OUR MILITARY AND NAVAL EQUIPMENT.

"I wish I could see the men who get the credit for the war. They will be able to meet the liabilities which the nation has incurred by the civil war. Then our people were strong and ready to contribute whatever was essential to uphold the dignity and honor of the nation, either upon land or sea. Since the civil strife our population has more than doubled; the mileage of railroads more than tripled; all industries have multiplied greatly; and the national wealth now reaches the million mark of more than $70,000,000,000. Our financial resources, therefore, are fully adequate to meet all the possible requirements which war might entail upon the treasury. Our army, it is true, is but a skeleton army, consisting of but 25,000 men, but that army would swell to millions upon the call of congress and the president. Our new navy, while not so powerful as the navies of England, and other great European powers, as yet formidable, and if the occasion arises, will prove a worthy successor of the oldtime navy. The superb conduct of Captain Sigbee, amid the awful horrors incident to the destruction of the battleship Maine, shows that the valor of our seamen is not decadent.

"Since 1883 congress has authorized the construction of seventy seven war vessels, at a cost of $134,439,707.10. Sixteen of the vessels have not yet been completed. The vessels authorized since 1883 are as follows:

Battleships, second class.....	2
Cruisers.....	18
Gunboats.....	15
Har' or defense ram.....	1
Torpedo boats.....	21
Submarine torpedo boats.....	1
Training ships for cadets.....	2
Dispatch boat.....	1

"Of the sixteen ships of war now under construction, the secretary of the navy estimates that all will be completed during the present year, except the five battleships, which will probably not be ready for service until the latter part of the coming year. It is therefore obvious that the United States is not so powerful as when the seas were won and held, it is not so strong as the present navy, however, should be made by the construction of still more warships, so that the enemy may be able to violate the rights and interests of American citizens without menace of imperilment.

"I may also add that during the past ten years there have been expended for the navy $10,000,000 and our principal warships have thus been put in a condition so that, with the aid of the navy, the enemy could easily resist the most powerful navy of the world."—Washington Post.

CAROLINA'S GRANDEUR.

Another Interesting Letter from Col. Suggs.

New York, Times, Feb. 19th, 1898.

Dear Sir:—

"I am glad to hear that you are still in the city. I have just returned from a tour of inspection in the Carolinas, and I have seen some things that I would like to tell you about. The country is beautiful and the people are brave. I have seen some of the best fighting that has ever been done in the South. The soldiers are brave and the officers are brave. I have seen some of the best fighting that has ever been done in the South. The soldiers are brave and the officers are brave. I have seen some of the best fighting that has ever been done in the South. The soldiers are brave and the officers are brave.

The scenery through the Blue Ridge and Cumberland mountains is simply too grand to seem real with anything like a conception.

I joined at Round Knob, the famous. From there to Paint Rock is thrilling beyond description, and all along down the French Broad for a hundred miles is lovely and in some places exciting.

A young medical student from Tennessee on his way home from New York, was so eager to catch the first glimpse of his native State after an absence of two years. We had traveled from Greensboro together and a very splendid companion he was. The contrast was so great and so striking between him and myself. He going home after a long absence, young and full of hope and joy at meeting his loved ones. I bidding adieu to my native State, leaving loved ones behind and an old man. I will not undertake here to express my feelings—they are sacred, and wherever I go, where'er I be, my song shall always be "Carolina, Carolina, heaven's blessings attend her.

While we live, we will cherish, protect and defend her."

I spent a night at Chattanooga so as to pass through the Lockport and Cumberland mountains in day time.

I go from here to Memphis where I spent many pleasant and happy hours in my early life.

Weather is beautiful and I am in the best of good health. Good bye till you hear from me again. Yours truly,

LEWIS A. SEAR.

The Irish Potato.

Few are aware that the Irish potato, the poor man's friend and the enemy of famine, is the principal food of modern nations. Time was when this plump, mealy product, which flourishes in all soils and climates, was, like the tomato, looked upon as poisonous but necessity, or perhaps accident, first led to its use as a food, and from that time until the present, it has steadily grown in favor and increased in use until now it is the principal food product of the world. Like the maize or Indian corn, the potato, from all accounts, had its origin or was first found in the New World and like corn also, its use was very limited in the Old World until famine forced its general adoption as food, and now it is more extensively cultivated in Europe than in America. A full world's production of potatoes is about 4,000,000,000 bushels; of wheat, 2,500,000,000; of rye, about 1,800,000,000; and of barley, not quite 700,000,000 bushels. Europe produces nearly two and a half times as many bushels of potatoes in a full year as she does wheat. Of late years, about 30,000,000 acres on the average have been officially reported as being devoted to potatoes yearly throughout the world, of which Europe (including the United Kingdom) has about 26,000,000 acres and the United States about 3,000,000.

Still at the Old Stand.

A boy about ten years old stood by the side of a penny-in-the-slot machine in one of the elevated railway stations the other morning weeping bitterly.

What the matter son? asked a man on his way to the upper platform stopping a moment at the doorway.

I put a cent in this slot blubbered the boy and it was the wrong slot. I didn't get any gum.

Is that all my lad? said the man. Show me the right slot and I'll drop one in for you.

I'd rather drop it in myself sobbed the urchin.

The sympathizing citizen gave him the coin and hurried up the stairway.

And when the sympathizing citizen came back from downtown ten hours later that boy was still standing by the side of that penny-in-the-slot machine with his pocket full of one-cent coins and still blubbering.—Chicago Tribune.

PERFECTION IN MODERN LIFE INSURANCE.

A Chicago Company Whose Plan Combines all the Excellent Features of Equity, Safety and Economy—The Knights Templars and Masons Life Indemnity Company.

Life insurance is a matter of such vital importance that its study may well engross the attention of every man of a family. No man is so foolishly as to contend that he ought to ignore this means of protection against the one certain and universal calamity; but so many are the plans for life insurance that are presented to our attention that it becomes a puzzle for even the shrewdest business man to determine exactly which is the best. After making a special study of this subject for many years the writer is convinced that the only fair and just plan of life indemnity is that which charges the cost on the policy holder in direct ratio to the risk as based upon his age, and which collects from him no more than is necessary for safe conduct of the business and the payment of the necessary expenses of management economically administered. Any other plan than this is a delusion, in that it taxes the policy holder more than is either necessary or profitable to him. This is the fault with the so-called "Legal Reserve" system.

The Knight Templars and Masons Life Indemnity Company, whose home office is in the Masonic Temple, Chicago, is operated upon a plan which is at once equitable, economical and highly successful. First, the policy holder pays for his insurance exactly what it is worth, no more and no less. In other words, the young man does not pay more than he should for the old man's protection. Second, the payments required are merely such as have been found from actual experience to be ample and necessary to pay death losses and expenses. Third, the cost of management in this company is shown from the official report of the Insurance Department of Illinois to be less than that of any other company doing business in this State, relative to the amount of insurance in force. Fourth, during the last fourteen years this company has paid 722 death losses, amounting $2,564,579.31, and it is a remarkable fact that in all this time there has not been a single serious complaint. The secret of the company's wonderful success lies in its unique and equitable plan, which, briefly stated, is as follows:

The Knight Templars and Masons Life Indemnity Co. of Chicago, bases its rates of rates upon well ascertained statistics for needed assessments when required, but differs as widely from the ordinary assessment company as the latter differs from the old line reserve companies. This system, peculiar to this company, was adopted after the most careful inquiry and statistical research by experienced life insurance experts, both in home office and field work, and has received the approval of the best actuarial talent to be had. And what is more important, it has stood the tests of time and experience. This Company has found, after years of experience, that nine single and three double assessments are sufficient to meet all requirements, and that the rates upon which the system of insurance peculiar to this company are based are ample and just. The following table gives these rates in detail:

TABLE OF RATES.

All new members released from assessments for at least 30 days.
 Assessments per $1,000, increasing with age.

21 to 30 years of age, inclusive	$0.50
31 to 35 years of age, inclusive	.60
36 to 40 years of age, inclusive	.65
41 to 45 years of age, inclusive	.80
46 to 50 years of age, inclusive	.95
51 to 55 years of age, inclusive	1.20
56 to 60 years of age, inclusive	1.50
61 to 65 years of age, inclusive	2.00
66 years and upwards	2.55

(This table is secured by copyright—used by permission.)
 Annual Dues, $1.00 per $1,000.
 Every policy in the Knights Templars and Masons Life Indemnity Co. specifies that the aggregate amount paid by each member in assessments for the first five years shall be paid at his death on a post-mortem dividend in addition to the face value of the policy. This gives the family a substantial addition to the insurance.

At the end of each ten years' continuous membership each policy holder receives a bond, bearing simple interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, for his entire proportion of the surplus. This includes his full share of the company's savings and profits from all sources. From May, 1894, to Jan. 1, 1898, the company issued $105,978.35 in dividend bonds to all who had held continuous membership for ten years, which represents about 10 per cent of the total amount paid by such members. These bonds can be used at par and accrued interest for the payment of assessments and dues on demand without previous notice to the company; or, if not so used, the bonds, with accrued interest, is payable with the policy when it becomes a claim.

An illustration of the low cost of insurance in this company is afforded by an instance of a recently paid policy on the life of Frank L. Watters, Morton Minn.

Age when issued, June 17, 1885, 34 years
 Age at death, September 6, 1897, 46 years Profits received, September 28, 1897.
 Loss paid, October 8, 1897.

Amount of policy	$5,000.00
Post-mortem dividend	103.75
Dividend bond	37.99
Interest on bond	2.53

Total paid $5,144.27

The net cost of the $5,000 insurance was $165.81, or $7.65 as the average cost per thousand per annum.

The officers of the Knights Templars and Masons Life Indemnity Co., are George M. Moulton, president; John A. Crawford, vice president; Alexander B. Huston, second vice president; J. L. White, M. D., medical director, and W. H. Gray, manager.

This company has been very fortunate in securing the services of Captain L. A. Spicer, one of the best known insurance men in the country, to take charge of its agency department.

Captain Spicer brings to this position his long experience in the field and his thorough knowledge of the life insurance subject in all its details makes him a valuable acquisition for the company, and is another evidence of the wise management displayed by the past fifteen years in the upbuilding of this great institution of Chicago.—Retailer, Merchant and Manufacturer, of Chicago, Ill.

The above company has commissioned M. J. H. Harding, of Greenville, to attend to all of their business in Eastern North Carolina.

Those Who Talk War.

It will be observed that those who have been in the wars are the last to want any war with Spain or any other nation. Whether it be a small or a large war, it destroys human life and property, and disturbs the normal condition of life and trade.

It adds to the vast sum of suffering, and fills the homes with misery and apprehension.

If those who want war could be made to do all the fighting it might be considerably different, but it is the experience of all countries and peoples that the inciters of trouble are generally the first to get out of the way when the difficulties begin.

It is a bad thing to talk war. It is against public sentiment and public feeling. It is the spirit of fight and not the spirit of peace. Uncle Sam will never fight until he is compelled to because it is common sense which has made him strong and useful, not only to himself, but to the world in general.—Baltimore Sun

WHAT WOMEN NOW NEED.

More red Corpuscles in their Blood---Paine's Celery Compound.

Miss Frances E. Willard, who has been attending the world's convention of the W. C. T. U., says that better health for women is today more important than women's suffrage.

She says: "What women need is not most of all a better supply of red corpuscles."

From every section of the country from Maine to California, come well-attested reports of women, in all ages, dispirited, nervous, and generally unhappy in many cases, who, as they had ridden, who have been and I determine their places in the family and any in social life—feeling, really, well-governed women, by the aid of the great blood-making and health-making, Paine's celery compound.

Mr. E. A. Ward is one of the forum women who, upon Paine's celery compound has saved from an illness unhappy invalid condition, as he shows:

213 Madison ave., Mason (N. Y.)
Sept. 12, 1897.)
Wells, Richardson & Co.

Gentlemen—My greatest trouble seemed to be a general weakness and all-over tired feeling. I am 66 years of age and I did not expect to be ever strong again, but I used four bottles of Paine's celery compound and was greatly strengthened, and my cough seemed better so that I stopped using the remedy and have not since felt the need of any further help whatever.

Very respectfully yours,
Mrs. E. A. Ward.

Persons of large experience among nervous women, who, as a rule, are thin and lack blood, recommend Paine's celery compound as beyond all question the one remedy that can be depended on to renew the vitality of feeble persons.

This settled confidence in Paine's celery compound is not hearsay belief, but rests on nearly every case on personal use or acquaintance with men whose vitality has been restored to useful health by no other means. The resulting expression of the face is so markedly different from the wasted features that the result of the wasted tissues might well be called a renewal of life.

The process by which Paine's celery compound is able to build up health in the run-down body is not hard to understand when one observes how surely it disposes the bowels to act regularly, how it increases the capacity to take and assimilate food, and reinvigorates the nervous system over the body.

The heavy, aching pain in the back and limbs disappears, the growing pale-ness and loss of flesh is stopped, and a bright, buoyant feeling gradually takes the place of that unending sense of tire and depression.

Paine's celery compound is the exact remedy for that large class of feeble thin blooded, often hysterical persons whose greatest need is a thorough refreshing of their blood with the red corpuscles upon which health and happiness in such large measure depend.

The extraordinary virtue of Paine's celery compound to increase the proportion of red corpuscles in the blood is the source of its great power over all blood diseases, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney diseases, back aches, loss of flesh and general run-down condition.

THE DAY BEYOND.

When youth is with us, all things seem
But lightly to be wished and won.
We stare tomorrow in a dream
And take our toll for work undone,
"For life is long, and time a stream
That sleeps and sparkles in the sun—
What need of any haste?" we say,
"Tomorrow's longer than today."
And when tomorrow shall destroy
The heaven of our dreams in vain
Our hurrying manhood we employ
To build the vanished bliss again.
We have no leisure to enjoy,
"So few the years that yet remain;
So much to do, and, ah! we say,
"Tomorrow's shorter than today."
But when our hands are worn and weak
And still our labors seem unblest,
And time goes past us like a blink
Last twilight waning to the west,
"It is not here the bliss we seek,
Too brief is life for happy rest.
And yet what need of grief?" we say;
"Tomorrow's longer than today."
—A. St. John Adecock in Chambers' Journal.

Common salt that is used daily in our food is needed in the body. It aids digestion and the assimilation of the food and helps in the composition of many of the tissues.

Roses do not secret honey in their flowers. Insects are simply attracted by the perfume and rich colors and by the abundant supply of pollen, which serves as food.

Frankfort has the largest theater in Germany. It seats 1,900 persons.
Cologne comes next, with a theater of 1,720 seating capacity.

In the town hall at Sydney is built the largest pipe organ in the world. It has five manuals and pedals and 148 stops.

Nice Work

Beautiful Sea Shells

Every one admires them. Since coming south I have received numerous inquiries from northern people for sea shells and now I am prepared to answer you. I can send you shells, for I have made quite a collection of lovely shells, both from our own coast, the Carolinas, and some beautiful ones from the West India Islands. I will sell a dozen or two shells, to the one who sends a stamp for postage. Mrs. F. A. WARNER, Jacksonville, Fla.

DANGER IN SODA.

Serious Results Sometimes Follow its Excessive Use.

Common soda is all right in its place and indispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing on press, but it is dangerous to the stomach, and people who use it are suffering all day long.

When the stomach is sore and the bowels are constipated, a little of the natural acids of the stomach will do more good than any medicine. It is a natural remedy for the stomach and the bowels, and it is the best stomach medicine you can use.

This drinks as a mechanical stimulant to the walls of the stomach and bowels and causes an increased secretion of the juices, causing relief by inflammation or perforation.

Dr. Hallenbeck recommends as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) an excellent preparation sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 20 grain lozenges, very pleasant to taste and contain the natural acids, peptines and digestive elements essential to good digestion, and when taken after meals they digest the food very fully and promptly before it has time to ferment, sour and poison the blood and nervous system.

Dr. Wuerth states that he invariably uses Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach derangements and finds them a certain cure not only for sour stomach, but by promptly digesting the food they create a healthy appetite, increase flesh and strengthen the action of the heart and liver. They are not a cathartic, but intended only for stomach diseases and weakness and will be found reliable in any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cts. per package.
