WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18 98.

Each week since our Commissioners demanded the Philippine Islands friends of the administration have informed the public that an ultimatum had been sent to Spain that would end the business, but the business isn't ended, and the answer submitted by the Spanish Commissioners this week, is every bit as unsatisfactory as their first. There has been quite enough talk about ultimatums; it is now high time to actually send one. The Peace Commission has been sitting seven weeks and absolutely nothing has been settled. It is time for this government to show whether it or the influence of the Spanish bondholders is the strongest. The faintest doubt in the world that the delay has been caused by the bondholders, who want to come in some where in the game.

There was a pointer as to the probable time that Gen. Fitz Lee's corps will go to Cuba in Mr. McKinley's answer to the delegation of Savannah business men who invited him to come to the Peace Jubilee at Atlanta. He told them he would be in Atlanta Dec. 14th, and would gladly come to Savannah and review Lee's troops, if they were not sent to Cuba before then. It was evident to his hearers that he thought Lee's corps would be in Cuba before then—so evident that they asked if he could not come to Savannah before going to Atlanta. He told them he could not. But plans as to sending troops to Cuba have been changed so often that they are as likely to be changed again as to be carried out.

Senator Caffrey, of La., says he will oppose the ratification by the Senate of a treaty annexing the Philippine islands but upon one condition would gladly support it—that all the negroes be deported to those islands and never be allowed to return to the United States. Mr. Caffrey said: "If the South could be rid of the negro problem, it would prosper beyond the dream of men. With the great natural advantages of climate and of soil, with the coal and iron hidden away in its mountains and with the vast inducements for capital which it would offer, if the negro problem was solved, it would take a great stride forward."

The presence of Boss Platt and Representative Odell, Chairman of the New York State Republican Committee, at the same Washington hotel, this week, was hardly accidental. Mr. Odell is a candidate for the Senate, and although Boss Platt has apparently sanctioned Chauncey Depew's Senatorial aspirations, this Washington meeting has added to the number of those who believe that Odell is the man Platt wishes to have for his colleague in the Senate, or that they are setting up the plan for a dark horse.

Senator Morrill, of Vt., came very near to sizing up the situation in connection with the high jinks—beg parcon, High Joint Commission, that is trying to agree upon a treaty that will smooth out all the kinks between this country and Canada, when he said: "The trouble with the situation is that Canada has nothing to give. She had her houses all painted new by the agreement of 1854 and 1864. Now they have grown weatherbeaten and dingy; she wants them to have a new coat of paint."

Those Republicans who talk about the recent election having been an overwhelming endorsement of their party are merely indulging in pipe dreams. There was nothing overwhelming about the election. On the contrary, it was only by the skin of their teeth, as they say, that the Republicans escaped defeat. It was such a close shave that a change of 300 votes, distributed among eight congressional districts, would have put the Republicans in a minority in the next House, instead of a majority. It should not be forgotten either, that the Republican majority in the next House will be forty less than the majority in the present House. To blow about such an "endorsement," as that is simply to exhibit gall.

Beauty Is Blood Deep.

Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cascarets, Candy Cathartic clean your blood and keep it clean, by stirring up the lazy liver and driving all impurities from the body. Begin to-day to banish pimples, boils, blotches, blackheads, and that sickly bilious complexion by taking Cascarets—beauty for ten cents. All druggists, satisfaction guaranteed, 10c, 25c, 50c.

The Congressmen elected last week will not take their seats until December of next year, unless an extra session of Congress is convened, which is now probable. It seems absurd to elect Congressmen thirteen months before they begin their duties.—Pittsboro Record.

No-To-Bac For Fifty Cents.

Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c. All druggists.

When it comes down to snake stories the Stateville Landmark is hard to beat. It has found a black snake that frequented a hen nest and after swallowing an egg or so it swallowed a gourd that had been in the nest. The snake was killed. The gourd is still serving as a nest egg. It is about the size of a turkey egg.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets.

Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph says that within six or seven thousand of tenant farmers in the central or black wax belt of Texas—the richest agricultural section of the State—have deserted their mature cotton crops because they could earn more money picking cotton for wages than by gathering their own crops, and paying the rent.

A bill has been introduced in the Georgia Legislature requiring sleeping car companies operating in the State to provide separate sleeping cars for whites and blacks, and making it a penal offense for either of the classes to travel in a car reserved for the other. The bill has been favorably reported by a Senate committee, and has fair chance to become a law.

BAD BLOOD

"CASCARETS do all claimed for them and are a truly wonderful medicine. I have often wished for a medicine pleasant to take and at last have found it in Cascarets. Since taking them, my blood has been purified and my complexion has improved wonderfully and I feel much better in every way." Mrs. SALLIE E. SELLANS, Luttrell, Tenn.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good, Never Sicken, Weaken, or Grip. 10c, 25c, 50c. CURE CONSTIPATION. Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago, Montreal, New York. NO-TO-BAC Sold and guaranteed by all druggists to CURE Tobacco Habit.

We notice quantities of wheat being shipped here to be converted into flour. This reminds us to say that our village is blessed with a good flour mill and would advise farmers to proceed to saw a rice lot of wheat as soon as the weather will admit.

To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

Lloyd The Tool of Negroes

Before we all vote the election to fall back into history, we may point a good and adven tale by considering the case of James B. Lloyd. In the Second Congressional district, there are just enough whites to defeat the negro candidates when all the whites vote together. Two years ago this district sent to Congress a negro, George H. White, the only negro representative. At the beginning of the campaign this year White was renominated. The Populists about the same time put up as a candidate James B. Lloyd. In order to unite the white vote of the district so as to defeat the negro the Democratic convention did not make a nomination, leaving the Democrats free to vote for Lloyd in case he declared for white supremacy. When the scheme of fusion was made public it was seen that the Republicans were promised the Congressman from the Second district. It at once became apparent that Lloyd was running in the interest of the negro. Just before election W. E. Fountain appeared as a candidate, and all the Democrats and the Populists who believed in white supremacy voted for him. Lloyd remained in the field, and by so doing divided the white vote and elected the negro. He has the satisfaction of knowing that he was the tool of the only negro in Congress, and served to thwart the me of his own race. He gets nothing for it, not even the thanks of the beaten and tattered remnants of the fusion party, whose purpose he served.—Charlotte News.

Leisure is sweet to those who have earned it but burdensome to those who get it for nothing.

STOP SMOKING. If you are a smoker, you are a slave. No-to-Bac is the only cure. It is a pleasant, palatable, and potent medicine. It is guaranteed to cure you of your tobacco habit. It is sold by all druggists. Price, 50c. No-to-Bac is a registered trademark.

Vienna.
Here we have a proud, imperial city, rather disdainful of trade, aristocratic and easy going, conscious of a long past, its rulers still animated with the conviction that they are the successors of Charlemagne and Otto, looking on Berlin as parvenu, on London as merely commercial, on Paris as half crazy. Excepting in the domain of music, Vienna is not a home of art and culture, but it is a center of dignity and grace and a certain calm air of superiority, which, however, does not offend. It is content to look on while other places explore and write and toil and push and strain; it stands on its rank; it can never forget its 16 quarterings and its claims to high estate.

Vienna is most interesting perhaps as the meeting place between east and west, where the fine gentleman rubs shoulders in the afternoon lounge along the Graben with the Bosnian peasant. The guardian of Europe's ancient order, the center of a great and most interesting empire, the city of leisure and of a pride so lofty that it does not know itself to be pride at all, Vienna is both a charming city and an important political center, as she will continue to be, no matter what is the fate of the Austrian empire.—London Spectator.

M. de Fontenelle's Bright Speeches.

M. — said of a young fellow who did not see that a lady was in love with him: "You are very young. You can only read large print."

A preacher said: "When Pere Bourdaloue preached at Rouen, he caused a great deal of disorder. The workmen left their shops, the doctors their patients, etc. I preached there the following year and set everything right."

A lady 90 years of age said to M. de Fontenelle, who was 95, "Death has forgotten us." "Hush!" replied Fontenelle, putting his finger on his lips.

A conceited dolt interrupted a conversation by, "I have an idea." A wit remarked, "Astonishing!"

A courier said, "After the death of his majesty there's nothing one can't believe."

M. de Fontenelle, then in his ninety-seventh year, having just paid Mme. Helvetius a thousand pretty compliments, passed her on his way to the table, without seeming to notice her. "See," said Mme. Helvetius, "what account I should take of your gallantry. You went by without looking at me." "Madame," said the old gentleman, "if I had looked at you I should not have passed by you."—Gentleman's Magazine.

Desperate.

"I want a horse and trap for a funeral. Can you let me have them?" inquired the young man in the loud check suit of the cautious liveryman, whose stock occupies the same place in his affections that a wife and family should.

"Well, if you're careful," replied the cautious liveryman slowly.

The turnout was at last ready, and while the young man in the loud check suit was arranging himself in his seat the proprietor patted the horse, an especial favorite, tried the buckles of the harness, shook the shafts and performed all the usual ceremonies due upon such an occasion. Then, as he handed up the reins, he said absentmindedly:

"He's very willing and quick. Be careful not to drive too fast."

The young man regarded him in surprise for a moment, and then asserted:

"Well, I'm going to keep up with the funeral if it kills him!"—London Answers.

A Bridle to Her.

Polk Miller of Richmond is known as a raconteur of plantation life in the south before the war. One story told by Mr. Miller will well bear repetition. An old darky named Absalom was the favorite attendant of a widower acquaintance of Miller, and as rumor had it that the widower intended taking unto himself a second wife Miller asked Absalom if it were true. Absalom scratched his woolly pate for a moment and replied that he reckoned it was.

"Well," said Miller, "will he take a bridal tour?"

This somewhat puzzled Absalom for an instant; then an inspiration struck him, and he said, "I dunno 'bout a bridle, sah, but when de ole missus was 'live he used to talk a paddle to her; so maybe he talk a bridle to de new one!"—Exchange.

The Bend in the Road.

"I don't count death anything. It's the main traveled road. Death is not the end of the road; it's only a bend around which people pass out of our sight. Death is only an incident. Man is a hard thing to kill. He can't be killed. A drop of water cannot be destroyed. When energy goes from here, it persists elsewhere."—Myron W. Reed.

Hourglasses in a London Church.

Nearly everybody is aware that at one time it was the custom in many churches to regulate the length of the sermon by an hourglass, which stood on the pulpit immediately fronting the preacher. Quite a number of these curious relics are preserved in various ecclesiastical edifices throughout the land, but the British and Foreign Sailors' church, situated in what was formerly Ratcliff highway, is the only one possessing four. They are in perfect preservation, and are fixed all together in a framework of solid brass.—London Tit-Bits.

MORE THAN PLEASED.

There is a firm, to know their name, Just on this paper over, Who once asked me, as they ask you, To step into their store. I bought a suit, I took it home, I found it cheap and nice. And I never fail to recommend That firm for Price, Price, Price.

I took a walk, I saw all eyes Observing my new clothes: I was a model and admired By friends, also by foes. I set the fashions for the town, And travelled many a mile To tell the people where to go For Style, Style, Style.

The more I wore that suit of clothes The better they did please I advertised Mumford's store until The clerks were brisk as bees. This suit so kept its stylish shape, (Well-made and finally knit), That still it takes the premium For Fit, Fit, Fit.

So if you'd be a happy man, Just follow my example And if you'd be a stylish man. Just take me for a sample. Go to Mumford's store where the grade Are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For Style, and Fit and Prices.
