Are You
Always Tired ?

WINDSON, N. C., May 24, '97.

Five years ago I was completely run down from general debility. My liver didn't act, I had indigestion, I was just as nervous as I could be, and was always tired. The least exertion would bring on shortness of breath and it was a drag to me to keep up. A friend of mine who had been cured by using Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy told me to take it. I bought 1/2 dozen bottles and took it just because I knew I would have to try something. I suffered greatly from wakefulness, would lay awake often the greater part of the night, unable to rest or sleep. When I was on the second bottle I got so I could sleep, and when I had finished the six bottles I WAS WELL. Indigestion cured, that shortness of breath cured, and I feel like another person. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is a wonderful medicine. It did me more good than anything I ever took in my life.

Shelling the Forts.

Washington, July 11, 4 P. M.-- Gen. Shafter cables the war department that only the artillery is in action to-day. The fire is directed at the forts in order to reduce them so the fleet can get in the entrance to the harbor. He states that the infantry is not being used and that the guns are directed chiefly against Morro and at Socapa fortifications at the entrance to the harbor, but a considerable portion of the fire is being sent against the Spaniards in the rifle pits and trenches. Gen. Shafter says that the artilleries are fully protected and have the exact range and are doing good execution.

The General also reports that captain Roswell, of the second infantry and private Chas. Jenks were both killed, and six troopers wounded in yesterday's bombardment.

Monday's Fighting

Sampson's ships threw shells into Santiago all Monday afternoon. It had been arranged for a simultaneous firing by ships and land artillery, beginning at 4 p. m., but a heavy storm interfered with the telephone signal work between the army and navy. However, at 4:45, the rumble of artillery on the American lines was heard, and immediately the Brooklyn opened fire, followed by the Texas and Indiana.

The firing lasted an hour. It is impossible to estimate the damage done by the ships, as the hills obstructed the view.

Shortly after the Brooklyn opened fire a danger flag was displayed above Morro Castle.

The American loss was slight. The Spanish loss is unknown.

Preparing for Prisoners

Annapolis, Md., July 10.—Captain P. H. Cooper, superintendent of the Naval Academy, has completed his preparations for the care of the eighty Spanish officers, including Admiral Cervera, recently captured off Santiago. He announced today that he expected the arrival of forty of the prisoners tomorrow, and that the remainder would reach here within a week.

It is probable that all will be put on their parole and allowed the fullest use of the beautiful grounds for promenades and other purposes.

The buildings to be occupied by them are known as Goldsborough Row, and lie on the southeastern section of the Academy, between the old mess hall and the gymnasium.

Each room will quarter two officers, and each officer will have a bed to himself. There are wardrobes and closets for their clothes in each room, chairs and a large square table in the center of the room, and with a hanging lamp over it, with an improved burner. Waiters will attend to the rooms and take care of the apartments.

The prisoners will be under the patrol of a marine guard of forty. For the present their commissary will be Steward Thomas Evans. Paymaster Loomis, who was ordered away this week to Portsmouth, as commissary for the prisoners there is expected to return here and assume the management of the food supply of the Spanish officers.

It is a singular coincidence that the Spanish naval officers should be quartered in the very alma mater of the men who gave them so signal a defeat and made them prisoners. Amongst those who recently occupied the quarters are Lieutenants Hobson and Blue and Cadet Powell and Hart. Hobson's apartments adjoin the Spanish quarters; and, as the head of the department of naval construction, he has much valuable naval data there.

WORK OF COMMISSIONERS

At the July meeting of the Board of County Commissioners the amount allowed for paupers was $119; for Superintendent Health $33.33; County Home $163.69; bridges and ferry $79.32; tax listers $384.90; Court House $162; jail $76.05; Commissioners $13.60; Sundries $23.15; Swift Creek and Contentnea stock law territory $15.50.

On American Sail

The steamers St. Louis and Harvard have reached Portsmouth, N. H., with 1,200 of the Spanish prisoners captured in the destruction of Cervera's fleet at Santiago. Camara and eighty officers were among the prisoners. These officers were taken to quarters in the naval academy grounds.

Much coin has been recovered from the wreck of the Teresa, the Spanish flagship, and was turned over to Sampson. Over 30,000 silver pesetas have been found.

TUESDAY, JULY 12 1898.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From our regular Correspondent, Washington, D. C., July 11, 1898)

It must have been noticed by all observant readers of war news that the victories scheduled in advance have invariably failed to be pulled off on schedule time, and that our greatest victories, such as the destruction of the Spanish fleets at Santiago and at Manila, have not been handicapped by advance notices. This was especially true of the Santiago affair. That the postpone-ments in taking town were caused by orders resulting from Spanish trickery is more than probable, although it is constantly repeated, in fact—reiterated by those attached to the administration, that Mr. McKinley has issued no orders about the movement on Santiago, since it was begun, except that instructing Gen. Shafter not to accept the surrender of the Spaniards except unconditionally. The Spaniards across the Atlantic are trying to create the impression that they are on the eve of suing for peace and they are succeeding, too, with some persons high in authority and thereby hangs some of the delays which have so aggravated those who believed that the quickest way to secure peace was to lick the Spaniards as fast as we could get at them.

Although that bluff about sending a fleet to Spain has accomplished its purpose and turned Camara's fleet back towards home, it is still being kept up, and the departure of the fleet promised in a few days. Still, knowing ones would be glad to make wagers on big odds that the fleet never starts.

Gen. Miles has gone to Sagadahoc.
He did not carry his private car with its porcelain bath tub, but has his headquarters in a floating palace, the elegant passenger steamer "Grande Duchesse", which has been stocked with a large supply of the choicest and best caviars and drinkables.
His headquarters will remain on the steamer during the campaign against Porto Rico, of which he will take personal command.

Very few Senators and Representatives remain in Washington. The most of the latter have gone to their districts to look after their "fences", while the former, as a rule, have gone in search of cooler places. The Senate left quite a number of small military nominations mostly Captains and Lieutenants, unacted upon, as well as a lot of nominations to civil offices. Some were not acted upon because of lack of time, but the most of them were hung up because of objection to them by some Senator.

The announcement of the Democratic Senators that their constitutional objections to the House bill allowing volunteer soldiers in camp to vote for Congressmen were such that they would feel justified in resorting to any sort of tactics to prevent the bill being passed by the Senate, was sufficient to prevent any serious attempt being made to take the bill up previous to adjournment.

Just to find out whether the Democrats meant business, Senator Burrows asked for unanimous consent to vote upon the bill, a few minutes before adjournment, and the storm of objections at once raised, convinced him that they did. The Democrats objected to the bill because, like the old Force bill, it recognized Federal control of Congressional elections, which the Democratic party does not.

Leaving war appropriation out-entirely, the other appropriations made at the session of Congress just closed, exceed the total of any previous session. The following statement is made by Representative Savers, of Texas, the ranking Democratic member of the House Committee on Appropriations: "The total appropriations at the present session amount to $892,527,991. This includes $117,836,220 permanent appropriations and $361,783,095 for war expenses. Deducting the war expenses from the sum total, we have $530,739,896 to be charged against the civil and ordinary expenses of the government, at this session, and excluding war expenses, exceed that of any previous session."

Congress was too anxious to adjourn after the Hawaiian appropriation resolution was adopted to heed Senator Morgan when he said: "There is absolutely no necessity for an adjournment at this time; it is a hasty, improvident and dangerous step," but, unless many are mistaken, the wisdom of those words will be seen later.
The truth of his other words—"The very moment that the treaty of peace is signed by the President and the government of Spain, the military power of the President will cease, and the legislative branch of the government must provide a government for any territory we may acquire by the war," is undisputed; yet the legislative body cannot meet again until next December, unless called together by Mr. McKinley, in extra session.

The reports of the Senate Committee on claims, which investigated by instructions of a Senate Resolution, the disposition of the money paid to the Southern Methodist Book concern for a war claim, was not intended to be a humorous document, but many have so regarded it. It starts out by absolving the church from all blame and then proceeds to make scape goats of E. B. Schuchla, the attorney who got 35 per cent of the claim, and Messrs. Barbee and Smith, agents for the book concern, because they led these very innocent Senators to believe that no fee was to be paid out of this claim. There may be Senators who believe that men devote their time to lobbying any bill, no matter what its nature may be, through Congress without expecting pay for their services, but there are certainly no other persons in Washington who believe that way.

Bounty for War Ship Sunk.

No glory alone accrues to the men of Admiral Sampson's command for the destruction of Cervera's fleet, but a considerable amount of hard cash. For every man on the Spanish warships at the time of the attack or sailors receive $1400 bounty, in accordance with section 4635 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which says:

"A bounty shall be paid by the United States for each person on board any ship or vessel of war belonging to an enemy at the commencement of an engagement which is sunk or otherwise destroyed in such engagement by any ship or vessel belonging to the United States, or which it may be necessary to destroy in consequence of injuries sustained in action, of $100 if the enemy's vessels was of inferior force, and of $200 if of equal or superior force; to be divided among the officers and crew in the same manner as prize money."

If there were 1,700 men on Cervera's ships (which presented a force inferior to the Americans) the bounty will be somewhat more than $170,000, which is divided in the same manner as prize money 1-20 to the commanding officer of the fleet, 1-50 to the commanding officer of a division of the fleet, 1-100 to the fleet captain and 1-10 of each vessel's share to the captain of that vessel, the remainder being apportioned to all other officers and men in proportion to their pay. As the law provides that all vessels within signal distance of the action and in condition to render aid share in the prize money, it is likely that most of the fleet will profit by the "pan-ish defeat. In the case of the torpedo boat destroyers Euro-pato and Pinto, which were knocked to pieces by the converted yacht Corsair, the superior force was obviously on the Spanish side; therefore the bounty will be $200 per capita for those on board the destroyers. Probably the complement of the two ships was 135 men, making that bounty $27,- 000.

If it appears that any other of the Spanish vessels were attacked and destroyed by any of our vessels inferior in fighting power, the award in such case will be $200 for each man aboard those destroyed ships also, and it may be that the final bounty will be largely in excess of $170,000.—New York Sun.

He on the left the bright flames And up the roaring chimney race; How grateful should we be, sweet-

For just this little fireplace.

The bright winds heard from street to Souls that share not life's daily

Thank God for home! and if a knock Sound at the door this icy night, O let us hasten to unlock

It was for this the Christ was sent—

VALUE OF THE EPISTLES.

"Part of the difference in form between the teaching of Christ and that of the Apostle comes from the fact that St. Paul preached the gospel along the lines of his own experience," says The Living Church (P. M.) of Chicago.
"Certain critics talk disdainfully about his metaphysical rendering of the grandly simple truths of Jesus, but St.
Paul had to defend the truth against philosophical attacks, and he was wise to meet such attacks in the most effective way.
Christ was to him philosophy as well as salvation, for He was the ful-ness that filleth all things. To him God in Christ settled every question, both in the heavens and on the earth, and he was ever ready to give to Jew or Gentile a reason for the faith that was in him. This controversy, like all other theological controversies, is being overruled by the great Head of the church for the intellectual and spiritual profit of His people. Incidental harm may be done in the confusing of mind and shaking of faith for a few timid believers, but the good will be permanent and valuable. Already it is sending our greatest interpreters of Scripture back to an earnest and impartial study of the Epistles, with the object of seeing things with Paul's own eyes, rethinking his thoughts, and stating them with fidelity and persuasiveness. The result will be a larger apprehension of the value of the Epistles to the church in our day, and a clearer understanding of the necessity of completing the picture of Christ in the Gospels by the teaching of the Apostles."

Old Human Nature's Rebirth.

"Mr. Moody thinks that when he was born of the spirit he 'got a new nature,' and one entirely different from that with which he came into the world.
The evidence of it he finds in the new desires and the new directions of his life. We suspect," says the Universalist Leader of Boston and Chicago, "that if Mr. Moody should take a careful inventory of the faculties and powers that make up his 'nature' he would find them to be precisely the same that he had before his conversion. His energies may be differently directed, he may have tastes, sympathies, purposes, standards, affections, which he had not before; and speaking in the language of literature rather than of science he may say that he is another man, with a new nature. But Mr.
Moody is a literalist. His contention is that the 'old nature' has been expelled and a literally new nature put in its place. That belief is a superstition and a needless burden on Christianity. The glory of man is, that his nature, his old common human nature, is capable of rebirth into the consciousness of higher, truer, holier life."
