Shot on the Road

Going home from town a few nights ago Mr. Marion Crawford and a gentleman riding with him were fired on from ambush near Reedy Branch church. Neither of the men was hit, but the lead of shot went into the side of the horse they were driving.

Cemetery Enlarged

Some time ago the town purchased a plot of ground on the Rouse property to be added to Cherry Hill Cemetery. This new plot and the Methodist cemetery have both been taken into the enclosure with Cherry Hill and it is now all one. The new addition has been laid off in lots for sale.

The finest That Grow

Tuesday night the editor of THE REFLECTOR received from Wilmington a bucket of the famous New River oysters. They were the finest oysters we ever saw and we never enjoyed a feast of live ones more. They were sent by our good friend Capt. Edgar L. Hart, one of the clever Coast Line conductors between Wilmington and Norfolk. He has our heartiest thanks for the elegant feast.

Thanksgiving Day

Thursday of next week is Thanksgiving Day. For several years past Greenville has observed the day by a suspension of business. THE REFLECTOR has heard no expression from them so far, but we suppose that the custom will be continued this year and that the business houses will close next Thursday, 24th.

STATE NEWS

Some Charlotte boys were playing with a small rifle which they "didn't know was loaded." The gun went off, as usual, smashing one boy's jaw bone and knocking out several teeth.

A distressing accident occurred in Gaston county Saturday afternoon, causing the death of the 14-year-old son of Mr. Jacob Jenkins, who lives near Stanley Creek. The boy was hunting with a muzzle-loading shotgun, and in attempting to shoot it, the tube was blown out, passing through his head. The unfortunate boy died Saturday night.

The disposition of North Carolina tobacco manufacturers is to give employment to a larger number of whites in their factories hereafter.

William Mayo, the only white man seriously injured in the Wilmington riots, is in a fair way to recovery.

An unfortunate circumstance in which a worthy young man lost his life occurred near Pikeville Saturday. Mr. Wm. Thompson, son of Mr. Jim Thompson, went hunting Saturday and killed a rabbit. He was holding the rabbit in front of him in one hand and his gun in the other. The dogs were jumping up to catch hold of the rabbit and in jumping up one of the dogs struck the hammer of the gun and caused the gun to fire. Death was instantaneous.—Goldsboro Argus.

Points About Advertising.

Newspaper advertising is the best kind of advertising, because it will carry the information to more people for less cost than any other kind.

The mere fact that a man advertises is by no means an insurance of business success. He must give constant, careful thought to the subject.

It isn't such a hard thing to write good ads, it is mainly a question of taking time enough and giving the matter the requisite amount of thought.

Men who are not honest—who do not keep their promises—whose advertisements mislead, and whose stores disappoint—they had better let advertising alone.

If all the money that is wasted in worthless media were concentrated in the best paper, it would carry a good advertisement straight through the dull season.—Bates.

Incorrigible.

A poor little street Arab was brought into a hospital by the police. He had been run over by an omnibus and was badly injured. The chaplain was sent for, as it was thought improbable that the boy would live many hours. With little tact the chaplain began the interview thus: "My boy, the doctors think you are very much hurt. Have you been a good little boy?"

Boy (much bored)—You git aout! Chaplain (shooked)—But I am afraid you are not a good little boy, and you know you may perhaps be going to die.

Boy (anxious to end the interview)—Well, tain't none o' your business anyhow. Wot's me death got to do with you? 'Ave you got a pal in the coffin line?

It is pleasant to be able to relate that the boy finally recovered.

Now and then the doctor is believed to be almost omniscient. A patient in a military hospital was constantly getting into hot water because he smuggled food into the wards. One morning his medical officer was about to examine his throat with a laryngoscope. Seeing the little mirror all ready for use the man's chum whispered an anxious warning from the adjoining bed. "I say, Bill, you'd best 'ave a care. 'Ee moight 'appen to see wot yer 'ad for supper lawst noight."—Cornhill Magazine.

Could Sleep at Will.

A friend of the late Dr. William Pepper of Philadelphia tells how he could go to sleep at will. "Will you excuse me, Mrs. —?" he would say sometimes. "I could talk with you much more satisfactorily if I had a few minutes' nap. Jane, make Mrs. — comfortable and wake me in ten minutes."

Outside the office would be crowded with people waiting to see him—about the Philadelphia museums, the University of Pennsylvania, the public libraries, or about their health, but he would go into his own room behind the office, would stretch out on the lounge, throw a rug over his knees and closing his eyes would be asleep at once. Ten minutes later he would be roused by his servant and would at once resume his conversation with the patient at the point at which it had been dropped. He would sleep in his carriage as he was driven from one appointment to another. He would sleep in a train, in a strange parlor or library, in private or in public, absolutely indifferent to comment.

School Holidays in France.

Two hundred and six holidays in the year, as against 159 school days! That's the record of public instruction in France. To begin with, there is the regular midsummer holiday, which covers a period of 64 days. That's pretty good for a starter. Then there are the Sundays. They are holidays of course everywhere, but they count an additional 52 days. Then ten days are allowed for the proper celebration of Christmas and New Year's. To be thoroughly observant of the great feast of Easteride 15 days are given. Thursdays are holidays, and that means 52 more days of no labor. All Saints' comes in for three days' holiday, St. Charlemagne two days, Shrove Tuesday and Ash Wednesday two days, Whitsuntide three days, and three days to make merry when the national fete in July rolls round. The rest of the year the children are, supposed to study.—Philadelphia Ledger.

World's Largest Workhouse.

The largest workhouse in the world is at Liverpool, where the workhouse has accommodation for no fewer than 5,000 inmates. It is not, however, often filled, as only half of its many dormitories are occupied by the permanent pauper residents. There are occasions, such as a labor strike, if long continued, which cause it to fill up rapidly, and then it proves none too big for the requirements of the union. Liverpool has a large number of poor, but it is especially munificent in its charities. Of these the chief are the Bluecoat hospital, maintaining and educating 350 children; the Orphan asylum, the Seamen's Orphan asylum in Newsam park, containing about 400 boys and an equal number of girls; schools for the blind and the deaf and dumb, industrial schools, and a number of hospitals.—London Tit-Bits.

School Laws in Switzerland.

If a child in Switzerland does not attend school on a particular day, the parent gets a notice from the public authority that he is fined so many francs. The second day the fine is increased, and by the third day the amount becomes a serious one. In case of sickness the pupil is excused, but if there be any suspicion of shamming a doctor is sent. If the suspicion proves to be well founded, the parent is required to pay the cost of the doctor's visit.

Financially Weak.

"Madam, you've already overdrawn your account."

"What's that?"

"You haven't any more money in the bank."

"The idea! A fine bank, I think, to be out of money because of the little I've drawn! Well, I'll go somewhere else."—Chicago Record.

Tobacco was discovered in Santo Domingo in 1496, in Yucatan by the Spaniards in 1520. It was introduced into France in 1560, and into England in 1583.

WINE OF CARDUI
For Mothers!
 THE discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says:
 "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

True Enough
 The American masses are rapidly learning the great truth that any scheme, plan or process which promises "something for nothing" is, and of necessity must be, a fake or a fraud. A scheme which virtually promises this, it is true, may sometimes be so skillfully devised, the cloven hoof may be so cunningly covered, that for a time it may deceive the public, but sooner or later common sense comes to the rescue and it meets with detection.—Ad Sense.
 Manager W. S. Atkins has had a new directory printed giving a list of subscribers to the Greenville Telephone Exchange. Many new phones have been put in since the last list was printed.

Two Classes.
 There are two classes of people in the world—those who have done something and want their names kept out of the paper, and those who haven't done anything worth printing and want their names put in.—Wilmington Sun.
The Evening Paper
 The larger the percentage of the circulation of a paper that reaches the home, the greater the advertising value of the paper. The paper that goes into the home is the evening paper. It is the one most largely read. It is the women's paper. It is, therefore, the buyer's paper. It is the advertiser's best medium.—Ottumwa (Ia.) Courier.

C. T. MUNFORD.
MORE THAN PLEASED.
 There is a firm, to know their name, Just on this paper o'er. Who once asked me, as they ask you, To step into their store. I bought a suit. I took it home, I found it cheap and nice. And I never fail to recommend That firm for Price, Price, Price.
 I took a walk, I saw all eyes Observing my new clothes: I was a model and admired By friends, also by foes. I set the fashions for the town, And travelled many a mile To tell the people where to go For Style, Style, Style.
 The more I wore that suit of clothes The better they did please I advertised Munford's store until The clerks were brisk as bees. This suit so kept its stylish shape, (Well-made and firmly knit), That still it takes the premium For Fit, Fit, Fit.
 So if you'd be a happy man, Just follow my example And if you'd be a stylish man, Just take me for a simple. Go to Munford's store where the grade Are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For Style, and Fit and Prices.
