METHODIST CONFERENCE

Elizabeth City, N. C., Nov. 30. —The North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met in this city today. This is the second time the conference has met here since the territory east of the Chowan river was received into its jurisdiction. The weather is clear and pleasant and the preachers are in a frame of mind in harmony with the elements. The attendance is large, only a few ministers and lay delegates being absent at the opening and they are expected to arrive tomorrow. The citizens of Elizabeth city have opened their hearts and homes, and are entertaining the conference with the lavish hospitality proverbial of Eastern North Carolina.

The venerable Bishop Oscar P. Fitzgerald, a Tar Heel born and bred, and a Methodist in every sinew and fibre, is presiding over the deliberations of the conference. Rev. W. L. Cunningham, who was secretary of the conference last year, was re-elected to that office. After hearing the reports of presiding elders and the transaction of some unimportant preliminary business, representatives of the American Bible Society, the American Missionary Society, the North Carolina Christian Advocate and the Southern Methodist Publishing House were introduced to the conference.

Rev. E. A. Yates, D. D., introduced a resolution reciting the circumstances under which Messrs. Barbee and Smith, agents of the Publishing House, through their counsel, or lobbyist, Stahlman, obtained the passage of an act of Congress allowing the claim of the church for damage to its property by federal troops during the war. The resolution declares that the conference condemns the methods employed to obtain the money and that the church will take no part of it. The resolution was referred to a special committee who will submit their report Friday.

Rev. Dr. John C. Kilgo, President of Trinity College, read a report on that institution that followed the lines of the paper he read before the Western North Carolina Conference at Winston. He predicts a bright future for the college.

When the day's session closed, the preachers were making reports on their work during the year. The reports were generally encouraging, from both material and spiritual standpoints. Many reported good revivals held during the year, and most of the preachers spoke hopefully of their work.

A POOR UNFORTUNATE.

His hoss went dead an' his mule went lame;
He lost six cows in a poker game;
A hurricane came on a summer day,
An' carried the house whar he lived away;
Then a earthquake come when that wuz gone,
An' swallowed the land that the house stood on;
An' the tax collector, he come roun'
An' charged him up for the hole in the groun'
An' the city marshal—he come in view
An' said he wanted his street tax, too!

II.
Did he moan an' sigh? Did he set an' cry
An' cuss the hurricane sweepin' by?
Did he grieve that his ole friend failed to call
When the earthquake come an' swallowed all?
Never a word of blame he said,
With all them troubles on top his head!
Not him! * * * He climbed to the top o' the hill
Where standin' room wuz left him still.
An' barin' his head, here's what he said:
"I reckon it's time to git up an' git;
But, Lord, I hain't had the measles yit!"

Coach on Freight Train.

For the convenience of delegates to the Baptist State Convention the Atlantic Coast Line has consented to put a passenger coach on the freight train between Weldon and Kinston Dec. 8th to 12th. This train will leave Weldon at 6 o'clock A. M., arriving at Greenville about noon. Delegates coming via the Seaboard Air Line can take this train at Weldon, and those coming via the Southern Railway can connect with it at Hobgood. All delegates who can leave their homes early enough to take this freight train on Thursday morning can reach Greenville at midday instead of at 7 o'clock, P. M., on the regular passenger train. The same connections can also be made Friday and Saturday by those who cannot come the first day of the Convention.

More Homes May be Needed.

The committee on hospitality for the Baptist State Convention which meets here on the 8th, have sent cards to all delegates whose names have so far been received assigning them to homes. The list of homes in the hands of the committee is very nearly filled, and it is expected that more than enough names to fill the present vacancies will be received. If any of our people who could not respond when the canvassers were around now find that they can entertain any of the delegates they would confer a favor upon the committee by letting it be known either to Mr. C. D. Rountree, chairman, or D. J. Whichard, secretary.

The Raleigh Post is one year old. Contrary to the history of most journals, it has prospered even in its first year. The Post is an excellent paper and enjoys a good patronage, which it richly merits.

Hertford Folks Do Not Forget.

The white people of Hertford, according to a report of proceedings published in the Raleigh News and Observer, held a mass meeting a few days ago at Winton, the county seat, and adopted a series of resolutions, setting forth their needs as to local legislation and kindred affairs, one of the resolutions being as follows:

"The white people of Hertford county, in mass meeting assembled, do hereby proclaim their emphatic and public condemnation of the acts of certain white men, so-called, who, during the recent political campaign in North Carolina, gathered the colored voters together in negro school houses at night and endeavored to incite them to acts of violence against the white people. Such acts, under the cover of darkness, and during the excitement incident to such a political campaign as the last one, cannot but tend to the destruction of the peace and harmony of communities, and were a menace to the lives and property of the white people. Some of these agitators are known, and we hereby serve notice upon them and all others guilty of such perfidious acts that the people of this county will no longer submit to such conduct and hereafter will hold them to strict accountability to an outraged public sentiment."

We don't know how much this resolution may be needed in Hertford county, but if the acts of these men during the campaign were as recited, then the resolution is to be commended. At all events it leads in a direction which is right—by which we mean to say that the North Carolina custom of forgiving all campaign offences as soon as the election is over is all wrong and leads to their repetition. We referred to this during the campaign just ended, insisting upon the prosecution, after the election, of persons who were known to have registered or voted illegally. Ordinarily our people hold terrible threats, in advance, over illegal voters, but nothing ever comes of them. No matter how an election goes, vigorous prosecution should follow in every such case. If this example were set, illegal voting would soon cease. As it is, with nothing in the memory of the illegal voters except an unexecuted threat, he is encouraged to repeat the crime, and his example is an encouragement to others.—Charlotte Observer.

A Man's Unlucky Day

Probably the most wonderful story of a man's unlucky day that has ever been told appears in the Lancet, which introduces it as a curious instance of coincidence. A patient, at the age of ten years, fractured his right index finger. It happened on August 26. When thirteen years old he fractured his left leg below the knee through falling from horseback, also on August 26. When fourteen years of age he fractured both bones of the left forearm by stumbling, his arm striking the edge of a brick, (August 26). In another year, on August 26, when fifteen years old, he had compound fracture of the left leg above the ankle, by his foot being caught under an iron rod and his body falling forward. Next year, again on the same date, August 26, he had compound fracture of both legs, the right being so severely crushed that it had to be amputated at the lower third of the thigh. This was caused by a horse hithed to a tram of coal, which, running wild underground, caught him in a narrow passage, crushing both legs severely. After this he did not work on August 26 for twenty-eight years, and little wonder, but in the year 1890 he forgot his fateful day and went to work with the result that he sustained a compound fracture of the left leg. After this he has studiously avoided working on August 26, though never missing work at other times.

A Sunny Face.

Wear it. It is your privilege. It has the quality of mercy; it is twice blessed. It blesses its possessor and all who come under its benign influence; it is a daily boon to him who wears it, and a constant everflowing benediction to all his friends.

Men and women, youth and children, seek the friendship of the sunny-faced. All doors are open to those who smile. All social circles welcome cheerfulness. A sunny face is an open sesame to hearts and homes. By it burdens are lightened, cares dispelled, sorrow banished, and hope made to reign triumphant, where fear, doubt and despondency held high carnival.

Get the glow and radiance from such nearness to the throne as God permits to his own. Bring from a holy and divine communion a face luminous with light, and let it glow and shine on all around. A little child on the street of a great city, wishing to cross at a joint where the surging throng and the passing vehicles made the feat dangerous to the strong, and especially to the weak, paused, hesitated, and then asked a sunny-faced gentleman to carry her across. It was the sunny face that won the child's confidence. Childhood makes no mistake.—Ex.

Rabbits Falling Over Each Other.

Rabbits in some sections of this State seem to be as plentiful as ants. A gentleman by the name of Pearce, from the neighborhood of the Chatham and Orange county line, was in town today with a wagon load of about 80. He says they are so numerous in his neighborhood that they run against each other and cripple themselves, and you have nothing to do but walk around and pick them up.—Durham Sun.

PECULIAR POISONS.

GENERATED IN THE HUMAN BODYS

The Result of Imperfect Digestion of Food.

Every living thing, plant or animal, contains within itself the germs of certain decay and death.

In the human body these germs of disease and death (called by scientists Ptomaines), are usually the result of imperfect digestion of food; the result of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The stomach, from abuse, weakness, does not promptly and thoroughly digest the food. The result is a heavy, sodden mass which ferments (the first process of decay) poisoning the blood, making it thin, weak and lacking in red corpuscles; poisoning the brain causing headaches and pain in the eyes.

Bad digestion irritates the heart, causing palpitation and finally bringing on disease of this very important organ.

Poor digestion poisons the kidneys, causes Bright's disease and diabetes.

And this is so because every organ, every nerve depends upon the stomach alone for nourishment and renewal, and weak digestion shows itself not only in loss of appetite and flesh, but in weak nerves and muddy complexion.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly, because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and peptogenic products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion, is to take after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant, harmless form all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strong nerves, a bright eye and clear complexion, because all these result only from wholesome food well digested.

Nearly all druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents full sized package or by mail by enclosing price to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., but ask your druggist first.

A Close Shave.

A circus paid a flying visit to a small country town, and the price of admission was sixpence, children under 10 years of age half price. It was Edith's tenth birthday, and her brother Tom, aged 13, took her in the afternoon to see the show. Arrived at the door, he put down ninepence and asked for two front seats.

"How old is the little girl?" asked the money taker doubtfully.

"Well," replied Master Tom, "this is her tenth birthday, but she was not born until rather late in the afternoon." The money taker accepted the statement and handed him the tickets. But it was a close shave.—London Tit-Bits.

The cod fisheries of Newfoundland have been followed for nearly 400 years. They greatly exceed those of any other country in the world. The average export of cod is about 1,350,000 cwt. per annum.

TONSILITIS

CAN BE CURED BY USING

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy.

For a long time my son was troubled with some bronchial disease, which every time he took cold, settled in his throat and produced something like tonsilitis. The tonsils would enlarge and swell so that he had great trouble to swallow anything, and could take no solid food. Last spring he took half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and gargled his throat with the wash, and it cured him. He has never had a spell since. MRS. J. STINSON

When the present Board of Councilmen took charge of the affairs of the town the old Board only turned over about $8 in money and had left many debts to be paid. The records do not show what the indebtedness of the town is, and in order to get at it with a view of straightening up the town's finances the Board at the regular meeting Thursday night passed an order that all persons having orders against the town shall present them to the Treasurer before the first of January to be listed.

A Fine Record.

Some people may think the Greenville market is not selling much tobacco. But if they want to be convinced what the market is doing let them look at these figures. From the first of August to the first of December—four months—there were sold here 6,321,771 pounds. These figures are furnished us by Mr. Julian C. Jordan, Secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade, and are authentic.
