TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1898.

Congress meets next Monday to do nothing until after the holidays.

The Government has loaned the auxiliary cruiser, Hornet, to North Carolina to be used by the Naval Reserves of the State.

And now the wrangle is on over the game of foot ball played in Richmond on Thanksgiving day between teams from the Universities of North Carolina and Virginia. The North Carolina boys came off victorious, which naturally made the Virginians blue, and now there are charges of playing professionals, violations of rules of the game, et cetera. Those boys had better been engaged in an oratorical contest like the students of Trinity and Wake Forest Colleges, where some learning could have been displayed and less cause given for wrangling over defeat. Let the college foot ball contests go.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28, '98

The ease with which Mr. McKinley compelled Spain to cease its dilly-dallying and accept the terms offered by this government, as soon as he himself got down to business, shows that the treaty of Peace might have been signed a month ago had the administration made proper use of its power. The inference is plain that the delay was allowed because it suited the plans of the administration.

Lobbyists are swarming to Washington because of the impression that the administration will seek to get Nicaragua Canal legislation through Congress. The President of Costa Rica, who claims a right to be consulted in the matter, is in Washington as an official guest of this government; a representative of Nicaragua is also on the ground. Representatives of the old canal company, which by its greedy demand, has done more than any one thing to prevent legislation in the past, are on hand to demand compensation for what it claims to have spent, and the agents of the New York syndicate, which claims to have a brand new canal concession are putting out feelers to ascertain what prospect they have for getting some money for it. In addition to all these interests, there is a lobby employed by the French company, that is now at work on the Panama canal, for the purpose of trying to prevent action by Congress looking towards the construction of the Nicaragua canal.

Representative McMillan, who was recently elected Governor of Tennessee, by a majority of thirty-five thousand, will not resign his seat in the House until about the first of January, as he will not be inaugurated Governor until after that date. There has been some talk in Washington about the probability of his being elected to the Senate, if he desires to be, although it is known that Senator Bate, whose term will expire next March is a candidate for re-election. Mr. McMillan pleasantly but positively declined to discuss the subject. He was asked what he thought of the Republican assertions that the silver question is dead, and said in reply: "It is not even sleeping. It is a live issue and it will be the pivot upon which the National Campaign of 1900 will turn. As long as there is heavy taxation, heavy indebtedness of individuals, corporations and government, and vast commercial transactions requiring a large volume of currency the question of the extent and nature of our currency will be undecided. It will be a live issue until it is settled to the satisfaction of mass of the people. I see that Senator Thurston says that in the West no attention was paid to the speakers who endeavored to discuss silver. I am afraid he listened only to the speakers who were on his side. I know that in Tennessee—and what is true of Tennessee, is, I believe, true of the entire South—the silver question is still uppermost."

Senator Cockrell, of Mo., has returned to Washington to remain during the session of Congress. He thinks there will be very little new legislation at this session; that the important business accomplished is likely to be confined to the regular appropriation bills, a river and harbor bill, enough army legislation to meet emergencies, and a bill providing a government for Hawaii. Senator Cockrell is opposed to our taking permanent possession of the Philippines, although he fully approves of their being taken away from Spain. He says we should aid the natives to establish an independent government, to be under our protection until able to stand alone. Speaking of the political outlook, the Senator said: "The Democrats are not downcast at the result of the election. The heavy Republican losses show the strength of the Democracy and indicate that the next general election will return the party to power."

Senator Hale makes it plain by his talk that he intends to join Senator Hoar in opposing the ratification of the treaty of peace, because it provides for United States ownership of the Philippines. Whether there are other Republicans who will oppose the treaty, is not positively known, but, unless there have been some recent changes, there are a sufficient number of Democrats who will oppose it, to make it almost certain that no attempt will be made to bring the treaty to a vote during the life of this Congress. After March 4th, it is expected that the required two-thirds vote can be controlled in the Senate, which can be called in an extra session for the express purpose of disposing of the treaty, without calling an extra session of the House, if Mr. McKinley so wills it.

That portion of Secretary Long's annual report, which treats of the destruction of Cervera's fleet, is so thoroughly full of Sampsonism that it has disgusted many who had not heretofore believed in the existence of the clique in the Navy Department, which started out with the determination to exploit Admiral

Sampson as a hero, at the expense of Admiral Schley, regardless of facts. If Schley didn't do any more than Long's report credits him with, why did Mr McKinley make him a Rear Admiral.

The Atlantic Coast Line.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic Coast Line company held last week at Bridgeport, Conn., a resolution was adopted to increase the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. The additional stock will be distributed among the stockholders as a stock dividend. This dividend of 100 per cent. represents the accumulated profits and increased valuation of the assets of the company. The company controls the Atlantic Coast Line system in North Carolina and other Southern States.—Fayetteville Observer.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c. All druggists.

Merely After a Stake

Some of the exiles from Wilmington have an eye to business. They are bobbing up in different parts of the North telling their tales of woe, and they manage to pass around the hat so that everybody can show his sympathy in a substantial manner. We may add that lots of these fellows never saw Wilmington, but are using the riot racket to get a stake.—Maxton Blade. (Colored Paper.)

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets. Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c. 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

In no portion of the United States is the outlook so bright for the development of American shipbuilding as the South. In the days of wooden ships, New England was the centre of that great and then flourishing industry, but in these days of steel the indications all are that the South will furnish its full share of the ships for the future carriage of American commerce.

To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic, 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

The county supervisors of the public schools of this State will hold their annual session in the House of Representatives in Raleigh, December 27th and 28th.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I heard of but never found any relief; such was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three passages a day, and if I was rich I would give $100.00 for each movement; it is such a relief."

MICA OF INDIA.

The Meth... of India are in the interior of the country and very inaccessible. The... mine, it is stated, produces the finest mica that has ever been mined, both for lamination and color. It has been sunk about 200 feet, following the pitch of the vein, and all this mica and refuse have been raised and carried away by the natives. No machinery of any kind except drill and hammers is used in their mining operations.

The refuse and the mica are placed in baskets each holding ten pounds, the baskets being passed up from hand to hand by women, who stand in a line on ladders. The contents of the baskets are deposited at the top, and the baskets are returned down the ladder in the same manner as they went up, but by another line of women. Water is taken out of the mines by means of jugs. It is supposed that this method of operation has been carried on for many hundreds of years, except that there is more care to protect the miners.

After the crude mica is taken from the mines it is first roughly trimmed, and then sorted into different grades, according to sizes and quality. It is then taken to the mica workers, who split it up and scribe out the size for it to be cut into by the shearers, the cut pieces then being cleaned, weighed and packed ready for shipment. The mica is then transported to general warehouses in baskets on the backs of bullocks and in bullock carts. In this way it is carried hundreds of miles to shipping points at a speed of about ten miles a day.

The mica can be split down to .0008 of an inch in thickness. Being both fireproof and transparent, it is very useful for many purposes in the arts, besides being an excellent insulator.—Electrical World.

COLOR BLIND PAINTERS.

A London Oculist Asserts That There Are Such Artists.

To speak of a color blind artist sounds like joking, said a noted oculist; but, strange as it seems, there are several persons so affected who can nevertheless paint extremely well. Numbers of color blind people there are, of course, who draw perfectly in pencil, ink and crayons, but I myself know a scene painter attached to a provincial theater who, though "color blind," paints all its scenery, and has quite a local name, not only for his "interiors" and oak chambers, but even for landscapes.

I can tell you also of two London ladies who consulted me for color blindness who paint really beautiful pictures. One is the daughter of a late famous artist and was taught painting by her father. She is quite unable to distinguish red from green, but her colors are all labeled with the names, and she has been taught which to use for certain effects. Possibly her painting may seem to her eyes, as it were, drawing with a brush and "shading" with the colors.

The other is a lady artist of some celebrity, who has for years exhibited annually in London. The public is not aware that she is color blind. She painted the "Wedding Group" for a certain noble bridegroom a year or two ago and also several public men's portraits and one of an eminent physician fetched 500 guineas.

There is a gentleman residing at Kensington who, having years ago left the navy through finding his advancement hopelessly barred by his color blindness, is at present making several hundreds a year by his brush as an artist, designing most artistic and brightly colored picture posters for advertisement hoardings.—London Answers.

He Won Her.

"I leaped," she said reproachfully, "that you were devoted to no fewer than five girls before you finally proposed to me. How do I know that you didn't make desperate love to all of them?"

"I did," he replied promptly.

"You did!" she exclaimed.

"Certainly," he returned. "You don't suppose for a minute I would be foolhardy enough to try for such a prize as you are without practicing a little at first, do you?"—Chicago Post.

Alaska's Sky Pillar.

The newly discovered peak in Alaska, which is said to be taller than Mount St. Elias, is away over on the American side of the boundary line and is thus indisputably ours. It will be somewhat rough on Elias to lose his long reputed pre-eminence, but as the great landmark of the international boundary line he may yet get some consolation.—New York Tribune.

Mrs. W. R. Whichard, of Whichard, was here today visiting the editor's household.

Every-Day Philosophy.

Laughter is like playing a cornet—prettier to listen at than to look at.

When a woman wants to improve a man's opinion of her she flatters him.

One form of conceit is to give your own photograph as a Christmas present.

When people take their own time they generally take other people's time, too.

A pessimist won't even admit that tobacco sauce comes up to his expectations.

People talk until they are old, and then discover that the way to learn is to listen.

Dr. and Mrs. Nash Receive

Last night the Rev. Dr. Nash and his excellent wife received their friends at the Parsonage on Gillespie street. It was in honor of the twenty fifth anniversary of their wedding day, or silver wedding, as it is called. The most of the lower floor was thrown open, and great numbers of friends and well-wishers of the able divine and popular wife, of all denominations, crowded the handsomely decorated apartments from 8:30 to 11 o'clock.

Dr. and Mrs. Nash received in the drawing room; all manner of presents in silver were displayed in the parlor; and a delicious repast was served in the dining room.—Fayetteville Observer, 26th

The Day of Advertising.

One of the New York papers announces that it printed in its Sunday's edition two hundred and twelve columns of advertising, the greatest number of columns ever printed in one issue of that paper. This emphasizes the fact that the advertising business is growing all the time. It is growing because it pays. The merchant does not advertise for the love of seeing his name in print, nor does he advertise as an experiment, but he finds that money thus invested brings him back handsome returns. Indeed, the live merchant finds that it is impossible in this day to do business without a liberal use of printer's ink. Advertisements are regarded as part of the news of a paper, and the readers of the daily press look as regularly to the advertising columns as they do to any other columns. They find not only that the store news is interesting, but that it pays them well to peruse it. And so it has come to pass that advertising is not only profitable to the shop-keeper and to the publisher, but to the reader as well. It is no wonder, therefore, that it is constantly on the increase.—Richmond Leader.
