WHITE-SHEPPARD.

TWO POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

Wednesday evening at 9:30 o'clock, in the Episcopal church, was solemnized the marriage of Mr. Samuel T. White and Miss Annie Sheppard.

Fair hands had made the church a picture of beauty for the occasion, the rear of the chancel being a bower of palms, calla lilies, geraniums and other pot plants, while the rails on each side were a wall of chrysanthemums. Over the arch were suspended the wedding bell, a four-leaf clover and two wreaths linked together, all made of white flowers. In the background and also on the arch over the chancel shone many brilliant tapers.

Mrs. J. B. Cherry presided at the organ and rendered the "Wedding March" as the bridal party entered and "O Promise Me," as the solemn words of the ceremony were being pronounced. The ushers, Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, J. L. Starkey, W. B. Wilson and J. G. Moye, advanced down the centre aisle to the altar, standing two on each side. The bride's maids entered in pairs through the chancel, separating and passing down the side aisles to the front of the church where they were met by the groomsmen and returned in couples through the centre aisle to the altar in the following order:

Miss Rosa Hooker with C. S. Forbes.

Miss Sallie Lipscomb with T. M. Hooker.

Miss Alice Smith with J. L. Starkey.

Miss Lizzie Jones with B. F. Tyson.

Miss Ada Wooten with J. L. Fleming.

Miss Lillian Cherry with E. B. Ficklen.

Miss Myra Skinner with H. W. Holcomb.

Miss Lina Sheppard with J. W. Wiggins.

Miss Mary Dail with J. L. Little.

Miss Bessie Jarvis with Dr. R. L. Carr.

The groom with his best man, John Lamb, entered through the chancel as Miss Lula White, maid of honor, passed down the centre aisle bearing the wedding ring on a silver tray. Following her came the bride with W. B. Greene.

The ceremony was beautifully and impressively performed by Rev. N. Harding, of Washington.

The reception at the home of the groom's father, Capt. C. A. White, was one of ease and elegance, and was attended by a large number of our people. The bridal presents were numerous and many of them very valuable.

Greenville has no more popular young people than this couple. Mr. White is a prosperous merchant and a young man of splendid character and fine business qualities. The bride is a most charming young lady, possessing the highest qualities of true womanhood, and is much admired by a large circle of friends.

THE REFLECTOR offers its best wishes to the couple for a happy wedded life.

THANKSGIVING.

THE WAY GREENVILLE OBSERVED THE DAY.

Greenville is the greatest town to be found, and it has some of the best people on the globe, don't care if we do say it. There may be things that the town is backward in, and there may be some things we ought to have that we haven't got, but when Greenville does turn her head to a matter she goes at it with a zeal and earnestness that is not surpassed. And that was the spirit with which Thanksgiving Day was observed here, nothing half-hearted about it. All the business houses were closed, not a store being kept open, and with the exception of the boys and the colored band parading and occasional hunting parties going out with their guns the town had every appearance of a Sunday.

The churches had very enjoyable worship, the people assembling and returning hearty thanks to Almighty God for the blessings He had bestowed upon them.

At 11 o'clock services were held in the Episcopal church, conducted by Rev. F. B. Tichnor. A collection was taken for the Thompson Orphanage amounting to $7.50.

At the same hour the Methodist and Baptist congregations worshipped together in the Methodist church, sermon being preached by Rev. A. W. Setzer. His subject was "The Nation's Opportunities," under the divisions what we once were, what we are now, and the obligations our present position among the nations bring upon us. His discourse was a splendid one. The collection was for the Oxford Orphan Asylum and amounted to $20.

At 7 o'clock all the congregations united in a service at the Baptist church and listened to a delightful address by Rev. N. M. Watson. His subject was "The Origin of Thanksgiving Day, and how it is Observed." We cannot mention all the good points he brought out, but his reference to the good growing out of denominational lines being forgotten and all the people worshipping together in Thanksgiving services, and also the social features in the day's observance, were very timely. The collection was for the Thomasville Orphanage and amounted to $21.80.

There was good music at all the churches, the solo "If I Were a Voice," by Mrs. J. B. Cherry at the evening services being especially charming.

The Thanksgiving contributions speak something of Greenville's generosity. Besides the amounts raised in the churches as mentioned above, the Masons raised $21 in cash and several boxes of supplies for the Oxford Asylum, and the Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah contributed $25 and $11.50 respectively to the Odd Fellows Orphanage at Goldsboro.

We thank the publishers for a copy of the old reliable Turner's N. C. Almanac for 1899. There is not a more widely known publication in the State.

The next occasion to which Greenville people are looking forward is the meeting here of the Baptist State Convention. It is now less than two weeks off.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1898.

The Universities of North Carolina and Virginia foot ball teams played a match game in Richmond on Thanksgiving Day resulting to a score of 6 to 2 in favor of North Carolina. Good for the Tar Heel boys. This makes them the champions of the South.

In the last Congress there were 28 Populists in the House. This year only four Populists have been elected to Congress in all the United States, according to a statement in the New York World. Those lonely four are one from Colorado, one from Kansas and two from Nebraska.

The Raleigh News and Observer did lots of good work in the last campaign and one man expresses his appreciation by paying his subscription five years in advance. There are many more papers which did good work for the success of white supremacy that would be mighty glad to have subscribers show their appreciation by getting even on their accounts. The REFLECTOR for one.

There is an idea prevalent among some of the magistrates that they can qualify on the first Monday in December. This is an error. The offices of all who have not qualified by the first day of December become vacant by law and the Governor fills the vacancy. An appointee of Governor Russell will, of course, be a Republican. Democratic magistrates elect are again requested to qualify, and to do so at once. It must be done on or before Thursday, December 1st.

And the Rev. J. L. Burns, keeper of the capitol at Raleigh, has come to grief. Last summer he took to poisoning dogs that were running through the capitol grounds. One of the dogs poisoned belonged to Mr. Perrin Busbee and that gentleman brought suit for damages against the Rev. Burns. The case just came to trial Wednesday and judgment was given against the defendant for $25 and costs. Burns took an appeal to a higher court and says he is going to fight the matter out to the death.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c. All druggists.

WILL RUSSELL BE IMPEACHED?

Russell, who, together with Butler, the "man without a party," is the most thoroughly hated man in the State, may and may not be impeached.

That he ought to be no one doubts, but there are reasons which the Democrats have for sparing him, under certain conditions in view of the fact that the Lieutenant Governor, (Reynolds) is a Republican, and not a very brilliant one at that—with less sense than Russell, and less malice and passion also, it should be added to his credit.

If Russell answers affirmatively when the question, "Now will you be good?" is formally put to him by the representatives of the party which thrashed him, all may go well with Russell, for a time at least.

But if he begins any more of his fool antics and bullying tactics the jig will soon be up with him.

For instance, if he accepts the suggestion of Hancock, the chairman of the Republican congressional committee, and declines to issue a certificate of election to the North Carolina Congressmen-elect, or any one of them, a short shift for Russell will be the result. Russell knows this. No one knows it better, and he will have thoroughly made up his mind what his future shall be by the time the General Assembly convenes in January.

It is the general opinion that he will decide to "be good" especially as he has no veto power and will be utterly powerless in the hands of the coming Legislature.—Raleigh Correspondent Charleston News and Courier.

CAN'T HARVEST THE CROPS.

Superintendent Mewborne says that the penitentiary authorities are making every effort to harvest the immense crops raised on the State farms, but the chances are cotton cannot be picked out, as it requires a greater force to house the crops than it does to make them.

In speaking of the Roanoke river farms he says:

At the Northampton farm there are 1,000 acres in corn and 1,200 acres in cotton, which will yield 800 bales of cotton, and 5,000 barrels of corn. An average of 140 convicts have been worked at this farm during the year.

Caledonia farms—At No. 1. there are 1,050 acres in cotton and 1,300 acres in corn, which will yield 800 bales of cotton and 6,500 barrels of corn. At the No. 2. farm 1,050 acres are in cotton, 1,000 acres in corn and 125 in peanuts, the yield with Mr. Tillery, the owner, is 3,000 bushels peanuts and 5,000 barrels of corn.

The Tillery farm has 900 acres of cotton, 200 acres of peanuts, 150 acres in corn, which will yield 500 bales of cotton, 6,000 bushels of peanuts, and 200 barrels of corn. The State will only get half of the products.

At the Halifax farm there are 550 acres in cotton and 100 in corn. A yield of 250 bales of cotton and 150 barrels of corn is expected. Ten thousand bushels of oats were made on the Halifax farm.—Weldon News.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets. Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

The New York World recalls the following interesting bit of political history:

The last seven presidential elections have been carried alternately, with the regularity of a four year clock, by each of the two great political parties. The record is:

- 1872—Grant, Republican.
1876—Tilden, Democrat.
1880—Garfield, Republican.
1884—Cleveland, Democrat.
1888—Harrison, Republican.
1892—Cleveland, Democrat.
1896—McKinley, Republican.

In 1900 according to the rule the President should again be a Democrat.

A Bit of London Weather.
 Our weather is grown decidedly good for the last three days—very brisk, clear and dry. Before that it was as bad as weather at any time need be. Long continued plunges of wet, then clammy, glarry days on days of half wet (a kind of weather peculiar to London, and fully uglier than whole wet)—a world of black sunless pluster (a soft mixture, neither one thing nor another), very unpleasant to move about in! The incessant travel makes everything mud here, in spite of all that clats (a clat, a wooden scraper) and besoms can do. A kind of mud, too, which is as fine as paint and actually almost sticks like a kind of paint. I took, at last, into the country, with old clothes and trousers folded up. There the mud was natural mud, and far less of it; indeed little of it in comparison with other country. We dry again in a single day of brisk wind.—Carlyle Cor. in Atlantic.

Not Very Pathetic.
 An Ohio woman visiting Boston for the first time has been doing the sights. "I had my greatest thrill down at Copp's Hill burying ground," she said. "Yes, that's just the place for the historic emotions," commented her interlocutor. She smiled.
 "As soon as my sister-in-law and I got into the place," she said, "I found myself almost stepping upon a grave with an inscription on a queer little iron cover sort of tomb. I jumped back, feeling the way you do when you step on a grave, and read the inscription, just three initials, no name or date. 'Isn't it pathetic?' I said to my sister-in-law. 'Oh, I don't know,' she answered. 'B. W. W. means Boston Water Works.'"—Boston Transcript.

The Sequel to the Joke.
 Many years ago a visitor to Edinburgh was being shown over the high court of justiciary. He made some remark concerning the dock and its duties, and in reply the official jokingly said the visitor might one day be sentenced to be hanged in that very room. The sightseer was the notorious Dr. Pritchard. Two years had barely passed when in the dock he had so closely inspected he was doomed to death for poisoning his wife and mother-in-law.—London Mail.

Judges in England have worn the peculiar wigs they now wear ever since the reign of Charles II.

The ancients took the owl for a symbol of wisdom because he always minds his own business.

MORE THAN PLEASED.

There is a firm, to know their name, Just on this paper o'er. Who once asked me, as they ask you, To step into their store. I bought a suit, I took it home, I found it cheap and nice. And I never fail to recommend That firm for Price, Price, Price.

I took a walk, I saw all eyes Observing my new clothes: I was a model and I admired By friends, also by foes. I set the fashions for the town, And travelled many a mile To tell the people where to go For Style, Style, Style.

The more I wore that suit of clothes The better they did please I advertised Munford's store until The clerks were brisk as bees. This suit so kept its stylish shape, (Well made and finely knit). That still it takes the premium For Fit, Fit, Fit.

So if you'd be a happy man, Just follow my example. And if you'd be a stylish man, Just take me for a sample. Go to Munford's store where the grade Are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For Style, and Fit and Prices.
