"Raleigh" Back From Manila.

Mayor Powell yesterday received a letter from Mr. W. H. H. Cory, chairman of the committee on attractions for the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association of Norfolk, enclosing a copy of a letter from A. N. Crowninshield, chief of Bureau of Navigation.

"As you see he (Mr. Crowninshield) has already advised the repair of the "Raleigh" at the Norfolk navy yard," writes Mr. Cory. "This ship was built here and is dear to our hearts, and we know she is yours, being named for your capital city. We therefore, feel that it is scarcely necessary to ask you to use all your influence with your Senators and Representatives in Congress to have the suggestion carried out so that the officers and crew can be given a suitable reception on their arrival here. It will also enable the people of your State to see this battle-scarred ship, which gained such renown at Manila."

Mr. Crowninshield says in his letter that the Raleigh has already left Manila for New York. "I have recommended, however, that she be repaired at the Norfolk navy yard."—Raleigh News and Observer.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1898.

As the age advances fireworks become more dangerous, the manufacturers seeming with each recurring season to make the explosives more powerful. As a means of increasing the noise incident to the celebrating of Christmas and adding to the fun of the boys, the pop-cracker in its various sizes has been deemed almost indispensable, but the reckless use of them having reached the stage of being a nuisance many towns have placed a prohibition against them. Charlotte was one of the towns that would not permit fireworks in the recent Christmas festivities, and the Observer expresses the following opinion on the result:

The wisdom of the Charlotte city authorities in forbidding the use of explosives during the recent holidays was fully vindicated. What with horns, bells, plow-shares and hammers, the boys made an infinite deal of noise at a minimum expense, the cup of joy of the rising generation should have been full, and there is no aftermath of injured eyes and lacerated hands. There were nervous persons who, during the tuneful days just ended, swore they preferred fire-crackers and cannon-crackers, but they said this in their wrath. They all know now that horns, cow bells and plow-shares are far preferable as instruments of torture, and after this experience it is to be hoped that the Christmas explosives will never be heard in Charlotte again.

The Restful Calm of Home.

"It is high time that our women should lead calmer lives," writes Edward Bok of "The Rush of American Women" in the January Ladies' Home Journal. "They should get away from the notion what we call 'progress' in these days demands that they shall fill their thoughts and lives with matters at the cost of their health or peace of mind. Our homes must have a more of a restful calm, and our wives must not be lured into nervous haste and forgetfulness by wrong ambitions or foolish ideas of what the world expects of them. There must be left to every woman a clearly defined interval of leisure for the employment of those influences which make our firesides homes of rest and places of satisfying and uplifting calm. It is a pardorable failing to have a pride in the beautiful things which our homes contain. But we must not let that feeling take the place of the influence the home itself exerts on those who make it or live in it. Let us live in and know our own homes, and get the advantage of that restful calm, than which nothing keeps us younger or more surely smooths out the trials of the day. If mothers will be calmer we shall see our girls becoming less nervous and more restful. Every home should have a central figure of restful tranquility. Then would the influence go out to the children. But that can only be done by getting away from the confusing rush of too many duties; by arranging our lives so as to have time for hearth-light rest; by being at leisure with ourselves; by keeping the work of the home inside and the world outside within boundaries; by giving ourselves time to measure labor with its results; by looking into ourselves, and seeing what and how much we can do for others. Tranquility is a priceless possession to either man or woman. It is worth many a sacrifice to enjoy it, and to gain that freeness of heart which will enable us to drink deep and long of love and home."

Jarvis Slated For Chairman.

Those who claim to be on the inside of things say that the Legislature will abolish the railroad commission and establish in its place a commission of railroads, banking and insurance.

This, my informant tells me, will like the present railroad commission, consist of three members. The chairman, however, will be required to live in Raleigh and be continually at the office. For this service he will receive a salary of $2,500 a year. The other two commissioners like the present railroad commissioners, may reside where they like so they attend the regular meetings of the board. For this service they will be paid $1,800 a year.

It is claimed also that Hon. Thos. J. Jarvis is slated for the chairmanship and that the other members of it will be men of experience and recognized ability.

In addition to the duties now devolving upon the railroad commission the commission of railroads, banking and insurance would, as its name indicates, have charge of the banking and insurance business of the State. The control and examination of banks is now in the hands of the State Treasurer, and the insurance business is controlled by the Secretary of State.

To take from the Treasurer the banking business would relieve him of the appointment of two examiners; and to take from the Secretary of State the insurance business would be cutting that official's salary half in two.

There are those who believe that some such arrangement as the above would be much more satisfactory than the creation of a separate and independent office for the management of the insurance business.—Raleigh News and Observer.

To Lead The World.

Both the leading commercial agencies in their latest reports state that in the year just closing the trade of the United States was by far the largest in its history. This seems all the more remarkable when the only war we have waged in thirty-five years came within the year.

Statistics show that the United States is already the greatest producing country in the world producing more than even Great Britain. The reports for the year show that New York has taken first place in commerce as the world's leading port. And it is also shown that the United States has in a year gone from seventh place in the world's naval powers to fourth place, being excelled only by England, Russia, and France.

The country has made wonderful progress in many lines in the last decade.

The Director of the Mint is authority for the statement that the United States now hold $910,000,000 in gold. This is an estimate of course; for there are no data available to determine the amount held by depositories other than the United States Treasury and Sub-Treasuries, the assay offices, the clearing houses and the national banks, and the holdings of these do not by a very considerable percentage reach the total indicated. Assuming that the estimate is approximately correct, however, the gold in the United States would by far exceed the amount held here at any time heretofore. The largest sum of gold held in the United States in any previous year, according to the Mint estimates, was $705,817,855, in 1888. The stock of the precious metal held in the principal countries of Europe, in Australasia and in the United States in 1873 was $1,209,800,000. According to the Director of the Mint the present stock of gold is $3,780,000,000—which is more by $1,500,000,000 than the total stock of both gold and silver in the same countries in 1873

A gentleman remarked recently that had a stranger or an outsider come to North Carolina, and made the cures among our people that Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy had made, the people would have been stirred as never before. Read this and suppose a case:

Eleven years ago I had a child that was delicate from birth, and for six months she was under constant care of the best physician we had in our town. But his medicine seemed powerless to control the bowel trouble, which had become chronic dysentery. She also suffered from some aggravated blood trouble, which caused large sores and risings to break out on her body. Off time there would be as many as 20 or 25. We had several doctors to treat her at different times, but nothing reached her case. They would lance these risings, but as soon as one was cured another broke out, and the doctors gave me no hope of her cure. After she had led a life of agony and suffering for six months, I was inspired to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. There was a change for the better in twenty-four hours, it seemed to check the bowels at once, and after using a few bottles my child was entirely cured, and has never since had any sign of trouble and is now in perfect health. A few years after this I had two sores to break out on my ankle, and strange to say I did not think of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I was under the treatment of doctors for three years, but the sores continued to get worse until they had eaten to the bone. I then thought of trying Mrs. Joe Person's Wash and did so, and it is almost useless to say it soon made a cure.

I wish I could speak so that every man, woman and child, in North Carolina could hear, that I might tell them what Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and Wash did for me and mine. I advised one of my friends who had been a terrible sufferer for a long time, with nurses sore mouth. She used the Remedy and Wash, and it soon made a cure.

I have recommended it to ever so many of my friends, for indigestion and other ailments, and I have never known it to fail to cure yet.
 There is no medicine equal to it.

Worth Bagley.

A dispatch from New York says that officers of the torpedo boat flotilla, attached to the North Atlantic Squadron, have prepared a memorial for Ensign Worth Bagley, of the Winslow, who was the first American officer to fall in the war with Spain.

The memorial was made by Tif-any & Co., and is to be placed in the chapel of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The tablet is made of brass and has a backing of antique oak. The inscriptions and ornamentations are laid in brass.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections.
 Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I heard of but never found any relief; such was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three passages a day, and if I was rich I would give $100.00 for each movement; it is such a relief."

L. E. Seay, of Salisbury, sold a New York man two bird dogs for $500.

A negro brutally murdered a young white man at Selma. A crowd tried to get the negro and lynch him, but the Sheriff eluded the crowd and took the prisoner to Raleigh for safe keeping.
