FLOWERS.

DISPENSARY.

Cor. Greensboro Record.

Here are some facts about the South Carolina dispensary. The original copies can be seen by calling on the committee, or our city papers:

Does it increase or decrease drinking?

Decrease about 50 per cent.

What effect does it have on the morals of the community?

The very best, taking into consideration the effects of alcohol.

State whether or not it decreases crime and cost of criminal proceedings, jail expenses, etc.

Yes.

State whether or not it removes to any extent temptation from the young.

The greatest benefit is that it removes temptation from the young. No fancy drinks and luring bar-rooms to attract.

Has it retarded the growth of your city?

No.

Has business been injured by it? Improved.

How does the revenue received from it compare with that received under the saloon system?

Considerably less, but we need less police protection.

Has it grown in favor with the people?

Yes. When it first went into effect it met with opposition on all sides but it has steadily grown in favor.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Feb. 8, '99.

We regret very much to hear that Mrs. A. J. Petty is quite sick.

A. G. Cox moved the Post Office into its new quarters in his brick office yesterday.

Mr. Bill Dixon, of Goose Nest, is down here this week making preparation to move here.

Mr. Rowan Cooper, one of the firm of A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., has been confined to his room since Friday. We hope he will soon be out again.

It will pay you to buy your goods where you can get them cheapest. You can do this at Johnson & Parker's.

Our town charter is to be arranged so as to enlarge the incorporation, also to make the taxes some higher.

G. W. Parker says that he sold about 4,000 yards of wire fence Monday.

B. F. Manning & Co. think to have in a large stock of Dry Goods, Groceries and Hardware as soon as possible and hope to be able to furnish their customers anything they need.

Bro. Joe Blow, of Greenville, is sojourning in these parts again; it seems natural to see "Bud Joe" come twisting down the sidewalk and we hope he will make this his home again for he is always good natured and full of fun.

The rains descended, the floods came and the winds blew and beat upon that house and it fell not for it was founded upon a rock. Neither has the reputation of the A. G. Cox Manufacturing Co. fallen for it is founded upon good honest work and low prices.

Water! Water!

By telephone this morning we learn that Great Swamp is covered with water. Mr. Leonidas Fleming's place, about five miles from town, is on an island near the centre of Great Swamp and the water has surrounded his house and he cannot get out. He says there is more water out there than was ever known before.

At the steamboat wharf the river is up so high that the goods in the lower warehouse had to be moved to the second floor.

All the roads leading to the city are flooded and it is with difficulty that any one can get here.

"MAKES THINGS"

Charity and Children, the thoughtful and interesting paper published at the Thomasville Orphanage, says in its issue of this week:

"The growth of Charlotte is astonishing. The progress it has made within the past three years—hard years they are called—gives glowing promises of its future. They claim to have 25,000 people now, and they are mostly white folks, too. They make things and this is the secret of their success. You cannot build up a city by simply selling calico."

That hits off the case to a nicety. Charlotte is prosperous and growing because it "makes things." It makes them and sells them to outsiders. No town can ever prosper under a system of merely swapping dollars among its own citizens.—Charlotte Observer.

We want the business men of Greenville to read that sentence over several times. Charlotte is prosperous and growing because it "makes things." Then ask the question, what is Greenville doing? or rather, what is Greenville making? Here we have a town of more than 3,000 people, with unlimited natural advantages surrounding us, and not a manufacturing enterprise larger than a buggy factory. True the town has had much growth of late years, but this can be attributed solely to the tobacco industry, not the manufacturing but the developing of a big market. Had the town kept pace along other lines and established factories, its growth and progress would have been much more rapid.

It seems that every man who comes to Greenville prospecting goes to looking for a store with a view of engaging in the mercantile business. And this is one business that is already over-supplied here, there being stores enough to furnish the needs of at least double the number of people who do their trading in Greenville. (It might be said, too by way of parenthesis, that some of the stores here are not making enough to afford to advertise in their town paper—at least they say they can't afford to advertise, but they ought to do so to make money.)

What we need is not more stores, but something to bring more trade to stores already here. We need factories that will give people employment and distribute largesums among them, factories that will "make things" and sell them to outsiders. This doctrine has been a key note of THE REFLECTOR through all these years and it is going to keep on singing that tune. Yes, Greenville needs factories, and the sooner our business people become aroused to the fact the better it will be for their business and for the town.

On Monday the Senate ratified the treaty of peace with Spain by a vote of 57 to 27. For some days there had been doubt as to the result when the test vote should come, but after the outbreak of the Filipinos on Sunday it was expected that the ratification would prevail.

The big meat packers of Chicago say that Miles' recent talk about that embalmed beef has cost them millions of dollars. Next time they should not work off a lot of bad meats on the government for our soldiers to eat. Miles' exposure serves them right. The public believes they did put off the bad beef on the soldiers, and that's where the trouble comes in.

Some people go to almost any extreme to bring out something novel to attract attention. A few days ago there was a telephone wedding at Williamsport, Pa., the bride and groom standing seventy miles apart and having the ceremony performed over the telephone.

The Amendment to The Constitution.

The following is the amendment to the Constitution proposed by the Committee on Elections in the present General Assembly. Both the Senate and House have had a joint Caucus, and a great majority of the members are said to be in favor of submitting the proposed amendment to a vote of the people.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

That article VI of the Constitution of North Carolina be, and the same is hereby repealed, and in lieu thereof shall be substituted the following article of said Constitution:

ARTICLE VI.

Section 1. Every male person born in the United States and every male person who has been naturalized, 21 years of age and possessing the qualifications set out in this article, shall be entitled to vote at any election by the people in the State, except as herein otherwise provided.

Sec. 2. He shall have resided in the State of North Carolina for two years, in the county nine months, and in the precinct, ward or other district in which he offers to vote, six months next preceding the election: Provided, That removal from one precinct, ward or other election district, to another in the same county, shall not operate to deprive any person of the right to vote in the precinct, ward or other election district, from which he has been removed until six months after such removal. No person who has been convicted or who has confessed his guilt in open court upon indictment, of any crime, the punishment of which now is, or may hereafter be, imprisonment in the State prison, shall be permitted to vote unless the said person shall be first restored to citizenship in the manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 3. Every person offering to vote shall be at the time a legally registered voter as herein prescribed and in the manner hereafter provided by law, and the General Assembly of North Carolina shall enact general registration laws to carry into effect the provisions of this article.

Sec. 4. Any person presenting himself for registration or voting shall be able to read and write any part of the Constitution in the English language, and shall have paid by the first day of February the poll tax for the previous year, as prescribed by law, and shall exhibit the receipt therefor. Poll taxes shall be a lien only on assessed property, and no process shall issue to enforce the collection of the same except against assessed property.

Sec. 5. No male person who was on January 1, 1867, or at any time prior thereto, entitled to vote under the laws of any State in the United States wherein he then resided; and no son or grandson of any such person not less than 21 years old at the date of the adoption of this amendment of the Constitution shall be denied the right to register and vote at any election in this State by reason of the educational qualification prescribed in this article, provided he shall have registered prior to December 1, 1902, in accordance with the terms of this article, and no person shall be allowed to register under this section after that date.

Sec. 6. A separate registration under this section shall be made by the registration officer who shall, at the close of the registration in the year 1902, make a sworn copy in duplicate of the list of persons registered under this section, showing in detail whether the applicant registered as a voter of 1867, or prior thereto, or as a son, or grandson of such voter, and the registration officer shall deposit one of said duplicates in the office of the Secretary of State, to be by him recorded and preserved as a part of the permanent records of his office, and the other of said duplicates he shall file with the clerk of the Superior court of his county, to be by him recorded in a book provided therefor. All persons whose names appear on said list shall be admitted to register for all elections in this State, unless otherwise disqualified. The General Assembly shall, at its first session after the adoption of this amendment, provide the manner in which the classes of persons provided for in this section shall register.

Sec. 7. All elections by the people shall be by ballot, and all elections by the General Assembly shall be viva voce.

Sec. 8. Every voter in North Carolina, except as in this article disqualified, shall be eligible to office, but before entering upon the duties of the office he shall take and subscribe the following oath: "I, ———, do solemnly swear that I will support and maintain the Constitution and laws of the United States and the constitution and laws of North Carolina, not inconsistent therewith, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office as ———, So help me God."

Sec. 9. The following classes of persons shall be disqualified for office: First, all persons who deny the being of Almighty God. Second, all persons who shall have been convicted, or confessed their guilt on indictment pending and whether sentenced or not, or under judgement suspended, of any treason or felony, or any other crime for which the punishment may be imprisonment in the penitentiary, since becoming citizens of the United States, of corruption and mal-practice in office, unless such person shall be restored to the rights of citizenship in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 10. This act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

Rheumacide cures rheumatism by neutralizing the acids in the blood and driving them out of the system. It is a permanent, positive, constitutional cure.

CATARRH OF STOMACH.

A PLEASANT, SIMPLE, BUT SAFE AND EFFECTUAL CURE FOR IT.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure of this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diatase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

Experience is a Good Teacher.

Salisbury, N. C., Dec. 4, '98
From my own experience I have found Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy the best medicine known for building up the health in general. The greatest remedy in the world for dyspepsia, eczema, aches and pains and breaking up colds. Nine years ago I suffered with a chronic cold, which resulted in a bronchial affection and repeated serious troubles of the throat which were alarming. I was affected with something like croup and again laryngitis. I tried Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and am free of all those troubles and have been ever since and feel confident the Remedy has made the cure. I have kept it in my family for years and have always found it invaluable for old and young. The extraordinary effect of this grand remedy is sure to be realized by all who give it a fair test.

Sincerely,
MRS. M. E. RAMSAY.

To the readers of this paper we make the following proposition to become members of the Review of Reviews History Club, and obtain the three volumes of

Our War in Two Hemispheres,

By ALBERT SHAW,

Editor of the "American Monthly Review of Reviews" and author of "Municipal Government in Great Britain," etc., and a number of prominent contributors.

EVERY American teacher possessing a library, and many that do not possess one, will be interested in the announcement of the history of the late war with Spain, now published by the REVIEW OF REVIEWS COMPANY. Much of the narrative was written by Dr. Albert Shaw during the actual fighting of the summer. This has been revised and amplified by him in the light of the official reports and documents, which have only become available after hostilities ceased. A free quotation from the critical Congressional debates and other public utterances at crucial periods aids in making this work what it is, the standard reference history of this decisive and successful struggle. But it is much more than a lively and comprehensive narrative. It goes back to the years of struggle in Cuba which prepared the way for the war; it discusses energetically all problems which confronted the United States after the war as to the Philippines, Cuba, and Porto Rico; and as a whole it forms a broadly conceived picture of the year which has seen America brought face to face with new world duties.

The important special and technical matters of the war period, generally dismissed by the historian with only slight and often insufficient discussion, are fully and authentically dealt with in contributed chapters, written by men who had unusual opportunities for studying their subjects. Thus, the lessons which the war has for us as to the relative efficiency of rifles and machine guns are in a carefully written chapter by Lieut. John H. Parker, of the United States army; the military movements of the Santiago and Porto Rican campaigns are analyzed by the editor of the Army and Navy Journal; the battle with Cervera is described by the novelist, Winston Churchill, who is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy; the actual condition of Cuba before the war and the facts which caused the war are described by eye-witnesses, Murat Halstead and Stephen Bonsai.

The illustration of the book is especially valuable in the hundreds of portraits, pictures of the navies, photographed scenes of the war, and the entertaining cartoons reproduced from the Spanish, French, German, and English papers, as well as from the American.

How to obtain the handsome edition by a payment of only ONE DOLLAR DOWN.

The three beautifully bound large octavo volumes and a year's subscription to the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS can be obtained by any of the readers of this paper by joining the Review of Reviews Club and paying one dollar. The volumes will be sent as soon as ready to those who remit the sum, and the purchase will be completed by the payment of one dollar per month for twelve months. The first volume will be ready early in December. The subscription to the magazine which goes with the offer can be dated from any month.

Expert Swimmers.

The Siamese spend three-fourths of their existence in the water. Their first act on awakening is to bathe. They bathe at 11 o'clock, again at 3 and again at sunset. There is scarcely an hour in the day when bathers may not be seen in all the creeks, even the shallowest and muddiest. Boys go to play in the river just as our children go to play in the street. A traveler tells of a Siamese woman sitting on the lowest step of a landing place, while, by a girdle, she held in the water her infant of a few months. Were not the Siamese expert swimmers many lives would be lost, for the tide flows so swiftly that it requires the greatest skill and care to prevent boats from running foul of one another.

A story is told of an English boat running down a small native canoe containing a woman and two children. In an instant they all disappeared. The Englishmen were on the point of jumping to their rescue when they bobbed up, and the woman, upon recovering her breath, poured forth a volley of abuse. Having thus relieved her mind, she righted her canoe, lashed out some of the water and drenched in the children who had been composedly swimming around her, regarding with mingled fear and curiosity the barbarians who had caused the mishap.

He Knew Chester.

Mr. Gladstone had a nice taste in hot mutton pies. One of the Wesleyan journals recalls a conversation which R. W. Perks had with Mr. Gladstone at a public dinner in London, when the premier asked all sorts of questions on matters pertaining to Methodism. A man who happened to sit exactly opposite, wishing to divert the conversation into another channel, asked, "Do you know Chester, Mr. Gladstone?"

"Yes, a little," was the answer, an ominous smile playing about the mouth. "Do you know Chester, Mr. Gladstone?"

"Not very well," said the unwary questioner.

"Well, if you go to the city of Chester you will find a confectioner's shop in such a street," giving the number. "Go into that shop, and you can buy a hot mutton pie, deliciously hot," and here Mr. Gladstone screwed up his eyes, and his face beamed with delight as he recalled the taste and smell of those savory pies, "and all for threepence." Then, turning to Mr. Perks, in deep, earnest tones he said, "Let us resume where we left off."

There was no further interruption from the opposite side of the table.—St. James Gazette.

Benjamin Nash as a Gambler.

When the late Earl of T—d was a youth, he was passionately fond of play and never better pleased than with having Mr. Nash for his antagonist. Nash saw with concern his lordship's foible and undertook to cure him, though by a very disagreeable remedy. Conscious of his own superior skill he determined to engage him in single play for a very considerable sum. His lordship, in proportion as he lost his game, lost his temper, too, and as he approached the goal seemed still more eager for ruin.

He lost his estate. Some writings were put into the winner's possession. His very equipage was offered as a last stake, and he lost that also. But when our generous gambler had found his lordship sufficiently punished for his temerity he returned all, only stipulating that he should be paid £5,000 whenever he should think proper to make the demand. However, he never made any such demand during his lordship's lifetime, but some time after his decease, Mr. Nash's affairs being in (sic) the wane, he demanded the money of the lordship's heirs, who honorably paid it without any hesitation.—"History of Gambling in England."

Overdid It.

"I understand she married him to reform him."

"That was it. And she did the job so thoroughly that now he doesn't like the kind of woman he liked when he married her and is trying to get a divorce."—Chicaguer Enquirer.

WINE OF CARDUI

FOR ALL WOMEN

NINE-TENTHS of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefitted by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THOS. J. COOPER, Tupelo, Miss., says: "My sister suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and doctors could not relieve her. Wine of Cardui entirely cured her and also helped my mother through the Change of Life."

The town that looks most after the interests of the farmers, in an agricultural district like this, is sure to be the town whose interests the farmers will look after.

"De feller who am allus waitin' fursomethin' to ter turn up," says Brother Watkins, "generally runs er cross a turn down instead."

The editor ventured out this morning to see if he could find his shadow, but had to follow the ground hog's example and get back to his room.

Straight Goods.

We called on a business man in a nearby town a few days ago and solicited work for the News-Reporter job department: "Your samples are excellent, your prices are satisfactory, but there is a job office in our town and I feel that duty and honor compel me to patronize my town office, even though your price be better and your work superior," said the man of business. We left that man's place of business entertaining the highest respect for him. Admiring the interest he takes in home enterprises, and the unselfish feeling he manifests, unlike some who think work from an out of town office on inferior stock at a higher price, with express charges added is better than the product of a home office.

The above is a taken from the Littleton Reporter, and commenting on it the Rocky Mount Argonaut says:

We would like our business men to read it over carefully. It takes the matter dead straight. You notice the News-Reporter man says: "We left that man's place of business entertaining the highest respect for him." How do you think he would have felt toward him if the business man had thrown off on his town and given the job to him, an outsider? The business man who gives his work to a foreign sloop concern because he can get the job a little cheaper has not even the satisfaction of knowing that the man who does the work for him thinks the better of him for his patronage. Nine times out of ten the outsider thinks the man who thus goes back on his town is, to say the least, a very short sighted business man.

We have seen work done by these sloop shop concerns that would have been dear if even as a present. Note heads that cost 35 cents a thousand while ours costs 80 cents, envelopes that cost the sloop man 40 cents while ours cost 90, and so on all down the scale. Then to ask "why can't you Rocky Mount printers compete with outsiders is adding insult to injury. Why bless your soul, if the home printer would dare to shove such trash on customers they would have it thrown at their heads.
