QUINERLY ITEMS.

Personals, Accidents and Other Notes.

QUINERLY, N. C., Oct. 18, 1897

Glad to see H. C. Brooks out again after several days illness.

Mrs. John. C. Burgess, of Washington, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Latham.

Madam Rumor says that wedding bells will soon ring at St. John's church. Who is it?

Squire Brooks has just recovered from a severe attack of rheumatism. Glad to see him out again.

Ask Hugh what's the matter with that cigar? He will promptly reply, "it belonged to the wrong man."

A huge crop of cotton is being harvested in this section, but the low price is giving the farmers a hard time.

Miss Leila, a young daughter of Joshua Tucker, had a yellow chill last week, but we are glad to say she is improving.

Owing to recent illness your itemizer has failed to let you hear from us for several weeks. However, we hope to do better in future.

J. B. Latham was all smiles Friday afternoon, the 15th inst. In ascertaining the cause we learned that a brand new baby boy had just arrived at his home.

J. V. Johnson, of your city, representing the Singer Sewing Machine Company, spent one night last week with us. He reports business fairly good.

Glad to see our old friend, A. H. Critcher, of the Greenville warehouse, in town last week. He says the Greenville is piling up the dollars for the farmers this year.

Waddell and Rose, of the Farmer's warehouse, of Washington, were here in the interest of their house. As a result there have been some shipments of the weed from this section to that market.

A very interesting series of meetings were held at Salem Christian Church since our last correspondence by Revs. C. W. Howard and D. H. Petree, which resulted in 12 additions to the church.

Miss Polly Chapman, an old lady about 75 years of age, while visiting at E. A. Patrick's a few days ago, had a congestive chill, but under the skillful treatment of Dr. W. W. Dawson she is convalescent.

Ab. Robinson, a colored man, near here, while hauling logs not long since was hit in the towels by a carriage lever, causing severe internal injuries, but by the prompt and skillful surgery of Dr. W. C. Whitfield he is coming o. k.

BETHEL NOTES.

Personal Mention—Death of an Aged Lady.

BETHEL, N. C., Oct. 18th, 1897.

Mrs. M. A. Knight went to Tarboro today.

T. T. Cherry, of Conoho, was here Thursday.

G. W. Blount, of Williamston, spent Friday here.

Miss Mary Whitehurst, of Oakley, was here today.

Col. I. A. Sugg spent Friday here on legal business.

W. F. Harding, of Greenville, spent last Wednesday here on legal business.

Rev. B. B. Culbreth returned from Mount Olive Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Nancy Jenkins, aged about eighty years, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. J. D. Andrews, last Wednesday. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church here (of which she had been a faithful member for many years) Thursday evening at 2 o'clock, by Rev. B. B. Culbreth. After which she was laid to rest in the family burying ground, one mile from town. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved children and relatives.

OAKLEY ITEMS.

Personals—Tobacco Shipments—Death of a Good Woman.

OAKLEY, N. C., Oct. 18th. 1897.

Capt. J. E. Hines, of Rocky Mount, was visiting the family of W. H. Williams Sunday.

Wm. Manning and wife, of Bethel, were visiting the family of T. F. Nelson Sunday.

I. H. Little returned from Rocky Mount Friday, and reported satisfactory sales of his tobacco.

S. R. and C. H. Ross returned home Saturday night, having spent three days upon the Henderson tobacco market.

There has been quite a rush of tobacco from this place to Rocky Mount and Henderson the past week. Parties seem well pleased with prices.

Died at her home near here on Oct 6th, after a brief illness, Mrs. Sarah Roberson, wife of T. H. Roberson. She leaves a husband and five small children and other relatives to mourn her death. The bereaved family have our sympathy. We commend them to Him who has promised to care for the orphan.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1897.

A woman has been arrested at Durham for bigamy. She had one husband in Cumberland county and another in Durham. She left husband number one, and after two years separation from him thought she had a right to marry again, but she has found out differently.

Greater New York is having a quadrangular tilt for the first Mayor of the consolidated burg that reaches across the river and takes in all the adjacent islands. That is, there are four candidates for the office in the field, and the expectations of each one can be judged by the respective claims he is making.

Henry George says he will be elected.

Van Wyck says very positively he will be elected.

General Tracy says he will be the next Mayor of New York.

Seth Low says that the prize is already assured to him.

Just how they are all going to be elected when only one can hold the office is what the outside world fails to see. The truth of it is, one will be taken and the others left.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct 18, '97.

The Platt-McKinley deal, first shown up in this correspondence, has been fully proven by the administration, public and private, within the past few days. It was to whip all administration Republicans into line for Platt's man Tracy, that Mr. McKinley had Secretary Bliss write that gushing letter in Tracy's favor and announce his intention to personally take part in the New York campaign. The fate of other national administration candidates in New York should have warned Mr. McKinley.

According to a private letter received from those who move in diplomatic circles in London, Mr. McKinley became very much afraid about the time the Governor of the Bank of England made that silver bluff, that his own bluff, the international bimetallic commission was being seriously taken by the British government, and caused it to be unofficially intimated to Lord Salisbury that this government had no real desire that any steps should be taken that were likely to lead to international bimetallicism; and it was slowly but surely paving the way to make the single gold standard permanent in the United States.

Senator Gorman's manly open letter to the publisher of the Baltimore Sun, offering to withdraw from the leadership of the Democratic party of Maryland, if the Sun would show its loyalty to the Democratic party, by honestly supporting its candidate, and its publisher would take the management of the present campaign, has been the most absorbing topic of conversation in Washington since it was published. Inasmuch as the Sun has claimed Senator Gorman to be the only obstruction to its support of the nominations of the Democratic party in Maryland, Senator Gorman's offer has placed it where it must present some better excuse for ignoring the offer than it has yet done, or run the risk of losing the confidence of many Democrats. Democratic sentiment in Washington is practically unanimously on the side of Senator Gorman in this controversy. In that open letter Senator Gorman thus defines his attitude towards the Civil Service Law: "I am unalterably opposed, except in judicial places, to life tenure of office. It is incompatible with our free institutions. I believe that the highest standard for admission to the Civil Service should be honesty and capacity. When appointed, persons in public employ should be free from political assessment, but I am unalterably opposed to any rule which will prevent the people, at stated and fixed periods from changing their public servants."

It is no longer a secret that Gen. Fitz Lee, who has been much before the public since he became our Consul General to Cuba, will be a candidate for the seat now held by Senator Martin. It is also fully understood that Gen. Lee will, when he returns from Cuba, probably early next year, begin a personal canvass for the Senatorship, which he intends shall cover the entire State of Virginia, even to its remotest corners.

The administration fully recognizes the danger of a big Treasury deficit during the next fiscal year, added to that which is being piled up during the current fiscal year, and at the last Cabinet meeting it was determined that the departmental estimates for appropriations to be submitted to the coming session of Congress, should be cut down as low as possible, in order to try to get the expenditures down to the receipts of the government. This is confirmation of the arguments presented by prominent Democrats while the tariff bill was before Congress—that the bill would not raise sufficient revenue.

No one in the administration circles has denied the statement that Attorney General McKenna is to have the vacancy made by the retirement Justice Field from the U. S. Supreme Court, on December 1, although there is one special and particular reason why Mr. McKenna should never sit on the Supreme Court—he is too friendly to the big corporations; this was known before he came to Washington, but additional proof was given to his acidity to ratify the bargain made under the Cleveland administration for the sale of the Union Pacific Railroad to the Huntington reorganization committee, under conditions which practically shut out competition in the bidding. An attempt is now being made to get Mr. McKinley to interpose his authority in some way to stop the sale of the Union Pacific at least until the conditions of the sale can be changed so as to make them as fair to one set of bidders as to another, but there seems to be some doubt of his authority and more of his inclination to interfere, after Boss Hanna had told the Huntington ring that the sale should be put through under the old agreement, although the government will lose millions of dollars by the sale under present conditions.

Arabian Horses in Battle.

Arabian horses manifest remarkable courage in battle. It is said that when a horse of this breed finds himself wounded and perceives that he will not be able to bear his rider much longer he quickly retires from the conflict, bearing his master to a place of safety while he has still sufficient strength. But if, on the other hand, the rider is wounded and falls to the ground the faithful animal remains beside him, unmindful of danger, neighing until assistance is brought.

Man's Best Friend.

First and foremost woman is
man's best friend—

Because she is his mother.

Second, because she is his wife.

Because without her he would be rude, rough and ungodly.

Because she can with him endure pain quietly and meet joy gladly.

Because she is patient with him in illness, endures his frailty and and "mothers" him.

Because she teaches him the value of gentle words, of kindly thought and of consideration.

Because on her breast he can shed tears of repentance, and he is never reminded of them afterward.

Because she will stick to a man through good and evil report and always believe in him if she loves him.

Because when he is behaving like a fretful boy—and they all do, you know, at times—with no reason in the world for it, woman's soft word, touch or glance will make him ashamed of himself, as he ought to be.

Because without her as an incentive he would grow lazy, there would be no good work done, there would be no noble books written, there would be no beautiful pictures painted and there would be no divine strain of melody.

Because—and this is the best reason of all—when the world had an unenviable state of wickedness the blessed task of bringing it a Savior for all mankind was given to a woman, which was God's way of setting His seal of approval on her who is mother, wife, daughter and sweetheart, and therefore man's best friend.—Philadelphia

A POSTER TRAGEDY.

A purple moment of bright blue bliss
Was mine, oh, green haired maid,
When from your lips a yellow kiss
I sipped in the dark red shade.

The eery moon hung on a tree,
We sat by a vertical brook.
You were a laughing in olive pink glee
And reading the edge of a book.

And I was singing a lavender song.
Speckled and mingled with blue,
But I stopped for a moment, perhaps not too long.

And kissed you, I took perhaps two.
By the red hills topped with golden snow,
By the trees tearing holes in the sky,
I swore the red world I would overthrow
For your love, or lie down and die.

But away from my vow I was rudely snatched
And thrust far, far from you.
The color I wore with the landscape matched,
And that would, alas! never do.

And now among the blue lilies afloat
On a sea of brown and red
I sit on the edge of an olive green boat
And hold my pea green head.

—London Figaro.

Who Said Snakes?

The subject was snakes, and a West Farms man had just told how he had once killed a rattler with nine rattles and a button.

"My highest score," said another West Farmer, "was 16 rattles and a button."

"They don't grow that many,"
said the first man.

"What doesn't?"

"Snakes."

"Who said anything about snakes?"

"What are you talking about,
then?"

"I'm talking about when I was deacon of a church and was passing the plate around."—New York Commercial.

Not So Easily Moved.

The captive sank miserably upon her knees.

"Is not your majesty moved by a woman's tears?" she implored.

The king laughed a harsh laugh.

"If I was," he replied coldly, "I wouldn't be paying rent. I tell you those."

In point of fact, it took an even 14 vans, a woman's tears cutting no ice one way or the other.—Detroit Journal.

every afternoon at the small price of 25 cents a month. Are you a subscriber? If not you ought to be.

The Eastern Reflector.

TWICE-A-WEEK.

Is only $1 a year. I contains the news every week, and gives information to the farmers, especially those growing tobacco, that is worth many times more than the subscription price.

Caught of the Small Things That Occur.

NEW GOODS.—Fresh Butter and Jamaica Oranges at S. M. Schultz.

Odd Fellows meet tonight with work in the second degree. A full attendance is desired.

Somebody facetiously remarked after the fire alarm Monday night, that the colored Odd Fellows should not allow their goat to kick so high as to knock down a swinging lamp.

Bulbs.

For Hyacinth, Tulips, Narcissus and Lily bulbs, also for Green Potatoes for making sweet pickles and preserves send your orders to Riverside Nurseries. Goods delivered free in town. Phone 46.

JUST FOR FUN.

A queer calling—the counterfeiters. Tramps and the birds are flying to the South.

Autumn is giving the mosquitoes the ice house ha! ha!

The mother tongue—"Oo's 'tittle ootsums wootsums babesums is ooms?"

Wife—"I won't have you calling me a goose." Husband—"Well, you're no chicken."

It's natural that a good little boy should like Sunday school better than the other kind. Sunday school only comes once a week.

Willie—"Pa, the horn of the hunter is never heard any more, is it?" Pa—"I don't know. I suppose the hunter hears its merry gurgle while he's taking it."

"When a man spends most of his life treating himself to drunkenness," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "it is natural that he should finally have to treat himself for it."

Hoax—"Jigley is losing his grip. Joak—"I heard he was sick, but I didn't think it was as bad as that." Hoax—"Bad? He had the kind of grip that a man is glad to lose."

NO CURE—NO PAY.

That is the way all druggists sell GROVES TASTELESS CHILL TONIC for Chills, Fever and all forms of Malaria. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating Tonics. Price, 50c.

THEY MOVE FASTER.

But We Catch Their Names.

J. R. Harvey, of Grifton, was here today.

L. J. Chapman, of Centerville, was here today.

J. A. Pridgen, of Kinston, spent today here.

E. C. King, of Falkland, was here this afternoon.

Elias Turnage, of Ormands ville, was in town today.

Miss Rosalind Rountree is visiting friends at Castoria.

F. C. Harding went to Kinston Monday evening on legal business.

We learn by wire that the Bank of Nashville, in this State, failed this morning.

O. Cuthrell left Monday evening for Kinston to accept a position in a carriage factory there.

Mrs. Maggie Briley, of Martin county, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. S. C. Benjamin in South Greenville.

Mrs. Fannie Bazemore, of Gold Point, Martin county, is visiting Mrs. J. S. C. Benjamin in South Greenville.

R. L. Smith, Tobe Hardee, J. A. Brady C. M. Bernard and H. T. King went to Raleigh today to attend the fair.

Miss Eva Whitfield and two of the children of N. H. Whitfield came in Monday evening from Oxford to visit him.

B. Y. P. U.

The first meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union will be held in the Baptist church Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. As a constitution is to be adopted and several committees to be appointed it is important that all should be present.

Fire Alarm.

About 8:30 o'clock Monday night the fire alarm sounded. It was caused by the falling of a swinging lamp in the colored Odd Fellows hall on Front street. The firemen had their engine and other apparatus out ready to go to the scene when word came that the fire was out.

Nuggets Near Home.

A New Yorker boasts that a 90-cent advertisement brought him $100 worth of business. On the whole, the Klondike could not pan out much better. There are rich nuggets in printers, ink all the time; but much depends on how it is spread, and where.—Philadelphia Record.

The Leaders

Last Monday and Tuesday Messrs. Evans, Joyner & Co. sold both days heavy breaks of tobacco and their average for everything sold from tip to trash exceeded any sale that has been made that we have heard of in Eastern North Carolina this season or since 1893. This firm is composed of the pioneers of the tobacco industry in Eastern North Carolina and the oldest warehousemen on the Greenville market are Messrs. G. F. Evans and O. L. Joyner. Their experience in handling eastern tobacco, being eastern men themselves entitles them to leadership in volume of business done as well as leaders in high prices—a distinction which it seems they are destined to hold, it present indications amount to anything.

Let Us Fit You Up in a Dress Suit

When you go home tell your wife you bought a Sunday-go-to-meeting Suit down at

RICKS AND TAFT'S

and will go to church with her next Sunday. She will love you more and you will wonder why you had not thought of that before. Incidentally it will save your business suit and look much better. English and French worsted, granites and tricots ready to wear in five minutes, without a wrinkle, and stay that way, too.

A full line of Dress Goods and Capes.

WE BELIEVE

That, after taking a look at our new styles in

Fall and Winter Dry Goods, Shoes, and Cloaks

for ladies and children, that any person would agree that our styles are prettier and prices lower, quality considered, than other dealers in Greenville offer.

Do us the favor to call and see our goods, even though you are not ready to buy. Competent salespeople to wait upon you.
