WRECK UP THE ROAD.

Freight Car Turns Over and Blocks the Track.

The north bound freight train that passed Greenville at 10 o'clock Friday morning was partially wrecked between Hobgood and Scotland Neck. From some unaccountable cause one of the box cars turned over. This derailed another car and pulled it across the track. A train hand was in the car that turned over and was hurt by some lumber falling on him. The south bound passenger train was held several hours at Scotland Neck waiting for the track to get clear, and did not reach here until nearly 11 o'clock.

This morning she cooked breakfast and performed some other household duties, and had started to dress to attend a meeting at Great Swamp church when she suddenly fell in the floor and died almost instantly. She was 74 years old and leaves one child.

A Christmas Service in Santa Cruz.

At Santa Cruz, in California, there is an old Spanish church in which the people worship only on Christmas eve. Externally it looks like a stable and has no furniture except a magnificent brass chandelier. The floor and walls are of stone and on the eastern side there is a manger, looking through the bars of which one sees the scenes of the Nativity, with the towers of castles and palaces in the distance. In the foreground the Virgin sits by the manger holding the infant Saviour, with St. Joseph leaning over her and the wise men offering sheep, oxen and various precious gifts. Outside of this interior stable there are figures of men carrying sheep and calves on their shoulders, hastening to the sacred scene. In this chapel worshippers remain all night on their knees. This manger side of the old church is against the east wall, high upon which is the only window in the edifice, so that the first rays of the morning sun irradiated the scenes of the Nativity, which come as a roseate glow, and as soon as this reaches the worshippers they leave the church, light their cigarettes and begin their festivities.

"I thought I was on to all the strange and picturesque ways of making a living that could be thought of," a West Philadelphia restaurateur observed, "but there was an old fellow along here yesterday who gave me a pointer I had never dreamed of. He came in and offered to patch up all the bad places in my wall paper, and so skillfully that I couldn't find a place after it was done. Well, I hadn't any patching to do, but I bet the old chap a quarter and his dinner that he couldn't do what he said. I tore a patch out of the wall paper, and when he was through eating he went to work. The first thing he did was to cut a piece of blank paper big enough to cover the hole and paste it over. Next he took a brush and painted a ground the same as the other paper. Then, kick me if he didn't take other brushes and colors and paint in the design of the paper. I willingly yielded up a quarter with the dinner, and was satisfied when I saw the alacrity and ease with which the fellow did his work.—Philadelphia Record.

JUST FOR FUN.

Two heads may be better than one, but not the morning after.

The imprudent skater is a man of great faith, for he attempts to walk on the water.

A South street merchant advertises: "Most down quilts are up; but ours are way down."

Hoax—"So you kissed the proud beauty?" Joak—"Yes." "Under the mistletoe?" "Well, I was under the missile toe when her father propelled me through the front door."

Nell—He's going to give you a magnificent diamond lacepin. Belle—Only one? The stingy thing! What? Well, what would you think of a man who didn't give two pins for you?

De Tanque—That's Poppers, whose wife writes those articles on How to treat a Baby. Old Soak—Not much variety in that subject. Milk's about the only drink you can offer it.

Aunt Mary—And do you love your Aunt Mary, Tommy? Tommy—Don't know. Why? Cause Mamma said she didn't know whether you'd give us a Christmas present this year.

Editor—That new compositor puzzles me. Assistant—Why? I don't know whether he's helplessly stupid or intentionally witty. In my article on the French Academy I spoke of the "immortals," but he dropped the 't'.

Mrs. Jaublotz—Got all your shopping done? Mrs. Bargens—Most of it, I bought a carpet-sweeper for my daughter, a nice door-mat for Willie to wipe his feet on and a ton of coal for my husband. Now, I've got to buy a sealskin sacque, a bonnet and a pair of earrings for my husband to give me.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets.
Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

Four prisoners broke out of the county jail at Eureka Springs, Ark., the other day, to attend a dance given by some of their friends. The jailer spent the night in a fruitless search for his missing charges, and upon returning to the prison at daybreak found them waiting to get in. He was disgusted when they asked him if breakfast was ready, and told them that "after the way they had acted they could stay out." Then the jailer went inside and locked the door, whereupon the prisoners forced their way into the jail and returned to their cells.

A gentleman remarked recently that had a stranger or an outsider come to North Carolina, and made the cures among our people that Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy had made, the people would be have stirred as never before. Read this and suppose a case:

Eleven years ago I had a child that was delicate from birth, and for six months she was under constant care of the best physician we had in our town. But his medicine seemed powerless to control the bowel trouble, which had become chronic dysentery. She also suffered from some aggravated blood trouble, which caused large sores and risings to break out on her body. Oft time there would be as many as 20 or 25. We had several doctors to treat her at different times, but nothing reached her case. They would lance these risings, but as soon as one was cured another broke out, and the doctors gave me no hope of her cure. After she had led a life of agony and suffering for six months, I was inspired to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. There was a change for the better in twenty-four hours, it seemed to check the bowels at once, and after using a few bottles my child was entirely cured, and has never since had any sign of trouble and is now in perfect health. A few years after this I had two sores to break out on my ankle, and strange to say I did not think of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I was under the treatment of doctors for three years, but the sores continued to get worse until they had eaten to the bone. I then thought of trying Mrs. Joe Person's Wash and did so, and it is almost useless to say it soon made a cure.

I wish I could speak so that every man, woman and child, in North Carolina could hear, that I might tell them what Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and Wash did for me and mine. I advised one of my friends who had been a terrible sufferer for a long time, with nurses sore mouth. She used the Remedy and Wash, and it soon made a cure.

I have recommended it to ever so many of my friends, for indigestion and other ailments, and I have never known it to fail to cure yet. There is no medicine equal to it. MRS. RACHEL READE LONG. Roxboro, Person Co., Oct. 8, 1898.

"Old Times Have Changed, Old Manners Gone."

In olden times, when every man was supposed to know his neighbors business the merchant could afford to sit down at his ease knowing that as long as he had the goods needed, trade would come to him without solicitation, but in these days of hurry and competition the man who expects to succeed must tell the public what he has to sell through the newspapers. And he has to tell it in the right way too. His ad must be readable and must keep right along. He need not expect to cast a biscuit on the waters today and expect a loaf back tomorrow. Advertising is the best paying investment in the world but it must be done in a business like manner.
