A Howling Blizzard.

Duluth, Minn., November 21.—A howling blizzard with a 45 mile wind is raging here today, and the weather is rapidly growing colder. All vessels are remaining in port and a 60 mile gale prevails over Lake Superior.

Kansas City, Mo., November 21.—Sleet and snow have done more or less damage to the telephone and telegraph wires in Kansas City and surrounding towns within the past twelve hours, rendering communication uncertain. Dozens of poles and wires have snapped under the heavy weight of the sleet, and the street railway traffic is hampered to a considerable extent. Trains are late in some instances. The storm seems to be general over Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska.

At Beatrice, Neb., the snow is blinding. The thermometer is 8 degrees above zero, a fall of 60 degrees in twenty-four hours.

At Abilene, Kans., three inches of snow has fallen, and the thermometer has fallen 50 degrees.

At Lincoln Centre, Kans., it is bitterly cold and five inches of snow has fallen and is drifting badly.

At Leavenworth, Kans., the electric cars are tied up because of the danger from stray live wires.

St. Joseph, Mo., November 21.—A remarkable change in weather has taken place during the last twenty-four hours. Sunday it was too hot for overcoats and wraps. Last night sleet began to fall, which turned into snow this morning and there was a fall in temperature of 40 degrees. The weight of the sleet has broken down many telephone wires and railroad trains are running irregular.

St. Paul, Minn., November 21.—The first snow of the season began falling today, the storm developing into a genuine blizzard. There is a high wind blowing and the snow is drifting. Reports from throughout the state show that the storm is general.

Thanksgiving Services.

At 11 o'clock services will be held in the Methodist church, the sermon by Rev. A. W. Setzer. Collection for the Oxford Orphan Asylum.

At 7 o'clock services will be held in the Baptist church. Short addresses will be made by Prof. L. L. Hargrave, F. C. Harding and Rev. N. M. Watson. Collection for the Thomasville Orphanage.

Corbett Gets Licked

Tuesday night James J. Corbett and Thomas Sharkey had a fight in New York in which Corbett came out second best. Sharkey knocked him out in the ninth round. A large crowd witnessed the fight.

Points About Advertising.

The newspaper goes right into its reader's house—goes in and sits down with him. It is on the table when he eats, and in his hands while he is smoking after the meal. It reaches him when he is in an approachable condition.

The chances are that a one-time advertisement, or a very small advertisement, will not pay. It is only continuous, persistent effort, and effort that is strong enough to make an impression, that will be found adequately profitable. Sometimes circulars are good, but whenever you are contemplating issuing one sit down and figure up the possibilities—see how much space and how much circulation the cost of the circular would buy in a paper.

There is nothing magical about advertising. It is one of tools of trade just as a chisel is a tool of carpentry. The man who handles the chisel properly can do many useful things with it. If he is careless and awkward he is likely to cut himself.

Lessons for the Negro

The trouble in the Carolinas is perhaps over. Peace has been restored, and order and civilization have been re-enthroned by the only methods that could possibly have succeeded. Northern doctrinaires may hurl philosophical condemnation at the Southern white to their hearts' content. They may prate of violence and babble about barbarism. The objects of their disapproval care less than nothing about that. The preservation of social order, the protection of property, and the purity and intelligence of government are of more concern to them than the clamor of the mere theorists and dreamers. Barbarism is one thing to the metaphysician. It is a very different thing to the man whose material interests, whose feelings whose very fire-side, are subjected to its sinister and abhorrent touch. The Southern whites have done just what the Northern whites would have done under similar conditions—they have dropped party politics in the presence of a great emergency, and have restored the regime of enlightenment and Christianity.

We wish, however, to call the attention of our colored friends to one lesson of the episode which they will do well to take to heart. We ask them to consider for a moment the value of those pretended champions of theirs who have fattened on the offices procured by their votes who have flamed them by evil counsel, and deluded them with false incitement. What became of those champions in the hour of peril? Where was that boasted valor which expressed itself in insolent bombastics and offensive truculence? What became of these deceitful white schemers and those notorious negro braggarts—the beneficiaries of the ignorant and credulous loyalty of the colored masses—when the white man flew to arms and out them to the test? The employers of North Carolina upon whose enterprise and capital nine-tenths of the colored population of the State subsist; who pay 95 per cent. of the taxes which maintain their schools and hospitals and poor houses; who conduct every industry that furnishes employment for the poor, and to one or another of whom every helpless and afflicted negro appeals—never without unquestioning response—in the hour of his extremity—these white men are now calling in the refugees to peaceful homes and profitable occupation, while the former office seekers and office holders of both races and colors are hiding in Northern refuges from the storm which their rapacity and insolence provoked.

The Carolina negroes have been dupes and victims. They have been deluded into dreaming that they can grasp and hold power in communities in which they represent practically nothing of the true basis of civilized society—neither wealth nor culture, neither profit nor substance. A lesson has been offered them. The question is whether they will profit by it.—Washington Post.

Rev. S. B. Hunter, a colored presiding elder, writes of the trouble at Wilmington:

"I believe if an answer from the Record Publishing Company had been received, the building would have been standing today. If the women of my race had not made threats about the colored men fighting and they using kerosene and matches those lives would not have been lost."

We have no doubt the preacher tells the truth. The latter statement concerning the conduct of the women is not only true, but merits farther consideration. Of the men and women, the latter are invariably the most aggressive and violent, especially so toward the men of their race who hesitate or refuse to be governed by the Republican party machine, and heilers. Their threats of ostracism, in many cases of violence have been one of the powerful agencies at work for the Republican party and systematically and many times viciously used. This opens up a very wide field for the preachers of that race, and the woods are full of these. Let these persistently impress upon the female members of their flocks the great dangers which are involved in their conduct, to say nothing of the improprieties. We hope the Wilmington lesson will be taught and impressed upon all.—Raleigh Post.

The Raleigh Post says that the creation of the office of insurance commissioner should be one of the first acts of the General Assembly, and it is right. The fees from the enormously-enlarged insurance business which is now in the hands of the Secretary of State, are estimated to have run his total compensation up to a figure between $6,000 and $8,000 a year. To put it another way, he is making, as has been stated, the value of a bale of cotton a day. There is no reason why the Democratic party should leave this great income—more than equal to that of a United States Senator—in the hands of Dr. Cyrus Thompson. Surely his attitude toward it is not such as to suggest that it is now shewing favors. The insurance companies pay the fees which would go to the insurance commissioner if that office were established. Let it be created, and let it be filled by some capable man who voted last week for good government, while Dr. Thompson falls back on the salary and fees of the office of Secretary of State.—Charlotte Observer.

Preparations are on foot in Honolulu to test the applicability of the United States immigration laws to the Hawaiian Islands by the importation to the cane fields of 1,000 Korean laborers. The contract form as advertised by the agent who proposed to furnish the Koreans, provides that they should be paid $12.50 per month each United States gold.

At the Women's National Council recently held at Omaha one of the delegates claimed that trousers were an invention of the fair sex, but were stolen by man. It has been suggested that if this be true the inventor perhaps intended for the nursing bottle the pocket now so generally used for the six-shooter or the pint flask.

The Raleigh News in a timely editorial says: These Populists and Republicans who voted with the Democrats to restore white supremacy are everywhere congratulating themselves that they contributed to the glorious result. Every Democrat in the State is grateful to have had such honorable and patriotic allies. They are our brothers in flesh and blood, they have a common interest and a common destiny with all other white men in the State.

The Hickory Press, a Republican organ that has played fusion music for years, says the Democrats will have an elephant on their hands in the next State legislature. But the Democrats are used to managing elephants, thank you, even when they are Thompson cussed and Russell sized. They will take the rich insurance fees off the hands of Dr. High Thompson, and will shear Russell of about all the power he possesses. Let the Press and the other Republicans watch this show as the different acts proceed.—Charlotte News.

NO WASTE OF WORDS.

Evidence Which is Right to the Point and Reliable.

Judge Frank Ives of District Court of Crookston, Minn. says: For some time I have used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with seeming great benefit with few exceptions, I have not been so free from indigestion in twenty-five years.

George W. Roosevelt, U. S. Consul to Brussels, Belgium: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, safe, pleasant to take, convenient to carry, give keen appetite, perfect digestion.

Mr. W. D. Tomlin, mechanical engineer, Duluth, Minn.: One box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets has done its work, and I am again gaining flesh and strength.

O. E. Ransom, Hustonville, Ky I was distressed and annoyed for two years with throwing up food, often two or three times a day, had no certainty of retaining a meal if I ate one. Four boxes of the tablets from my druggist have fully cured me. I find them pleasant to take, convenient to carry.

Rev. G. D. Brown, Mondovis, Wis.: The effects of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is simply marvelous, a quite hearty dinner of broiled beefsteak causes no distress since I began their use.

Over six thousand people in the State of Michigan alone in 1894 were cured of stomach troubles by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Full sized packages may be found at all druggists at 50 cents, or sent by mail on receipt of price from F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

PLAYED A WAR GAME.

HOW THE BIG MAN FLEECED THE SUBSTITUTE BROKERS.

The Tricky Six Footer Worked His Physical Defect to the Limit and Reaped a Rich Harvest While the Opportunity Lasted.

During the civil war in what was then a pretty village of Michigan and has since become a city without losing any of its beauty lived a strapping six footer who looked as hard as nails, dressed well, talked smoothly and was set up like a soldier. He had no means of support visible to the naked eye in the village which he called home, but he would make occasional trips from which he returned with plenty of money and a fund of interesting talk about some section of the north. The people thought him a mystery, but he was a pleasant one, and curiosity never went further than to ask ingenious questions that were just as ingeniously parried. After his harvest was at an end the mystery explained himself without reserve, and no one expressed serious disapproval of the way in which his wits had won him his money.

"It was a simple case of diamond cut diamond," he laughed. "I've been taking fleeces from the fellow that went out to shear. I'm not an Apollo Belvedere, Diomedes or Samson in appearance, but I pass in a crowd as a fine specimen of physical development. The truth is that I'm a whited sepulcher. I was born with a defective heart and would not take three minutes of real violent exercise for all the money you could load on a freight train. I take things easy all along the line, and the engine keeps pumping up to requirements.

"When I could see the end of what property was left me, and it was not far away, I cast about for some light work to do and concluded to deal with the substitute brokers. There was no chance of meeting the required medical examinations, so I took another tack. Whenever I visited a place in my business, I'd manage incidentally to fall in with the broker. I'm better than a raw hand as a jollier, and I'd soon have some mutual friends as innocent parties in the play.

"When it came in naturally, I'd chaff the broker about his business and ask what kind of a soldier I'd make. He would either jump open mouthed at the proposition or chaff back under an impression that I would never think of going to war. In either case it would usually come to some kind of a proposition from the broker. Then the other fellows would gey me, intimate that I was a bluffer and wonder how I was to get out of the thing without a clear funk.

"Here's where my fine work came in. I'd demand a retainer, and I'd put it high enough just to make the broker think that I was trying to escape him. If he would pay me a specified sum down, I would agree to appear at the recruiting office the next day and offer my services, but I gave notice that I assumed no chances. If they would not have me, the broker must stand the loss. The idea of my being rejected always raised a laugh and only tended to confirm the broker in the belief that I was trying to escape him. When the doctor turned me down, I went into the dumps, became nervously timid, aroused the sympathy of those with whom I had become acquainted and snapped an order to the disgruntled broker to keep clear away from me.

"The best haul I made was in Pittsburg. A coal baren there who could not well enlist and who had not been drafted wanted a representative in the army who would make a name honorable to that of the principal. He was after a big, handsome, intelligent fellow of whom he could be proud and put the whole matter into the hands of a shrewd little broker. I managed to meet him at the Monongahela House, and I worked around to the main subject in the manner I have described, but I could see that he was sharp and did not like to run any chances.

"While he went to dinner, after which we were to resume our talk, I went out and had a short conference with a huge truckman. When I again met the broker, that truckman insisted on bothering us and, after showing a proper amount of patience, I threw him half way across the office, and he went limping out, while all observers grew wide eyed in their wonder. I did not exert enough strength to throw a half grown boy five feet, but the truckman knew his business, and was paid $20 for attending to it.

"That apparently cool courage and gigantic strength removed all doubt from the mind of the broker. I was the man he wanted, and he wanted me badly. I stuck out till I got $2,000 as a 'retainer,' and then was rejected. I felt like giving the money back when the millionaire came around to condole with me and tell how disappointed he was in not having me for a substitute, but I didn't. It would have been an admission that I was not in a legitimate line of business."—Detroit Free Press.

Quite Another Question.
 "I could die for you!" he cried passionately.
 "Of course," she replied. "But would you?"
 "Some girls are so practical and prosaic, you know."—Chicago Post.

irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual organs. It cures "whites" and falling of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For Change of Life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer another minute with certain relief within reach? Wine of Cardui only costs $1.00 per bottle at your drug store.

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rev. J. W. SMITH, Camden, S. C., says: "My wife used Wine of Cardui at home for falling of the womb and it entirely cured her."

The new Japanese minister to the United States is a graduate of Harvard.

Mr Cornelius Stephens Dead

One by one the old landmarks of Greenville pass away. In the death of Mr. Cornelius Stephens, which occurred at his home a little past 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, Greenville loses a man who has been long identified with her citizens. He was nearly 74 years old, and spent many of these years in Greenville. He was a man whom everybody liked and we never heard of his having an enemy. He leaves a widow and one son to mourn his death.

Mr. Stephens was a member of Covenant Lodge I. O. O. F., and was among the oldest of the Odd Fellows in this section. He was buried with the ceremonies of that fraternity this afternoon, the interment taking place at 3 o'clock in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

The Davis Tires gives some good advice, as follows: The election is now over, and it every man, no difference of what party, will exert just as much energy in the interest of his town and county as he did for his party, we will see a wonderful improvement in the next two years. Let everybody go to work with this end in view.

MORE THAN PLEASED.

There is a firm, to know their name, Just on this paper o'er. Who once asked me, as they ask you, To step into their store. I bought a suit, I took it home, I found it cheap and nice. And I never fail to recommend That firm for Price, Price, Price.

I took a walk, I saw all eyes Observing my new clothes: I was a model and admired By friends, also by foes. I set the fashions for the town, And travelled many a mile To tell the people where to go For Style, Style, Style.

The more I wore that suit of cloth: The better they did please I advertised Munford's store until The clerks were brisk as bees. This suit so kept its stylish shape, (Well-made and fitly knit), 'Twas still it takes the premium For Fit, Fit, Fit.

So if you'd be a happy man, Just follow my example And if you'd be a stylish man, Just take me for a sample. Go to Munford's store where the grade Are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For Style, and Fit and Prices.
