CAMP RUSSELL.

Raleigh, N. C. June 23.

The resignation of one of the captains of the Second regiment was demanded today for drunkenness. If not promptly tendered, he will be court-martialed. The adjutant general tonight made sweeping changes in the plans for formation of the seven negro companies.

Adjutant General Cowles decided last night what towns will furnish the seven companies of negroes for the Third regiment. It was first thought that the companies would be selected solidly, but it has been decided to give fourteen points in the State representation in the seven companies. The following towns will furnish solid companies:

Statesville, R. H. Alexander, captain.

Rutherfordton, W. A. Carpenter, captain.

Charlotte, Gray Toole, captain.

The other four companies will be made up from the following towns, the names of the organizers being given in each place:

C. C. Forbes, of Greenville.

S. J. Hargrove, of Maxton.

H. S. Joyner, of Franklinton.

P. H. Smith, of Durham.

T. L. Taylor, of Oxford.

S. O. Mason, of Kinston.

M. B. Murphy, of Fayetteville.

Green Everett, of Goldsboro.

H. T. Scott, of Asheville.

J. E. Delinger, of Greensboro.

The men who organize the troops will be rewarded with the offices of either captain or lieutenants. The officers will be elected.

Adjutant General Cowles and Inspector General Royster had a conference today and arranged for the reorganization of the state guard. Inspector General Royster will inspect at once these companies which did not volunteer. This is done to give the adjutant general time to equip new companies to take the place of those which have volunteered and are in the United States service. The adjutant general will require that each company shall have three officers and sixty enlisted men. These will be clothed and equipped in the very best manner. New uniforms will be issued, and the very latest of these and equipments. Early next spring brown linen uniforms will be issued for hot weather wear. Those to be issued this summer will be the dark blue now worn.

The adjutant general today commissioned the officers of two of these companies: At Goldsboro, G. C. Griswold, captain, promoted from first sergeant; H. H. Brown, first lieutenant from second sergeant; at Tarboro, W. H. Powell, captain; J. A. Jenkins and W. J. Clark lieutenants.

There will be no guard companies formed at new points, save at Greensboro.

The adjutant general said this morning: "I will tomorrow mobilize the seven new companies of the negro regiment, at Fort Macon. The major of the negro battalion which is to be increased to a regiment tells me that there is plenty of room at Fort Macon for the seven additional companies. I will have the met examined at the various points from whence they will go. This will be done by local physicians who will be paid 40 cents per man. The companies will have a strength of three officers and 106 enlisted men. The men are all ready and I think by the end of this week will leave for camp. Fifteen companies have volunteered and out of these I selected seven at the points I mentioned to you last week."

There was but little drill or other work by the second regiment at camp here today, save by those who have recovered from vaccination or those on whom it did not take.

The state has quite recently drawn 100 officers' revolvers for issue to the officers of its two regiments of volunteers. As a number of these already have revolvers, the balance will be issued to the new guard companies elsewhere spoken of. July 1st the state will be entitled to a quota of $11,000 from the United States, for arms and clothing.

SPAIN'S CASE HOPELESS.

What the London Times Has to Say on the Subject.

With the disappearance of all the hopes founded upon the Spanish fleet the sympathizers with Spain recognize that her case is hopeless. In the continental press vague aspirations for European intervention now find vent, and the Americans are warned that with their long seaboard in two oceans they could not afford to disregard the wishes of a combination of two or three powers. They will not distress themselves much about these warnings until the combination assumes some more tangible form than there is any prospect of at present. Peace is at the disposal of Spain whenever she seeks it frankly and sincerely, but it is quite out of the question to define an honorable peace as one restoring the status quo ante-bellum. If the Spanish people do not understand that much they must have been wonderfully deceived as to the course of events. They have made their fight as well as their previous neglect and unpreparedness would permit, and their game is clearly lost. It is now in their power to make a peace just as honorable as they can conclude after carrying on a useless war for a few months, more or less. Cuba is lost to them in any event, and all that remains to ask themselves is whether they will add to that loss other and perfectly gratuitous disasters. Spain can no doubt compel the United States to pay rather dearly for their victory, but that is a poor consolation for incurring losses relatively far more serious, and for imperiling her very existence as a European power. Her more sympathetic friends at this crisis are not the truest, and perhaps not the most disinterested, of her advisers.—London Times.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

A Democratic convention to nominate a candidate for Solicitor of the 3rd Judicial District of North Carolina, to be voted for at the ensuing November election, is hereby called to meet at 1 o'clock P. M., on July 6th, 1898, in the public hall at Rocky Mount.

The counties in the District that have not held conventions to select delegates to this convention will take notice hereof and govern themselves accordingly. By order of the Committee.

F. S. SPRUILL,

Chm. Dem. Ex. Com. Third Judicial District.

JUDGE NORWOOD'S RESIGNATION.

We gather the following from the Asheville Citizen, which gives both sides of the contention:

Concerning the resignation of Judge W. L. Norwood and his announced intention to test the question of the governor's action should that official appoint a successor, Col. V. S. Lusk today gave the Citizen a leaf from the history of the case.

"During the session of the last legislature," said Col. Lusk, "a resolution was introduced impeaching Judge Norwood for his known infirmity, which resolution was referred to the judiciary committee of the house. While the question was under consideration Judge Norwood's friends, Judge Avery, Judge Boykin, and quite a number of leading lawyers and personal friends, made an appeal to the committee that it would not report the resolution of impeachment; pledging his honor to abstain from further like offense, and agreeing to place his resignation in the hands of the committee to be forwarded to the governor in the event of a repetition.

"In accordance with that agreement Judge Norwood wrote his resignation, turned it over to the committee placed it in my hands with instructions to forward it to the governor in the event of a further repetition. In addition to this Judge Norwood wrote certain instructions to me which were as follows:

"This wrapper encloses a resignation of the office of judge of the twelfth district, which I request you to keep until the expiration of my term of office unless at any time I shall be publicly drunk, whether in court or out of court; and if after a thorough investigation you shall find that I have been publicly drunk, in that case I now request you to hand said resignation to the governor of North Carolina, and you are my agent for that purpose."

"On Saturday, the 4th of June, returning from Raleigh, when I boarded the train I was notified by a friend that Judge Norwood was aboard inebriated. Soon afterwards my attention was called to Judge Norwood by a friend. I was not only astonished but mortified to find that the information was correct. I waited a week, hoping Judge Norwood would give some explanation in regard to the matter. Receiving none, I forwarded his resignation to the governor, in accordance with his promise and the promise of his friends, and his written instructions.

"I have no feeling in the matter except one of sorrow and regret for the judge in person, for his family and for his friends. It was simply an act of mine in the discharge of what I conceived to be my duty to the judiciary committee, and in pursuance of the wish of Judge Norwood.

"Judge Norwood and his friends seem to be laboring under a misapprehension of the instructions received by Judge Norwood at the time of delivery to me of his resignation. A letter from Judge Norwood herewith will indicate very clearly the point of mistake. There is no stipulation in the instructions requiring me to give notice of my intention of forwarding his resignation, as will more fully appear by reference thereto.

"I was not disposed to take any 'snap judgment' on Judge Norwood, and for that purpose I waited a week, that he might explain or give a reason why the resignation should not be forwarded to the governor in accordance with his instructions. I will say that the forwarding of the resignation to the governor was voluntary on my part. The resignation has, I understand, been accepted and has gone beyond my control. I could not recall it if I was disposed to do so."

The letter from Judge Norwood so Col. Lusk, referred to in the interview, bears date the 16th, and follows:

"I have been informed that the paper which I placed in your hands a year ago last February, to be delivered by you to the governor only upon the conditions endorsed by me upon the envelope in which it was enclosed, has been sent by you to the governor. If my information is correct, I beg to say that I am unable to see by what authority you took such action, and will thank you for any explanation you may feel inclined to give me.

"Permit me to remind you that you were in no event to part with this paper without due notice. I have received no such notice. I am unwilling to believe that you voluntarily delivered the paper to the governor. If, however, you did voluntarily send it, I do not permit myself to doubt that you will promptly notify the governor of the conditions under which it was intrusted to you, and that those conditions have not been complied with, and request him to at once return the paper to you. I feel sure that your own sense of justice will prompt you to do whatever may be in your power to protect me from anything like injustice or undue precipitancy."

He "Sassed" the General.

The late General Rosecrans ran up against a Tartar once, says the Detroit Free Press, but he had the good sense not to let his ruffled dignity cause him to lose his temper. The story as told by Colonel James T. Sterling, is as follows:

Company A of the Seventh Ohio, was formerly the light guards of Cleveland, and was one of the best drilled companies in the army. It was commanded by Captain Creighton:

The Seventh Ohio was in West Virginia in 1861, and "Old Rosy" was in command. The supplies for the army were brought up the Kanawha river in boats, which were unloaded by details from the regiment. General Rosecrans had ordered that soldiers on duty must wear their equipment.

Company A was sent out to unload a boat, and Captain Creighton permitted the men to take off their equipment and their coats as well while engaging in the work.

When the work had been completed the men and officers sprawled out on the grass for a rest and then General Rosecrans and some of his staff rode up.

The general looked at the soldiers for a minute, and then called for the commanding officer. Captain Creighton did not know General Rosecrans but he rose to his feet.

"Who commands this company?" asked the general.

"I do to the best of my ability," replied the captain.

"Don't you know, sir," inquired the general sternly, that it is against orders to allow men to remove their equipment when on duty."

"I have heard some such order," replied Captain Creighton, "but the man that issued it never did a day's work in his life. When my men have to work hard, I'll see him in the other place before I'll let them swelter with their accoutrements on."

"Old Rosy" stared at the cool captain a moment and then rode down to ward the boat.

A soldier approached Capt. Creighton and said:

"Do you know who that is?"

"No, and I don't care."

"That's General Rosecrans, the commander of this department."

"Whew!" ejaculated Capt. Creighton. "Company fall in!"

Without question it was the finest company in the command. When the general and his officers rode back from the boat the company in full equipment stood in perfect order and gave him a "present" in such splendid style as to attract his attention.

General Rosecrans returned the salute and requested the captain to put his men through the manual. When it was finished the general raised his hat, turned to the captain and said:

"I think that a company that can handle muskets as well as that should be allowed to unload a steamer without anything on if they want to."

STRANGE, 'TIS PASSING STRANGE.

That All Who Suffer Do Not Use

MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY.

HOPEWELL, MECKLENBURG CO. N. C.
December 1st, 1896.

Last June I was suffering terribly from some bladder trouble which was so severe and extreme that the physicians said an operation would have to be performed and the stone crushed. I dreaded it so much and had so much faith in Mrs. Joe Person's Wash that I determined to try it first and see what it would do. I applied it three times a day and in thirty-six hours the inflammation subsided, the swelling and enlargement was reduced and the stone passed without any trouble. The stone was large and no one can know except those who have so suffered what it was. I do not believe I could have stood on operation and believe I would died had it not been for Mrs. Joe Person's Wash. If anyone is suffering from this bladder trouble let them try it. My pain would be so great I would have to be put in a tub of hot water to relieve those terrible paroxysms of pain. It made a perfect cure of me. Oh, that everyone could realize what a medicine is within reach and try it, how much suffering would be relieved. Mrs. Person herself does not say as much for her Remedy as it deserves.

Democratic Nominees or Superior Court Judges

The Democratic nominees for Superior Court judges whose nominations were ratified by the Democratic State Convention are the following:

First district—Geo. H. Brown, Jr., of Beaufort.

Second district—Henry R. Bryan, of Craven.

Fifth district—Thos. J. Shaw, of Guilford.

Sixth district—Oliver H. Allen, of Lenoir.

Seventh district—Thos. A. Mc-Neil, of Robeson.

Eleventh district—William A.
Hoke, of Lincoln.

These men were nominated in their respective districts by districts conventions but they are to be voted for in the State at large.
Judges Brown, Bryan, Allen and Hoke are now on the bench and are named to succeed themselves.
Shaw is named to succeed Adams,
fusionist, and McNeil to succeed
McIver, Democrat.

In reading aloud the list of absentees from the Sunday school of the Grace Episcopal church at Oswego, N. Y., on a recent Sabbath the superintendent came to the name of of "Joe" Powell, whereupon the whole school broke out into applause. "Joe"
is Cadet Joseph W. Powell, U. S.
N., who so pluckily stood by in a launch to aid Hobson after the sinking of the Merrimac.

A German scientist claims that the memory is stronger in summer than in winter. He says that among the worst foes to the memory are too much food, too much physical exercise and too much education.

Though Jay Gould died in 1892, his affairs are still partially unsettled. The state of New York imposed a tax of $587,000 on his estate; his executors contested it, and the case is now before the Court of Appeals. This is probably the final step in its settlement.

Here is a word to the wise from a Greenville, Miss., weekly: "There is a little stir among some of the young ladies about all the young men volunteering to go to war. Some of the girls' advice the boys to go, and some is not to go. Now, young man, if your girl advises you to go, you can put it down that she don't love you, neither her country. Old editor, don't get too gay."

SYRUP OF FIGS

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

The Sub Rosa

A complimentary Glen Tea was given to Miss Sallie Lipscombe, the president of the Sub-Rosa society, Thursday afternoon, on her departure for the mountains. The gasoline boat Ruballe, commanded by clever Ola Fortes, was chartered by the society and they went up the river a few miles and landed and indulged in many games, music, etc. About 6 o'clock the company was invited to partake of refreshments. During the evening snap-shot pictures were taken and presented as souvenirs. The following composed the party: Misses Sallie Lipscombe, Lillian Cherry, Helen Perkins, Sophia Jarvis, Bettie Tyson and Blanche Flanagan. Messrs. J. L. Fleming, G. B. Hughes, E. B. Ficklen, Chas. S. Forbes, H. W. Whedee and Wesley White.

Mrs. W. T. Lipscombe chaperoned the party.

The party arrived in the city about 7:30 o'clock.

The Bingham School

We are in receipt of the catalogue of the Bingham School for its 105th year. Located near Asheville since 1891 with accommodation for 120 pupils, the roll shows an attendance of 119 during the year just ended, representing an area extending from Penn. and Ill. on the North to Florida, and Texas on the South, and extending to Japan; and financially Bingham's is doing better as far as has been ascertained, than any other school for boys in the whole South.

THE $250 SCHOLARSHIP.

Two years ago, after the manner of the U. S. Military and Naval Academies, Maj. Bingham offered the young men of North Carolina 11 scholarships, $250 each, to be awarded by the Congressmen for their own districts and by the two Senators for the State at large to the young men who should win them by standing highest in a competitive examination on English, Arithmetic, and the Geography and History of the United States.

There were considerably more than 100 competitors, and all the scholarships have been occupied by young men who averaged high in ability and earnestness.

Nearly all the incumbents having completed the course with success, the scholarships are vacant except for the 8th district and open for competition again.

An examination will be held in each district about the middle of August on such exact day, and at such place and before such committee as each Congressman for his district and each U. S. Senator for the State at large may select, and applicants are referred to their own Congressman or to the Senator for particulars.

In case there is no examination in any District, a special examination may be had in Asheville on the 24th. of August before the faculty of the schools; and if the man who stands highest does not use his scholarship for any cause, it is open to the 2nd best man as alternate for ninety days after the examination.

Little Anna Smith, infant daughter of Ivy Smith, of Beaver Dam township, died Thursday morning and buried that evening at the family burying ground near Cobb's Store.
