DEDICATION

The Presbyterian Church Set Apart to the Service of God

Sunday was a day of joy and gladness to the Presbyterian congregation in Greenville and their many friends who worshipped with them. It was the occasion of the formal dedication of their church, an event pleasantly looked forward to for some months.

Rev. J. N. H. Summerell, of Anderson, S. C., the founder and first pastor of the church here, was invited to preach the dedicatory sermon, and much to the delight of his host of friends he was present to perform that pleasant duty. The present pastor, Rev. J. B. Morton, of Tarboro, was also present. Rev. N. M. Watson, of the Methodist church, and Rev. A. W. Seizer, of the Baptist church, also took part in the opening exercises.

Just before the sermon Rev. Mr. Morton presented Oxford Bibles and diplomas to little Misses Myra Moore and Annie Belle Garrett, for reciting perfectly at one time the Shorter Catechism. Mr. Morton's remarks in explanation of the origin of this catechism which contains the fundamental doctrines of the church, and his words of commendation to the little girls for their proficiency were very interesting.

The sermon of Rev. Mr. Summerell was one of the best our people have had the pleasure of hearing. His subject was "Unconscious Power," and using that scripture where the shadow of Peter falling on those who gathered about him in Jerusalem wrought healing to their bodies, he drew many impressive illustrations of how the influence men unconsciously exert affect those with whom they come in contact. The sermon was clothed in most beautiful language and was delivered in the speaker's most charming manner.

Following the sermon Rev. Mr. Morton made a few remarks relative to the history of the church in Greenville and its progress, and referred to the work done by Rev. Mr. Summerell during the latter's stay here as one of the greatest achievements within his knowledge. The first steps toward planting a Presbyterian church here were taken about ten years ago when Greenville was made a mission point. The missionaries at times by invitation used the Methodist and Baptist churches, and in 1892 organized a church in the Opera House. Work commenced on their house of worship in 1894 and it was first opened for use in April, 1895.

Rev. Mr. Summerell also spoke with much feeling of his work here and how dear the place and people were to him. He then asked that the Chairman of the Trustees hand him the keys of the church. As Mr. J. R. Moore advanced for this purpose he stated that the building was entirely free from debt, the last dollar having been paid, and they now wished to present it to God for His use. Mr. Summerell then offered a most touching prayer, dedicating the building to the service of God and asking Him to accept it as the offering of His people. In this prayer he returned thanks that the building had been preserved against storm, lightning and fire by which it had been three times endangered, and implored a continuance of Divine care and protection over it.

He then called for the Ruling Elder of the church and placed the keys in his charge. Mr. D. B. Evans went forward, and as this aged man of God, trembling with emotion, extended his hand to accept the charge and receive the admittance of the speaker, there were few dry eyes in the large congregation. The whole was a beautiful and impressive service.

Our Presbyterian friends have a handsome house of worship and it is beautifully furnished. It is an honor to them and a credit to Greenville. THE REFLECTOR congratulates them upon having paid off the last of their indebtedness and dedicating the building to the service of God.

A New Steamer

The O. D. S. S. Co., always having an eye to the convenience of its patrons, has just had a new steamer built for the Tar river service. The new steamer is named Edgecombe. It is a light draft steamer with twin propellers, is 70 feet long, 13 feet beam, and when loaded will draw only 2½ feet of water. The Edgecombe will run between Washington and Tarboro on alternate days with the Myers, which arrangement will give us a boat each way every day. When the water is too low for the Myers to reach points above Greenville the Edgecombe will run between this place and Tarboro. This arrangement is a good one, and will no doubt largely increase traffic for the O. D. Company.

Last week Mr. B. F. Patrick killed 9 pigs, just a year old, that averaged a traction over 162 pounds. That was a nice lot of pigs.

Cigars make a nice Christmas present, provided they are good ones. D. S. Smith has the Nickel King, a delightful smoke, in boxes of 25. Just the right size for a present.

PALMS! PALMS! PALMS! If you want to make your wife, mother, or sweetheart a nice Christmas present, call on Allen Warren & Son, and buy a nice palm. Price reduced for the holiday trade.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1897.

Congressman Skinner's man Cobb, of Elizabeth City, who was so anxious for the plum of Collector of the Eastern North Carolina district, has been left in the race, and Senator Pritchard's man Duncan, of Beaufort, gets that slice pie. The contest over the Attorneyship is not yet settled. Claude Bernard refuses to step aside in favor of Spier Whitaker, and at present there is no certainty as to who will catch this plum.

John B. Rehrass, of Beaufort county, who for years has been standing at the Republican pie counter waiting for a slice to be handed his way, was here last week to see Congressman Skinner and solicit the latter's endorsement of his application for the Washington postoffice. It is rumored that Skinner probed Rehrass about having the Congressional ome in his hat for next campaign, and failing to get a satisfactory answer withheld his endorsement for the postoffice. Rehrass is reported to have been a very mad man when he left.

Lawyers Who Bulldoze Witnesses

The comments of many correspondents of this paper on the action of a juror in protesting against the severity of the cross-examination of a woman are evidences of widespread feeling of discontent with methods altogether too prevalent in our court rooms. The purposes of some processes of extracting evidence seems to be to prevent a witness from telling "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth," and to frighten, confuse, or irritate him into saying something that will be misconstrued by a jury. Some lawyers are in the habit of walking close up to the witness stand, glaring at witnesses, shaking their fingers at them, and addressing them very much as Simon Legree addresses his slaves in the very cheerful drama of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." A good many spectators at trials wonder under what law a lawyer is permitted to assume this attitude toward a person who is not a criminal nor a social outcast, but who is in the witness stand in the performance of a duty of great value to the community and the State. The most disagreeable feature of this style of proceeding is its utter cowardice. There are very few lawyers who would venture to address men in such a rude manner outside of a court room, and without the protection of a judge. When they address women so they simply aggravate their offense. Surely the evidence in any case can be obtained by methods more suitable to the dignity of a court room. Judges should protect witnesses, who are generally afraid to make a protest for fear of being adjudged guilty of contempt of court.—New York Times.

Ready to Gobble

The Washington Messenger is lamenting the fact that it has no turkey for Christmas. THE REFLECTOR is in much better luck, as the editor of the Lumberton Robesonian, having turkey to spare, has divided and sent a pair up our way.

An Attraction Store

Every reader of THE REFLECTOR is of course attracted by the large double-column advertisement of Ricke & Taft. The enterprising young men who compose this firm are strong believers in printers ink and their attractive store will fully substantiate every claim their advertisement makes. They carry nothing of a shady character, but have a strictly reliable and first class stock of goods.

They Invite You

Reader, every merchant whose name you see in THE REFLECTOR invites you to visit his store. He has got something to show you and wants to show it to you, or he would not be spending money to tell you about it. When you are invited anywhere you expect to be received cordially and treated cleverly—and that is what these merchants do. You will have much shopping to do this week and these merchants have large and attractive stocks from which to make either holiday or every day selections. Go straight to the merchants who advertise and you can save both time and money.

B. Y. P. U. entertainment tomorrow night.

Busy days with the merchants this week. THE REFLECTOR hopes they will have a large trade.

NO FAITH CURE.

About Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They Cure Stomach Troubles and Indigestion Anyway, Whether You Have Faith in Them or Not.

All physicians agree that the element of faith has a great deal to do in the cure of disease.

Firm belief and confidence in a family physician or the same confidence and faith in a patent medicine, have produced remarkable cures in all ages.

It is especially true in nervous troubles and no field offers so prolific a harvest for the quack and charlatan, as the diseases arising from a weak or run down nervous system.

Nevertheless the most common of all diseases, indigestion and stomach troubles which in turn cause nervous diseases, heart troubles, consumption and loss of flesh, requires something besides faith to cure.

Mere faith will not digest your food for you, will not give you an appetite, will not increase your flesh and strength your nerves and heart, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do these things, because they are composed of the elements of digestion, they contain the juices, acids and peptones necessary to the digestion and assimilation of all wholesome food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest food if placed in a jar or bottle in water heated to 98 degrees, and they will do it much more effectively when taken into the stomach after meals, whether you will or not.

They invigorate the stomach, make pure blood and strong nerves, in the only way that nature can do it, and that is, from plenty of wholesome food digested. It is not what we eat but what we digest that does us good.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for full sized package.
