STATE NEWS

The University summer school for teachers will begin June 21st and last one month in the University buildings.

Lightning struck the residence of R. F. Ring, in Wilmington, instantly killing a colored woman and setting the house on fire.

The Raleigh Post's Worth Bagby monument fund is now about $1,500.

Good Show Up

MR. H. A. WHITE, Agent,
DEAR SIR:

Please accept my sincere thanks for the very prompt and just settlement of my damages by the fire last Sunday.

Your company was only four days in adjusting and paying this claim and I can heartily recommend the Georgia Home to any desiring insurance in a first class company. Respectfully,
MRS. H. F. HARRIS.

James Edwin Moore Dead

A telegram to Mr. L. I. Moore brings the sad intelligence of the death of that eminent lawyer, who passed away Friday afternoon, after a long and painful illness, at his home in Williamston, N. C. The death of James Edwin Moore will bring a pang of sorrow to many hearts in this community and in the whole State where he has been so well and favorably known. All who knew him recognized his power and ability as a lawyer and advocate. He was a prominent visiting member of the Greenville bar, and wherever he practiced he was prominent. He was the senior member of the firm of Moore and Moore, of Greenville, and of the firm of Moore and Stubbs, of Williamston.

Mr. Moore was a member of the Primitive Baptist church and was active in his church work.

As a public man, he was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1868, and also of the Constitutional Convention of 1876 from Martin county, and also represented that county in both branches of the General Assembly of North Carolina. He was about 59 years of age, a man of fine character, as all can attest who knew him. Cut down ere he had reached the zenith of his career, his friends mourn him though not as those who have no hope. True, faithful, daring, loyal to his God, to his friends and to his own, he has gone to a last reward.

He was taken sick in September last but it did not cause alarm, and it was only about the first of April that he took to his bed entirely. His trouble was cancer of the stomach.

Deaths

Miss Reeka Fleming died this (Saturday) morning at 4 o'clock, at the home of her aunt, Miss Adelaide Fleming, two miles north of town. She was about 17 years old, and had been sick some days with fever.

Miss Sarah Vincent, daughter of Mrs. Alice Vincent, of Winterville, died Friday night of typhoid fever.

Mr. Biggs Harrington, one of the county's best citizens, died Wednesday night, 15th, at his home in Ayden, in his sixtieth year. He was buried Thursday, Revs. Bilbro and Manning conducting the funeral services.

Quarterly Conference

Presiding Elder Hall will arrive on the evening train, and hold the Second Quarterly Conference for Greenville Station at the Methodist church at 8:15 tonight. All members of the quarterly conference are requested to be present at the hour named.

CLOTHING

In quality great
Such patterns elate
At the prices we state.
Patterns rare and intense,
As bargains they're immense
You invest good judgment and sense.

Take look at my styles,
They came many miles
They keep you in smiles
No better clothes,
Than this line we suppose,
From sheep ever arose.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

A Democratic convention to nominate a candidate for Solicitor of the 3rd Judicial District of North Carolina, to be voted for at the ensuing November election, is hereby called to meet at 1 o'clock P. M., on July 6th, 1898, in the public hall at Rocky Mount.

The counties in the District that have not held conventions to select delegates to this convention will take notice hereof and govern themselves accordingly. By order of the Committee.

F. S. SREULL,

Chm. Dem. Ex. Com. Third Judicial District.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, June 17, 98.

If it took three weeks or more to get Gen. Shafter's army embarked at Tampa, after the men and the transports were there, how long will it take to land the army in Cuba after this much conveyed fleet of transports, join Admiral Sampson's fleet, off Santiago? This is the conundrum of the hour, and it is by no means an easy one to answer.

Late last week, relying upon his advisers from Washington to the aid had started for Cuba, Admiral Sampson had captured Guantanamo Bay, where he will establish a navy supply station, and headed 600 men to hold a position from which his shells had driven Spanish troops and where he hopes to put a cable station. For three days they successfully maintained an almost continuous night and day fight with a force of Spaniards outnumbering them five to one, but there is little doubt that these marines would have been a man killed had they not been reinforced by a considerable body of insurgents. Thanks to the Cuban insurgents, the marines, with the exception of a few who were killed—some of the corpses being barbarously mutilated by the Spaniards—still hold the position they were sent to hold, and Sampson says can do so until the army arrives.

Some of his colleagues are disposed to poke a little fun at Senator "Billy" Mason, of Ill., because of the marked discrepancy between that portion of his speech to the Illinois republican State Convention, in which he said of the war: "We went out to the world as a good Samaritan I want no larceny on behalf of my country," and the following sentence in the platform adopted by the convention: "Resolved, that the United States should hold all of the possessions it has conquered and may conquer from Spain."

So many members of the party favored the annexation of Hawaii that it was deemed inadvisable to have the Democratic House caucus take any more positive action against annexation than the adoption of a resolution declaring annexation dangerous and unwise and that it reverses our traditional policy and may lead to colonial aggrandizement and ultimately to the destruction of republican institutions.

The vote upon the resolution was 50 to 17, but more than 50 of the Democratic members of the House were absent from the caucus. Upon the vote by which the House adopted the resolution for the annexation of Hawaii 18 democrats voted aye, and 78 no, while a number were purposely absent. The total vote was 210 to 92.

Representative Vincent, of Kansas, is so much like Senator Sullivan, who succeeded the late Senator George, of Miss., that the two men are constantly being taken for each other.

The Senate this week adopted without a division the resolution offered by Senator Lodge, instructing the committee on Claims to investigate the statement that a lobbyist had received 35 per cent of the amount recently appropriated by Congress to pay a war claim of the book publishing house of the Southern Methodist Church, but while the matter was under discussion there was some plain talk. Senator Moran charged that the resolution was intended for political effect, and asked why it did not include an investigation of the payment to lobbyist of 50 per cent of the $388,000 recently appropriated by Congress to pay claims of the heirs of John Roach, the shipbuilder. It was not claimed by any body that the claim of the Southern Methodist was not a perfectly just one, but the objection was to their having employed a lobbyist to push their bill, Senator Pusey, who was instrumental in getting the bill through, stated in the course of a speech that "there is an obligation upon high church authorities to conduct an investigation of the action of some of the officials." The whole thing is a sort of tempest in a teapot. Although Senators must know as well as anybody else that there are hundreds of attorneys in Washington principally employed in promoting legislation—in common parlance, lobbying—yet they invariably become excited when any particular case of lobbying happens to be mentioned in public. This claim although admitted to be just had been before Congress for more than twenty years, and in hiring an attorney to help them push it through those interested only followed the common practice, except that they agreed to pay too much.

SECONDS A GOOD MOVE.

OAKLEY, N. C., June 17, 1898. EDITOR REFLECTOR,

Will you allow me space in your paper to record the moves of "Subscriber" of Falkland, and "Democrat" of Carolina, Dick Williams for Register and D. C. Moore of Bethel for clerk. I was about to take the floor to make the latter move, but Democrat of Carolina, headed me off. So I second both moves. With such men as Dick Williams and Lum Moore I think every white man in Pitt county can vote without asking any question at all. They are both men of ability, they are well known throughout the county and are worthy of any office in the gift of their countymen. And like "Democrat" I say let us go to the convention with just enough material to mould our candidates, good men and true. I will not at this time make any move for any other particular candidate, but I stand ready to second the next move if it is as good as these two. We hope to see in the coming election the white people of Pitt county getting together and stand shoulder to shoulder to redeem this county from the degradation to which she has fallen. So let us put the best men forward. And then if we fail hereafter we shall know the reason why, and then we can put the blame where it properly belongs. W.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by the Orange Va Observer

Tramps ought to make their headquarters at Hoboken.

There are pilots so poor that they cannot even run ashore.

The most shocking thing we know of just now is a wheat field.

The people who imagine they have no faults lack the virtue of discernment.

This is the way the latest song goes, according to the Roanoke World; "We don't want to buy at your place; we don't trade there any more. You'll be sorry when you see us going to some other store. You can't sell us any stale goods; we have opened wide our eyes; we don't want to trade at your store, 'cause you do not—Ad-ve-r-ti-s-e."

STRANGE, 'TIS PASSING STRANGE.

That All Who Suffer Do Not Use

MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY.

HOPWELL, NECKLENSBURG Co N. C., December 1st, 1896.

Last June I was suffering terribly from some bladder trouble which was so severe and extreme that the physicians said an operation would have to be performed and the stone removed. I dreaded it so much and had so much faith in Mrs Joe Person's Wash that I determined to try it first and see what it would do. I applied it three times a day and in thirty six hours the inflammation subsided, the swelling and enlargement was reduced and the stone passed without any trouble. The stone was large and no one can know except those who have so suffered what it was. I do not believe I could have stood an operation and believe I would died had it not been for Mrs. Joe Person's Wash. If anyone is suffering from this bladder trouble let them try it. My pain would be so great I would have to be put in a tub of hot water to relieve those terrible paroxysms of pain. It made a perfect cure of me. Oh, that everyone could realize what a medicine is worth and try it, how much suffering would be relieved. Mrs. Person herself does not say as much for her. Ready as it deserves.

MRS. ABNER ALEXANDER, FOR SALE BY JOHN L. WOOTEN, Greenville, N. C.

Democratic Nominations for Superior Court Judges

The Democratic nominees for Superior Court judges whose nominations were ratified by the Democratic State Convention are the following:

- First district—Geo. H. Brown, Jr., of Beaufort. Second district—Henry R. Bryan, of Craven. Fifth district—Thos. Shaw, of Guilford. Sixth district—Oliyer H. Allen, of Lenoir. Seventh district—Thos. A. McNeil, of Robeson. Eleventh district—William A. Hoke, of Lenoir.

These men were nominated in their respective districts by district conventions but they are to be voted for in the State at large. Judges Brown, Bryan, Allen and Hoke are now on the bench and are named to succeed themselves. Shaw is named to succeed Adams, fusionist, and McNeil to succeed McIver, Democrat.

Against His Conscience.

The proprietor of a large London restaurant has a small hydraulic lift fitted up in a corner of his "second class room," which is used for conveying the various dishes from the kitchen.

One day an unmistakable native of the land north of the Tweed entered the shop, and, having ordered some refreshment, sat down to wait. The waiter in attendance called down to the cook through the speaking tube, and in a short time Sandy was astounded to see the very things he had ordered rise up, apparently from the bowels of the earth.

With a horrified yell he bounded up, made for the door and exclaimed: "Na, na! Ye'll no get Sandy McNab ta hae what th' auld deil's had the cookin' o'!"—Nuggets.

Different Now.

"It's funny how marriage will change a man," said Flogg the other day. "There's Moustier, for example. Before he was married a glance of May Taintor would intoxicate him, so he used to say. Now when he comes home late at night and meets Mrs. Moustier, nee Taintor, the sight of her actually sobers him."—Boston Transcript.

Give Him a Chance.

A now famous physician relates that early in his career in the city where he was located there resided an elderly physician who was always ready to give him wholesome advice. One morning the young practitioner was called to visit a man who was very sick. On his way he happened to meet his old friend, the doctor, and, as usual, he had something of importance to say. He drew it out so long, however, that the younger man grew impatient and finally said: "Doctor, you will have to excuse me. I am on my way to visit a gentleman who is said to be dangerously ill." "Oh," was the unexpected reply, "give the man a chance," and the old fellow retained the subject he was discussing.—Chicago News.

A Narrow Escape.

One day a mother who had been to a country house near Marseilles was returning at twilight to the city with her son, a child of 8 years, who had been put in a perch basket borne by a donkey, and the mother, fearing the child might catch cold (it was in November), had covered him with a thick brown shawl. Tired with running around the country all day, cozy and warm under the thick shawl, the child was soon asleep and hidden by the sides of the basket. There is a local custom house at the gates of Marseilles, and when the inspector surmises that any package contains contraband articles he thrusts a sharp steel pick through it. He was preparing to do this with the basket when the mother, some distance behind, saw his intention and shrieked out that her son was in the basket. It was Adolphe Thiers.—Exchange.

SYRUP OF FIGS

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

OAKLEY ITEMS

OAKLEY, N. C., June 16, 1898.

Capt. J. E. Hines, of Rocky Mount spent Saturday night here.

Our young people had a fish fry at Wards bridge Wednesday. All report a pleasant time.

Fine rains Wednesday with some wind which blowed fences down and tore fruit trees up. No other damage. Crops are looking well.

Mrs. Mahala Highsmith went to Palmyra Saturday and returned Monday.

Our people are about through shipping potatoes and they have received pretty fair prices so far.

Mrs. J. E. Hines and little son Gordon, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams here, left Monday for their home at Medora.

Mr. Bithel James, who lives near here, reports that a few nights ago a mink raided his hencoop and killed 105 chickens. On the next night he set a steel trap and caught the gentleman, he having come back after the balance.

Run Away

Two of the 'bus horses left standing at the depot this morning dashed off just at the train came in and headed down Dickinson avenue in a dead run. Most of the drivers who go to the depot have a careless way of leaving their teams standing loose while they mingle at random with the crowd. It is no surprise that such carelessness results in frequent run aways, but the wonder is that more damage is not done. People are often thus exposed to injury and even danger of life, and something ought to be done to prevent the teams being left there in such manner.
