FATHER WOULD BEAR SON'S PUNISHMENT.

The Son a Deserter and Prisoner in Camp.

J. B. McDeavitt, a private in Company H, from Asheville, who left camp eight nights ago, taking French leave, came back yesterday, accompanied by his father, A. J. McDeavitt, of Marshall, N. C.

Young McDeavitt presented himself at the colonel's tent, accompanied by his father, and surrendered himself. He stated that he left camp at the solicitation of other members of his company, and that he did not realize the gravity of his offense. Col. Burgwyn had McDeavitt taken to the guard house and placed in the custody of the officers in charge. At the field marshal's court McDeavitt and Houston, the first deserter arrested, were brought before the court officers, Major Dixon and Colonel Burgwyn. A ball and chain were hung to one of Houston's legs. Addressing Young McDeavitt, Colonel Burgwyn said: "I will not require you to wear a ball and chain. You have voluntarily surrendered yourself and expressed sorrow for your action. I know you are sorry, and I am sorry for you."

The gray-haired father of the young man appeared before the tent as soon as his son was taken away to the guard house.

"Sir," said Mr. McDeavitt, Sr., with all the emotion of a father who has a son in trouble, "I wish to place myself in my son's shoes. Whatever punishment you may see fit to place upon his misconduct, I will bear myself. I am willing to do anything that you may require of me."

The appeal of the father in behalf of his son got next to the nature of the officers present. Col. Burgwyn informed Mr. McDeavitt that military discipline had to be enforced and that it would be impossible to grant his request. He stated that the case against his son was beyond his jurisdiction. The circumstances in the case were favorable to McDeavitt, and it is believed that he may get off with a sentence for absconding himself from camp without permission. He will be court-martialed on the charge of desertion.

There is a prevailing opinion hereabouts that a soldier cannot be classed as a deserter until he has absented himself from camp for a period of ten days. The impression is wholly erroneous. As a matter of fact a soldier may be guilty of desertion if he has not been away from camp one day. If it is shown that a soldier in leaving camp goes with the intention of quitting the army he is guilty of desertion if he has not been away a day.

The following article of war, No. 47, relating to this matter says:

"Any officer or soldier who having received pay, or having been duly enlisted in the service of the United States, deserts the same, shall, in time of war, suffer death, or such other punishment as a court-martial may direct, and in time of peace, any punishment, except death, which a court-martial may direct."

In addition, article 48 says:

"Every soldier who deserts the service of the United States shall be liable to serve for such period as shall, with the time he may have served previous to his desertion, amount to the full term of his enlistment; and such soldier shall be tried by a court-martial and punished, although the term of his enlistment may have elapsed previous to his being apprehended and tried."—Raleigh Post.

WALTER I. PENDER HEARD FROM AGAIN.

A letter received yesterday by Mr. E. E. Griffin from engineer Walter I. Pender, on board the steamer Marblehead, at Guantanamo Cuba, dated June 16th, 1898, is very interesting reading to those who feel an interest in Walter and the cause he is enlisted in. We could not publish the letter for reasons personal to Mr. Pender, and it was not written for publication. But by the kindness of Mr. E. E. Griffin we have been permitted to cull from it such things as would be of interest to our readers.

Walter says they are fighting nearly all the time and never know when they are to go into action—consequently, on the alert all the time to pull the trigger. He was at the engine when the big mines were dug up by the Marblehead without exploding. He describes the scene after they had taken the mines on board as very thrilling and they were cheered by the whole of Sampson's fleet for half an hour. The mines have been divested of the gun cotton and were forwarded to Washington, D. C. to be placed in the hands of our government, where they will remain as relics of the Spanish-Cuban war. He says they surrounded a Spanish intrenchment on the fifteenth and killed 60 Spanish soldiers, all in the place in two minutes, and in one hour afterward another was surrounded with 40 soldiers and they were all killed almost in the twinkling of an eye. He describes the bombardment of the forts and town at Guantanamo by the Texas and Marblehead as simply terrific and wonderful. The forts were "torn all to flinders" in the shortest sort of time killing nearly all there and capturing the remainder.

Walter says the Spanish soldiers are coming over every day and surrendering from want and starvation. The poorest looking set of starved and naked men he ever saw or conceived of. The soldiers thus surrendering, he says, give awful accounts of the condition of the Spanish army, and their starving condition is pitiable, and elicits the sympathy of the American soldiers. Walter says he has not drawn one cent of pay since his enlistment, three months ago and from his letter he does not know he has been promoted, and is now entitled to $70 per month instead of $37.50 which is a fact. Walter sends kindly greetings to his old friends in Greenville, and especially to his lady friends and regards to the boys.

It is very thrilling to read the pathos and spirit of this daring young man whom all the people of Greenville know so well, and who by his heroism is facing the most perilous hardships for the honor of the American flag, and we feel that we utter the sentiments of all our people in wishing him the choicest blessing and protection, a speedy, safe return to the people who so kindly remember and admire him, for his patriotic courage. Surely we hope the war will soon end. Enough has been done to satisfy any nation that there is no chance to win by the Don.

Father Worth for Peace.

Father Worth, our amiable State Treasurer, has inaugurated a campaign in behalf of peace. From this on the State Treasurer will wave the flag of peace from one end of the State to the other.

Yesterday upon hearing of the nomination of Charles A. Cook, of Warranton, for Brigadier General, Father Worth went to the offices of Governor Russell and the Adjutant-General. He carried with him proclamations of peace and he proceeded forthwith to bombard the two officers.

When a Post reporter visited the Treasurer's office in the afternoon, he was presented with a copy of the proclamation of peace.

"Print this," said the Treasurer. It has just been adopted by the Friends in England in their yearly meeting. I fully endorse every word of it and it is also endorsed by every one of the 5,000 or 6,000 Friends in North Carolina.

"What do you think of our war with Spain?" Father Worth was asked.

"I think it's a great mistake we ever went into this war."

"What ought our government to do?"

"The war should cease right now. We should live according to the doctrine of the Bible."

"Do you think Spain or the United States was in the right?"

"Spain was miserably wrong in treating her poor people like she is said to have done. The United States was also miserably wrong in undertaking the war. There is no excuse for war. We should have asked all the nations of the world to demand of Spain to give better government to her subjects. Then if Spain declined, all countries could have withdrawn commercial relations. Spain would then have come to her senses. There is never any excuse for war."

"Suppose some foreign power should declare war against us and attempt to invade our country, what then?"

"Pray to the Lord and He will protect us,"—Raleigh Post.

THE SITUATION.

Our modern Sampson's brave and strong,
And Dewey's pretty fly, sir;
The Spanish fleet we've bottled up—
We've caught 'em on the Schley, sir!

Spain may have met her "Waterloo"—
To make the matter clearer—
Manila's fight it was severe,
The next 'll be Cervera!
—New York Evening Sun.

One of Twenty-Four Children Enlists.

Henry Lejoy is the name of a young man from Cohoes who was enlisted in the regular army at the local recruiting station yesterday. He is a member perhaps of what was the largest family in the United States. He was brought to the rendezvous by his father, who, wearing a long gray beard, looked like one of the patriarchs. Among the questions which are asked of every applicant for enlistment is: How many brothers and sisters have you and how many are dead?

So Sergeant Hutton propounded the question:

"How many brothers and sisters of yours are dead?"

The question seemed to be a puzzler for the young soldier. He bent his head as though in deep thought, and finally, after a long pause, answered:

"Nineteen."

"You misunderstand my question?" queried the Sergeant. "I asked you if you had any brothers and sisters dead, and how many?"

"I have nineteen brothers and sisters dead," repeated the embryo soldier.

"How many have you living?"

"Four."

"Then you are one of a family of twenty-four children?" asked the Sergeant.

"Yes, sir."

Lejoy passed the examination and with the other recruits was sent to Fort McPherson to join the Eleventh Infantry.—Albany Argus.

JUST FOR FUN

Crash suits are not necessarily loud.

Many of the belles this summer wear ringlets.

No, Maude, dear, electricity has not yet been used by the farmers for shocking corn.

"So you've joined the army?"

"Yes." "What branch?" "Signal corps." "How are you are doing?" "O! flourishing."

"Success may surely be achieved by close and sustained attention to one object," says the Manayunk Philosopher. "Any man may get a head by constant application to the rum bottle."

Miss Bloomer—"Gracious! we are dressed so much alike, some of our mutual acquaintances might take you for me." Wheeler—"That would make me supremely happy, if you would never give me back." The card are out.

Upon his death-bed there he lay;
For, ah! they had not told him;
No help at hand, no time to pray,
So quick did it unfold him.

General Linares, the commander at Santiago, who is said to have 15,000 men under him, is fifty-five years old. He is described as a man of medium size, and rather slender in build. There is something sad in his face; he is a man who seldom smiles, and the first impression he makes upon a stranger is that of a dreamer.

It was Hobson's Best

There was a Mr. Durant in Charlotte yesterday, who was at school with Lieutenant Hobson at Greensboro, Ala. He was telling an incident of Hobson's school-boy days. When Hobson was 17 years old he was in a military school at Greensboro. There was a female school near by. The boys had been having debates and invited the girls over. As is generally the case, the boys around the college campus got to yelling "angels" at the girls, throwing kisses and tossing flowers and notes. One night after a debate a certain girl to whom Hobson had been paying undivided attention on previous visits was caught and kissed on her way home. She screamed, strange to say, and Hobson was court-martialed. The evidence seemed against the young man. But he brought the court down and freed himself by asking to put his arms around her again to see if he was the same man.

STRANGE, 'TIS PASSING STRANGE.

That All Who Suffer Do Not Use

MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY.

HOPWELL, MECKLENBURG CO. N. C. December 1st, 1896.

Last June I was suffering terribly from some bladder trouble which was so severe and extreme that the physicians said an operation would have to be performed and the stone crushed. I dreaded it so much and had so much faith in Mrs. Joe Person's Wash that I determined to try it first and see what it would do. I applied it three times a day and in thirty six hours the inflammation subsided, the swelling and enlargement was reduced and the stone passed without any trouble. The stone was large and no one can know except those who have so suffered what it was. I do not believe I could have stood an operation and believe I would died had it not been for Mrs. Joe Person's Wash. If anyone is suffering from this bladder trouble let them try it. My pain would be so great I would have to be put in a tub of hot water to relieve those terrible paroxysms of pain. It made a perfect cure of me. Oh, that everyone could realize what a medicine is within reach and try it, how much suffering would be relieved. Mrs. Person herself does not say as much for her Remedy as it deserves.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

A Democratic convention to nominate a candidate for Solicitor of the 3rd Judicial District of North Carolina, to be voted for at the ensuing November election, is hereby called to meet at 1 o'clock P. M., on July 6th, 1898, in the public hall at Rocky Mount.

The counties in the District that have not held conventions to select delegates to this convention will take notice hereof and govern themselves accordingly. By order of the Committee.

F. S. SPURILL,

Chm. Dem. Ex. Com. Third Judicial District.

Democratic Nominees or Superior Court Judges

The Democratic nominees for Superior Court judges whose nominations were ratified by the Democratic State Convention are the following:

- First district—Geo. H. Brown, Jr., of Beaufort.
- Second district—Henry R. Bryan, of Craven.
- Fifth district—Thos. J. Shaw, of Guilford.
- Sixth district—Oliver H. Allen, of Lenoir.
- Seventh district—Thos. A. Mc-Neil, of Robeson.
- Eleventh district—William A.
Hoke, of Lincoln.

These men were nominated in their respective districts by districts conventions but they are to be voted for in the State at large.
Judges Brown, Bryan, Allen and Hoke are now on the bench and are named to succeed themselves.
Shaw is named to succeed Adams,
fusionist, and McNeil to succeed
McIver, Democrat.

Three Italian schoolmasters were among the applicants for the recently vacated post of chimney sweeper at Poschiavil, Switzerland. The pay is $160 a year.

The Duke of Edinburgh when a youngster was like most others in that he had a habit of running through his allowance. When his pockets were empty he used to fill them by cutting the signatures from his royal mother's letters and selling them for what they would bring.

The export of coffee from the Philippines has recently declined from 2500 tons per annum to less than three hundred, probably owing to the revolution and to changes in the Spanish custom house methods. The berry was introduced into the islands from Brazil in the latter part of the eighteenth century.

SYRUP OF FIGS

NEVER IMITATED IN QUALITY.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

Found in a Mill Pond.

E. A. Crudup invited a number of his friends to be present at the drawing off of his pond about twelve miles from here, last Tuesday. Large crowds from that immediate section were present also a number of our people. There was an abundance of fish, and everybody had his fill. There were a great many curiosities found in the pond, one was a Spanish cannon, 162 years old, supposed to have been dropped in the pond when the Spaniards last invaded this country. Another was a turtle weighing 354 pounds requiring a yoke of oxen to pull him to the bank. Numbers of catfish with only one eye were caught. There were a great many other wonderful happenings, but we present only such as are of undoubted veracity and vouched for by reliable eye-witnesses.—Louisburg Times.

Shot to Kill.

Mrs. Pullen, who lives on Washington street, next door to Mr. W. H. Hardison was awakened Thursday night by some one forcing open her window; securing her revolver she fired point blank at the intruder, who, with a yell disappeared. This morning a great pool of blood was found a few yards from the house where the burglar had evidently fallen and lain for some time. A trail of blood led from this point under Mr. Hardison's house, the wounded man having crept under the house. From there it led off into the open and was lost.

Chief of Police Calhoun says that the wound undoubtedly must have been a mortal one as a man possibly could not live with the loss of so much blood.—Rocky Mount Argonaut.

The Power of Initiative.

There is no one so useful to the world as the man with the power of initiative. He is the pioneer, the pathfinder. The trials he breaks with independent mind and self-reliance courage become the safe highways for others to follow. He cuts out the world's work for it, shows it the direction in which to move and expend its energies. The man with the power of initiative is the captain of industry, the captain of thought, the winner of victories in war.—New York Journal.
