THE FAIR.

A Great Occasion For Greenville.

The Greenville Tobacco Fair Association's first exhibition opened Wednesday. Even the enthusiasm of the people over the glorious election returns could not lessen their interest in the fair, and a good number were in attendance the first day. The weather was beautiful, and the fair had a most favorable opening.

The parade was the best and the most attractive pageant ever seen in Greenville. The start was made from the Eastern Warehouse and the line of march previously announced in THE REFLECTOR was followed. There were a number of floats in the parade. The wagons were artistically decorated and fittingly represented their respective trades.

The parade was led by the marshals in charge of J. L. Fleming, chief marshal.

Next came Kenick's band of Richmond in a splendidly decorated wagon.

Marching behind this was a squad of the members of Co. E, N. C. Volunteers bearing their company flag.

Then followed the floats in their order:

The Farmers Warehouse, Joyner & Hughes, had a large canopy float, handsomely decorated, and containing 15 young ladies all dressed in white with large red collars. George Hughes had his hands full trying to look at all those pretty girls.

The Eastern Warehouse, Evans & Hooker, represented a tobacco sale in progress. Bailey was auctioneer, "Old Man Gus" run the sale and the buyers standing around doing some of their liveliest bidding. This float could not fail to attract much attention.

Roberts & Ficklen's stemmy had two hogheads of tobacco on a truck ready for shipment.

The Star Warehouse, Coward, Brown & Co., had a covered tobacco wagon representing a farmer taking a load of the weed to their house.

Frank Wilson had a handsomely decorated rig containing seven young men dressed in latest style clothing and hats from his fashionable stock. The young gents looked swell enough from head to foot.

The John Flanagan Buggy Company were represented with a wagon on top of which was placed a beautiful buggy, one of their very best make.

Mrs. M. D. Higgs had a victoria beautifully decorated with flowers, evergreens and national colors. This was occupied by several young ladies and misses who were appropriately attired to represent her millinery store.

R. B. Jarvis & Bro had a nicely decorated wagon filled with dry goods and choice groceries from their store.

Sam White was represented by an artistically decorated boudoir that was furnished with handsome furniture from his stock. His float and his furniture was admired by everybody

THE REFLECTOR was represented by a job press mounted on a wagon, both press and vehicle decorated with colors and flags. Foreman W. F. Burch was in charge and kept the press turning rapidly and showing the kind of work this office does for its patrons. The press at work and hand bills flying out as the parade moved along just caught the crowd. THE REFLECTOR and "Billie" were both given several cheers. The hand bills printed on the parade were for H. M. Hardee.

J. J. Cory had a wagon loaded with canned goods from his canning establishment.

J. B. Cherry & Co. had a most artistically designed float. It was among the largest in the parade and besides the attractive decorations it contained an elegant display of furniture and other goods from their stock. It was admired by all.

Speight & Co., cotton, rice and peanut buyers, were well fixed in a buggy that told about their business.

Several buggies and carriages filled with people brought up the rear of the parade, which was about half a mile long. A buggy containing Senator elect F. G. James came along close to the parade and the crowd on the street raised a great cheer for him.

Out at the fair grounds things are quite interesting. A large new building for exhibits and a grand stand has been built. Floral hall is full of attractions. First on left of entrance is a splendid furniture exhibit by S. T. White. Next is a display of the celebrated Garland stoves by Baker & Hart. Then comes a marble and tombstone exhibit by J. C. Larcier & Co. The remainder of the south side of the hall is occupied by souvenir sellers. On the other side of the hall are pantry exhibits, art and fancy work displays, an exhibit by Riverside Nurseries, a case of curios exhibited by THE REFLECTOR, and a display of old relics and antiquities. The centre of the hall is teeming with fine farm products of various kinds. Prof. Lomady, the gold wire worker, also has a place in the center.

Around the grounds are the poultry and stock exhibits. These are not very large but there are some as fine specimens as are usually seen. The John Flanagan Buggy Company also has a fine exhibit. Other exhibits were added after our first visit to the grounds which will be mentioned later.

And there are all the sideshows and tents for catching dimes that you are looking for out on the midway.

The first day's racing was fine. There was a trotting race in the 2 18 class and a half mile running dash. The trotting race was won by Loop

OUR SMALL WHITE STAR

An incident in connection with the surrender of Captain Eulate of the Vizcaya, after the battle of Santiago, was told by Captain Robley D. Evans, of the Indiana, at the Clover Club dinner during the Jubilee, which illustrates the amenities of naval warfare.

The fair brought such a crowd of visitors to Greenville this week that THE REFLECTOR cannot get a complete list.

Every farmer should have a handy blank receipt book about the house. They often come in useful. The Reflector Book Store is selling nice books containing 50 receipts for only 5 cents.

Two years ago when the Democrats elected only three Constables in Pitt county, THE REFLECTOR told you there were enough left for seed, and they would come again. It is useless to say now they are here.

Girl in every heat, time 2:18. 2:17 1/2, 2:20, 2:23. Maggie Carroll was second, Bird Eye third, Holly Nutwood third. The running race was won by Engleking's black gelding W. F. Harding, time 54.

Kesnek's band is making fine music. Altogether the fair is great success. The crowd today was much larger than yesterday. The prize tobacco sale also took place today but we will have to wait for next issue to write about that.

The first fair dance took place in the opera house Wednesday night. The attendance was very large and the occasion was in every way a brilliant success.

NOVEMBER NOMENCLATURE.

The List Changes Every Day.

A. M. Moore left today for Windsor. John Clark and W. T. Clark, of Wilson, are here.

W. G. Alley returned from Wilson Wednesday evening.

Mrs. J. H. Parham came over from Kinston this morning.

R. C. Flanagan returned to Washington City Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Anderson, of Wilson, is visiting Mrs. C. W. Harper at Uncle Hiram's home.

Mrs. W. R. Dixon, of Halifax, who has been visiting relatives here returned home today.

Private S. M. Daniel left Wednesday to return to camp at Savannah. He will then embark for Cuba.

Misses Florence Glenn, of South Boston, Va., and Olive Joyner, of Baltimore, are visiting Miss Bettie Bettie Tyson.

Mrs. B. L. Pendleton who has been on a visit to Mrs. A. J. Johnson near town, left for her home at Warrenton today.

Jas. L. Harriss, editor of The Messenger at Spring Hope came in Wednesday night to visit his parents and attend the fair.

Riot in Wilmington.

We learn by wire that a riot occurred in Wilmington today. The white people hurried down the office of the Record, the negro paper there which published such infamous articles about the white women of the state. A riot followed in which five negroes were killed and two white men wounded. Nothing further could be learned before going to press.

They Were Pleased

THE REFLECTOR has a way of trying to do what will please its patrons. If the many words spoken to us can be taken as an index, there were certainly a lot of pleased people Wednesday morning when they found the paper with full attention rews waiting for them. It took a whole night of extra work to give them the paper next morning, but we wanted to please them.

A private telegram received this afternoon from Wm. Biss, of Raleigh, states that his majority was 538 over Young, the rasion candidate for Clerk Superior Court of Wake county.

FOR RENT.—Dwelling house on west Fifth street with six rooms, stables, barns and all other needed outbuildings, including one and half acres open ground well improved. Good well of water on premises.

C. T. MUNFORD.

MORE THAN PLEASED.

There is a firm, to know their name, Just con this paper o'er, Who once asked me, as they ask you, To step into their store. I bought a suit, I took it home, I found it cheap and nice, And I never fail to recommend That firm for Price, Price, Price.

I took a walk, I saw all eyes Observing my new clothes: I was a model and admired By friends, also by foes. I set the fashions for the town, And travelled many a mile To tell the people where to go For Style, Style, Style.

The more I wore that suit of cloth, The better they did please I advertised Munford's store until The clerks were brisk as bees. "This suit so kept its stylish shape, (Well-made and firmly knit), 'Tis still it takes the premium For Fit, Fit, Fit.

So if you'd be a happy man, Just follow my example And if you'd be a stylish man, Just take me for a sample. Go to Munford's store where the grade are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For Style, and Fit and Prices.
