ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by the Orange, Va., Observer.

A young lady is not always as red as she is painted.

Love is the golden latch key which lets in happiness to every heart.

A man is not a chiropodist because he cuts the corn from the foot of a hill.

Don't let misfortune depress you. 'Tis the blackest storm which gives the loveliest rainbow.

It must not be supposed that a woman is out of temper because she moves about with a bang.

Now the Orange youth and maiden hand in hand, life's journey through, deem that purest bliss is laden when they sup an oyster stew.

"There are sermons in stones," but people don't care to have stones fired at them just to get a sermon—they had rather go to church and enjoy a good nap.

It is said that blue stockings are poisonous, but we imagine there is little danger of anybody eating them—that is if boarding house keepers are not criminally careless about what ingredients find their way into the breakfast hash.

ANGEL FOOD.

List the rustling of the leaves,
Cooing doves beneath the eaves;
And while falls the nightly dew,
Gaze within eyes of blue;
Arms encircling lonesome waist,
Rosy lips and dainty taste.

AT THE CHURCHES.

STATE NEWS.

A colored assistant in the Rocky Mount postoffice has been arrested for stealing letters and parcels from the postoffice boxes.

The theory, or belief, that twins do not attain to healthy old age is proven fallacious in the case of the Misses Womble of upper Nash county, who have attained to over 85 years and have no use for sticks, crutches or eye glasses.—Rocky Mount Motor.

The Secretary of State has this year licensed 26 life, and 78 fire insurance companies, while 11 have failed to renew license, and one has collapsed.

RAM'S HORN.

We speak of secret sins; all sin is secret; when it becomes open it is crime.

Christ's summary of the law shifted the scene of the world's tragedy to the heart.

Our eyes cannot see who it is that is bearing the leprosy of God's curse about with him.

No man is a christian until he is able to appreciate goodness for its own sake, aside from any of its benefits.

We dread the open shame of the day of judgment, but really our present inner complacency is more terrible.

What we call forces are only God's methods, and they are as secret as he is. "No man hath seen force at any time."

"No man hath seen God at any time," says the Bible, neither hath any man seen a man at any time. He is a spirit too.

Tell the Editor.

If you have guests at your home or a member of your family goes away, can't you 'phone or send names to the REFLECTOR? We always like to print such items, but it is impossible for one person, unaided, to keep up with all the people who come and go. This accounts for names that ought to be mentioned sometimes not appearing in print. We would so much appreciate our readers keeping us advised on such news items as we cannot conveniently find out.

Marriage Licenses.

The Register of Deeds issued four marriage licenses this week, three for white couples and one for colored.

We selected the best that the makers of France, Germany, Austria, England and Scotland have produced, and you are invited to examine them while they are yet in their exquisite state of freshness and beauty. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1897.
WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct 8, '97.
A week in Washington without the launching of a new scare would seem quite strange, it has been so long since there was one. The war scare of the present week was based upon the action of the Cabinet in discussing the placing of orders for a million dollars worth of smokeless powder for the Navy, as soon as the money could be made available to pay for it. This is really about the most war-like step yet taken by the administration, and it is not surprising that it should have created a sensation. It may be a bluff, and there may be no intention to purchase such a large quantity of smokeless powder. There would certainly be no use for it, except for fighting purposes. It is the belief of some very cool headed men that unless the administration can bluff the new Spanish ministry it will be in a position where it must choose between fighting and backing down, and the strongest opponents of the administration do not believe it will back down, simply because to do so would be to arouse such public indignation that every member of the administration would be driven in disgrace to private life. Americans can stand a lot, but they wouldn't stand a back-down from Spain on the part of McKinley's administration.

The country is beginning to see that those who charged Ex-Secretary of State Foster with making a mess of his sealing negotiations with Great Britain knew what they were talking about. England's notification to this government that it would take no part in the sealing conference to be held in Washington has opened the eyes of the world to Foster's tunceling. Representatives of Russia and Japan are now on their way to Washington to take part in the sealing conference, those government's having accepted the assurances of Foster that England had promised to also take part, when it had done not so. Months ago Prof. Elliott said that England had no idea of doing so.
When a man gets down everybody seems disposed to give him a kick. The case of Senator Wellington, of Md., is an instance. Months ago, before Wellington had made that fool exhibition on the floor of the Senate, Boss Hanna asked him to make some speeches in the Ohio campaign and he agreed to do so. Several days ago Wellington was given a hint that it would greatly please Hanna if he would cancel his Ohio engagements on account of his health, of any other old reason, and the announcement was duly made that Senator

Wellington's health had compelled the cancellation of his Ohio engagements to speak. One of Hanna's Ohio friends, speaking of Wellington, said: "Hanna has been afraid of Wellington ever since he made that monkey speech in the Senate, and was determined that he should not be allowed to speak in Ohio. His adoption of a gentle hint prevented embarrassment to all concerned."

A well known newspaper man, just from Ohio, said: "During the past two weeks, I have been campaigning with Senator Hanna. The audiences that have turned out to hear him have not been large, nor, to tell the truth, have they displayed a great amount of enthusiasm. The first week's meetings were in the nature of a 'frost', but latterly the attendance has improved. The fact is that the Republicans, for some cause, seem apathetic."

Mr. McKinley is very anxious to have the country believe that he is not taking sides to the hot fight now going on in greater New York's municipal campaign, and statements to that effect are being sent out from Washington. But these statements fool nobody except those who are easily fooled or those who wish to be fooled. Mr. McKinley is with Boss Platt, and every Federal official in New York knows it and is acting accordingly. He wants Boss Platt to win, and doesn't care a snap whether it be with Tracy for a candidate or with a compromise candidate secured by the withdrawal of both Tracy and Low. He wants Platt to win because that would give him a stronger hold on the New York delegation to the next Republican National convention, which Platt has pledged to the support of Mr. McKinley for a second term. Nobody in Washington will be greatly surprised if the Democratic National Committee should declare Henry George to be the regular Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York.

It is unofficially stated that the board of Naval officers charged with the duty of investigating and recommending to the Secretary of the Navy the best place for the making of armor for naval vessels has practically decided that the best place for the plant is in the south and that their choice is between Alabama and Tennessee, with the chances slightly in favor of their recommending the latter. This recommendation will go to Congress, which will decide whether the plant shall be established.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

With most people nothing is so firmly believed as that which is least known.—Montaigne.
Humanity is never so beautiful as when praying for forgiveness, or else forgiving another.—Jean Paul.
Every man has power to accomplish good, and our Divine Maker will infallibly extend to him His assistance in the hour of trial.—Goethe.
A beautiful behavior is better than a beautiful form; it gives a higher pleasure than statues or pictures; it is the finest of the fine arts.—Emerson.
Half the cruelty of the world is the direct result of stupid incapacity to put one's self in the other man's place.—John Fiske.
A well plumed song has a market value in excess of the most weighty and deep drawn sigh ever issued.—Peter Peculiar.
Of the future we know nothing, of the past little, of the present less; the mirror is too close to our eyes, and our own breath dims it.—Landor.

Men carry their minds as for the most part they carry their watches, content to be ignorant of the constitution and action within, and attentive only to the little exterior circle of things to which the passions, life indexes, are pointing. It is surprising to see how little self knowledge a person, not watchfully observant of himself, may have gained in the whole course of an active or even inquisitive life.—John Foster.

A SEASONABLE HINT.

Oh, don't you remember when you were a boy,
And the circus came gleaming to town.
How you stood around the canvas and ached to get in,
While you worshipped the jolly old clown?
You could hear the band play and the people hooray;
Catch a glimpse of girls flying like rockets,
And life seemed as threadbare and empty to you,
As were your patched clothes and your pockets.
You had tried for a pass, but, alas! and alas!
They'd refused you the chance to tote water;
You could but stand and stare, in the hungriest despair,
Barred from heaven for lack of a quarter.
You would take chances steep 'neath the canvas to creep,
But fortune and fate were agin you,
For a watchman stood there with a terrible air,
At the slightest move ready to pin you.
So you lingered about till the show it was out,
While your tears made the twilight seem dimmer;
Till you crawled from the scene of the circus to dream;
A most miserable, poor little sinner.
But the years have rolled by and time landed you high
On the soft reserved seats of the play, sir;
In your carriage you ride and you're on the inside,
No matter what you have to pay, sir.
And now would you enjoy, without selfish alloy,
That circus of first fascination,
Take a lot of poor lads to the one of today,
And play angel in their estimation.

Caught of the 'Small Things That Occur.

Cotton sold today at 5 1/2

Attention is called to the notice to creditors by Susan Gray, administrator of John Keel.

We hear several of the prospective hunters say partridges will be plentiful this season.

The town authorities should be on the lookout Monday and not allow any fake games by people following the circus.

In connection with the large and well selected line of Groceries, J. S. Tunstall is now selling a nice line of Furniture, at ground rail prices.

The early riser,
May see the sun's first rays;
But 'tis the constant advertiser,
Who gets the wealth, these days.

We sympathize with editor A. Roscow, of the Goldsboro Headlight, in the death of his eight year old daughter, which occurred on Tuesday.

Fresh Arrival—Citron, Cleaned Currants, Chocolate, Dried Prunes, Apricots, Apples, Raisins, Oat Flakes, Buckwheat, Paper Shell Almon Sapoto, at S. M. Shultz.

You can count on the Harris Nickle Plate show, to exhibit here Monday, being a good one. Keep your eye open for sharpeners that usually follow shows and don't be taken in by any of them.

Do you want fresh groceries? I have a fresh supply of Apricots, Pickles of all kinds, Mince Meat, Dried Apples, Canned Goods of every description, Oat Meal, Buckwheat, Best Butter and Cheese, and Fine Candies. Will gladly serve you. JOHN S. SMITH.

NO CURE—NO PAY.

That's the way all druggists sell GROVES TASTELESS CHILL TONIC for Chills, Fever and all forms of Malaria. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating Tonics. Price, 50c.

Two white men, we could not learn their names, who recently came here and rented a room together in the railroad ravine, got in a fight among themselves Friday night. One of the men beat the other badly with a stick of wood.

They Should Advertise.

The best newspapers are the best mediums for advertisers. This is an established fact. It is important, therefore, both to advertiser and publisher that the best newspapers should be known and recognized as such. Any failure on the part of a publisher to sustain a just claim to pre-eminence in value is reprehensible.—New England Press.
