STATE NEWS.

While playing with an old "unloaded" pistol a 10 year old colored boy, in Charlotte, shot and killed his six year old brother.

A Raleigh young lady died of diphtheria after an illness of one day.

The Superintendent of the penitentiary has borrowed fifty convicts from Union county and sent them to help house the crops on the State farms in Halifax county.

A colony of 400 Pennsylvanians will settle on the line of the Seaboard Air Line near Southern Pines.

The Record says the eleventh baby in a Greensboro family has been named "Finis."

Salisbury Aldermen have decided to allow no fire-works in the city. A fine of $500 is to be imposed on anyone in the city limits selling fire works.

Mr. Lon Carr, who kept a small country grocery store near Goldsboro, was murdered Saturday night. A negro named Sam Wright, who had been about the store during the day, was arrested and when searched had the dead man's watch and some other property on his person.

A Good Showing.

There was a large attendance upon the meeting of the Pitt County Branch of the Farmers Mutual Fire Association, held in the Court House Monday afternoon. The old officers were re-elected, R. R. Cotten, President and J. L. Little, Secretary and Treasurer.

The organization in this county has been in effect two years, and the report of the Secretary and Treasurer shows a total of $387,805 insurance in force. In the two years only five losses have occurred, aggregating $955.99. The average cost per year on $1,000 insurance has been $1.23.

Died.

Mr. Leon Briley, a son of Mr. J. A. Briley, about 3 miles above town, died Monday. He was a member of Pitt County Rifles and the company went out this afternoon to bury him with military honors.

Only a Mr.

Though we wrote it right on the proof the printer made us refer to Mr. N. B. Broughton, in yesterday's paper, as "Rev." All the same he is as good a talker as the best of the preachers.

Fresh Arrival—Citron, Cleaned Currants, Chocolate, Dried Prunes, Apricots, Apples, Raisins, Oat Flakes, Buckwheat, Paper Shell Almonds, Sapolio, at S. M. Shultz.

JUST FOR FUN.

Bleached hair is dying out.

Baseball cranks drink root beer.

From head to foot—shampoo and a shine.

The ocean is a good thing. Long may she wave.

Some of the bicycle caps now worn are loud enough to explode.

It seems strange that a joke isn't complete until it is cracked.

The man who buys cheap shoes shouldn't kick if he gets stuck.

It is usually the fellow with the most rocks who is often juggled.

The man who is riddled with bullets is usually an enigma to the doctors.

The Meeting.

Rev. J. A. Hornaday, of Weldon, who is here to assist Rev. N. M. Watson in the meeting in the Methodist church preached to a large congregation last night. His sermon was a splendid one and he impressed his hearers as a preacher of force and ability. The meeting starts with good interest and it is hoped will result in the conversion of many souls. All Christians should work and pray to this end.

Services will be held twice each day, at 4 and 7:45 P. M.

John Robinson Coming.

The Old John Robinson Circus, the one that requires no introduction, will exhibit in Greenville on Tuesday, Oct. 26th. This show, always famous, is this season enlarged, improved and better than ever. It needs no hint to the wise to say wait for the big show.

Three at the Time.

Word came to us over the wire last night that three different circus advertising crews were billing Tarboro at one time. The people there will catch crinks in their necks looking up at so many pictures.

Miss Leonard Jackson, the young American violinist, has just won the much coveted music prize known as the Mendelssohn Stipendium. She was sent to Berlin by Mrs. Grover Cleveland and other ladies, then in Washington, in order to study music under Joachim. This is the first occasion upon which the prize, amounting to 1,500 marks, has been won by an American. The competition aroused the keenest interest, representatives of a score of countries and of all parts of Germany, taking part in it.

3 Great Specials.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1897.

The Plan to Combine Parts of Michigan and Wisconsin in a New Commonwealth.

Heretofore States have been formed out of ceded territory, or out of former territories, and the last State admitted as a sovereign one, West Virginia, was created by the exigencies of the civil war out of the territory of the State of Virginia. There are now two Territories only awaiting admission into the Union—New Mexico and Arizona—and the objection to both is that they have population in a great part more suitable to admission into the Mexican republic than into the republic of the United States. By the admission of Utah into the Union in 1896 the last of the important Territories was disposed of, and the last proposition seriously made for the creation of a new American State emanates from those who propose a sub-division of the State of Michigan, which was admitted into the Union in 1837, into two States, by setting apart the northern peninsula as the State of Superior. The proposal is to take the northern counties of Wisconsin and add them to the detached portion of Michigan and include the city of Superior, near Duluth. The population of the new State would reach 500,000. The northern counties of the State of Wisconsin, and particularly those that border on Lake Michigan, have decidedly more in common with that State than they have with the southern and prairie counties of Wisconsin.

The divisional line between Michigan and Wisconsin, between Green Bay and Lake Superior, is entirely artificial. The territory on the one side is practically the same as on the other; the products are the same, the interests are the same and the means of communication with the outside world are identical. A considerable part of the population is of foreign birth, there being a large Swedish, Norwegian and Danish contingent and some Dutch. The State of Superior would be one of the richest parts of the country in woods and ores, and, it may be, that with a separate State government its material interests would be advanced more effectively than under the present conditions. There are no political obstacles to the proposed establishment of a forty-sixth State of Superior, to be made up of the north peninsula of Michigan and some of the northern counties of Wisconsin. The whole territory is strongly Republican and both States are so strongly Republican that cutting off this territory would not in any respect affect them.—New York Sun

The Curfew Bell in Washington.

The latest of the many reform schemes suggested for Washington is the one proposing the ringing of the curfew bell and the enactment of a regulation requiring all children under 15 years of age to keep off the streets after 9 o'clock in the summer and 8 o'clock in the winter. The Rev. J. H. Bradford, secretary of the Boys' and Girls' National Home and Employment Association, who lives here, has presented the matter to the District commissioners. They informed him today that they had carefully considered it, and thought it might be a good thing, but at present were unprepared to say how far they would recommend legislation on this line. Mr. Bradford proposes to have an ordinance or police regulation like that in operation in Omaha, Kansas City, Lincoln, and elsewhere. It proves that children who are on the street after the required hour must be accompanied by or have been sent on some errand by a parent or guardian. Any others can be arrested by the police and fined $5 for each offence, and any parent permitting his children to run about at night is to also be fined $5 for each offence.

The Home and Employment Association will have its eighth annual convention in Indianapolis in December, and the subject will be fully considered there. The number of children who run at large in Washington after nightfall is very noticeable to strangers. Many of them are picked up by the police and held for their parents.—Washington Dispatch.

Color in Decoration.

The following are a few examples of color which have proved successful in fairly large rooms:

For a drawing room—A wall paper of a light soft blue, faintly tinged with green, frieze to match the color, melting into white near the ceiling. A square carpet of blue gray Wilton pile toning well with the paper, a parquet border round the room. Curtains of soft tawny brown-brocade, held back by wide bands of the same material. Arm chairs, sofas, etc., upholstered in brocade, velvet, and tapestry, in pinks, soft browns, and any other subdued colors.

For a dining room—Wall paper in a bold conventional design, in shades of red frieze to match. Carpet or rugs in rich reds, browns, and blues, to tone with walls. Curtains of dark gray blue tapestry, with large designs in reddish tints. Oak furniture upholstered in old fashioned tapestry, or mahogany, with red-brown leather.

For a bed room—A paper with cream ground, with graceful baskets of roses of fawn and pinkish coloring. Carpet repeating the shades in a well colored pattern, in darker tones. Curtains in cretonne, cream ground, and either roses or carnations in natural colors, with foliage, lined with pink. Bed hangings and valances to match. Portieres in dull pink Roman satin. Furniture inlaid mahogany.

In furnishing and decorating remember the long months of winter, and avoid all dull, uninteresting tints; banish all strong, crude colors, but do not be afraid of occasional touches of scarlet.

Surely a wider interest in the intelligent study of color would be the means of beautifying many a home which is at present depressingly ugly.—Household Words.

Yellow Fever Germs

breed in the bowels. Kill them and you are safe from the awful disease. Cascarets destroy the germs throughout the system and make it impossible for new ones to form. Cascarets are the only reliable safe guard for young and old against Yellow Jack. 10c, 25c, 50c, all druggists.

A ladies' magazine lays down the dictum that "the right kind of a wife makes the right kind of a husband." If this be true then it would be equally true that a bad husband is proof that the wife is a bad sort of wife, and we all know that to be untrue, because some of the best women on earth are married to some of the veriest brutes and rascals that ever disgraced their maker.—Lincoln Journal.

Finds His Father's Murderer.

John Cheatham, white was arrested in Rock Hill, S. C., yesterday morning for the murder of a man—a fellow moonshiner—22 years ago, in Wilkes county, and was brought here last night and placed in jail.

This morning he was taken by officers from Wilkes county back to the scene of the crime, and will there be tried for his life.

Cheatham and several other moonshiners were carousing together, in March, 1875, in Wilkes, and were pretty full of mountain dew. Cheatham and his friend (whose name could not be learned) got into a quarrel which resulted in the death of the latter. Cheatham fled the county, and the matter was forgotten except by the son of the murdered man. The father was killed in March, 1875, the son born the following July. From the time the boy learned of his father's murder, he vowed to bring his slayer to justice, and all through the years has never lost sight of that determination. Year after year he has sought him, and at last succeeded in running him down. He accompanied the officers to Rock Hill to make the arrest.

Cheatham was brought to Charlotte in custody of Chief of Police Culp and Mr. Stancie, who made the arrest.—Charlotte Observer.

Value of Eating Fruit.

An exchange in alluding to the wholesome and valuable qualities of fruit in general and the apple in particular as aids to health, says: Nothing in all our varied and fascinating range of fruits holds quite the quality of an apple. A ripe raw apple at its best is digested in eighty-five minutes, and the malic acid which gives to its distinctive character stimulates the liver, assists digestion and neutralizes much noxious matter which, if not eliminated produces eruptions of the skin. The more fruit we add to our dietary the clearer brains and the clearer skin we are likely to have.

Weyler Recalled.

It is announced from Madrid that General Weyler has been recalled from Cuba; that this action is taken to mean a change of the government's policy in regard to the island, and that General Campos, whom Weyler succeeded as Captain-General, is expected to become an important factor in the settlement of the Cuban problem.

All this harmonizes with the suggestion thrown out when the Spanish ministerial crisis was precipitated, which suggestion was that a Liberal government would offer Cuba autonomy. But, as we said yesterday, enthusiastic and sanguine Cuban patriots hold that Cuba has gone too far to consider autonomy, and claim that she is now in better condition than ever to fight to the end for independence.

If this be true, and unless Spain is prepared to concede independence the end would still seem very far off.—Richmond Dispatch.

Sealing Envelopes by the Thousand.

The Treasury Department is today giving a trial to a new machine for sealing envelopes. The Treasurer's office today had 27,000 interest checks to send out, and it was in the sealing of the envelopes for these that the machine was given a trial. If the machine proves a success, it may be put into regular use throughout the departments.

The machine is not complicated.
It works something like a printing press. The envelopes are fed in rollers, one of which is moistened from a small trough of water through which it revolves. A small folder closes the envelope, which then passes through two other rollers and is pressed, falling into a receptacle. The machine is run by a small dynamo or by a pedal like a sewing machine. It is claimed that the machine will seal 250 envelopes a minute when the operator becomes expert.—Washington Star.

A Case of Incendiarism.

"Some time ago," says an insurance man quoted the Philadelphia Record, "a man asked me to accompany him home as he had some things there to be insured. When we arrived at his house he showed me a hundred boxes of cigars, which he wanted insured. There were 100 cigars in each box, making 10,000 in all, and were valued at 10 cents each, so I insured the lot at $1,000. A few days ago the man came to me and asked for the insurance money. 'You've had no fire at your house,' I replied. 'No, but I've smoked them,' says he, 'and, according to the paper, I am entitled to the money, as it reads distinctly that if the goods are consumed by fire, money is paid on application.' As far as technicalities were concerned, he was all right, but I knocked him cold about a minute later by saying in a very stern manner: 'All right, sir; you'll get the money; but, according to your own confession, I will proceed at once to make a charge against you for incendiarism.' 'Well, I'll be hanged!' was all he said, and the room shook violently after he banged the door."
