POPULIST MAGISTRATE AR- RESTED.

Charged with Criminal Assault on a Young Lady.

[Special to Reflector.]

TARBORO, N. C., Oct. 15.—News reaches here from Rocky Mount that J. B. Barnes, a Justice of the Peace of this county and a leading Populist, has been arrested at that place on the charge of criminally assaulting a young lady, named Miss Cora Tarboro, near Dortches, in Nash county, one day last week.

Barnes is now in jail at Nashville. A preliminary hearing will be given him before Justice W. D. Joyner on next Tuesday.

JUST FOR FUN.

The cold-slaw chrysanthemum is preparing for its annual appearance.

Hoax—"Why is Screecher so unpopular?" Joax—"He's forever singing popular songs."

New York politics are exceedingly warm. Election night will see a hot time in the old town.

Bobby—"Pa, what's a good fellow?" Pa—"That's what the newspapers call a politician who dies of delirium tremens."

Slobbs—"I don't believe he's Irish." Blubb—"Why, he talks with a brogue?" Slobbs—"I don't care. He has been in this country two weeks, and hasn't taken the slightest interest in politics."

Gussie—"Gwacious, Hawold, what are you doing with your dweess togs on at this time of day? It's only 3 o'clock deah boy." Harold—"Yas, it's only 3 heah, but it's awfter 6 in deah old London, doncherknow."

Hobbson—"There was a big fire in that music store." Wigwag—"Yes; and all they saved was a stack of dead marches, but they sold them at a good profit." "So?" "Yes; they sent them over to Camden and sold them for quicksteps."

At the Seashore—"Is your husband coming down to the shore?" asked the over-dressed woman. "Is it right to say 'down' or 'up' to the shore?" "I don't know," replied the quiet little lady. "Don't you know where he is?"
"No. I'm a widow."

Old adages are always right.

Is also out of mind.

LOVE ERE TOO LATE.

[From the German of Ferdinand Freiligrath.
"O Lieb so lang du lieben kannst."]

Oh, love as long as love you can,
And love as long as love you may.
The hour will come, the hour will come,
When you shall mourn o'er lifeless clay!

Take care to keep your heart aglow And love enfold and love uphold As long as you can find a heart That answers to affection told.

And when one bares his soul to you Do what you can to make him glad,
That all his days may be of peace And not an hour of his be sad.

And guard your tongue and temper well.
An angry word is quickly spoken.
God knows it was not meant to wound,
And yet the other's heart is broken.

Oh, love as long as love you can,
And love as long as love you may.
The hour will come, the hour will come,
When you shall mourn o'er lifeless clay!

Then shall you kneel down by the grave And hide your sad and tear stained eyes That ne'er again shall see the face That 'neath the churchyard verdure lies.

And cry: Oh, look from heaven on me Who weep in sorrow here below!
Forgive that I was o'er unkind.
O God, I did not mean it so!

He cannot see nor hear nor come To meet your glad embrace. Ah, no!
The mouth that kissed you oft says not,
Love, I forgave you long ago!

He did forgive you, but his tears Fell oft because of words you said.
But now 'tis well. Be calm, for he Is numbered with the happy dead.

Oh, love as long as love you can,
And love as long as love you may.
The hour will come, the hour will come,
When you shall mourn o'er lifeless clay!

THE FIREMEN.

Have a Good Practice—Foreman Hurt.

Hope Fire Company had a meeting Thursday night with almost a full attendance of the members. They took the steam engine out to the cistern and had a good practice. The boys are getting so they can handle the engine very well and every practice makes them better acquainted with its workings.

At the business meeting after the practice, committees were appointed to procure rubber suits for the nozzlemen and to confer with the Town Council relative to getting an engine house and suitable hall for holding meetings.

While the engine was being taken to the cistern Foreman F. M. Hodges was painfully hurt by a wheel running over one of his feet.

W. H. BERNARD.

Just outside the town of Cape Porpoise, Miss., lives the oldest married couple in the United States. They are Mr. and Mrs.
Joseph Manuel, and they are 101 and 98 years of age respectively.
The aged pair have lived together for seventy-seven years, and are still happy.

The dead heroes of the Buena Vista battlefield, where 6,000 American volunteers under General Zachary Taylor defeated 20,000 Mexicans under Santa

Lightning Struck the the Congregation.

Sunday night about 7 o'clock, as the congregation was assembling for services at Union Ridge church, about two and one half miles south of Salem, a bolt of lightning struck a tree near the church, and descending it left th tree and struck the assembled people, instantly killing one woman, a Mrs. Huntley, and severely shocking several others. A man by the name of Heitman, standing in his wagon, was only slightly shocked while his wife and several others who had just alighted from the wagon, were seriously hurt, two of whom it is thought will not recover. Mrs.
Heitman's baby was thrown some distance from its mother, but strange to say it was not hurt, while the mother was badly injured.—Greensboro Telegram.

Stevenson's Birthday Gift.

The following charming story is told of the late Robert Louis Stevenson. He was visiting a friend, afterward consul to Samoa, in northern Vermont. This gentleman had a little daughter about 11 years old, who very speedily became a devoted friend of the novelist. In pouring forth her joys and sorrows in existence she confided to Mr. Stevenson the woeful fact that she was born on Feb. 29, and therefore had enjoyed only two birthdays in all her 11 years. The poet sympathized not only in comforting words, but also in action. He meditated a few moments, then went to her writing desk and drew up the following document: "I, Robert Louis Stevenson, in a sound state of mind and body, having arrived at that age when I no longer have any use for birthdays, do give and bequeath my birthday, the 13th of November, to Miss Adelaide Ide, to be hers from this year as long as she wishes it.
Robert Louis Stevenson." The little girl's delight at this rare and most welcome gift has shown itself regularly once a year for several years past, and since the novelist's death the anniversary is doubly treasured.

Pocket Nutmeg Graters.

The Rev. Alexander Dyce, in his "Glossary to the Works of Shakespeare," says a gilt nutmeg was formerly a common gift at Christmas and on other occasions of festivity:

A. The omnipotent Mars, of lances the Almighty, Gave Hector a gift, D. A gilt nutmeg.—"Love's Labour's Lost."

So in Barnfield's "Affectionate Shepherd," 1594:

Against my birthday thou shalt be my guest.
Weele have greene-cheeses, and fine silly-bubs;

And thou shalt be the chiefe of all my feast:
And I will give thee two fine pretie cubs, With two young whelps, to make thee sport withall,

A golden racket, and a tennis ball, A guided nutmeg, and a race of ginger, A silken girdle, and a drawn-worked band, etc.

Nutmeg graters were formerly made in small fancy cases for the pockets. I have a distinct recollection of my grandmother (1757-1830) carrying one.—Notes and Queries.

The palace of the king of Siam is inclosed in high white walls which are a mile in circumference. Within them are contained temples, public offices, seraglios, stables for the sacred elephant, accommodation for 1,000 troops, cavalry, artillery, war elephants and arsenal and a theater.

An English gardener writes in The Golden Penny that trees can be poisoned as easily as animals, all that is necessary being the injection of a few cents' worth of arsenic in a hole bored into the tree.

An Old Paper

Mr. A. B. Ellington showed the RE-FLECTOR a copy of the New York Herald dated April 15th, 1865. The paper contains an account of the assascoln and also several articles relative to the closing scenes of the war. The paper belongs to Mr. Ellington's moth-

The Fever in Texas

The editor is in receipt of a letter from Mr. J. B. Tripp, written at Houston, Texas, on the 11th, in which he says both Houston and Galveston are cut off from the outside world on account of yellow fever. A large portion of the people of Houston are sick and a few cases of fever are there. Mr.
Tripp himself was just up from a week's sickness, but not with fever, at the time of writing. He says business is at a standstill.

Yellow Fever Germs breed in the bowels. Kill them and you are safe from the awful disease.

Cascarets destroy the germs throughout the system and make it impossible for new ones to form. Cascarets are the only reliable safe guard for young and old against Yellow Jack. 10c, 25c,
