Battle Close at Hand

There is still nothing new or exciting in the war situation from what it has been in some days. Shafter continues to push his troops on towards Santiago and holds all the ground gained in the advance. He is now within two miles of the city. The Spaniards have been forced to evacuate all outside posts and have fled to the defenses of the city for safety. Just when the Americans will attack the city is not definitely decided upon, but it will probably be just as soon as sufficient reinforcements arrive to insure a victorious charge. The battle is daily expected. Six thousand more troops from Tampa have arrived and are disembarking.

A Work of Art

is the catalogue of Oak Ridge Institute just received. This school which is, by the way, the largest private school south of the Potomac, sends out a catalogue that ought to be in the hands of every parent who has boys to go to school this fall, and of every young man who is looking for a school at which to prepare for business, for college, or for life. Messrs. J. A. & M. H. Holt have had charge of the school 23 years. They had 279 boys under them last year, and expect an increase the coming year.

Odd Fellow Officers

At the last meeting Covenant Lodge No. 17, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers:

- W. F. Bureb, N. G.
- E. E. Griffin, V. G.
- D. D. Overton, Sec.
- K. R. Tunstall, F. S.
- D. W. Hardee, Treas.

The Daughters of Rebekah, Helena Lodge No. 20, elected the following officers:

- Miss Appie Smith, N. G.
- Miss Julia Foley, V. G.
- Miss Lina Sheppard, Sec.
- Miss Ella Parker, F. S.
- Mrs. W. H. Bagwell, Treas.

Improvements.

We notice a number of improvements in progress on Dickinson avenue in the vicinity of the late fire.

T. E. Hooker has had his residence repainted.

H. F. Harris is having a new roof put on his residence and additions made to the front of the building.

W. O. Barnhill is rebuilding his machine shop and will have a much larger plant than before.

The damage done the German factory by the fire is being repaired.

The Other Side

A lady writes that this war will be a blessing in that it will arouse our patriotism and increase our love of country, etc. What, in reply, will the widowed mother of noble Bagley say? or the mother of Matthew Barbee, of Durham county, and the thousands of mothers who today sit in sadness at home, afraid of the news and who tremble at the tick of the telegraph? What a pity that our patriotism is so sluggish as to require storm of soul like this to kindle it.—Durham Sun.

A Fine Success

The moonlight excursion on steamer Myers, Wednesday night, under the management of the Daughters of Rebekah, was a splendid success. There were about ninety people along, and all express themselves as never enjoying a more delightful trip. They went ten miles down the river, getting back about midnight.

GRIMESLAND LEITER

Items of Interest From our Regular Correspondent

GRIMESLAND, N. C., JUNE 29, '98. W. E. Proctor and Fernie Powell went to Washington yesterday.

Rev. N. L. Seabolt left today to attend the M. E. District conference at Elm City.

J. J. Mason and W. S. Galloway are on the sick list this week.

Miss Agnes Proctor left last Friday to visit her grandpa, near Falkland.

Mrs. Alice Brvan, who has been visiting her daughter, left last Friday to spend a few days with her father and mother near Falkland.

J. W. Mayo returned Monday from Aurora where he has been spending a few days at his old home.

Mr. Booth, of Washington, the Missionary Baptist preacher, was in town yesterday and told us he would preach here the second Sunday at 4 o'clock P. M.

Mr. Arthur, the insurance agent of Greenville, was in town Tuesday talking insurance.

J. O. Proctor & Bro. are preparing to put in a large planing machine.

Mr. Taylor, the photographer is in town now ready for work.

There is much painting going on in town. J. O. Proctor, Dr. C. M. Jones, W. M. Moore and others are having their houses newly painted. It makes the old town shine up.

It is not snowing or sleeting here today.

W. E. Proctor is sick today.

Mrs. C. M. Jones left last Saturday to visit friends in Edgecombe county.

Some one tell us how to keep cool. New firms keep opening in town. I tell you Grimesland is on a boom.

Mr. Coss, of Washington, preached in the Disciple church Sunday morning and night.

Cancel the Stamps.

Another important thing about the war revenue stamps that come into general use on July 1st, is their cancellation. Every person who uses a stamp must cancel it with the user's initials and the date upon which it is used. As revenue laws are very strict, and the penalty of violation heavy, the public should be careful about the proper use of the stamps.

Unusual Record.

Mr. Joab Tyson, of Beaver Dam township, tells us that a colored man, named George Jefferson, living in his neighborhood, has lost five members of his family in the last fourteen months. Four of the family died of pneumonia and one of meningitis. This is an unusual death record in one family.

Curing Tobacco.

The farmers of Chicod township are going right ahead curing tobacco and seem to be ahead of other sections. Jordan Mills has finished his first barn. Others down that way have barns in. J. J. Turnage, over the line in Beaufort county, also has two barns in.

Only a Messenger

District Attorney Bernard says that the colored man, Johnson, of Raleigh, recently appointed to a position in his office, is not his assistant, as published in many of the State papers, but is simply a messenger. O. J. Spears is the assistant attorney.

THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1898.

The Democratic executive committee of the State which met in Raleigh on Thursday, chose Hon. F. M. Simmons as chairman of the committee.

The Democratic State executive committee elected the following to compose a central executive committee:

- CB Watson, James H Pou, Thomas J Jarvis, R J Brevard, E J Hale, T F Davison, JS Carr, E C Smith, J R Webster, I E Green, James A Lockhart, John S Cunningham, W G Lamb, N B Broughton, R L Holt, W Furney Green, George Warburton, Claudius E Foy, J H Weddington, C C Lyon, R R Cotton.

The honest, sensible Populists in this State, who before becoming Populists affiliated with the Democratic party, have begun to see through the selfishness and trickery of their leaders, who have been consorting with the Republicans for the spoils of office and using the honest masses of the Populist party to promote their own ambitions and add to their incomes, and therefore many of them are leaving that party and are coming back to the Democratic party, made wiser by their experience.—Wilmington Star.

Objectionable Friendships of Girls

I am a believer in the friendships of girls, but personally seriously object to the so-called ecstatic friendships that are just now fashionable. Womanhood has proven that she can care for herself, and yet she thinks it necessary to make the world at large understand that she is satisfied with the affection of a friend, that she is willing to pass her life with her so-called "chum," and that nothing stronger than friendship for a woman, or a Platonic liking for a man, is demanded of her. To my mind there is something wrong about such a woman.—Ruth Ashmore in the July Ladies' Home Journal.

Bill of Fare on Washing

Attention has been directed to the character of the food served on the warships by the complaint of a man after a visit to the ship upon which he has a son stationed, that the food given out to the men is not as good as it ought to be, and is inferior to that the officers get. Of course the newspapers investigated, and the warship wash is found to pass muster. A good many people at home would consider themselves lucky to have the same sort of food the year 'round. The same amount and same class of food is issued to privates and officers alike, and its cost is $9 per month. The bill of fare at sea for one week includes salt pork, beans, pickled beef, or "salt horse," as it is known on shipboard; hard-tack, coffee, sugar, pickles, salt, pepper, flour, raisins, vinegar and molasses. When the ship is in port fresh beef, potatoes and vegetables of all kinds are served three times a week.

Let's Be Fair

It is well enough to be fair even to the "Spaniels," and if we are going to be we ought to stop abusing them for their refusal to exchange Hobson. It would be a very nice thing for them to do, but the ground of Blanco's refusal is worthy of examination. This ground is said to be that Hobson has possessed himself of much information about Santiago harbor and Cervera's fleet which would be of great value to Admiral Sampson and that as Sampson has no other means of possessing himself of this information it would be injudicious to let Hobson go. From the Spanish standpoint this reasoning seems entirely sound. Would the Americans exchange a Spanish prisoner under the same circumstance? We guess not. It seems to us that all that we have a right to demand of the Spaniards in this case is that they treat Hobson and his associates well as prisoners of war. Failing to do that, we will take it out of their hides.—Charlotte Observer.

A Pretty Dish.

Now, isn't this a pretty dish to set before the people of North Carolina? This writer is not and will not be surprised at anything the present accidental Governor of North Carolina may do: He is capable of anything scandalous or disgraceful.

Governor Russell said in a speech in '96, when he was a candidate for the office he now disgraces, that it would be just as sensible for strangers or Northern capitalists to rent a ten acre lot in hell for a summer resort as to look for hospitality in North Carolina under a Democratic administration. Beautiful language that for a man to use on the stump while asking for votes. It was a direct slap in the face of four-fifths of the white people and property owners of the State.

Yet the slanderous, venom-pointed arrows of Russell, the candidate, pale into insignificance besides the hideous, scandalous and disgraceful record he is making as Governor.

It is admitted by Rev. Baylus Cade that the Governor keeps himself surrounded by firearms. With these conditions the chief executive of North Carolina sends for an unarmed newspaper man and that man the brother of the late Easign Worth Bagley, and with his hand on his pistol insults him in the above described manner.—Greensboro Telegram.

Hard on Newspapers.

In a long experience in the newspaper business we have found that a paper prospers most in ordinary times. A political campaign or a war temporarily increases the number of readers, but it entails expenses that far outweigh the additional income.—News and Observer.

Such is the closing paragraph in an editorial in the News and Observer, in which it refers in very correct terms to the false impression about how newspapers get rich. The war excitement for the past few months has greatly increased the sale of the live daily newspapers. It has, we believe, decreased the sale of weekly papers. The reasons are obvious—the people are not willing to wait a week to hear the news; and we are quite sure that many persons have taken daily papers and have gone daily several miles to the postoffice, who formerly were content to get the weekly on Thursday, Friday or Saturday and read it quietly by periods until the next mail day.

The News and Observer well says that "a paper prospers most in ordinary times."

A campaign year is no snap for newspapers, dailies or weeklies. They are expected, and are really asked, to do a great deal of extra work "for the good of the cause," and are put to much expense that the ordinary reader does not think of.

As the News and Observer well remarked, the outlays for a daily to keep up with such excitement as the present war bring about, are enormous and must be a great drain on its treasury.

Our experience has proved the truth of our contemporary's remark, that a newspaper prospers most in ordinary times.

And here's a moral the reader apply: Pay the paper promptly when it needs it most—this is campaign year, so pay us now.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Farmer Kept Books.

John E. Benton planted last year a crop of cotton and one of tomatoes. He put six acres in cotton, made five bales and marketed it for $135. He kept strict account of all expenses, his own labor and everything, and found that on his cotton he had made a clear gain of $12.60. Three acres were planted in tomatoes, producing about 900 bushels, which was a poor crop. From the three acres he sold $425 worth. Mr. Benton likewise kept strict account of all expenses of producing this crop. Until the time of canning, he put the price of labor as the same as other farm labor, but during the work of canning he put the price higher, regarding it as somewhat skilled labor. Only he and his two little boys worked at it, and one dollar per day was allowed each, and after all expense had been counted there was a net profit of $128 on the tomato crop. Mr. Benton's experience is a big object lesson. In the work of saving his tomatoes he uses a canning outfit which he is agent for and sells complete for $10, together with 100 cans. His idea is for our farmers to make all the cotton and corn they can, but also save the vegetables. He does this work after crops are laid by when many people occupy their time in making cider. He considers that the ordinary farmer has enough fruit and vegetables to put up 5,000 or 10,000 cans, without any cost whatever worth considering. It is not necessary for any one to undertake it on a large scale, as the secret is not to put up so much but to put it up with as little cost as possible, so that the competition will not prevent profits accruing to the small ones. He thinks further, that by combining their products into large quantities, farmers can find ready sale for all that may be put up, even if every man in the county were to engage in it. He thinks, of course, that it will not do for a farmer to neglect his principal crop, but by putting in the spare time and saving the otherwise waste a rich reward may be reaped. We learn that many of our farmers are preparing to try it this year.—Monroe Journal.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS, is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

DRIBBLES

Gathered Between the Sun Strokes

Crops are suffering for rain. Services in the Baptist church to-night. A little child of J. S. Congleton is sick. One of the children of C. M. Bernard is sick. Vaccination talk is being mixed in with other hot weather troubles. Everybody is wishing that this warm weather could be bottled up and held to temper the frigidty of winter. Today has been another of the scorching kind, and the weather bureau promises warmer weather for tomorrow.

Little Miss Nannie Bowling gave a very enjoyable birth day party to several of her little friends on Wednesday afternoon.

Tobacco flue makers are about the busiest people seen now. Around Pender's there is an almost continual clink and rattle of iron.

Herbert Edmonds and J. A. Smith will during the summer months close their barber shops at 8 o'clock every evening except Saturday.

Hon. C. H. Mebane, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is expected to deliver an address in the Court House here tomorrow.

In the names of the Chamber of Commerce committees, published yesterday, in the committee on membership appeared the name of W. B. Wilson when it should have been W. B. Brown.

There never was a time when advertising was so popular as it is now, nor was there ever a period when it returned greater results to those who place their wares in a proper light before the public.—Delevan (Ill.) Times-Press.

HOT STUFF.

Pearce, of Greenville and Mrs. Maggie Hunt, of Sanford, were married immediately after the ceremony they took the train for Greenville, arriving here at 7 P. M. The REFLECTOR extends best wishes for many years of happiness.

A reception will be given them to-night from 9 to 12 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cherry.

The Game On

When the baseball boys returned from Kinston Wednesday morning they were at once challenged by the "sports" for a game. This afternoon a placard reading as follows was sent around town:

"Baseball game of the season. Sports vs. Kinston Defeats. Fun for all. Game at 5 P. M. Rooters for Sports: Maulsby, Coward, Moore, Chesk, Skin 'em Buck 'em, Blow, Admission free' The game is in progress as we go to press.

Scholarships.

County Superintendent J. R. Tingle will hold an examination here on Thursday, July 14th, for two scholarships from Pitt county in the A. & M. College at Raleigh.

On Thursday, July 21st, he will also hold an examination for one scholarship from this county in the Peabody Normal School at Nashville, Tenn.

Those desiring to enter the examination for either of these scholarships should be present on the dates named.
