GREENVILLE, N. C.

JUST FOR FUN.

Dismal weather.

Tramps seek sunny walls.

The professional pianist's work is all play.

Many a man who marries in haste repents in the same way.

There is a man named Pebble living on Beach street, and he's the only one.

"Your will power," says the Man-yunk Philosopher, "is what you would call 'pig-headedness' in another man."

"Why do you say he never lived up to his convictions?" "Because he always managed to escape before completing his sentence."

"Where is Mr. Bigcash?" asked a floorwalker of '99 model department store. "I jest seeden him showin' a Spanish agent de bargains in our battleship department," replied a cash boy.

THE COLONEL REPENTS.

He Gets His Reflector and Again Favors Our Readers With Interesting Sketches From the Indian Territory and Texas.

DALLAS, TEX., Mar. 20, 1898.

DEAR REFLECTOR:

I take all back that I said about you forgetting me because I was absent from the great "State of Pitt." Upon my return yesterday I found one copy of THE REFLECTOR just four days old. It was like meeting a real genuine friend from the old State.

I came down the Frisco line from Fort Smith Friday evening and got here at 11 o'clock; found a lot of mail and am resting a day or two. I have made two trips through the Territory on different roads. I went up on the M. K. & T., on the "Cañon Ball" as they call it, or the "Katy Flyer." And a dandy it is.

I have done as much of my travel by day light as was possible that I might jot down my observations.

I am more impressed with the greatness of the Indian Territory than ever, and am told that the southern part of the Territory, yet to see, is by far the best part of it. I have been very much impressed with the Indians. Have seen and talked with a great many, from full blood to one-sixteenth. The Cherokees are very intelligent and kindly natured. I was royally entertained by a one-eighth Cherokee family at Fort Worth. The family is composed of father, mother and five boys and all are intensely proud of their record. Was shown a great many Indian souvenirs, &c.

The lady of the house is a very beautiful woman, highly cultured and refined, and thoroughly interested in the education of the boys, who I found to be splendid types of manhood. I met the father in the Oklahoma Lodge of K. of P., and he and the brethren were very nice to me.

I should have gone to Talaqua, the capital of the Cherokee Tribe, but the weather was bad, the streams very much swollen from two days' heavy rain, and it is 19 miles from a railroad.

The Cherokees are a proud people. They are proud of their college which contains several hundred students, some beautiful girls, smart and queenly, among them. I saw quite a number of them at Mr. Payne's in Fort Smith. I have a copy of the tribal paper published at the capital. Of course I am too busy to read it. I shall take it home with me and have some of the Greenville students tackle it. It is very unique.

There is great agitation over the territorializing of the nation under the Curtis bill now pending in Congress.

Many oppose it but the general belief is that it will be the greatest good to the greatest number. As it is now no white person owns any land in the Indian nation, only by possessory title, and those who have spent money on improvements will have to have a real-estate and pay for the lands and city property before they get title. When this law is passed by Congress there will be a mad rush for the nation, but not such as the Cherokee strip caused a few years ago.

I saw a beautiful Indian pony offered for $10, six years old, fat and a fine pacer, well broke to harness, rode beautifully and was perfectly gentle. I wanted the pony but the distance home was too far. These ponies cost nothing to feed them, and once a year they have what is called a rounding up and brand them. Cattle are fine in the nation and no feed has been given them during the winter, this being the mildest winter in many years.

I saw thousands of tons of hay marketing at $3.50 to $3.75 a ton. It cost nothing but cutting and baling and cuts from three to five tons per acre. The grass in the nation is superior to the Texas grass.

I saw a lot of 3,000 cattle sell for $8,000 cash, and the same day 27,000 cattle sold from $14 to $30 per head. They cost nothing but herding.

It is a hard matter for a man to know one day ahead whether he will be in possession of his lands or some one else. All this will be adjusted under the Curtis bill. The courts are all Federal in jurisdiction, but under the new law they will have local courts.

I visited the scenes of the cyclone at Fort Smith and this is one of the things the papers did not exaggerate. It is simply horrible to look upon now after two months have elapsed and many buildings are being replaced. The oldest building in the city was in the direct track of the cyclone and was unhurt, while all around it was a total wreck.

This is March weather sure enough. I never knew the wind to blow so hard and so constant anywhere as it does in this section and the Territory.

I suppose Capt. Smith and the boys are in great glee at the prospect of a fight. There is much intense feeling here at this particular time, waiting for the report of the Board of Inquiry into the Maine disaster.

Politics is hot in Texas. That is one good thing they are rid of in the Territory, they never have an election. I find a great many bimetalists all over this section.

Dallas is a great business and railroad centre, and everything is bustle.

I had to have another pair of soles put on my shoes. Out here people get two pair of shoes when they buy. You understand why.

I see Gov. Russell says he can furnish 245,000 soldiers to fight Spain. I suppose the great State of Pitt headed the list.

Good bye. ISAAC A. SUGG.

FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1898.

A paper called the Herald was recently started at Winston by colored men, and it began talking right out in an independant way about how the colored voter, the backbone of the Republican party, is treated when it comes to a division of offices, and declaring that henceforth the colored man would demand his share of the pie. This seems to be occasioning much trouble among the Republican bosses around Winston, as we judge by the following from the Journal of that city: "Among the troubles on the waters" now is that colored paper and it seems to be worrying the very life out of some of the bosses who think they own the colored man soul and body. We know of a hardship or two the Herald must undergo because of this aversion of the bosses to having their dictations crossed. It has been that all they need do was to issue the command and it was carried out without question. It's different now and the bosses are sore. Still they have hope. They base that hope upon another hope that the new paper can not stand the financial storm and that the new craft will prove too frail. Be that as it may, the spirit to gain political independence grows stronger as the desire of the bosses to enslave the negro increases.

Sacredness of the Betrothal.

In the April Ladies' Home Journal Edward W. Bok writes on "The Answer of a Girl's Life," discussing the allegation made against the American girl that she thinks lightly of the importance of her betrothal. "The betrothal," Mr. Bok asserts, "should be just as sacred as the marriage. It is the gravest of the two steps which bind two people together, because it is the initiative. Only the most extraordinary circumstances justify a breaking of the betrothal. Only one other agency in life—alcohol—is responsible for more broken hearts and wrecked lives than broken engagements. It is highly necessary that our girls should have a perfectly clear idea of what a betrothal means, or should mean, if it is a betrothal in the sight of God. A hasty impulse, the temporary swaying of a tumultuous, youthful passion, the confusion of admiration for affection, the mistaking of respect for love: these are not safe grounds for betrothals. It is never to the credit of a girl, in the eyes of men, that she has been engaged two or three times. Girls should remember that. Too often they think that men feel otherwise, or, perhaps, do not care. But men do; that is, the men worth marrying. A man looks upon an oft-engaged girl as he does upon a peach with much of the bloom rubbed off. Besides, men generally conclude that there is something wrong with such a girl. The right kind of a girl will betroth herself but once. An unhappy betrothal can be just as keen a sorrow as an unhappy marriage. It has darkened the life of more than one woman."

We Have Tillman Left.

A phase of the war situation, as it appears in one section of North Carolina, was related yesterday by a representative in Congress from that State. In one of the orphans' homes down there the children had heard the older members of the household discuss the Maine disaster and became very much interested in the subject. A little eight-year-old girl, when she came to the dinner table, asked one of the older girls: "Elizabeth, which do you think will whip, Spain or North Carolina?" Elizabeth explained that there was no war and hoped there would be none. In case there should be, not simply North Carolina, but the whole United States would be arrayed against Spain. Some one then jocosely remarked "They can't fight, now that George Washington is dead." At this the little girl interposed: "Oh, yes they can. Ben Tillman is living." She had heard Senator Tillman speak last summer at the Mooresville picnic and he had impressed her greatly.—Washington Post.

Divorced and Married Same Day.

Who can now say that Wilkes is not getting a move on herself. Mrs. Ida Eller was granted a divorce here late Wednesday afternoon. Fifteen minutes later marriage license was issued for her marriage to deputy sheriff Nathan Wyatt, of Union township, and not long afterwards Esq. Somers tied the knot for them. The bride is 25 years old and has had considerable experience in marrying, this being her third marriage. She first married a young man name Greene, up on Hog Elk. He left the country, and after waiting in vain seven years for his return she married Finley Eller. It seems that this union was not pleasant and she sued for divorce and it was granted. She no doubt has now found a congenial life companion, and they will live happily together, is almost a self-evident sequence.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

Democrat Gets the Glory.

"And so the United States Supreme court has decided against the Wilsons in the Railroad Commission case," said a prominent Republican of more than State reputation yesterday. "The only objection I have to the new Commission is that Mr. Pearson, the Democrat on the board, is getting all the glory and the credit for anything done in behalf of the people. But in this case he deserves it. Of course our man, Dr. Abbott, is toting the corporation end of the log, while our Populist friend, Mr. Caldwell, is occupying the usual middle ground—neither fish nor fowl nor good red herring."

Then this Republican, who is an able lawyer, went on to say that the judgment proposed by Mr. Pearson and rejected by Mr. Caldwell and Mr. Abbott in the rate decision, was perfectly regular, ably drawn and just such a paper as should have been adopted if the Commission had had any desire to make out a case before the courts.

"As it stands now," he continued, "the Commission is bound to lose its case and the railroads and Caldwell will never be able to convince the world that he's not a party to the deal. That is why I say the Democrats are the only people getting anything out of this new Commission."

A San Francisco figurer estimates that $55,000,000 will be paid out this year in that city for outfits and transportation to the Yukon gold fields. This will be about $35,000,000 more than the estimated output of gold from the finds up there.

A POPULAR MISTAKE

Regarding Remedies for Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

The national disease of Americans is indigestion or in its chronic form dyspepsia, and for the very reason that is so common many people neglect taking proper treatment for what they consider trifling stomach trouble, when as a matter of fact, indigestion lays the foundation for many incurable diseases. No person with a vigorous healthy stomach will fall a victim to consumption. Many kidney diseases and heart troubles date their beginning from poor digestion, thin, nervous people are really so because their stomachs are out of gear; weary, languid, faded out woman owe their condition to imperfect digestion.

When nearly every person you meet is afflicted with weak digestion, it is not surprising that nearly every secret patent medicine on the market claims to be a sure dyspepsia, as well as a score of other troubles, when in fact, as Dr. Werthier says, there is but one genuine dyspepsia cure which is perfectly safe and reliable, and moreover this remedy is not a patent medicine, but it is a scientific combination of pure pepsin (free from animal matter), vegetable essences, fruits, salts and bismuth. It is sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. No extravagant claims are made for them, but for indigestion or any stomach trouble Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are far ahead of any remedy yet discovered. They act on the food eaten, no dieting is necessary, simply eat all the wholesome food you want and these tablets will digest it. A cure results, because all the stomach needs is a rest, which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give by doing the work of digestion.

Druggists sell these tablets at 50 cts per package. Little book on stomach diseases and testimonials sent free by addressing Stuart Co., chemists, Marshalls, Mich.

The American Girl Misunderstood Abroad.

Miss Lillian Bell, who is visiting Europe for the first time, recording her impressions and observations in The Ladies' Home Journal, writes from Berlin to the April number of that magazine, that "it would be utterly impossible for the American girl to be more exquisitely misunderstood than she is by the French and Germans." To be "exquisitely" misunderstood, one can readily believe, is a rare experience.

The Government is about to pay an unusual special pension claim to the widow of Lieutenant Michael Moore, who at the time of his death in Brooklyn last year had served in the United States army continuously for 85 years, thus holding the world's record for service of that character. He enlisted as a drummer boy at the outbreak of the war of 1812. His widow is eighty two years old, and when her husband died they had been married sixty-three years.

In case of war the price of cereals and bread-stuff would immediately rise, and the price of most other things (except munitions of war) is likely to decline. Therefore the farmer who puts his land in grain and does not raise so much five cents cotton will be wise. Under present conditions there is little reason to expect an advance in the price of cotton, and if another enormous crop is raised next year the price is likely to touch the lowest point ever known.—Charlotte News.

ACETYLENE GAS.

The Light of the Future.

Why not be independent and own your own little gas plant which will give four times more light than ordinary gas or electric lights at one half the cost? Applicable for use in churches, stores, factories, hotels, residences and country homes; safer than ordinary gas or kerosene lamps. Approved by all the Boards of Underwriters throughout the United States. We want a first class agent in every town. Write for catalogue and prices.

NOTES OF THE WAR SCARE

Senator Foraker's voice is for war, once more.

Congressman Dingley says hostilities seem to be inevitable

Brazil has refused to sell to our navy her big torpedo cruiser Dupy.

General Miles wants 600 additional horses immediately for cavalry.

General Pando's overtures to insurgent leaders for peace have fallen flat.

Ninety-eight per cent, of Missouri's National Guard promises to respond in case the President calls.

Recruiting officers for the navy will seek enlistments at St. Paul Duluth, Milwaukee and Chicago.

New York State's separate companies of troops have been combined into battalions, to be ready for a sudden call to arms

Secretary Long is considering the advisability of procuring a naval coaling station on one of the West Indies, as in case of war our Government's vessels in those waters could not readily coal up.

The Morgan Line steamer Cholmette has been decided on as an auxiliary cruiser or repair ship of the navy, and other Atlantic coast steamers are being examined.

A trim little Yarrow-built launch, with one torpedo tube, two one-pound guns and a speed of 16 knots, has been purchased in England for our navy; price $25,000.

The Vesuvius' dynamite guns may be used, in case of war, to blow up torpedoed in Havana harbor, and 200 pounds of gun cotton exploded in the water will destroy torpedoed within 50 feet.

New Use for the Telephone

During the early part of a dinner recently given in Washington, the guest of honor, a young married woman who is the proud mother of two small boys, suddenly paused, with a startled look, in the midst of an animated conversation with her host, and cried: "There, if I didn't forget those boys again! Have you a telephone in the house, and may I use it?" Her host conducted her to the telephone, and presently she returned. "I do hope you will pardon me," she said, "but you see I always have Georgie and Eddie say their prayers to me before they go to sleep. In the hurry of getting off, I forgot it tonight, so I have just called up their nurse. She brought the children to the 'phone, and they have just said their prayers over the wire, so my mind is relieved."

Peanut Sandwiches.

That there are fads in edibles as well as in philanthropy, dress, and manners is proved by the advent of a new sandwich. This new delicacy, which is a peanut sandwich, is delicious, easily made and inexpensive. It will take the place of the salad sandwich at wedding receptions, teas, etc. The peanuts for the filling are skinned, chopped very fine and mixed with rich mayonnaise dressing. It is then spread on thin slices of bread, coated with just a suspicion of butter. Of course, any nuts may be substituted for peanuts, which are mentioned merely as being the least expensive.

Unusual Uses for Vinegar.

Now that the Lenten season calls for fish in extra quantities, it is well to know how to keep the fish fresh over-night. Simply wrap it in a cloth made very wet with vinegar. Beefsteak may also be kept fresh in the same way.

To keep cheese moist, wrap it in a cloth dampened with vinegar, and place a dry cloth over this.

To keep the hands from chapping during the windy March weather, rub a little vinegar and spirits of camphor over them, when it is necessary to go out of doors after having the hands in water. This application well rubbed in is also good for rough skin.

If you have a skirt-waist or wash dress with green ground, the color of which is likely to fade, add sufficient vinegar to the starch to make it taste somewhat acid; or if it is not necessary to starch it, rinse it in vinegar and water and dry the goods in the shade.

Nothing will so quickly remove stains from eggshells as wiping them with a cloth wet with vinegar.

If your writing ink is too thick add a few drops of vinegar and shake the bottle well.

Mix the stove-polish with vinegar, and it will work better and give a better polish than when mixed with sugar, alum, or the half-dozen other things usually recommended for this purpose.

In the polishing of brass during the spring cleaning vinegar will prove one of the best cleansers, mixed with a little salt, and then washed off thoroughly before the dry polish.

There is a deficiency in the regular rainfall for the state of 36 inches. The state geological survey and managers that use water power say that unless there is heavy spring and summer rains there is every prospect for a water famine.

A great many things keep Lent particularly the little loaves made to your friends.

This is to Certify

That a few years since, while living in a malarial district, I suffered dreadfully with chills which it seemed impossible to break. A friend urged me to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I did so, and by the use of a few bottles they were entirely broken and I have not been troubled with them since. I also found it an excellent nerve.

Warning to Delinquents

The Physician's Black List for Pitt county is undergoing revision, and this is to give notice to all delinquents that if their accounts are not settled by the 15th of April their names will appear on the black list.

This is Right.

We are in favor of killing every dog, good, bad or indifferent, permitted to run at large, regardless of who the owner be. The best interests of the community demand it. It is not a wise plan to allow dogs the privilege of the highways, and an opportunity to bite any person that may come in their way, and then wait to see if the person bitten suffers the horrible death of Cydophobia, before there is an effort made for common protection.—Winter-ville Home Visitor.

Christian Education.

Rev. O. L. Stringfield, of Raleigh made a delightful talk in the Baptist church here on Thursday night, on the difference between Christian education and secular education. He said that making money and getting in society are about the lowest incentives people can have for seeking an education. An education is not perfect unless it prepares the heart as well as the mind. We need to be educated that we may be able to think for ourselves. Mr. Stringfield paid a high tribute to the women of our State and showed why they should have equally as good educational advantages as men.
