Birthday Party.

Master Willie Wilson gave a birthday party. Tuesday night, at the home of his father, Mr. W. B. Wilson, in South Greenville. A number of his little friends were present and they had a delightful evening, and wished him many happy returns of the day.

Quarantine Not Advisable.

Dr. Moye showed us a private letter from Dr. R. H. Lewis, Supt. of Health for the State in which he says:

"I advise against attempting a quarantine against any place under the conditions prevailing. It cannot be made effective. Vaccination is the only safe way to prevent smallpox. That can be carried out, an effective quarantine cannot."

The Best.

Henry Sheppard, agent of the Southern Stock Mutual and the Underwriters Fire Insurance Companies, of Greensboro, was today delivering their 20 per cent dividends to policy holders in these companies. The Southern Stock Mutual affords absolute protection against fire, and their method of letting policy holders share in the profits makes it much cheaper than other companies.

Digging Up The Earth.

Somebody must have thought that gold was buried about the premises occupied by Mr. J. White. A few mornings ago Mr. White was somewhat surprised over finding a lot of fresh dirt in his garden. A investigation showed that three large holes had been dug and filled up again. No idea can be given as to what the digger was hunting for.

STATE NEWS.

Two brothers, Johnnie and Otho Jones, near LaGrange, were playing with an "unloaded" pistol. The weapon was discharged and Johnnie was killed.

Adjutant General Corbin says he will issue orders immediately for the mustering out of the First North Carolina Regiment.

DEAD INFANT FOUND.

Buried in a Cheroot Box in an Old Graveyard.

A rumor having reached the ears of Chief of Police T. F. Christman that a body had been buried in the old graveyard just east of town, he started out today to investigate the matter. After searching sometime through the old graveyard, which is nearly grown up with bushes, he found a place of new looking earth. He dug into this and found a cheroot box some 8 or 10 inches below the surface. Lifting the lid of this box and turning aside some cloths folded in it the body of an infant, a white child, was disclosed.

Policeman Christman covered the grave up again and went after some other parties to show them what he had discovered, and several went to see it. How long the child had been buried there is not positively known, but from the rumor that led to the search it seems that during the snow two weeks ago the tracks of a woman had been noticed going from the path by the graveyard out among the bushes and where the tracts stopped there had been some digging as if something was buried. From this it is supposed that the child was buried during the snow, but when the body was found today there was no sign whatever of decomposition about it. Some care seemed to have been shown in preparing the body for burial. So far there is no clue to lead to the discovery of the mother of the child.

Policeman Christman went to notify the Coroner, but we had not heard up to the time of going to press what further steps would be taken in the matter.

Early Morning Fire.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning some one passing along the street smelled smoke and upon investigation discovered that fire was burning in E. J. Pollard's bar room in the Bernard building. The alarm brought the firemen and a crowd of citizens to the scene and a good stream from the engine soon had the fire out. A considerable hole was burned through the floor also in the partition between the bar room and the vacant store next door. How the fire started is not known. It came near being a serious fire, as the building was so full of smoke it was almost suffocating to the firemen when they went in with the hose. The building and stock were both insured.

Hal Sugg Dead.

A message this afternoon to Mr. O. L. Joyner, sent by Col. I. A. Sugg from Shreveport, La., announces that his son, Mr. Hal Sugg, is dead. Hal was in San Antonio, Texas, and his death is a shock to his relatives and friends here at his home. The telegram gave no particulars of his death.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1, 1899

"My God, Abernethy!"

It was stated in Sunday's Observer that there was to be a marriage that morning in the waiting room at the Southern passenger station, and that the contracting parties were to be Mr. J. W. Abernethy, of McAdenville, and Miss Lillie Guens, of Pineville.

"There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip, hath the proverb well said." Mr. Abernethy realizes this. He came to Charlotte Saturday and bought license to marry Miss Guens. He took the license to Col. D. G. Maxwell and asked him to be at the depot to meet the train from Pineville at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and tie the knot. The ceremony was to take place in the waiting room soon after the train arrived and the bride and groom were to take the next train for McAdenville.

Bright and early Sunday morning 'Squire Maxwell went to the depot and found Mr. Abernethy light-hearted and happy. When the train from Pineville came in, three girls got off. Mr. Abernethy at once advanced and took the extended hand of the darling of his heart and introduced her to 'Squire Maxwell. The 'Squire, as gallant and thoughtful as in more youthful days, suggested to the young couple that if they did not want to be married in the waiting room they could repair to a private house near by. To this the young lady said: "I am not ready yet. I want to go to Mr. Helms' on the brick row. Come on girls." And off she put.

Some distance from Mr. Maxwell and the would-be groom a young man joined the party. With a woe-be-gone and plaintive look the unhappy Mr. Abernethy turned to 'Squire Maxwell and said: "'Squire I believe I will let her go." As the girl flitted down the railroad she turned and said: "I will see you later." This somewhat relieved Mr. Abernethy and he said: "Well, we'll try her again." The would-be marry-fer and the would-like-to-be groom parted, to return again at 12 o'clock for the train for McAdenville. At that time they met at the depot again and waited for the girl. "But she cometh not," he said. In her stead came the young man who went off with her—Mr. Elbert Isenhour, of Pineville. He handed Mr. Abernethy a note which read: "I am very sorry that I have disappointed you, but I can never marry you. I was only joking." After reading the note, Mr. Abernethy passed it around to those who had gathered to witness the ceremony, and then tore it to pieces, upon which 'Squire Maxwell said: "My God, Abernethy, you have escaped a great escapement." Abernethy took the license from 'Squire Maxwell, and as he carefully pushed it into his inside coat pocket, remarked: "I shall hang on to this as a souvenir."

Thus ended the romantic case.—Charlotte Observer.

The Ledger Monthly for March.

The popular painter of American news-boys and bootblacks, J. G. Brown, is represented on the cover of the Ledger Monthly for March by one of his most characteristic and pathetic subjects, entitled "His Only Friend." On the steps of a marble mansion sits a ragged boy, a picture of dejection and childish perplexity. Peering into his face with an expression of sympathy almost human is a mongrel setter dog. So apt and pathetic is this little story, skillfully told by the painter's brush, that a world of sympathy and sorrow is disclosed. An excellent critical article on J. G. Brown and his Works, with portrait and ten reproductions of his paintings, forms a part of the contents of the magazine. Other interesting articles are "Early Spring Fashions," by Mrs. N. S. Stowell; "Suggestions for Spring-time Housekeeping," "Dainty Ways of Cooking Common Vegetables;" "The First American Revolution;" "A Curious Trait of the Philippine Islanders;" "Home-Makers;" "Woman's Crown of Glory;" "The Martyrdom of Fair Marv Carew," by Harold Federic; "A January Thaw," by Margaret C. Mendenhall; the continuation of "The Orange Girl," by Sir Walter Besant; "Among the Flowers" and "Answers to Floral Inquiries," by Eben E. Rexford. The Ledger Monthly is distinguished by the number and variety of its illustrations, and its seasonable articles. The price is only 50 cents a year. The Ledger Monthly is issued by Robert Bonner's Sons Ledger Building, New York City.

To Keep Love Secure in The Home.

"In the first months of married life, love is so sufficient, and loving so simple, that there seems no other need in life," writes Helen Waterson Moody in the March Ladies' Home Journal. "But by-and-by, when care begins to shadow them, when duties present themselves, and, strangely enough, conflict with each other, when convictions clash and tastes differ, then both husband and wife begin to realize that back of love must stand what I have called 'steady and sturdy moral qualities'—justice, patience, honesty, sincerity and magnanimity. Indeed, on these depends the very continuance of love in marriage, for it is not possible to go on loving unless that is found which is worthy of love. I say this advisedly. I know the world is full of men and women who think, either because they like to think so, or sadly, because they must, that one can love where one does not respect. It seems to me that this does not ennoble one's ideal of love. One may pity, may have an infinite yearning tenderness over what one cannot respect, but love is of royal birth and recognizes only what is as royal as itself. The way, then, to keep love secure in married life is not so much to be anxiously watching and guarding lest it should escape, or crying that love has spread its wings because the first holiday romance is replaced by graver feeling, but by living along simply and honestly and frankly together, on a high plane, looking most and always toward whatever things are true, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report." Then Love will be not a captive, but a most willing guest."

An Atrocious Negro.

Jonesboro, Feb. 22.—Some time ago there appeared in the town a negro, by name Geo. Edwards, who claimed to be a clergyman of the Baptist church. He was modest and humble in his way, and was not long in gaining the affections of Penny McCoy, 20 years his senior, and who is possessed of some cash and a good tract of ground. They were married. It turns out that the negro is not a preacher, but a veritable demon. In the last month he has beaten his wife cruelly several times; tied her out in the yard during the cold snap; stuck a pitchfork in her arm; and finally, last Saturday, stuck the prong of an iron table fork into the old woman's eye, destroying the sight thereof. It was only by accident that his atrocities became known. The negroes were on the point of lynching him. But he is now, I understand safe in jail at Carthage, and Penny don't want to see him any more.—Cor. Charlotte Observer.

R. H. Edmonds, editor of The Manufacturers' Record, says in regard to his recent Southern trip: "I have had occasion to study carefully the actual workings of the round bale system of cotton handling, which is being introduced by Mr. Searles, and I am more than ever convinced that while it means the development of probably the biggest industrial enterprise since the Standard Oil was brought into existence, it also means a saving of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 a year to the South. The middlemen, the cotton factors and compress people who now take toll out of every bale of cotton, do not like it, but the farmers do; for under it they are getting a dollar or two more a bale for their cotton than if put up in the old square bale."

Small Pox Adjourned Court.

Judge Dossey Battle of the Criminal Court, eastern circuit, arrived in Raleigh yesterday.

He did not anticipate paying a visit to this city at this time. On the contrary he had calculated on holding court at Halifax Court-house this week. But on arriving there he found the people he found the people so panic stricken on account of the smallpox scare there that it was not practicable to hold the court. So he "called off" the term and came to Raleigh, to the delight of his friends here, for a few days.

The Judge states that the disease is not epidemic in Halifax; that he only heard of one or two cases, but that the people are so frightened over the possibility of its becoming epidemic that they are panic stricken to a certain extent.—Raleigh Post.

Judge George H. Brown, Jr., is sick at Raleigh and could not hold court there Monday and Tuesday.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not Be Alarmed, But Look For The Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among the Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real organic disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also the heart is effected by the form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food. There is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, making it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Full sized package of these tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents. Little book on stomach troubles mailed free. Address F. A. Stuart, Co., Marshall, Mich.

Experience is a Good Teacher.

Salisbury, N. C., Dec. 4, '98

From my own experience I have found Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy the best medicine known for building up the health in general. The greatest remedy in the world for dyspepsia, eczema, aches and pains and breaking up colds. Nine years ago I suffered with a chronic cold, which resulted in a bronchial affection and repeated serious troubles of the throat which were alarming. I was affected with something like croup and again laryngitis. I tried Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and am free of all those troubles and have been ever since and feel confident the Remedy has made the cure. I have kept it in my family for years and have always found it invaluable for old and young. The extraordinary effect of this grand remedy is sure to be realized by all who give it a fair test.

Sincerely,
Mrs. M. E. RAMSAY.

History of the Spanish War

By Dr. ALBERT SHAW

Editor of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS.

AND A LONG LIST OF NOTABLE CONTRIBUTORS.

Over 1,200 Pages and 500 Valuable Illustrations.

Three Beautiful Volumes in Half Morocco.

See special offer at bottom of this advertisement.

This Magnificent Edition for only ONE DOLLAR DOWN.

To the readers of this paper we make the following proposition to become members of the Review of Reviews History Club, and obtain the three volumes of

Our War in Two Hemispheres,

By ALBERT SHAW,

Editor of the "American Monthly Review of Reviews" and author of "Municipal Government in Great Britain," etc., and a number of prominent contributors.

EVERY American teacher possessing a library, and many that do not possess one, will be interested in the announcement of the history of the late war with Spain, now published by the REVIEW OF REVIEWS COMPANY. Much of the narrative was written by Dr. Albert Shaw during the actual fighting of the summer. This has been revised and amplified by him in the light of the official reports and documents, which have only become available after hostilities ceased. A free quotation from the critical Congressional debates and other public utterances at crucial periods aids in making this work what it is, the standard reference history of this decisive and successful struggle. But it is much more than a lively and comprehensive narrative. It goes back to the years of struggle in Cuba which prepared the way for the war; it discusses energetically all problems which confronted the United States after the war as to the Philippines, Cuba, and Porto Rico; and as a whole it forms a broadly conceived picture of the year which has seen America brought face to face with new world duties.

The important special and technical matters of the war period, generally dismissed by the historian with only slight and often insufficient discussion, are fully and authentically dealt with in contributed chapters, written by men who had unusual opportunities for studying their subjects. Thus, the lessons which the war has for us as to the relative efficiency of rifles and machine guns are in a carefully written chapter by Lieut. John H. Parker, of the United States army; the military movements of the Santiago and Porto Rican campaigns are analyzed by the editor of the Army and Navy Journal; the battle with Cervera is described by the novelist, Winston Churchill, who is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy; the actual condition of Cuba before the war and the facts which caused the war are described by eye-witnesses, Murat Halstead and Stephen Bonsal.

The illustration of the book is especially valuable in the hundreds of portraits, pictures of the navies, photographed scenes of the war, and the entertaining cartoons reproduced from the Spanish, French, German, and English papers, as well as from the American.

How to obtain the handsome edition by a payment of only ONE DOLLAR DOWN.

The three beautifully bound large octavo volumes and a year's subscription to the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS can be obtained by any of the readers of this paper by joining the Review of Reviews Club and paying one dollar. The volumes will be sent as soon as ready to those who remit the sum, and the purchase will be completed by the payment of one dollar per volume for twelve months. The first volume will be ready early in December. The subscription to the magazine which goes with the offer can be dated from any month.

DENMAN THOMPSON'S FIRST

His Earliest Appearance on the Stage Was With a West Swansey Club.

One of the most treasured mementos of Denman Thompson's long and successful career on the stage is a programme of the first entertainment in which he appeared. Mr. Thompson has the bill incased in an oak frame, and he takes more pride in showing it to his friends than any of the costly souvenirs which he has collected during the 47 years he has been before the public. During the call of a Sentinel reporter upon Mr. Thompson at his home in West Swansey a day or two ago the distinguished actor exhibited the precious piece of paper with the remark that no newspaper man had ever seen it or written about it.

The bill is 6½ by 17½ inches in size, was printed at The Sentinel office in Keene and aside from the cast of characters reads: "Exhibition by the request of their numerous friends. The West Swansey Shakespeare club will give another entertainment at the town hall, Swansey, on Tuesday, Dec. 10, 1850. Doors open at 5 o'clock, p. m. Curtains rise at 6½. Tickets 12½ cents."

The first number was an orchestral overture and then a song, "Greeting Glee," by A. E. Bennett, now of Keene, and others. Then came a national drama in two acts, entitled "Brazen Drum; or, The Yankee in Poland," in which Mr. Thompson played the part of Calvin Cartwheel, a drum major in the "Vermont" militia, "a carter and a whole team in the cause of Polish freedom." After that came a song, "Oh, Carry Me 'Long," by A. E. Bennett and others. "Therese, the Orphan of Geneva," was the next offering, in which Mr. Thompson appeared as the Count de Moroville. Then there was another song by A. E. Bennett and others and a fancy dance, "Lucy Long," by Mr. Thompson, and another song by Mr. Bennett.

The one act farce, "The Omnibus; or, A Convenient Distance," was the next number, in which Mr. Thompson had the part of Pat Rooney. A comic pantomime, "Adventures of Jack Jameson," closed the entertainment. The music was furnished by Ramsdall's band, which consisted of a violin and melodeon. Among the people who appeared with Mr. Thompson at that time were Mrs. H. W. Leonard, now living in West Swansey; John Patch, roadmaster of the Connecticut river division of the Boston and Maine railroad; A. E. Bennett, a merchant of Keene; Miss M. M. Thompson, Mr. Thompson's sister, now Mrs. Granger, who lives in West Swansey. The others are all dead. D. J. Atwood, one of the actors, known in the early days as Dan Atwood, was for many years a theatrical costumer in Boston, where he was better known as the "mad tailor."—Keene (N. H.) Sentinel.

ABSORBED IN WHIST.

A Game That Cost General Doubleday a Fortune.

Not many years ago a famous whist game was played at Sudbury, Vt., two of the sitters in being General Doubleday and Henry Dater, of the well known firm of Dater, Thompson & Co. It was something like 5 or 10 cents a corner; so you see it was easy for a man to lose as much as $1.00 in an afternoon. Play began after the Sudbury dinner hour, half past 1, and lasted until teatime. The old roosters became so wrapped up in the game that nothing short of an earthquake could have disturbed them. Brokers in New York could do nothing to shake the interest.

The game was played at the time of the historic Hannibal and St. Joe corner, engineered by Kennedy, Hutchinson & Co., in the interest of their client, John Duff of Boston. Doubleday was selling the stock short through Van Schaick & Co., and at a quarter to 2 on the eventful day he received a telegram from his brokers advising him of the situation. The game was stopped just long enough for him to read it and lay it aside. In 20 minutes a second dispatch arrived, was read and cast aside. Doubleday was winning at the rate of 35 cents an hour. What did he care about Hannibal and St. Joe? Later in the afternoon a third summons came from Van Schaick & Co., and at 5 o'clock a fourth. Then Doubleday arose and remarked: "Gentlemen, I have enjoyed the game. My winnings are exactly $1.65. I must say good afternoon, as it is necessary for me to take the first train for New York." The next morning his brokers informed him that he could settle for $100,000. At the time the first telegram was sent he could have settled for $25,000, at the time of the second for $50,000, the third for $75,000. He had ample warning, but in the thick of the Sudbury game of whist, he believed the rise was only a threatening flurry.—New York Press.

WINE OF CARDUI

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

has demonstrated ten thousand times that it is almost infallible

FOR WOMAN'S PECULIAR WEAKNESSES,

irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual organs. It cures "whites" and falling of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For Change of Life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer another minute with certain relief within reach? Wine of Cardui only costs $1.00 per bottle at your drug store.

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rev. J. W. SMITH, Camden, S. C., says:
"My wife used Wine of Cardui at home for falling of the womb and it entirely cured her."

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

Mrs. H. L. Hamilton and Miss Minnie Clinard, of Redalia, were visiting here yesterday.

We learn that there is right much sickness around, but hope none of the cases will be serious.

Mr. Walter McGlohorn, of Hanrahan, brought Miss Laura Cox, who is teaching down there, up here to church Sunday.

A big lot of wire has just been received, and the fence makers are hard down at it again.

We are sorry to say that Mr. Billy Carroll is quite sick again. It seems that he has not been very well for several weeks.

If you just want something nice to smoke yourself, order a box (only 50) Havana Special cigars of Winterville Cigar Co.

Sunday was a pretty day and we had quite a large crowd in attendance at the church service.

Cotton has been coming in right rapidly as a result of F. O. Cox and Mr. Nash Edwards's trip Friday. They bought 44 bales.

The price of seed has gone up to 15 cents per bushel and a great many of the farmers around are hauling them in.

Go around to your barns and count up to see how many sets of flues you are going to need this season, then give the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., your order as they can protect you both in quality and price.

B. F. Manning & Co. are now prepared to offer you something good and at bottom prices in the way of Flour and Fertilizers. They are coming from far and near to give them a trial.
