Such patterns elate
At the prices we state.

Patterns rare and intense,
As bargains they're immense
You invest good judgment and sense.

OUR BOYS IN CAMP.

Camp Dan Russell, Co. E., Raleigh, N. C., June 12, 1898.

EDITOR REFLECTOR, When I wrote you last that I would be in Greenville recruiting...

I want to tell you about those boxes. We opened the big one sent to Co. E. last night, it was full of everything nice.

I have not heard anybody say give me a cigarette today. We have nearly all our equipments now, uniforms, blankets, shoes, socks, drawers, ponchos, guns and top shirts will be issued in the next few days.

gents it is taking beautifully. Their arms are growing and blushing to beat the band.

Mr. J. G. Moye, of Greenville, was here the other day. He simply stopped to say he was here, and could not stay.

Somebody faints on drill every day. This weather is hot stuff.

We have been to church in the grand stand. Have to fall in by companies and march there to hear the same preacher.

Intended to mail the above but was called off for duty and have been very busy ever since.

We now drill 5 1/2 hours a day, besides an hour spent at non-commissioned officers' school.

Our company now numbers 104 Haven't heard from Hoseir yet. The regiment is nearly full.

Pippin, from Farmville, came two nights ago, and says people of Greenville and Farmville expected me.

I will write oftener now, have been sick a day or two but am O. K. again.

Rain for the last two days broke up dress parade.

If Greenville had to have that fire am sorry we could not be there to help Hope Fire Company fight some.

I am up in the grand stand. My tent is right in front of me and the boys are having a time in there, so I moved up here to write.

I will send something else soon. AMEROSE D. JOHNSTON.

FOR SHERIFF.

EDITOR REFLECTOR: In casting my eyes over the field in search of the best Sheriff timber and having applied the very strongest search light of the X ray I can find no better stuff for Sheriff than that pure and unadulterated Democrat, O. W. Harrington.

It behooves the Democrats of North Carolina to "look well to the east" if they want to know the true facts of the situation and with the one purpose in view; that of good, just government, and a government for the best interest of all humanity.

A Newark Sermon.

The business man gets exactly his share of the trade he asks for - provided he deserves it and asks for it properly.

You know of certain very good and sufficient reasons why you should get a certain amount of a certain trade.

Do you ask for it properly? Do you present these good and sufficient reasons to possible customers in the right light and through the best available medium.

If you don't you do not deserve the trade you think you deserve. Consequently you don't get it.

The customers you want are not engaged in the mind-reading industry. They will never know what you can do for them unless you tell.

They read their paper for the news.

Advertising is news - nothing more nor less.

The news of your business should be printed in the newspaper.

Then it will be seen and read by those whom you desire to reach.

Then you will have asked properly for the trade you want. Then you'll get it.

You must use the right newspaper, though - the newspaper read by the people whose trade you are anxious to secure. - Newark (N. J.) Daily Advertiser.

Don't partake too freely of cold drinks; they only bottle up the heat to make it more intense later on.

Hot Weather Don't.

- Don't sit in the sunshine.
- Don't ask "is it hot enough for you?"
- Don't call on your best girl at 3 p. m. Wait until 6.
- Don't talk politics, you'll get excited and grow warm.
- Don't discuss baptism, for we all like to be dipped this weather.
- Don't attempt to clean out the stove pipe, you might use words not in the Sunday school books.
- Don't smile and look cool when you see your neighbor earning his bread "by the sweat of his face," it might cause him to have a sunstroke.
- Don't complain because the ice man is happy, "every dealer must have his day."
- Don't abuse the preacher because he preached thirty minutes, you'd sit two hours on a plank to witness a base ball game.
- Don't imagine you are the only pebble on the beach—there are others.

Cigars and Cigarettes.

The tax on tobacco has been raised to 12 cents a pound. Some dealers have decided to keep up the size of the packages and increase the price. Others have concluded that it will be a better game to let the price stay where it is, and make the packages smaller. The cigar tax is not a heavy one, and the only difference it will make will be that you don't get as good a cigar for the price as you used to.

The cigarette tax is $1 a thousand, and the public will either have to pay six cents for a 5-cent box of ten cigarettes, or take a box with fewer cigarettes at the old price. There are over 3,000,000,000 cigarettes made annually in this country, and the war revenue on them will be about $3,000,000. The annual production of tobacco is about 400,000,000 pounds. The increased revenue on this amount would be about $24,000,000.

LONG-WILLIAMS.

Two Popular Young People Pledge Their Troth.

Thursday evening St. Paul's Episcopal church was the scene of one of those incidents always so full of interest to our people, the marriage of a popular couple. The church was most beautifully decorated for the occasion, the chancel being a bower of exquisite flowers and palms and the auditorium festooned with ribbons. From the front of the chancel was suspended an immense wedding bell of flowers with a row of brilliant lights on the arch above. All together it was a fit picture indeed amid which the ceremonies were soon to be solemnized. The audience was not long in filling every pew and all available standing room.

Just before 10 o'clock the bridal party reached the church, and as Mrs. J. B. Cherry rendered the wedding march they entered in the following order, Master Cecil Cobb preceding to open the flower gates:

The ushers, Jesse Speight and J. B. Jarvis, Dr. Zeno Brown and J. G. Moyer.

J. L. Little with Miss Ella King.

H. W. Whedbee with Miss Lila Mann, of Whitakers.

L. I. Moore with Miss Myra Skinner.

J. L. Fleming with Miss Annie Sheppard.

W. F. Harding with Miss Maud Blow.

W. S. Bernard with Miss Lucy Cox, of Kinston.

John Williams with Miss Betsy Greene.

Next came the flower girls, little Misses Bettie Russ, of Raleigh, and Allie Estelle Greene, who strewed the aisle with beautiful flowers as she passed through.

Behind these came the maid of honor, Miss Bessie Jarvis, followed by the bride on the arm of her brother, Capt. R. Williams.

The groom with his best man, B. F. Tyson, entered through the chancel and met the bride at the altar.

When all had taken their respective places around the altar Rev. Nat Harding, of Washington, in a beautiful and most impressive ceremony made Mr. W. H. Long and Miss Jennie M. Williams man and wife.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Henrietta Williams, where a reception was held, and during which there were many callers to extend their best wishes and congratulations.

The display of wedding presents was magnificent, fully attesting the popularity of the bride and groom.

Mr. Long is a young attorney of this town, very popular with the bar and with all our people. He is fortunate indeed in winning such a bride, for Greenville has no more charming and cultured young lady than she.

THE REFLECTOR joins in extending best wishes for a long and happy voyage together down life's pathway.
