THE WINNING TICKET

KEELSVILLE, N. C., Sept 2 '98.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

The country is growing strong in favor of the "Winning Ticket" announced in your columns a few days ago. It strikes consternation to the Rad-Pop fusion. Many men have been thought of by local communities, but James and Jarvis and Davis seem to fill everybody full to overflowing as being the very strongest and best equipped ticket for the Legislature. And Guilford Mooring, the old war hero, for Sheriff, everybody pulls off their hats and says he is a winner. J. B. Cherry, the old standby, is the slogan everywhere for treasurer, while D. C. Moore and R. Williams, Lum and Dick as everybody calls them, are simply irresistible for Clerk and Register of Deeds. Such sentiment as this ticket has awakened is like old times and everybody is talking of barbecue and a big time in every township. This is unquestionably the winning ticket.

Hester's Annual Report

New Orleans, La., Sept 1.—The totals of Secretary Hester's annual report of the cotton crop of the United States were promulgated today. They show receipts at all United States ports for the year of 8,769,360 bales, against 6,829,100 last year; overland 1,237,813, against 910,482; Southern consumption taken direct from interior of the cotton belt 1,192,821, against 988,382; making the cotton of the United States for 1897,98 amount to 11,189,994, against 8,857,964 last year, and 9,901,251 in 1895.

Mr. Hester has made his usual investigation into the consumption of cotton by every mill in the South including woolen mills that have used cotton and the results show a total of 1,231,841 but of this 32,090 were taken from outputs included in port receipts. This total shows that the mills of the South have used up 189,170 bales more than during 1896-97, and that the South has nearly reached the one million and a quarter mark, against consumption by the Northern mills of 1,875,000. He makes the actual cotton crop of North Carolina 583,000 bales; South Carolina, 1,030,000; Georgia, 1,536,000 Alabama 1,159,000; Florida, 70,000; Mississippi, 1,627,000; Louisiana 740,000, and Texas 3,075,000 bales.

"Peace, peace" is the sound that greets the ear from Populist and Republican papers and speakers. But there is no peace, and there will continue to be a clashing of words, if not of swords, so long as the white women and children of eastern North Carolina are at the mercy of dishonest white men and mean negroes. However much they may try to make it appear that the race problem is no question in politics, it is only necessary that one be observant of the conditions existing in the eastern counties to be convinced that the question is one of vital importance, one which must and will be a living issue before the people of our own loved North Carolina until Republican-Populist fusionism shall be a matter of history only.

To deliver our State government into the hands of these whited sepulchres and black ignoramuses is to humiliate Anglo-Saxon blood and pride, and to surrender our just and righteous claims to protect our homes and our property. A negro official is argument sufficient to convince any white man who is not hungry for pie that it is his duty as one who loves his blood, his family and his country to fill the offices of State and Nation from Constable to President with men who wear white faces; men who will maintain a government of the people, for the people and by the people.

Two Men Claim Ten Dollars Which Came to Greensboro by Express

A member of the Greensboro military company at Fort Macon sent a sum of money to one of the banks here by express the other day. When counted it had ten dollars more than the amount stated. It was suggested that perhaps the agent at Morehead had made an error in counting it, but on the night after the money arrived a letter came to the bank from the sender, stating that he was short ten dollars and thought he made the error in counting the money and asking to be notified about it.

This was promptly done, advising him that the package had that amount over.

But in the meantime the Express Company communicated with the agent at Morehead and he said he was ten dollars short, whereupon a demand was made upon the bank for the amount, but it was not paid.

Inasmuch as the sender had not been communicated with, but having written in the next mail to know about it, the bank clings to the belief that the money belongs to him and not the Express agent.—Greensboro Record.

Dismal and Disastrous

Senator Butler said in the Caucasian in February, 1897, that co-operation of the Populists and Republicans in this State has been a dismal and disastrous failure. Only the contemptible pie-hunters see any good in it.

These words are as true today as they were then. The Populist State committee is trying to arrange fusion with the Republicans. Nearly every member of the committee is either an office-holder or an office-seeker, and the only reason for the proposed co-operation is that those who have office want to hold it, and those who have it not want to get office.

Hal Ayer expressed their idea precisely when, in his letter to the Populist chairman, he told them it was not their business to discuss principles, but to "carry out the deal."—Durham Record.

Advance of Negroism

White men of North Carolina the time has come for you to solidify yourselves for the purpose of protecting your homes and firesides. The reign of Russellism in this State for the past two years has been a reign of terror bordering on riot in some instances, and bloodshed has narrowly been averted. The advance of negroism has been more than noticeable, and now that they have begun to assert themselves and even go as far as to slanderously libel the character of our mothers wives and daughters, it is about time the white people were coming to their senses. Every man should put his shoulder to the wheel, and work from now until election. Attend your ward meetings and get your friends to attend. Strengthen your organization; in it lies success. Russellism and negroism must pass from North Carolina. White supremacy must be had.—Wilmington Dispatch.

The press is coming in for some recognition now. Brother Hoev of the Shelby Star is the Democratic candidate in Cleveland for the legislature; Brother Thomas in Franklin, for County Treasurer; Brother Kernodle in Alamance for Clerk of the Court; Brother Beasley of the Monroe Journal is said to be the coming man for the legislature in his county; ex-Bro. Green has been named for Clerk in Durham; Bro. Eaves is a candidate for Solicitor in the 10th district, while ex-Bro. Dorsey Battle has a fine chance for the nomination for Judge of the Eastern Criminal Court. There may be others. All are worthy, true men, have served their party faithfully, and will serve their people as faithfully in any position to which they could aspire. We congratulate the party as well as themselves.—Raleigh Post.

Don't be Lukewarm

There is no use for lukewarmness in this world.

A lukewarm dinner is a horror.

A lukewarm drink is nauseating.

A lukewarm friend is worse than a red-hot foe.

Lukewarm praise can successfully damage the most virtuous character.

Even the colorless people, who are lukewarm themselves, are not attracted by others of their kind.

Have the grace to be cold or hot, but at least, be one or the other.

Like a person or thing and say so, though it is necessary to disagree with the whole world.

Don't be lukewarm in making any choice, then with a stout heart stick to your choice when made, and don't be afraid to unfurl your flag.—Philadelphia Record

Mr. McBride Holt Says:

Greenville, N. C. July 16, '97.

Oneida Cotton Mills:

About two and a half years ago my little boy about four years, and my little girl about two years, each had an enlargement of the glands about the ears. The trouble appearing on each about the same time, I was inclined to think it mumps, but soon observing to the contrary, I called in the doctor, who said the trouble came from colds, prescribing accordingly, yet swelling continued to grow, until each had to hold or the face, the little boy having been lanced in three places, and at three times, his face at times, looking alarming. The nature of the trouble was termed one thing by one and another thing by another. This however, did not concern me, as I was looking for a cure, and Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy having been called to my attention so favorably, I dropped the treatment from the doctor and commenced to use Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. To say that the results obtained have been satisfactory is putting it in mild terms, the children, and especially the little boy being entirely well, yet wearing the scars that will ever keep fresh in my memory the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. Respt.

In Death Not Divided.
An unusual interest attaches to the death of the two young men, Robert L. Taylor and John Edmundson, which occurred in this city last week. They were cousins and grew up together in the same country neighborhood in Johnston county; attended the same old Oakland Church; were ill at the same time and without any prearrangement, were placed in contiguous rooms in Rex Hospital; died within twelve hours of each other, the one buried on Saturday afternoon and the other on Sunday morning.—Raleigh Times.
The New Warehouse at Greenville
One of the largest, if not the largest, warehouses in Eastern North Carolina, is the Farmers warehouse at Greenville, N. C., conducted by Messrs Joyner and Hughes. The house has 40,000 square feet of floor space; is high pitched, and is one of the best lighted houses in the three states. Besides being one of the largest and best equipped houses, it is exceptionally well named. Mr. O. L. Joyner, the senior member of the firm, is the pioneer warehouseman of Greenville, having conducted the first warehouse built in that place, and has grown up with the market, spending money and time unsparringly for the interest of the market. He is known throughout that section of Eastern North Carolina as the farmer's friend.
The junior partner Mr. Geo. B. Hughes, is originally from Virginia though he has been identified for quite a number of years with the interest of Eastern North Carolina. He has been actively engaged in the warehouse business since he was 18 years of age, and for several years proprietor of the Central warehouse at Tarboro. He is one of the most clever, courteous gentlemen to be met with, and one who knows the warehouse business from start to finish. The firm, as a whole is one of the best we know of.—Danville Tobacco Journal.
Georgia's cotton crop will be 10 to 20 per cent. short over last year.
