OVER THE COUNTRY

Ex-Mayor Adolph Sutro, of San Francisco, Cal., is dying at his home.

An electric train was held up at Argentine, Kan., and three robbers got $100.

Two hundred of 1500 striking employes at the York Cotton Mills, Saco, Me., returned to work yesterday.

Charles Gates, a tamale vender, at Oakland, Cal., was tied to a table and pounded to death with a piece of iron.

Mrs. Elizabeth VanName, who was bitten 28 times, at New Brighton, Staten Island, by a wild dog, died of hydrophobia.

Independence Resolution

Senator Allen has introduced a resolution in the Senate recognizing the independence of Cuba, and demanding that the United States should intervene immediately. The resolution recites that Spain has already lost Cuba, and that the United States should put an end to the war. Senator Allen asks that $500,000 be appropriated for the starving Cubans. Senator Foraker offered a resolution declaring the freedom of Cuba, and said that later he would make a speech. He thought that action had been too long delayed, and said that he was dissuaded from presenting a similar resolution in December by the President who wished to have autonomy for it.

Spanish Report on Maine Disaster.

The report of the Spanish Board of Enquiry adduces as proofs that the explosion was internal, the alleged facts that no dead fish were found in the harbor, as would have been the case if a mine or torpedo had exploded; that no column of water arose from the explosion; that the bay remained perfectly still, no waves following the explosion, although small passenger steamers plying between Havana and Regla make waves that are ordinarily felt in the harbor, and that the hull bulges from the inside outward."

Will Go in Service at Once.

The graduating class at the Annapolis Naval Academy, who were to stand their final examination next June, have been advanced and the examination has been ordered for April, 4th. The Secretary of the Navy has made this change so as to put the class in immediate service, there not being enough young officers to supply the present demand. Mr. Lyman A. Cotten, of this county, is a member of the class and will receive his commission.

JUST FOR FUN.

City Editor—"Here, here, what do you mean by writing. 'The prisoner laughed aloud for mercy?' Reporter—"That's all right; the Judge had perpetrated an inane joke at the prisoner's expense."

"What horridly bad form that new-comer shows," remarked the stylish lunatic. "How so?" asked Napoleon Bonapart of the Queen of Sheba. "Don't you see? He's wearing a high hat with his strait-jacket."

He—"Do you think woman dress to please the men or to rival other women?" She—"Oh to please the men; you must remember that there were no other women in the world when Eve put on her first fig leaves."

Henglish 'Arry—"Eard a buily good joke: Laborer says to 'is foreman: 'Shall Hi use my shovel or my pick?' Walker—"Well?" Henglish 'Arry—"Well, the foreman told the bloomin' beggar he could take 'is choice."

"Ve stant beck to beck, und vank tea paces, and turn 'round und fire," said he tall German, arranging for the duel. "O'll not!" replied the short Irishman; "shure yez hov longer legs nor me, and yez'd hov th' advantage av me in the pacin'."

STATE NEWS.

A movement has been stated to have an army post established at Raleigh.

A party of about thirty New Jersey editors will visit Newbern early in May.

Otho Wilson has announced that he is going to run for Congress in the fourth district.

Two Mormon elders were kicked out of Concord for making faces at some ladies whom they passed on the street.

A few nights ago thieves made an unsuccessful attempt to blow open the safe in the Southern Railway depot at Oxford.

The Directors of the North Carolina Railroad have decided to abandon the effort to annul the lease of that road to the Southern and the suit before the Federal Court will be withdrawn. The suit for contempt against officials of the Southern have also been dismissed.

FACES HOMEWARD.

The Colonel Writes Another Letter and Turns His Face Homeward Again.

DALLAS, TEX., Mar. 25, 1898.

DEAR REFLECTOR:

Back again from a trip off in the interior to find that the city of Dallas, and in fact the whole country in Texas, seems to be stirred to its foundations. Martial music greets the ear at every place and there seems to be great expectancy just ahead.

I was on the exchange this afternoon. Great crowds were there watching the tickers and speculating on the results. Old men from different sections of the South and West who were participants in the war between the States say ominously that it is "like the days before Sumter was fired upon," and to the thinking mind it is on hour of great suspense.

I go to Galveston from here before returning home to court in April. My entire trip has been a most pleasant one. I am more surprised every day with the wonderful resources of this western country. I very often come in contact with the masses—I mean in the rural districts with the people who are the brawn of the land.

Frost on Friday night did great damage to truck crops and fruit. Grasses are growing beautifully and I never saw so many fine fat cattle at this season of the year.

Ere this reaches you the crisis will have come regarding the war. I shall have turned my face to the "great state of Pitt" stopping only a day in the sugar plantations of Louisiana.

I met a war comrade of Dr. O'Hagan, Dr. Thurston, who lives here in Dallas and was cordially glad to me. He had much to say of our distinguished townsmen. He is rich and enjoys a large practice.

The telephone system is more complete in Texas than any section I have been in. Today I talked from this place with Dr. Wallace in Waco, and have talked to Galveston several times. Every town in the State is connected by telephone. What will the next quarter of a century develop?

Now, Dave, this is my last letter. If my rambling lines have pleased or interested any one in the county of my home I am glad to have done so.

I have failed so far to get a glimpse of the editor of The Iconoclast, much to my regret. Sam Jones is in Texas. He passed through today and lectures tonight at Ft. Worth on "Sawcietty."

I would like very much to see the Rev. Samuel and Mr. Brann have a "bout."

The biggest crowd could be brought together for such a meeting that ever greeted two men in the South.

Good bye 'till I see you again.

ISAAC A. SUGG.

[THE REFLECTOR and its readers have greatly enjoyed Col. Sugg's interesting letters, and while we will be glad to see him back home we regret that his letters are to cease coming.—Ed.]

An Interesting Discovery.

An inspection of the Diamond Shoals Light-Ship, No 69, since her return to this port for repairs, has revealed a condition of affairs, which, while it was not expected, is somewhat alarming as to the apparent life of a vessel at her station.

It has not been given out here, but enough has been found out to show that No. 69 is, for a vessel but six months in service, a badly used-up ship. Opened seams, loosened bolts, strained timbers and joints, utterly worn-out cable are the prominent results of the straining, racking and lurching of the craft, which Bath ship-builders, especially exercised their skill in building.

Captain Blum, commanding her, in a recent interview, stated that life off Hatteras is no joke and the captain is a grim sea dog, who would make the best of his position at that.

During the winter months there has not been hardly a day when the vessel has not been tested, as few vessels could be and stand the strain, while from October 24th, inclusive, she stood the severest storm known on the coast for 25 years, the hurricane reaching the velocity of 75 miles an hour during that time, and rarely falling below 50 miles.

It is not the infrequent great storms, but the frequent gales of lesser weight which have proven most disastrous to the lightship. Her mooring position is 14 miles off shore, on the edge of the Gulf Stream, the current of which sets to the northeast, and as the prevailing winds are from the northeast the sea becomes exceedingly rough. There is no way to prevent the lightship from falling into the trough of the sea, and then there is indescribable rolling and pitching, and life is anything but enjoyable.

Captain Blum said that he had witnessed one wreck since he had been stationed at the shoals, but at too great a distance for him to render assistance.

Just what the inspection board will recommend is unknown, but that report will prove interesting.—Norfolk Pilot.

ACETYLENE GAS.

The Light of the Future.

Why not be independent and own your own little gas plant which will give four times more light than ordinary gas or electric lights at one half the cost? Applicable for use in churches, stores, factories, hotels, residences and country homes; safer than ordinary gas or kerosene lamps. Approved by all the Boards of Underwriters throughout the United States.

THE ACETYLENE GAS MACHINE CO. Akron, Ohio.

The Cuban Situation.

And now, it is said, the Administration wishes the war terminated upon terms that will make the Cubans "practically a free people."

But will the Cuban patriots accept such terms? Will the American people stand such mockery? Will Congress uphold the President in such a cowardly surrender to those who proclaim that a righteous war would "disturb values?"

To show the vacillating policy of the President, he had fully determined up to a late hour Sunday night not to transmit to Congress the testimony given before the Board of Inquiry; but this met with such a storm of adverse criticism that he yielded and sent in the testimony with his message.

As to the outlook, the Star sees no reason to change its opinion that there will be no war, because the United States do not desire war, and Spain has so nearly exhausted her resources in the struggle to resist Cuba that she is in no condition to fight with the slightest hope of success.

The overshadowing issue now is whether the Cubans shall have absolute independence, or be "practically a free people" as the Administration phrases it. We believe Congress will decide that no settlement of this question must be entertained that does not include the independence of Cuba.—Wilmington Star.

The First Bomb Shell Settled Them

For the past two or three days there has been a great deal of "war talk" among our people, and it was hinted around the streets Thursday that a company of colored troops would be organized in Louisiana that night. About 40 answered the "roll-call" and after electing a corps of officers, it was proposed that a drum be procured and practice drill be had up and down Main street.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED.

The New Medical Discovery Tested.

Results of the test in various forms of dyspepsia.

Chronic indigestion or dyspepsia, while a very common trouble, has for some time been looked upon by able physicians as a serious thing, and that no time should be lost in treating it properly at the start, because recent researches have shown that the most serious, fatal and incurable diseases have their origin in simple dyspepsia or indigestion.

Diabetes is simply one form of indigestion, the sugar and starchy food not being assimilated by the digestive organs. In Bright's disease the albumen is not properly assimilated.

While consumption and dyspepsia are twin diseases, and it is beyond question that dyspepsia makes a fertile soil for the seeds of consumption.

But the trouble has been to find a remedy that could be depended upon to cure dyspepsia, as it is notoriously obstinate and difficult to cure.

This has been the question which has puzzled physicians and dyspeptics alike, until the question was solved three years ago by the appearance of a new dyspepsia cure in the medical world known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which it was claimed was as a certain, reliable cure for every form of stomach trouble.

Physicians, however, would not accept such statements without first giving the new remedy many tests and carefully observing results.

For three years the remedy has been thoroughly tested in every section of the country, and with surprising and satisfactory results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be honestly claimed to be a specific, a radical lasting cure for indigestion in the various forms of acid dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas or wind on stomach, too much bile, undue fullness or pressure after eating and similar symptoms resulting from disordered digestion. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were not placed before the public until this three years' trial left no doubt as to their value and they have recently been placed in the trade and can be found on sale at all druggists at the nominal price of 50 cents per package.

No extravagant claims are made for the remedy. It will cure rheumatism, pneumonia, typhoid fever nor anything but just what it is claimed to cure and that is every form of stomach trouble.

No dieting is necessary, good wholesome food and plenty of it and you may rest assured that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest it.

Druggists claim for it that it is a pleasure to recommend it to dyspeptics, because it gives such universal satisfaction.

Little book on stomach diseases sent free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

While Gladstone has entered into the Valley of the Shadows, Bismarck is reported to be about to celebrate the approaching anniversary of his birth in hale and hearty condition. The blood and Iron Chancellor will reach the eighty-third milestone of his life on Friday of this week. The Grand Old Man of England was born on December 29, almost six years before the birth of Bismarck, and is now in his eighty-ninth year. Gladstone entered upon his Parliamentary career in December, 1832, at the age of 23. Bismarck was then a student of 17, and did not become a member of the Diet of the province of Saxony until 1846, 14 years later, when Gladstone was already a Secretary of State and about to enter with Sir Robert Peel on the Corn Laws fight.

Rented by the Year.

A prominent Republican of the strictest sect and a red-hot Populist were discussing political matters here last week. They don't exactly agree on several points, and the Populist intimated that the Republicans might have some trouble in arranging fusion with the Populists next time. The Republican replied that there was very little fusion anyway; that the Republicans were just renting the pops by the year. —Wilkesboro Chronicle.

Salting bales of cotton is the latest method to make them heavier. The Fairfield Mill, Winstboro, S. C., a few days ago opened up six bales, there being found in the centre of each a large quantity of salt. This will go on record with stuffing bales with rocks, old iron, peaninnies, etc.

Not content with barring out American fresh fruit from Germany, the Berlin Government now propose to exclude "fruit waste" from this country, as inimical to the more or less flourishing jelly industry of southwestern Germany. Fruit waste is composed largely of the refuse of American canning establishments—the cores and rinds of apples, chiefly—and the shrewd jelly and preserve compounders of Europe have been practically the sole customers for it since its appearance in the world's markets.

Forty Beaufort Harbor.

In the presence of a probable war with an enemy possessing the agencies of great destruction to our coast towns and cities, we are surprised that the government has taken no steps to fortify Beaufort harbor, and rehabilitate Fort Macon, at the entrance of Beaufort harbor. A Spanish fleet of gunboats drawing twenty feet could easily reach the towns of Beaufort and Morehead City and do great damage to that section. We call upon our representatives in congress to insist upon it that this point, with others along our coast, be put in a condition of defence. Wilmington, or rather the entrance to the Cape Fear, has been properly and we doubt not fully protected, but there are other points which have received no attention. We are surprised that the authorities have not given attention to these other points. What have our senators and representative been doing?
 —Raleigh Post.

John L. Sullivan has a plan to end the Cuban business. He proposes to organize a regiment of prize fighters and clean the Spaniards out, give 'em that solar plexus punch as it were.

Her Adorer—"May I marry your daughter, sir?" Her Father—"What do you want to marry for? You don't know when you're well off." Her Adorer—"No, perhaps not, but I know when you're well off."—Truth.

The method of suicide adopted by Mrs. Emma Perry, of Detroit, is not likely to become popular. She put on her fluffiest cotton and cambric clothes, poured kerosene oil all over them and then applied a match.

Flying squadrons may be all right enough, but the kind of flying squadrons we want is the squadrons which will make the waters on this side so hot for Spanish ships that they will do some flying to get out of them.—Wilmington Star.

A hundred new manufacturing establishments in a single week is a good record for a single section of the country, especially in the face of the war rumors which naturally have a tendency to delay action in business matters. The Manufacturers' Record of last week reports this number of new enterprises in the Southern States alone, Alabama, North Carolina, and Virginia having eight each, Georgia and Texas nine each, and Kentucky, Louisiana, Missouri, South Carolina, and Maryland a half dozen each. These new establishments include furniture factories, pottery works, shingle mills, clothing factories, hats manufacturing establishments, pump works, rubber manufacturing, cotton mills, tobacco factories, car-wheel works, shoe factories, carriage manufacturing establishments, and various other enterprises.

Still Speaking.

The news from Washington today is that members of the House are still speaking against the President's position on the Spanish affair. Congress is warm for war and does not like the President's attitude. There is no telling how the matter will terminate. The whole country will be aroused against President McKinley if he allows Wall street and Mark Hanna to influence him to attempt to push his plan.

Second Spanish Flotilla

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat's special cable from Madrid, via Brairitz, France, to avoid the censor, says Spain has started a second torpedo flotilla of six boats to Havana, under escort of the Cristobal Colon, and that Weyler is on his way to Havana.

Died.

We learn by telephone of the death of Mr. E. E. Best, of Winterville, which occurred this morning. He had been sick with pneumonia for several weeks. Mr. Best was 35 years old and leaves a wife and five children, one of the latter being only three days old. He was a native of Wayne county and his remains will be carried there for interment.

An English View.

The St. James Gazette, of London, commenting on the report of the United States naval court of inquiry into the loss of the battleship Maine, says:

"There can be no doubt Spain owes a reparation to the American government, to say nothing of the most humble apologies and the most extreme considerations for the feelings of the nation which has lost a fine cruiser lying in peace in a presumably friendly harbor. The outlook is threatening as it could be. Spain is in the wrong and it is for Spain to walk warily."
