy of the late General and Governor Seales (God rest his soul!) made some twenty years ago, when he was a member of Congress, to the effect that unless something is done to stop the raid upon the national Treasury on this account, the time will come when the national government must levy a direct land tax to meet the pension appropriations. Within two months we have quoted from the now famous speech of General and afterwards President Garfield, made in the 70's, that it might be accepted as a fact that the government's pension tide had then reached high water mark, and that a steady decline in it would be observed thereafter. It is now about twice what it was then. Quoting this observation we developed the fact that the pension appropriation bill in the present Congress calls for very nearly $140,000,000; to be exact $139,434,001; which is almost equal to the Treasury's receipts from customs, almost equal to its receipts of internal revenue. And on the heels of this we see an editorial statement in the Richmond Dispatch that it is said to be the avowed purpose of a very large number, probably of a majority, of the Grand Army of the Republic, to secure from the next Congress a per diem pension for every person enlisted in the Union army during the war. Such things as these give warrant for the declaration that the pension problem is one of the greatest that confronts the country. There is no telling where the exactions of the "saviors of the Union" are going to end, or how long it will take them to break the government. Whenever one "comrade" dies the name of another survivor is put on the pension roll. There has recently come to public knowledge the fact that several western North Carolina negroes who joined the Federal General Stoneman is his march through the State and traveled with his command for a week or two, have secured pensions on the ground of disability incurred in "the service." They doubtless have as good cases as many others who are on the lists, but it all goes to prove that this is the easiest of all ways to rob the government, and that the limit to the extent of this robbery is yet far from being fixed.—Charlotte Observer.

HA! HA!! HA!!!

And now it is our turn to laugh,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
Our colors float at top of staff
Ha! Ha! Ha!
The record shows we are first in race,
While Boston now takes second place,
And time will show who sets the pace.
Ha! Ha! Ha!
The Orioles long stood at third,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
But being a game and gallant bird,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
It plumed its pinions for ascent,
And to the top it gradually went,
And there 'twill stay I'll bet a cent.
Ha! Ha! Ha!
'Twas a gallant fight of the Bostonese,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
Who had no flowery bells of ease,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
To hold their own 'gainst Baltimore, Who play such ball and make such secre
As never club has done before.
Ha! Ha! Ha!
I sympathize with the Boston boys,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
Who late, have known the victors joys,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
I too have lately had the blues,
Because of Baltimore's bad news,
But now I'm very much "Amuse"
Ha! Ha! Ha!
My Boston friends have laughed so long,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
They will not relish this Oriole Song,
Ha! Ha! Ha!
But left them take it with good grace,
For no one yet has won the race,
And time will show who kept the pace.

A REFORMED JURY SYSTEM.

Some discriminating words on the jury system have been spoken by President Woolworth in his annual address before the American Bar Association. Thoughtful citizens are always ready to hear intelligent criticism of the jury system, not alone because of the great role it has played in the political development of the Anglo-Saxon race, but more especially by reason of its intrinsic importance in our national life.

The confirmed maligner of all republican institutions will read with pleasure part of what Mr. Woolworth has to say concerning the jury system: "Heretofore, the jury system has been administered, especially in the Courts of the Justices of the Peace, and I fear in the superior Courts, in so lax, slack, accidental, indiscriminate, and too often dissolute way, that it has become a method for the miscarriage of justice." Unfortunately, this is a sentiment with which many persons, not members of the Bar, feel themselves in full accord. More unfortunately still, the feeling is frequently based upon personal knowledge of incontrovertible facts. In the address of the President of the Bar Association, instead of adducing instances of the inefficiency of the jury, the speaker wisely chooses to offer suggestions as to its possible betterment. He believes that the jury system can be made a means of educating citizens in their rights and duties. To do this, the service in both popular and superior Courts should be made interesting. The first qualification of the jurymen should be his ability to earn a decent living for his family; the term of service should be several weeks, and twice the average wages should be paid. It is also aptly suggested that the Judges and Justices of the Peace should be men of ability and character who will "direct the jury to the very heart of the matter."

The jury is here, and is here to stay. It has reached its present status through centuries of struggling experiment. But to suppose that within the period of historical record it has not been changed and modified to suit the varying conditions of a progressive civilization is a mistake. The jury system is a growth. As a system it is far from perfect. What is needed now is not abolishment, but conservative reform. As Mr. Woodworth hopefully insists: "Regulated, invigorated and popularized in some such way as is proposed, it will become not only a safer method of justice, but will lead men to apprehend and esteem justice for themselves and all others." It certainly is more in accord with the spirit of democracy to use social and political institutions as a means of broadening the popular intelligence, rather than to pull down established usages because they do not always bring about the best results. The average working of the jury system has been beneficent.—Philadelphia Record.

Happiest Creature on the Globe.

A statement was recently published in a New England newspaper that the colored people of Texas were so unhappy that they are preparing to move to other States. The editor of the Galveston News emphatically denies the statement, and in a most convincing manner shows that the Texas negroes are the happiest creatures on the face of the globe. He says in the first place that Texas 'possums are ripe in October and that the crop is bigger than that of all the other State combined. With the springs full of catfish in the springtime, the summer filled with watermelons, the autumn and winter with 'possums and sweet potatoes, and all the seasons percolated with revivals, camp meetings and "baptizins," the Texas negroes are the happiest mortals in the world the year round. It looks as if the Texan had the best of the argument.

When bilious or constive, eat a Cascart, candy cathartic, cure constipation.

Believed in the Credit.

Here is a little story from real life:

A negro rented a farm from a man who had a store, but for everything he needed during the year the renter paid cash.

At the close of the season he had a fine crop on hand and plenty of money in sight. The rent was paid in full and he solicited another year's lease from his landlord.

"You can't rent from me no more," said the landlord, "I'm done with you for good."

Didn't I pay you for all I got?"
asked the negro, "and ain't I ready to pay you in advance for another year?"

"That's just where the trouble comes in," replied the landlord.
"You're too fond of payin' cash.
What I want in my business is a nigger that farms on a credit.—
Atlanta Constitution.

A Dangerous Practice

Some action will be taken by Greensboro's city authorities preventing the discriminate throwing of medicine samples into the yards and houses. A man threw some samples of No-tobacco in a yard there the other afternoon, when a little boy, perhaps five years old, got hold of it and eat a large portion of it.
He became sick and for some time it was not known what was the cause. When it was discovered that he had been eating the stuff his parents were naturally alarmed and remained up all night with him, not knowing what might be the result. Such a practice is highly reprehensible and should be abated. Of course those who send out the medicines never think of what might result should children get hold of them.
In this lot was a small box of pills. Had the little fellow swallowed them he might have died.

He Loved His Dog.

At the Sunbury petty sessions
William G. Saunders, a laborer from Feltham, was summoned for keeping a dog without a license.

The Defendant—I'm guilty, but I've got a license. I pawned my coat for the dog. There's the ticket for the coat. Why, not long ago you fined me ten bob for 'avin' the dog without a muzzle, and I went to prison for seven days for this 'ere tyke.

The Chairman—Why do you keep the dog if you can't afford it?

The Defendant—Cos I love the dog, and that's more than some of you do on this bench. I picked the dog up on the road when it was 'ungry, and I'll stick to it. I love it and pawned my coat for it, and you can fine me £1 or £2. It makes no difference.

The Chairman—You will have to pay 10 shillings and costs or go to prison.

The Defendant—Then I'll go to prison, for I ain't got the money, and I love that 'ere dog.

And Saunders went to jail for seven days.—St. James Gazette.

MR. SPEIGHT HURT.

Receives a Severe Blow on the Face.

Mr. Jesse Speight is wearing a very lame jaw. Monday he was at the depot superintending the unloading of a car of meat. A wagon had just been filled and he was helping the driver close the double doors of the car. One door was slammed shut with considerable force when the iron bar on it rebounded and struck Mr. Speight a heavy blow across the left side of his face, almost stunning him. One of the physicians whom he consulted thinks the upper jaw bone is slightly fractured. The wound is giving Mr. Speight much pain and he has not been able to chew since meeting with the accident. If the bar had struck an inch higher across the temple the blow might have been a fatal one. He had a narrow escape.

Don't Blow so Long!

We think the steam whistles at the factories out on tobacco row should not blow so long as to excite people with the fear that it is a fire alarm. The proprietors of the plants should instruct their engineers against the long blowing habit.

Missionary Tea.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church will have their quarterly missionary tea, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Miss A. M. Perkins. It is also the time for opening mite boxes and all members should be present.
