Men & Boys
OVERCOATS!

Every price commands style and quality. The cloth, the linings, the trimmings and the fitting cannot be surpassed. If you come we'll show plenty of conclusive proof of how we can and do save money for you. Our object supreme is to surprise every customer by offering greater values than were expected.

Now about
SUITS!

People say ours are faultless. Well, that's right we show style.

WILL WYNNE TUESDAY NIGHT

Don't Miss Seeing Him Ride

Will Wynne, of Raleigh, 'the champion fancy bicycle rider of America,' will give an exhibition ride in the Planters Warehouse, Tuesday night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Wynne will reach Greenville to-night and Tuesday afternoon will lead a bicycle street parade in which all riders of the community are invited to participate. All having wheels who can take part in the parade will please report their names at L. H. Pender's store as early as convenient on Tuesday morning so that all arrangements can be completed. Every lady rider has a special invitation. The Ladies of the Baptist church will sell refreshments at night during the exhibition. The Forbes Orchestra will furnish music and there will also be roller skating during the intervals of the exhibit.

The riding by Mr. Wynne will be the finest ever seen here and no one should miss it.

Died.

Mr. Cornelius Kinsaul, the oldest white citizen of Greenville, died at 6 o'clock this morning at his home on the corner of Second and Greene streets. He was in the 82nd year of his age. Mr. Kinsaul had been sick several weeks and his death was not unexpected. No man in the community had more friends or was more liked than he. His was a kind, genial disposition, and he was the friend of everybody. No man could say aught against him.

One son, Mr. W. M. Kinsaul, survives him.

The funeral took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the Methodist church, services being conducted by Rev. N. M. Watson. The interment was in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

The pall bearers were Messrs C. D. Rountree, Charles Cobb, J. H. Harris, J. G. Moye, H. A. Sutton, and E. A. Moye.

Visiting Preacher.

Rev. R. H. Herring, of Surry county, who has charge of three churches in Halifax county, filled the pulpit of the Baptist church here, Sunday morning and night, in place of Rev. A. W. Setzer, who is holding a meeting in Halifax. Mr. Herring preached two good sermons and our people were greatly pleased with him.

Hoax—"In the Howler's account of the football game it says: 'Topwate's interference was uniformly consistent.' That's a mean fling at poor Topwate." Joax—"I don't see how you make that out." Hoax—"Why, Topwate's knock-kneed, and can't help interfering."

ROCHDALE ITEMS

ROCHDALE, N. C., Nov. 15, '97.

The sanctified meeting at Bethlehem closed Sunday evening. I believe they say a few professed to be sanctified.

T. E. Little was driving from the conference Saturday night, and was run into by some kind of a vehicle, from which his horse received a severe wound on the nose.

The girls and boys have been enjoying a few corn shuckings up this way lately, though the girls didn't do much pulling shucks.

Cotton is very low, though the majority of the people around here have made plenty of something to eat.

Rebecca Willoughby returned to her home from Ayden last Saturday, where she had been visiting the family of C. L. Tyson. Miss Rosa says that she had a very nice time during her stay at Ayden.

The farmers are almost through housing their crops and sweet potatoes are plentiful.

Many of the Greenville people came out Sunday to hear the sanctified preacher.

There is some tobacco in the neighborhood for sale yet.

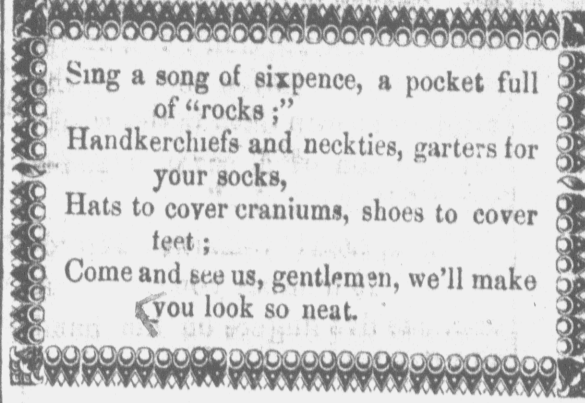

Miss Lula Bell, of Kinston, who has been spending the summer over this way, returned home last Saturday on the evening train. Miss Lula has many friends in our little town.

A gentleman came over to call on one of our neighborhood girls one night last week and tied his mule at the gate, went into the house, talked to his girl a little while and then they proposed to take a ride over to a neighbor, and when they were ready to go some girls and another boy had taken a ride off behind the mule themselves. Boys you had better watch your horses closer, and girls don't you be so rude unless you want your fathers to go to the trouble of stabling your beau's mules.

Misses Lizzie Smith and Nannie Fuller and J. T. Smith, Jr., attended the Washington fair last week and they all say they enjoyed the trip splendid, though they had seen better fairs.

Sanctificationists.

Some Sanctified folks held another service here Sunday in the coffin room of the John Flanagan Buggy Co. Quite a crowd attended the services. The Sanctificationists came up from Washington on a gas boat, several people from that town coming with them. They returned to Washington Sunday evening.

Sing a song of sixpence, a pocket full of "rocks;"
Handkerchiefs and neckties, garters for your socks,
Hats to cover craniums, shoes to cover feet;
Come and see us, gentlemen, we'll make you look so neat.

OVERCOATS.

These cool evenings and foggy mornings speak very loudly for a top coat. Ours are right. We know they are right. The right designers designed them, the right makers made them. The right lengths, the right styles, the right cloths. Some are shoulder lined, some are fur lined.

JUST FOR FUN.

Padding is the football player's bosom friend.

The ladder of success, in pugilism at least, is made up of rounds.

The red and blue is everywhere, but the red men are not as blue as they might have been.

"Why did you address that man as 'Mr. Johnson?' You know his name is Jackson." "Yes; but I don't want to appear too familiar."

Bobby—"Let me see your cinch, Mr. Longtawk." Mr. Longtawk (the minister)—"My what?" Bobby—"Your cinch. Papa said you had one."

A Boy's Heart Cut Out With a Knife.

A savage murder was committed at Roaring Creek station in Stokes county Tuesday night. Essie Absher killed a boy named Richardson whom he had reared. The boy is said to have been a bad character and drank to excess. He came home drunk and tried to run the old man off the place. Absher and the boy quarrelled bitterly but later settled the difficulty and the boy went to bed. Absher thought over the matter, armed himself with a blood-thirsty knife, went to the boy's room and made him get out of bed. The old man then sailed into him viciously and cut out a part of the boy's heart, killing him almost instantly. Absher made his escape.—Winston Journal.
