Debate Still Going On in Senate—Spain Orders all Able Bodied Subjects Home—United States Army Ready to Move—Spanish Consul Recalled from Jacksonville.

No Vote Yet

By Telegraph to Reflector, Washington, D. C., April 16.—The Senate has spent another day in debate on the resolution of the Foreign Relations Committee. The body adjourned last night to meet again at 10 o'clock this morning, the agreement being that four hours today be divided among three Senators who wanted to speak for peace, the remainder of the day to be divided in fifteen minutes speeches among those who wanted to express themselves on the other side.

When the Senate met this morning it was with the understanding that a vote would be reached today. Efforts are being made by the leaders of both the House and Senate to have a joint session tonight to agree upon the resolutions. The vote in the Senate may be late.

Senator Cannon opened the debate this morning, and in his speech charged the President with being vacillating and without policy. He strongly advocated the recognition of the Cuban government.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, April 15th '98. Major General Fitzhugh Lee, Commanding U. S. Army of occupation, in Cuba. How does that sound? If Mr. McKinley carries out his promise to act promptly upon the joint resolution of Congress demanding that Spain get out of Cuba and authorizing the President to employ the entire land and naval forces of the U. S., and as much of the militia of the several States as may be needed to enforce the demand, and political jealousy does not prevent, it is likely that Fitz Lee's official title will read something like that before he is many days older.

Most of the Democrats and Populists in Congress sought to incorporate a recognition of the independence of the republic of Cuba in that forcible intervention joint resolution, but the most they could do was to put themselves on record by supporting a resolution providing therefor reported by the minority of the Foreign Committee, which was beaten by a vote of 191 to 150.

Hon. W. J. Bryan paid a flying visit to Washington this week, in order to fill the role of guest of honor at the big Jefferson birthday banquet, given under the auspices of the National Association of Democratic Clubs. He responded to the toast, "Thomas Jefferson", and his speech was good sound Jefferson Democracy from start to finish, including his reference to and approval of the course that has been followed by the Democrats and Populists in Congress on the Cuban question.

Representative Lacey, of Iowa, got a little more than he went after when he taunted Representative Hartman of Montana, with having about three years ago said derisively of populists, that one of them wanted to cross centipedes with Berkshire hogs in order that each hog should have a hundred hams; another to cross the honey bee on the lightning bug, so that they could work at night, and still another was trying to cross the milkweed with the strawberry, so as to have strawberries and cream on the same plant.

The Man who Laid the Mine.

The New York World Thursday printed a special from Chicago giving the details of the arrest, by Secret Service men, of Charles A. Crandall, alias Emanuel Escudero, who, by his own confession, acting under the personal orders of Gen. Weyler, planted the mine in Havana harbor that destroyed the "Maine."

Crandall is an expert in the use of explosives, and has been in the navy. He was in Lima, Peru, in 1896, he says when he received an order from Gen. Weyler, through the latter's agent, Emil L. Castillo, to go to Havana and mine that harbor. He was given free transportation to Cuba, and was assigned at once to harbor work, and the laying of the plans for the torpedo and mine anchorage.

Weyler was so cautious, Crandall says, that he would not allow the work to proceed on moonlight night, for fear of arousing suspicion.

In all, seventeen mines and ten torpedoes were laid. The mines were made in England and the torpedoes in Italy. When the work was completed he made a chart, showing the location of the mines, and gave it to Gen. Weyler. Crandall afterwards laid three mines and seven torpedoes in the harbor of Matanzas.

When this work was finished, Weyler ordered Crandall to place an additional mine near buoy No. 4, the buoy at which the "Maine" was anchored.

This made a complete chain of the mines about the harbor from side to side.

He had many conferences with Weyler, who assured him he would be in the pay of Spain until the first mine was used.

Crandall, in his confession to the Secret Service officers, said that he remained in Havana until February 10th, when he went to Key West, where he remained until March 3rd, on which day he received his last Spanish gold from the hands of the Spanish messenger.

After the "Maine" was blown up Crandall remained in hiding with a colored family near Fort Taylor.

As soon as he received word he skipped, leaving as a stowaway, on the first steamer for Miami.

From Miami Crandall went to Nashville, where he received from Havana the following letter, dated March 1st: "Destroy all evidence. Go to New York. Ticket for London awaits you there."

This letter was signed by Diaz, Weyler's most trusted adjutant and spy, who executed all of Weyler's edicts.

He did not go to New York, but to St. Louis, and from there to Chicago, where he hoped to enlist for the war.

Crandall says the mines and torpedoes can be fired either from Morro Castle, Cabanas, or the navy yard.

It would have been impossible, he says, for any other than a Spanish officer to have fired them, as no one but Weyler and his adjutants knew where they were, or where the firing galleries were located.

Crandall says Weyler instructed him to assume the name of Escudero.

Crandall is an intelligent American. He surrendered to the secret service officers passes from Weyler and letters from the butcher showing that he is no imposter.

These, and Crandall's evidence, will be used at Washington to prove that there was a mine where the "Maine" was anchored. No blame is attached to Crandall, as he will be held only as a witness, and he will furnish the United States Government with charts, showing the location of every mine in Havana harbor.

TONSILITIS CAN BE CURED BY USING MRS JOE PERSONS REMEDY For a long time my son was troubled with some bronchial trouble which every time he took cold, settled in his throat and produced something like tonsillitis. The tonsils would enlarge and swell so that he had great trouble to swallow anything, and could take no solid food. Last spring he took half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and gargled his throat with the Wash, and it cured him. He has never had a spell since.

DESTROYERS OF DESTROYERS

The new "protected cruiser" cruised upon the ocean wide Till a man-of-war espied her and punched holes into her side.

And the man-of-war continued for a little while to float,

Till driven to the bottom by a new torpedo boat.

Then while the foe triumphant rubbed
his hands and softly laughed, Torpedo-boat destroyers came and sunk the other craft.

And as the victor dashed about,
though battle's smoke and murk,
Destroyers of torpedo-boat destroyers
did their work.

Whereat in the action something new in vessels came—
"Destroyers of destroyers of destroyers" was its name.

Which brings the matter down to date,
where it will rest no doubt,
Until some ten-time wreckers of destroyers venture out.

More than one-half of the umbrellas used in this country are produced in Philadelphia, and the distinction of the the Quaker City in this respect is no new thing, for it has passed almost into a proverb throughout the United States that "when the Quakers come to town it is going to rain." Very few persons have any correct idea of the extent of the umbrella business in the United States. It amounts in a year, taking the retail figures, $25,000,000. There are in this country 500 umbrella factories, an invested capital of $6,000,000, of which more than $3,000,000 is in the city of Philadelphia alone, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland and Ohio are the other States which are largely represented in the manufacture of umbrellas
while all the States are represented though, unevenly in their sales. There are in the United States more than 8000 persons (the larger number of them men) engaged in umbrella manufacture, and the total wages paid in a year in this branch of American industry exceeds $4,000,000. What peculiar merit the city of Philadelphia offers to umbrella makers, remarks the New York Sun, is not easily stated. The materials which enter into umbrella manufacture are not procurable with any unusual advantage in Philadelphia, and the chief market of sale is New York.

If there shall be occasion to send American soldiers to drive the Spaniards out of Cuba, Fitzhugh Lee should have a command. It would be a mistake do overlook him.—Phila. Record

As We Know Them.

As a man is often rated by the kind of clothes he wears, so he is classified intellectually by the kind of language
he uses. Both ratings may be inaccurate, but the world goes on making them just the same, for the reason that they are generally correct. If a man, therefore, is dressed like a tramp, he must expect to be taken for a tramp,
even though he may be a millionaire.
Also, if he talks and writes bad English, uses slang and coarse expressions, he must not blame people for regarding him as an ignoramus, even though he may be several times a graduate. Appearances in dress, manners and speech count for much; and no seeker
for success can afford to ignore them.— Exchange.

Charlotte seems to be infested with burglars, the papers of that city reporting robberies almost daily.

WHY IS IT?

Some Inquisitive Fiend Asks Questions We Can't Answer.

In these century-end days, when everybody seems to be wholly absorbed in making his or her neighbor live up to the higher ideals, it seems fitting to call attention to some matters, which, though they lack the importance of equal suffrage or cycling as a proper recreation for women, are nevertheless disturbing factors in the problem of the perfected life. For instance:

Why will men carry half-smoked, burning cigars into "L" trains and cable cars and why don't conductors
stop it?

Why will women always ask the elevator boy to wait and then remember that they don't want to use it at all?

Why will a man bore his friends
with stories of his wife and babies
instead of going home to them?

Why will a woman always wait until she gets just in front of a ticket window before she tries to find her pocketbook?

Why will a man take fifteen minutes to tell you a story and then admit that he "can't tell it?"

Why will women ape men and then scorn any man who acts as they do?
—N. Y. Recorder.

Sailors Are Not Improvident.

Sailors are not quite so improvid-ent as tradition represents them.
They do not squander all their money at any port their ships may happen to touch at. From a return just issued by order of the house of commons, it seems that within the past 17 years over £2,500,000 out of wages earned by seamen have been transmitted either through the post office, local marine boards or board of trade offices to relatives at home.
Of that sum, £195,630 was sent between the 1st of April, 1893, and the end of March, 1894. The total amount paid in the United Kingdom on money orders sent to sailors in 28 years was just £12,608,690, and over £355,000 was paid in the 12 months ending March 31, 1894. The seamen's investments in savings banks amount to something very near £85,000 a year.—London Daily News.

SEE THAT?

What Is It?

PARNER FOUNTAIN PENS

Best in use. The outfit of no business man is complete without one.

The Reflector Book Store

has a nice assortment of these Fountain Pens
also a beautiful line of Pearl Handle Gold Pens.
You will be astonished when you see them and earn how very cheap they are.

You may never,
But should you ever?

The Daily Reflector

Gives the home news
every afternoon at the small price of 25 cents a month. Are you a subscriber? If not you ought to be.

The Eastern Reflector.

TWICE-A-WEEK.

Is only $1 a year. I contains the news every week, and gives information to the farmers, especially those growing tobacco, that is worth many times more than the subscription price.

Weather Bulletin.

Fair weather tonight and Sunday, warmer Sunday.

One Chance More.

The registration books for the coming town election will be kept open in the different wards next Saturday until 12 o'clock, noon, which will be the last chance given voters for registering.

Their Two Troubles.

Mr. Theo. Edwards, of Snow Hill, while in town today dropped in for a chat with THE REFLECTOR. He says the people of Greene are having but two troubles along now. One is that there has not been enough water in the creek this spring for boats to get up to Snow Hill with their fertilizers and the farmers are thinking they will have to get along without any. The other is the scarcity of hollow logs and stumps in the county, so many people being afraid of the war that more of them are seeking hollows to hide in than there are stumps and logs to go around.

STATE NEWS.

Maj. Clement Dowd, of Charlotte, died Friday morning.

The late Dr. R. D. Fleming, of Warrenton, bequeathed $1,000 to the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville.

The Record says a lady of Warrenton broke open a large egg and found inside another smaller egg of perfect shape, shell and all.

Patrons of the Wilmington Steam Laundry are pleased with their work. Have yours ready to go in with Wednesday morning's shipment. Goods delivered Saturday evening.

These Go From The Reflector Gatlin Gun.

Did you register today?

April has given us one pretty day.

Fresh Grass Butter at S. M. Schultz.

Cotton has gone jumping up today.

Victor Reale's band left this morning.

Congressman Harry Skinner says war is bound to come and that it will be a big one.

Kinchen Cobb brought THE REFLECTOR an egg that is quite a curiosity. It is shaped like a jug.

As I will be out of town next week my Dental office will be closed during the week.

R. L. CARR.

It looks like the Easter finery that could not come out last Sunday will be able to show itself tomorrow.

Not a day goes by without subscribers being added to THE REFLECTOR. But we have room for many more.

Don't let the war news cause you to forget to keep an eye on the advertising columns of THE REFLECTOR.

The baseball season opened yesterday; but interest in the game will have to play second fiddle in these war talk times.

Court has adjourned after occupying the full two weeks and doing much business. This county will have no more court until September.

A new supply of the famous Parker Fountain Pen at Reflector Book Store. Silver dollar, special, mottled and gold band styles. They are the best fountain pen on the market.

Rev. J. B. Morton will hold service in the Presbyterian church tonight at 8 o'clock, preparatory to communion services tomorrow morning. Subject: "Footwashing as a Scriptural Injunction."

And Answer to Your Name When Called

J. F. Leggett left this morning for Wilmington.

W. M. Bond returned from Edenton Friday evening.

W. S. Clark, of Yatesville, is spending a few days here.

Mrs. Allen Warren came home Friday evening from Wilson.

Mrs. B. F. Sugg went to Washington today to visit her son.

Mrs. Ola Forbes returned this morning from a visit to Grifton.

Judge H. R. Bryan left this morning for his home in Newbern.

Rev. J. B. Morton, of Tarboro, came down Friday evening.

J. H. Small, of Washington, was here today on legal business.

D. B. Evans and wife returned Friday evening from a visit to Tarboro.

Congressman Harry Skinner arrived home Friday evening from Washington.

Judge G. H. Brown, of Washington, was here today. He is looking as well as ever.

Theo. Edwards, of Snow Hill, who is a representative of the Keely Institute at Greensboro, spent today here.

W. S. Greer left this morning for his home in Baltimore. He said there was too much war news in Greenville for him.

Robert Lee and wife and children, and Mrs. Annie Elam, of Wilson, are visiting the families of C. T. Munford and W. T. Lee.

A Day to Rest

Are you glad that tomorrow is Sunday? It will give you a day of rest—rest from labor and rest from the excitement of war news. Better still the day brings opportunities for the worship of God that all should appreciate and avail themselves of. Attend Sunday school and church and you will feel better for so doing.

Come In.

Our collector has been unable to see some who owe for subscription to THE DAILY REFLECTOR. These could favor us by calling at the office and paying their bills. The entire force of the paper is kept hard at work giving the news, and having to send a collector around more than once after small bills hinders office work just that much. Save us this trouble by calling at the office.

Look Out for Him.

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., April 15 '98.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

For the benefit of the public I will state that an Englishman by the name of A. Bridgers, who represents himself as a piano and organ tuner, is going the rounds stopping at hotels and boarding houses and leaving without paying his bills. He is a drunkard and very worthless fellow. He left a boarding house in Beaufort owing $12, and left a house in Morehead owing $8. Upon leaving here he stated that he was going to your town, Greenville. I am sure it would benefit the public to have him exposed.

He is a very small man, not over 5 feet, black hair and moustache, wears women's lace shoes.
