For Register of Deeds.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

When we speak of men as Democrats we sometimes overestimate that principle of democracy, but this time I am going to present to the people of Pitt county a man for the Register of Deeds whose lineage and democracy runs back to our old Plymouth rock settlers; and that kind of democracy is the truest, and most genuine of any yet found in man.

No delegates that will go to Greenville next Saturday can even find a man among our citizens of Pitt who can fill the above named office any better than J. W. Smith. This is the gentleman who raised the moral standard of our county poor house, during the two years of his administration and best of all, he saved the taxpayers of Pitt county two thousand dollars during his stay there. Let any man go to the record and compare his two administrations with the two prior and those subsequent to his, and thus verify the above statement.

Now if any man can economize the internal and external affairs of a county institution so as to run it with a thousand dollars less than required by former and subsequent administrations per annum, it seems to me that the people should point with pride to such a man, and act in concord with that principle of the law of love "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" Not only is Mr. Smith a competent man to manage such an institution, but he is highly efficient to take the Register's place, for already he has had some experience along that line, and is known by all to be one among our best Democrats.

A VOTER.

A Great Speech

Hon. R. B. Glenn spoke at the Court House Tuesday night to a very large crowd. Many ladies were present. No report or synopsis of the speech could do Mr. Glenn justice. To know what it was you must have seen the man and heard it yourself. He was pointed, practical, earnest and eloquent. It has rarely been our privilege to hear such an appeal for good government. Every white man present, whether he acknowledges it or not, felt that it was his duty to vote with his race. We believe that even the rankest pie hunter present had one time in his life a desire to vote for his color in the coming election. His comparison of the records of the parties, his reference to the corruption and scandal of the present administration was superbly grand and brought a stronger determination upon every one present to see to it that North Carolina shall not longer be disgraced. His appeal to the Populists was of the right kind, showing them that if they left us from principle they must now return to us from principle. Will they do this? We believe they will. If they do not it marks the men. It makes them come square out and take sides against their race and they say by their actions that they prefer the association of the negro to the white. Mr. Glenn was conservative. He abused no man but said he wanted to know only two things that is whether a man had brains in his head and a heart in his body. All honor to Bob Glenn and the men like him who are giving themselves to redeem North Carolina and give us a white man's government.

who gauges the quality of CLOTHING by the price has no business to be married. Yet one of this class directed his wife to buy Clothing from another firm because they charged more for it, and "it must therefore be better." His better half bought some from us and some from the other house, and showed her husband that they were identical. This proved conclusively how foolish a man can be when he really tries. The lady of the house generally knows where she can get the most and best for the money.

Phillips of Pitt.

Commenting on the nomination of J. T. Phillips, for the Legislature by the Populist convention of this county, the Raleigh News and Observer says:

Now the Rev. Phillips was a member of the Legislature of 1895 and resided among us some three months, as a reference to the records of the police court here and the accounts of local bar keepers will show.

But since that time we have heard very little of the anti-prohibition parson and it seemed only reasonable to suppose we would never hear of him again. It appears, however that people of the good county of Pitt are not willing to allow their Legislative Tank to hide itself under a bushel or any other common place vessel.

So on last Thursday they met in solemn conclave at Greenville and named him as their choice for representative in the Legislature. At least some of them did the meagre returns fail to state exactly how many. The inhabitants as a whole may favor Rev. Juice Taker Phillips' return to the legislative halls, or it may be a very small proportion of the population. But at any rate, he has been nominated and the election in November will furnish us the figures.

The Rev. Phillips is not an obscurity. He has been in the public eye many times and in the calaboose many many more. The police here knew him well and when he comes back, if fortune should chance to so favor him, they will regard him with a kindly indulgence similar to that accorded to the fair members, of the other-half who happen to stray from dry paths of sobriety and fall by the wayside.

But just why the Rev. Phillips is chosen at this particular time to lead the fusion hosts I cannot, for the life of me, imagine. The newspaper reports of the convention say it was a Populist gathering that nominated the Rev. Phillips. Is he the best man among them, that they chose him as their representative? Are there no sober Populists in Pitt county, men who have been sober and stood by the principles of the party, first, last and all the time? If there are, consistency would seem to call for one of them to lead the hosts forth to battle and then make laws for them, instead of a man who stands for nothing but remarkable ability for destroying moonshine liquor.

Many a time during his Salonic career here did the Pitt preacher disgrace himself and his constituents by getting on a protracted drunk and appearing in public in that condition. His duties as a representative were neglected and his conduct became a public scandal.

Once he sent to the papers a notice that he would preach Sunday afternoon in Metropolitan Hall. "Everybody is invited," he wrote, "especially ministers." Some member of the Legislature got hold of the notice on the way to the newspaper office and added: "P. S. The Rev. Phillips will preach if he's not too drunk."

But it is not for this that we know him best and love him most. The acme of his legislative career was as a member of the great triangular four-dollar-a-day commission to investigate the Pattie Dee Bee Arrington case. Of all the great acts of this great man this takes the rag off the bush.

They came here on March 12th to hold their first meeting. All got drunk except Bryan, who was too stingy to buy the liquor. As time went on matters got worse until on the night of March 14th Phillips lay across two trunks in the Yarbrough House, dead drunk.

Did they ever meet again. Once or twice, I believe they went through the farce of meeting and adjourning. If I'm not mistaken two or three witnesses were summoned, but if a line of evidence was ever taken nobody ever heard of it.

They simply gouged the Treasury for every penny Attorney General Osborne would allow, drank up the proceeds and then went home. Asked why this thuggery they said they found nothing to investigate. Queer they didn't find this out before the treasury, was exhausted. But they didn't. Mrs. Pattie Dee Bee denounced them. Skulkers in the face of the enemy she called them; Cuckoos, she would call them now, who had been seduced by pork and barhack and fire water of Old Nick.

But why multiply instances. The people of Pitt know already, or should know, the Rev. Phillips' record.

If they elect him and he repeats his shameful conduct they will have no one to fault but themselves. If they want a man of Phillips stripe to represent them and they elect him over good and pure men, why who has a right to complain. Every man to his taste, as the calf said when the pig wallowed in the mud.

PECULIAR POISON

GENERATED IN THE HUMAN BODY.
The Result of Impure Digestion of Food.

Every living thing, plant or animal, contains within itself the germs of certain decay or death. In the human body these germs of disease and death (called by scientists Ptomaines), are usually the result of imperfect digestion of food; the result of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The stomach, from abuse, weakness, does not promptly and thoroughly digest the food. The result is a heavy, sodden mass which ferments (the first process of decay) poisoning the blood, making it thin, weak, and lacking in red corpuscles; poisoning the brain causing headaches and pain in the eyes.

Bad digestion irritates the heart, causing palpitation and finally bringing on disease of this very important organ.

Poor digestion poisons the kidneys, causing Bright's disease and diabetes.

And this is so because every organ, every nerve depends upon the stomach alone for nourishment and renewal, and weak digestion shows itself not only in loss of appetite and flesh, but in weak nerves and muddy complexion.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and peptogenic products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion, is to take after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant harmless form of all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strengthen nerves, a bright eye, and clear complexion, because all these result only from wholesome food well digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are made by the Stuart Co. of Marshall, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at fifty cents per package.

Little book on stomach diseases mailed free, address Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Two boxes of election ballots have been shipped from Pennsylvania to the Philippines to be voted by the Pennsylvania soldiers in the service there. The boxes were accompanied by election officers, who will bring them back.

Mr. McBride Holt Says:

Greenville, N. C. July 16, '97.

Oneida Cotton Mills:
About two and a half years ago my little boy about four years, and my little girl about two years, each had an enlargement of the glands about the ears. The trouble appearing on each about the same time, I was inclined to think it mumps, but soon observing to the contrary, I called in the doctor, who said the trouble came from colds, prescribing accordingly, yet swelling continued to grow, until each had to hold or the lance, the little boy having been lanced in three places, and at three times, his face at times, looking alarming. The nature of the trouble was termed one thing by one and another thing by another. This however, did not concern me, as I was looking for a cure, and Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy having been called to my attention so favorably. I dropped the treatment from the doctor and commenced to use Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. To say that the results obtained have been satisfactory is putting it in mild terms, the children, and especially the little boy being entirely well, yet wearing the scars that will ever keep fresh in my memory the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. Respt.

Rain tonight and Thursday.

Mrs. Adriana Moore is Dead.

The above announcement passing from one to another this morning at an early hour was quite a surprise and shock to all, especially to those who did not know the final and fatal advance of disease upon the wasting form within the last few days.

Even during the day yesterday she seemed to be brighter and better and hopeful of recovery, and talked with cheerful readiness with friends who called, but in the early evening she became much worse, and after a night of suffering she passed sweetly to rest about six o'clock this morning.

Death to her had no terrors; for many years she lived in perfect readiness for his coming.

As a life long member of the Methodist church she gave to it a devotion and service that was pure and sincere and humble and beautiful.

To those who knew her devout Christian life there will be but one verdict: "She hath done what she could."

Mrs. Moore was the mother of Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Wiley Brown, and sister of Mr. McG. Ernul. These have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

The burial will be from the Methodist church tomorrow.

A Smart Turkey

Mr. W. H. Weatherington, of near Ayden, tells us he has a turkey hen that last spring raised a brood of turkeys and chickens combined. After weaning the brood the hen went to laying again and has since laid 35 eggs.

Small Fire.

About 8 o'clock this morning an old barn and stables on the premises of Mrs. Henrietta Williams, on Fourth street, was destroyed by fire. The building was a mass of flames when discovered and no one can tell how the fire started. It was not near enough to any other buildings to endanger them and the loss of the barn is not very much. The Red Hawks with their hand engine got the first steam on. When the steam engine turned on a stream it soon knocked down what of the house that had not burned up.
