A Beautiful Marriage and Brilliant Reception.

Wednesday afternoon, 24th inst., at 4 o'clock, a few friends witnessed a beautiful marriage at the splendid country home of Mr. Leonidos Fleming, five miles from Greenville, the contracting parties being his charming daughter, Miss Nanny, and Mr. James B. White, one of Greenville's most popular young merchants.

As the couple entered the parlor Mrs. Dr. E. A. Moye played the wedding march, and while Rev. A. W. Setzer made them man and wife the beautiful strains of "Oh, Promise Me" added solemnity to the impressive ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations of those present, the bride and groom and guests left for Greenville, arriving here about 5 o'clock.

At night a reception was held at the palatial residence of Capt. C. A. White, father of the groom. This reception was an occasion of brilliancy and elegance seldom equalled. The guests were received in the front hall by Mr. S. T. White and Miss Annie Sheppard, and were ushered into the east parlor where Mr. J. L. Fleming and Miss Lula White presented them to the groom and bride.

The guests then passed over to the west parlor where were displayed the bridal presents. Here the popularity of the couple was evidenced by the very large number of beautiful and serviceable presents they received.

The dining room was presided over by Mesdames W. H. White and R. W. King, and here the guests feasted to their heart's content.

The number of callers was large and the congratulations showered upon the happy couple were hearty and sincere. The entire occasion was one of ease, grace and elegance, and will be long remembered as one of Greenville's most brilliant social gatherings.

Another Runaway.

A horse hitched to a cart came running in from tobacco town today, and started up Evans street at full speed. The street was full of vehicles and it looked like there was going to be a general mix up. In front of James Long's the cart tangled in with another cart and stripped it clear off the little mule. The collision also took the wheels off the runaway cart and let the body down on the ground. This was rather burdensome to good running and the horse concluded it was wiser to stop than pull such a drag, so he checked up in front of the King House.

GREENVILLE'S THANKSGIVING.

The Day Generally and Profitably Observed.

Greenville has spent no more truly enjoyable Thanksgiving Day than the one just passed. The cold, biting winds of the preceding day or two had disappeared and given place to weather almost as balmy and beautiful as spring. All the stores, but the barrooms, were closed, and with this exception the town had nearly the appearance of the Sabbath.

The religious services of the day were of a more interesting nature and entered into more heartily than usual, large congregations attending all the services.

At 11 o'clock Maj. H. Harding conducted an interesting service in the Episcopal church. A collection was taken for the Thompson Orphanage amounting to $5.

At the same hour the Methodist, Christian and Baptist congregations worshiped together in the Baptist church. Rev. J. J. Harper, of the Christian church, read the Scripture selection and offered prayer, and Rev. N. M. Watson, of the Methodist church, preached a Thanksgiving sermon from the text "Blessed is that Nation whose God is the Lord." The sermon was one of marked ability and interest, showing the progress our Nation has made in area, population, wealth and religion. A collection was taken for the Thomsville Orphanage amounting to $30.06. The music at this service was splendid.

At night a union service was held in the Methodist church, attended by all the congregations of the town, and the building was crowded to its full capacity. Both the ministers mentioned above and Rev. A. W. Setzer of the Baptist church took part in this service, Mr. E. A. Moye read the Governor's Thanksgiving Proclamation and several interesting addresses were delivered. Mr. L. I. Moore spoke on "Our Obligation as a Nation to Give Thanks." Maj. H. Harding's subject was "The Progress of the Church for which we Give Thanks," and Gov. Jarvis closed with "A Practical Application of our Thanksgiving." Prof. W. H. Ragsdale was also to have made an address but sickness prevented his taking part in the programme. The singing at the service was excellent and elicited much praise from the large congregation. A collection was taken for the Oxford Orphan Asylum amounting to $30.

One Way Out.

Mr. N., a struggling lawyer in a small town in Ohio, received a call from a farmer who wanted legal advice. Mr. N. took down a much used volume from his small book-case and gave the required advice, for which he charged the modest sum of $3. His client handed him a $5 bill. With a troubled look Mr. N. took it. He flushed in the face as he passed his fingers nervously through his pockets, and his embarrassment increased as he continued his search among the papers on his desk. "Well," said he, taking down the lawbook again and turning over the pages, "I'll give you two more dollars' worth of advice."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Antiquity of an Old Tune.

When Napoleon's army was in Egypt in 1799 and the band struck up the tune which in England is set to the song "We Won't Go Home Till Morning," its effect on the Bedouins was electrical. They leaped and shouted and embraced one another deliriously. They averred that they were listening to the oldest and most popular tune of their people. It is thought that the tune was brought to Europe from the dark continent in the eleventh century by the Crusaders. — London Telegraph.

JAMES & HIGGS SHOW

The Boys Had a Circus Thanksgiving Day.

You just can't down a Greenville boy. If he sets his head on anything and fails on it, there is no use in anybody else undertaking the same task. Put him in school and he goes at his books with a determination to stand in the front rank of success; put him on the outside at play and he displays that same hearty enthusiasm born of a purpose to get all there is in it.

This spirit dominated some of them when they took it into their heads to have a circus. A few weeks ago a small show stranded here, and their tent and paraphernalia fell into the hands of the Sheriff for license. The boys took the notion that they wanted this circus outfit—and they got it. They hauled the tent to a lot in South Greenville and tugged away at it till they got it up and in good shape. Then they let it out that they would give a performance on Thanksgiving Day.

The day came around on schedule time, and so did the boys. In the early afternoon they gave a street parade that nothing but the ingenuity of a boy could originate and carry out. It was amusing, it was fetching, inasmuch as it drew a large crowd of spectators to the tent to see what the clever young show folks were going to do next.

The admission fee was 5 and 10 cents and for awhile the nickels and dimes rattled lively into the ticket wagon. The circus was under the management of David James and Bennie Higgs. Under the canvas Frof. James did the tight wire act, and Bennie Higgs and Walter Wilson were the impersonators of John Lowlow and other clown celebrities. Profs. Argal, Vick, Burt James and Frank Skinner held up their end in the trapeze and acrobat performance.

The acting was right creditable for the little fellows. They made about $11 on their show.
