A LETTER FROM COMPANY E.

Tybee Island, Ga., Aug 19, 1898.

DEAR REFLECTOR:

When I first came here I wrote you a letter of six or seven pages. I laid it down and went out for drill and when I came back I could not find it. The supposition is that Vernan Haskett or Jim Johnson eat it. I have not felt like visiting since.

When we first came here we found Battery F, 1st Artillery and Company A, 2nd N. C. Volunteers here. Battery F, is heavy artillery and was stationed only a few hundred yards from our camp.

The fort is not yet completed, but as it now is would give a Spaniard a warm reception. Four great 8 inch disappearing guns can show their muzzles at the mouth of Savannah river at very short notice, and Uncle Sam has two 13 inch guns nearly ready to assist their 8 inch sisters. These 13 inch guns are 39 feet long and are already here. I would not care to be 39 miles from their mouths when they get ready to speak.

Between here and Savannah is Fort Pulaski. I don't know exactly how well it is fortified, but some of the boys, who have been up there, say there are some of the improved guns and several old time pieces and a river chock full of mines ready to show any enemy how the Maine felt.

We have just finished moving in camp nearer the sea. We are now in a stone's throw of the Atlantic. We were encamped in a low place, alright in dry weather, but a mud hole in rainy weather.

Tybee is only 18 miles from Savannah and is Georgia's summer resort. There are two swell hotels about two miles from here and a few little sharks between here and the hotels. The principle street is over a mile long, with here and there a summer cottage. A railroad down the centre, a plank walk on one side and mud holes on the other. A few scrawly live oaks and palmetta trees are about the only regular inhabitants of the island.

We get mail here three or four times every day and can go where we please between 9 A. M. and 5 P. M. and between 7 P. M. and 6:15 A. M.

Most of the time we have a good sea breeze and then all is well, but when the wind is from the land the mosquitoes turn out in full force. Yes millions of them, big ones, little ones, single ones and married ones with all their families. When they insist on paying us a visit we close doors and build a smoke and go bathing. The surf is very fine at low tide.

We have the finest drill ground you ever saw. At high tide the sand is knee deep and we don't do much drilling.

Maj Wilder of 1st battalion 2nd N. C. Volunteers is in command. The boys all like him.

Nearly all of the patriotism has died out, as the war is over and we've been and likely to go only to North Carolina's capital and Georgia's summer resorts.

Company E., has not been paid off for August yet. The battery and Company A., have. So we go round with long faces and ragged clothes and empty pockets. We think we will get our money in a few days. There was some error somewhere in the pay roll, so we were left in the cold pay day. If we are not paid until next month will get more is one consolation. Hope to see Pitt county before Christmas.

Will give you another spasm next week. I remain

Yours truly

AMBROSE JOHNSON.

Skinner and Butler

Skinner is jubilant at what he calls the flight of Senator Butler to Texas. "Why did he leave his State at this juncture?" asked Skinner. Then he added: "I came up here to extend Butler an invitation to attend the Populist convention in my district and see it renominate me, but I hear he has gone to Texas. I will get 110 out of 146 on the first ballot. I am absolutely sure of the 110."

It appears that the question of Senator Butler's loyalty to the party mandate came up. Skinner said: As to what will be the general policy of the committee, the consensus of opinion among us is that when we decide it Butler will agree or else walk out. As to The Caucasian the committee wanted to run out the Senator's paper. Lloyd made some remarks to the effect that Butler wasn't here, and then I went to the rescue and asked that the matter be held up. The committee, therefore, took no action. One thing is certain and that is wherever there are nominations, our committee will stand by them, too. Butler will quickly get into time. Collector Duncan, supplemented the latter remark by saying. "If Butler is really opposed to fusion his committee is unanimous against him, but I do not believe he against it. Before the campaign ends he will be exactly in accord with his party."

Prisoners Farewell to our Soldiers

WASHINGTON, Aug 22.—A document entirely unique in the annals of warfare was cabled Tuesday night to the war department by General Shafter. It is in the form of a congratulatory farewell address issued to the soldiers of the American army by Pedro Lopez de Castillo, a private Spanish soldier, on behalf of 11,000 Spanish soldiers, and is as follows:

"Santiago, August 22, 1898.

"H. C. Corbin, Adjutant General:

"The following letter has just been received from the soldiers now embarking for Spain: CHAPTER."

"To Major General Shafter, Commanding the American army in Cuba

"Sir: The Spanish soldiers who capitulated in this place on the 16th of July last, recognizing your high and just position, pray that through you all the courageous and noble soldiers under command may receive our good wishes and farewell which we send them on embarking for our beloved Spain. For this favor, which we have do doubt you will grant, you will gain the everlasting gratitude and consideration of 11,000 Spanish soldiers who are your most humble servants.

"PEDRO LOPEZ DE CASTILLO,

"Private of Infantry."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent, WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 22, '98.
 "Let Admiral Dewey dictate our policy towards the Philippine Islands." That is the sum and substance of the advice that some of his most level-headed friends, who have observed the fact that Dewey has not made a single mistake from the day he destroyed the Spanish fleet to the day he forced the surrender of Manila, have been giving Mr. McKinley, who apparently is still without a policy of his own. It has been urged upon him that Dewey during the nearly four months he has been in Manila Bay, has thoroughly familiarized himself with the condition on the islands, and would be better able than any man who is not there, to say what relations we ought to maintain towards them. It has also been pointed out to him that the public confidence in Dewey's judgment and patriotism would cause his decision to be received without question by the people. All of these things Mr. McKinley has acknowledged, and he would doubtless be glad to adopt and act upon the advice were it not that some of his political advisers have aroused his jealousy of Admiral Dewey as a possible rival in 1900, and told him that Dewey must be kept in the background if he wanted to keep him out of the White House.

Not satisfied with reducing the salary of a man who was at one time considered competent to fill the position of Chief Clerk, the Civil Service Commission has dismissed the man for criticism of his superiors in office, an awful crime, in the minds of his superiors. The storesaid criticism consisted of an answer made by the clerk, E. D. Bailey, to public defamation of himself by the Commission. The Commission has never forgiven Bailey for having exposed some of its humbuggery when a witness before a Senate committee, and has probably wasted much time, highly paid for by the people's money, in scheming how to humble him, or push him out of office, without seeming to be actuated by any other desire than the good of the service, only to make a fizzle of it at last. Bailey may have deserved dismissal, many think the whole Civil Service outfit does, but he should have been given a proper cause for his discharge and it should have been so entered on the record.

Gen. Blanco is showing a disposition to take advantage of the published disinclination of the administration to send an army of occupation to Cuba before cool weather, to carry things with a high hand at Havana, and to prejudice the rabble against the United States. Blanco's intention to make future trouble for us is so plain that it is worrying the administration no little, and demands that Blanco be peremptorily called down are reaching Mr. McKinley from all sections of the country.

That there is no limit to Spanish gall was shown by the unofficial objection made by the government of Spain to the selection of Senator Davis, of Minn., Chairman of the Senate Committee on foreign relations, to be one of the American Peace Commissioners, because his anti-Spanish views were too strong and too well known. Were such an objection held to be valid, Mr. McKinley would have to choose for Peace Commissioners such men as Senator Wellington, of Md., and Senator Hale, of Me., about the only two Senators who made their friendliness towards Spain conspicuous during the debate which preceded the war. It will be all up with Mr. McKinley if every one of the five Peace Commissioners chosen by him, are not known to be strongly anti-Spanish in their views. Already there has been some criticism of the selection of Secretary Day, for that very reason, but it has remained within bounds because it is known that Mr. Day will advance the opinions of Mr. McKinley, and not his own, when the Peace Commission meets. Another exhibition of Spanish gall which was probably put out for a feeler, was the attempt of Sagasta to appear to take it for granted that the Spanish Ambassador at Paris would be the presiding officer at the deliberations of the Peace Commission. His talk merely caused a smile in Washington. As the victorious power, the United States has the right not only to name the presiding officer, if such be needed, but to insist that its Commissioners take precedence in every way over those of Spain, and Mr. McKinley is not likely to waive those rights; he knows too well how such waivers would be received in this country. Already there is a growing impression that we have been entirely too lenient in all our dealings with the Spaniards, and the people are apt to call a speedy halt before the thing goes much further.

19 Negroes 4 White Men
 The fusion ticket that the Craven county people will be requested to support this fall contains the names of ten negroes and four white men. The only surprising feature in the matter is that so many white men are on the ticket.—Jacksonville Time.

Curious Complications

St. Louis, Aug. 22—A special from Columbia, Mo., to the Globe Democrat says:

Downing Buckner and Miss Fannie Reid were married here today under strange conditions. In order to obtain the marriage license which had fallen into the hands of a rival of his present wife. Mr. Buckner was obliged to agree to a contract to the effect that should his wife die or a divorce result he must without further choice at once marry the rival, who dictated the terms of the contract. Announcement of the immediate marriage of Mr. Buckner and Miss Reid was made several weeks ago. The prospective groom and his party were at the church and all was in readiness. After waiting several hours for the bride, who came not, they were informed that she had decided not to marry and had just boarded a train for St. Louis.

She remained there until she heard that Mr. Buckner was preparing to lead to the altar in her stead Miss Lucille Johnston, a bitter rival. When Miss Reid heard this she came back to Columbia in a hurry, and told Buckner she was eager to marry him at once. Miss Johnston was promptly forsaken and the marriage of Buckner and his first love set for today. A license was procured placed in the hands of Rev. W. T. Osburn. When the wedding party were assembled, Mr. Osburn astounded Buckner by asking him for the license. Buckner stated that he supposed it to be in the hands of Rev. Osburn. Then there was a sensation.

Investigation proved that Miss Johnston, the forsaken, had secured the license by sending to Rev. Osburn a messenger, who claimed to represent Buckner. Things were looking hopeless, when Miss Johnston appeared and coolly confessed that the license was in her possession. She then made a proposition to the effect that she would surrender it on condition that in case of the death or divorce of the first wife Buckner must marry Miss Johnston. The terms were accepted, and the wedding proceeded without further interruption.

Mr. McBride Holt Says:

iraham, N. C. July 16, '97.

Oneida Cotton Mills:

About two and a half years ago my little boy about four years, and my little girl about two years, each had an enlargement of the glands about the ears. The trouble appearing on each about the same time, I was inclined to think it mumps, but soon observing to the contrary, I called in the doctor, who said the trouble came from colds, prescribing accordingly, yet swelling continued to grow, until each had to hold or the lancet, the little boy having been lanced in three places, and at three times, his face at times, looking alarming. The nature of the trouble was termed one thing by one and another thing by another. This however, did not concern me, as I was looking for a cure, and Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy having been called to my attention so favorably. I dropped the treatment from the doctor and commenced to use Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. To say that the results obtained have been satisfactory is putting it in mild terms, the children, and especially the little boy being entirely well, yet wearing the scars that will ever keep fresh in my memory the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. We wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company.

Our Soldiers Fighting Fire

Savannah, Ga., August 22.—The Southend hotel at Tybee island with four adjoining cottages belonging to the hotel, were burned to the ground at an early hour this morning. Thirty guests in the house escaped with the loss of considerable of their personal effects, the heaviest sufferer being a wealthy Cuba sugar planter of Matanzas, named Dubois, whose family had considerable jewelry and diamonds. His loss is about $2,000. Several guests who ran out on the beach in their night clothes lost everything.

The hotel property burned is valued at $45,000. The insurance is $24,600. The fire broke out in an attic and when discovered had made considerable headway. Members of the Second North Carolina volunteers, stationed at Fort Tybee formed a bucket brigade and saved three cottages and other out-buildings from destruction. Mr. W. M. Bohan, the hotel proprietor, is unable to explain the origin of the fire; the attic not having been in use for some weeks. The hotel will be rebuilt for the next season.

WITH YOUNG LIFE

"O Sweet and Fair! O, tried and true! The friends who met that day, Each one the other's Spirit knew, And so in earnest play The hours flew past, until at last The twilight kissed the shore, We said, such days shall come again Forever evermore."

A more delightful evening, a brighter company, handsome women or more gallant men, a more genial hostess or a more fitting repast—take it all in all—than was found at the residence of M. H. Quinerly in South Greenville Tuesday evening from 9 to 12, would be hard to find.

A Sentry stationed at the intersection of Evans and Eighth streets would have encountered twice fourteen happy people all duly instructed mysterious in the Countersign—"Storm Party"—though all nature seemed remote from storms and from her starry depths sparkled and danced and smiled upon the happy lives moving two and two: Miss Maud Blow with J L Little Miss Bettie Tyson with Herbert Dail Miss Rosalind Rountree with Geo Woodard Miss Lina Sheppard with J B Jarvis Miss Bettie Bynum with J E Starkey Miss Bessie Harding with F Clark Miss McNara with C E Forbes Miss Sophia Jarvis with H P Harding

Miss Ada Wooten with Jas Moore Miss Mary Blow with Vergil Lee Miss Pat Skinner with C Gary Miss Phoebe Sutton with Dr R L Carr Miss Bruce Forbes with Rev. N M Watson.

Inside the house from dining room, sitting room, and parlor—porch and balcony not reported—came many evidences of genial cheer and happy good will while the hours flew by. Twelve o'clock came all too soon and four times seven departing guests thanked the hostess and voted that they have had a most delightful time.
