WAR WITH SPAIN OVER.

The Raleigh Salutes Spanish Flag, and Salute is Returned.

GIBRALTAR, March 18.—As the United States cruiser Raleigh sailed from here for New York this afternoon, homeward bound from Manila, to be put out of commission, she hoisted the Spanish ensign and fired a salute, while passing the Spanish squadron, commanded by Admiral Camara, off Algeciras. The Spanish flagship Carlos Quinta thereupon hoisted the American ensign and returned the salute.

Home Marriage.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. King on West Fifth street, at 8 o'clock this morning, their youngest daughter, Miss Ella, and Mr. Larry I. Moore were happily married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. B. Clayton. A number of friends and relatives were present to witness the marriage. The couple left on the morning train for an extended bridal tour to northern cities and to Niagara. They will hold a public reception upon their return to Greenville.

Mr. Moore is the popular Solicitor of this district, and his bride is one of Greenville's most charming young ladies. They have the heartiest congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

Wise and Otherwise.

Some people so blind their eyes with tears for yesterday's faults that they stumble all through today.—Ram's Horn.

Big Masonic Building.

A movement is on foot, and is rapidly crystalizing, to erect a fine Masonic building in Wilson. The members of Mt. Lebanon Lodge are taking deep interest in the matter and have strong hopes of seeing it erected in the near future.

It will contain, besides the halls for lodge use, stores on the ground floor, offices above and a modern opera house. Plans will soon be secured for the building and its erection, if a suitable site can be secured, is almost an assured fact.—Wilson News.

Straw hat factories are beginning to make hay while the sun shines.

PAY YOUR LITTLE BILLS.

You may talk about the tariff, and protection, and free trade, and party panaceas for oppressing human ills, and "improving trade conditions," and the boom that wheat has made, but the way to stir up business is to pay your little bills.

If you owe the grocer twenty, and he owes the butcher ten, and five more to the coal man and to the ice man five, your payment of the twenty helps along three business men, and the payments they can make in turn make other people thrive.

Idle money in your pocket doesn't do you any good; unless your bills are all paid up in full it isn't yours. Just pay up all you're able, as you wish that others would; that's the recipe for hard times that invariably cures.

If you pay what you owe others, others still can then pay you; it's the circulating dollar that the pulse of business thrills. So set your money working, and then watch what it will do. For the way to stir up business is to pay your little bills.—William H. Hills, in New York Sun.

Mr. Walter Aycock Burned to Death.

A shocking death occurred here early this morning. Last night about 10 o'clock, after he had undressed and had slipped in a dressing gown, Mr. Walter Aycock lowered the swinging lamb and blew it out, when it burst, enveloping his body from neck to foot in burning oil. No one else was in the room at the time, but his wife ran in and enveloped him in a blanket and extinguished the flames, badly burning her own hands. She burned several blankets before she conquered the fire. Mr. Aycock was charred to a crisp, but survived till 7 o'clock this morning. He was about 36 years old, was a good merchant, and was universally esteemed. He was an active member of the Baptist church. His life was insured for about $8,000.—Warrenton Cor. Raleigh News and Observer.

In all this medley of law suits one figure stands apart and pursues the even tenor of its way, placid and serene. It is that of R. A. Cobb. He affably surrendered his office of librarian to Capt. WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22, 1899

A Very Important Meeting April 18th.

The hundreds of Northern settlers at Southern Pines, N. C., have issued two letters of importance; one to their friends, manufacturers and business men North, and one to the business men of the South.

Southern Pines, N. C., is one of the best known places in the Southern states, but probably it is not generally understood, even among our people South; that this thriving progressive little city amid the long leaf pines, was built by Northern men and capital. Hundreds of persons of the Northern states have gone there and permanently located, until they have a real live Yankee city in the "Old North State." Among the settlers at Southern Pines, are bankers, lawyers, doctors, ministers, merchants, manufacturers, fruit growers, farmers and persons of all calling of life, and out of the entire population there are not exceeding one hundred and fifty Southern born people but the Northern settlers welcome all who go there, whether Southerner or Northerner. There is no sectional feeling among the people in that place. These people from the North have invested so much capital and made so many improvements, that the taxes they usually pay, meets one sixth of the entire county, state, school and all other taxes of Moore County in which they are located. They have built electric light plants, (there being two separate plants in the place for electric lighting), an electric car line six miles long, and in fact they have nearly every thing that is modern and up to date. These people have come South and cast their lot among Southern people, and that they have succeeded and are well pleased with the South and the Southern people, the investments have been profitable and that they want their friends in the North to come down and meet the business men of the South and to learn from them the advantages that each section has to offer. Such a spirit on the part of these people is to be commended by all loyal Southerners, who have a desire to see the Southland built up. Southern people have no animosity towards Northern people. The South staked its cause with Lee, Jackson, and Johnson, and when they and the brave men who went to battle with them did all that human beings could to make a success of the Southern Confederacy, and when they said, we are overpowered, you have us at your mercy, we surrender we cannot afford to sacrifice the lives of the brave men left, the Southern people were satisfied to abide in good faith by the decision of their beloved Lee and his men, and the record of thirty odd years goes to prove that people of the South were loyal to their word, and during the past twelve months when the foreign foe had to be met, there was no hesitation on the part of the Southern boys. They marched to the front and amid the fiercest of the battle was the gallant old Joe Wheeler, one of the Confederate leaders who had in the sixties met Sherman's army on many occasions during his march from Atlanta to the sea, and although sick, night unto death, Gen. Wheeler ordered his men to carry him to the front at Santiago and there he stayed until the battle was fought and the victory won for the stars and stripes. It was the gallant young officer, Worth Bagley of N. C., who gave up the first life for the Union, and it was the brave young Hobson of Alabama, who led the little band of heroes into the very jaws of death, that victory might come to the Union's cause. Today there is truly no North, no South, no East, no West, but in fact a Union of States, and when the people of Southern Pines, N. C., through its official head, the Mayor and its business organization, the Board of Trade, proclaim to the world that Southern investments are not only safe, but more profitable than in the North or elsewhere and invites their Northern brethren to come South and meet Southern business men and learn the real truth as to the Southern people by meeting them face to face, they are simply doing the South a justice that should have been done years ago, by the men of the North; but nothing that is good is too late; good news is welcome at any time and though this justice to the South is late, yet we are no less grateful and indebted to the Northern residents of Southern Pines.

It is said that fully 100,000 persons in London work all night.

Chinese streets are the narrowest in the world—some of them are only three feet wide.

In the slums of Camberwell, London, a place was found where seventeen persons lived in one room.

More than two hundred municipalities in England, Scotland and Ireland now own municipal gas works.

In the Bank of England at least sixty folio volumes, or ledgers, are filled daily with writing in keeping accounts.

A Dublin man has left his wife and gone off with his mother-in-law. He did the same thing once before but came back again.

The Salvation Army has just dedicated a workingmen's hotel in Boston. The institution has accommodations for three hundred men.

Though the first tank steamer was built only thirteen years ago, there are now 186 tank vessels in existence, nearly all steamers, with a register of 491,024 tons.

It is calculated that 10,000,000 photographs of the Queen and the Prince and Princess of Wales are produced annually, and find a ready sale all over the world.

There has been a surprising and unaccountable decrease in the number of marriages annually performed in Cincinnati since 1890. In that year, when the population of the city was 296,906, 3343 marriage licenses were issued in Hamilton county. In 1895 the population was 336,083 and the number of licenses 3167; in 1897 the population rose to 410,000 and the marriages decreased to 2967, and last year, with a further increase in the number of inhabitants, there were but 2817 marriages recorded.

AN ACT.

TO PROVIDE A SHORT FORM FOR AGRICULTURAL LIENS AND CHATTEL MORTGAGES, AND TO PRESCRIBE THE FEES FOR PROBATING AND REGISTERING THE SAME.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That for the purpose of creating a valid agricultural lien under section seventeen hundred and ninety-nine of The Code, and amendments thereto, for supplies to be advanced, and also to constitute a valid chattel mortgage as additional security thereto, and to secure a pre-existing debt, the following form shall be deemed sufficient, and for those purposes legally effective:

State of North Carolina...county. Section 1. Whereas I,..... am engaged in cultivating the soil, and...this day agreed to make advances to me of supplies, to the value of.....dollars, and such further sums as said..... may deem necessary, not to exceed in all.....dollars, during the year 18.., to enable me to make a crop during the said year on land in said State and county,.....township, adjoining the lands of..... and being the same.....: Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises, I do covenant with.....that I will properly cultivate and harvest on said lands.. acres in cotton, ..acres in corn, .. acres in tobacco, and ..acres in... that there is no lien on said crop, and to secure payment of the amount advanced to me, I do hereby give.....a lien, as provided in section seventeen hundred and ninety-nine of The Code of North Carolina, on the crops which may be raised on said land during the year 18... And if by..... 18.., I fail to pay the amount advanced, and also fail to deliver to..... all said crops at...place of business,..... may close this lien as provided in section eighteen hundred of The Code, or otherwise, and receive from the proceeds the amount due for advances, together with all costs, and expenses of closing the same, and the surplus, in [if] any, pay to....

Sec. 2. And to further secure payment of the amount that may be advanced, and also the sum of.....dollars, now due.....by note, dated....., 18.., with interest from....., I convey to..... all the above crops, and also the following articles of personal property:....., all of which is my own and free from encumbrance, and if by....., 18.., I fail to pay the amount due them,..... may sell the property conveyed in this section, as provided by law for sale under chattel mortgages, and from the proceeds retain all amounts provided for in section one.

Witness my hand and seal, this.....day of....., 17....
Witness:.....(Seal.)
....., the owner of the land described in the foregoing instrument do..... hereby agree with the said..... in consideration of the advances to be made to..... by..... that the above given lien shall have priority to the extent of the advances made by..... to..... during the year 18.... over any lien to which I may be entitled upon the crop to be made by him on said lands during said year.

Witness:.....(Seal.)

Filed for registration at...o'clock ..m....18..and registered at...o'clock...m.....18..

Register of Deeds.

Sec. 2. That the fees for the probate and registration of liens executed according to the forms set out above, shall be as follows: To the clerk for probating ten (10) cents, and to the register of deeds for registering the instrument together with the probate and all necessary acknowledgments and certificates, thirty (30) cents. The fees shall be the same whether said instruments convey a lien on crops alone, or a lien on crops and conveyance of chattels also, Provided, the above fees shall not apply to other forms of lien or mortgage.

Sec. 3. If any person after executing a lien as aforesaid for advances shall fail to cultivate the lands described therein, or the person to whom said lien was executed shall be relieved of any further obligation to furnish supplies; and the debts and advancements theretofore made, shall become due and collectible at once, and the person to whom the instrument was executed may proceed to enforce the same, and to take possession of, cultivate and harvest said crops. It shall not be necessary to incorporate such power in the instrument, but this section shall be sufficient authority. Provided, the sale of any property under the powers contained in this act may be made at any place in the county, after ten days notice at the court house and three other public places.

A HUNDRED REASONS.

Can be given why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best and most effectual cure for every form of indigestion.

They are in the tablet form which retains their good qualities indefinitely, while liquid preparations become stale and useless with age.

They are convenient, can be carried in the pocket and taken when needed. They are pleasant to take.

After each meal dissolve one or two of them in the mouth and, mingling with the food, they constitute a perfect digestive, absolutely safe for the most sensitive stomach.

They digest the food before it has time to ferment, thus preventing the formation of gas and keeping the blood pure and free from the poisonous products of fermented, half digested food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only remedy designed especially for the cure of stomach troubles and nothing else.

One disease, one remedy; the successful physician of today is the specialist, the successful medicine is the medicine prepared especially for one disease.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make the complexion clear by keeping the blood pure.

They increase flesh by digesting flesh forming foods.

A whole package taken at one time would not hurt one, but would simply be a waste of good material.

Over six thousand men and women in the State of Michigan alone, have been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package.

When will the war tax stop? The business interests of the entire country would be glad to have the question answered, but it seems that they will have to keep on exercising patience and remembering the Maine. A tabulated statement of the Internal Revenue Bureau shows that the total receipts under the war tax law up to February 1, 1899, amounted to $62,012,191. The distribution of the tax was as follows: For stamps on checks, documents and patent medicines, $26,383,440; beer, $20,084,400; cigars and cigarettes, $2,502,058; tobacco and snuff, $8,162,621; inheritances, $253,951; excise tax, $380,274. This indicates an annual revenue of upward of $106,000,000 from the war tax. At the same time, as The Philadelphia Record points out, the government expenditures are increasing at a corresponding rate, and it will be a long time before there can be any hope of a repeal of the law.—Charlotte Observer.

LETTER ON THE HANDS.

For several years I was a sufferer from Tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well. MRS. M. E. KING. Burlington, N. C., May 27, 1896.

Animals That Know Roads.

The Western mountain sheep have obtained great recognition of their ability to distinguish boundaries and their own roads through their pastures. One flock of sheep caught a trespassing flock and the trespasser found that the sheep were watching it, and were more than others because they knew their roads and boundaries.

Expensive.

An advertisement in the writer having asked "What magazine will give me the highest position for my article?" was told "A good magazine if you contribute a very article."

The oldest medical recipe is said by a French medical journal to be that of a hair tonic for an Egyptian queen. It is dated 400 B. C. and directs that dogs' paws and asses' hoofs be boiled with dates in oil.

Dangers of Filters.

Filters for purifying water are of many kinds in their mechanical structure, but, according to the report of the Maryland state board of health, it would appear that such filters may steadily lose efficiency until they become first class culture beds for bacteria. In evidence of this position an example cited is that of a man in Baltimore who sends the whole water supply of his house through a large filter and subsequently puts his drinking water through one of the small domestic filters common in the market.

A test of this arrangement showed that on a day when the city taps were running 510 bacteria to the cubic centimeter the large filter was delivering some 9,900 bacteria in the same water. When the large filter was repacked, only 9 bacteria per centimeter got through it, though this same water when passed through the small filter came out with 71 bacteria per centimeter.

This aspect of the matter is still further strengthened by another example, a case where a filter supposed to be the best in the market was in use. The effectiveness of this filter was so short lived that the precaution was observed of boiling the water after it was filtered.

What He Didn't Know.

"They say that ex-Mayor Latrobe went to some sort of a celebration given by the Ebenezer colored church down on Montgomery street," said a man about town. "He was asked to speak and of course complied in his usual style. 'You have named this church after a great man,' he said, 'and I hope you will try to emulate his example. He was a man who couldn't be led astray by any one and believed his first duty was to God and then to his fellow man. He was a— Well, I don't know what all he didn't say about that fellow Ebenezer, but anyhow he noticed for some reason or other his address wasn't as tumultuously received as usual, and as he drove away after the meeting behind Old Liz he was humming the old hymn 'Here I Raise My Ebenezer' and trying to figure the matter out. When he got home he asked a good Christian lady, who happened to be there on a visit, who Ebenezer was."

"Why, you goose," said she, "Ebenezer wasn't a man. Ebenezer means a stone. Didn't you know that?"

"Now when General Latrobe addresses a church audience he carries a pocket Bible dictionary with him." — Baltimore News.

Fun For the Shah.

During the winter months the little colony of 60 or 70 English people at Teheran organize concerts for one another's amusement. There is a dance now and then at the legation, and when the weather is cold of course there is skating. Skating is the greatest marvel of all to the Persians. Some years ago the late shah, Nasr-i-Din, saw 20 skaters twirling and curling and spinning gracefully on the ice. He was amused. He thought it wonderful. The next day he sent to the legation and borrowed a dozen pairs of the skates. These he made his ministers put on and attempt to skate on the lake in the palace grounds. The poor ministers were terribly discomfited, but it was twice as much as their heads were worth to refuse. His majesty was more amused than ever, and he nearly had an apopleptic fit from laughing.

Her Opinion in Full.

The car turned sharply around a curve and the tall man who was holding on to a strap somewhat loosely was suddenly thrown from his upright position with a force that landed him in the lap of a dignified dowager sitting near him, while his high silk hat flew from his head and rolled down the aisle of the car.

"Sir," she said as he rose to his feet again with profuse apologies, "I am compelled to say that in my judgment you were lacking in that complete grasp of the strap which was essential to the highest efficiency in maintaining an upright attitude when turning a curve."

That was all. But it crushed him. — Chicago Tribune.

As He Understands It.

"As I understand it," remarked the intelligent foreigner, "you Americans regard George Washington's hatchet as the emblem of truth."

"Yes, sir, that's right," replied the American proudly.

"Then, when statesmen or other individuals who have quarreled, bury the hatchet, I suppose they cease to speak the truth?" — Detroit Free Press.

Expensive Traps.

The Doctor— "I must tell you the worst you can possibly recover from."

The Client— "That's a pity, for if I'd lived a bit longer I should have come into a fortune, and if I haven't a penny to pay you with, doctor."

The Doctor— "Well, now, don't give up hope. We'll try to mend you. We'll try." — Illustrated Elips.

WINE OF CARDUI THE NEW WAY.

WOMEN used to think "female diseases" could only be treated after "local examinations" by physicians. Dread of such treatment kept thousands of modest women silent about their suffering. The introduction of Wine of Cardui has now demonstrated that nine-tenths of all the cases of menstrual disorders do not require a physician's attention at all. The simple, pure taken in the privacy of a woman's own home insures quick relief and speedy cure. Women need not hesitate now. Wine of Cardui requires no humiliating examinations for its adoption. It cures any disease that comes under the head of "female troubles"—disordered menses, falling of the womb, "whites," change of life. It makes women beautiful by making them well. It keeps them young by keeping them healthy. $1.00 at the drug store.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

W. L. ADDISON, M.D., Cary, Miss., says: "I use Wine of Cardui extensively in my practice and find it a most excellent preparation for female troubles."

Mr. Haywood Knox Dead.

About 4 o'clock this morning Mr. Haywood Knox died at his home three miles from town. He was 70 or more years old, was never married, and leaves no near relatives. His estate is estimated to be worth about $7,000, and his will which was probated today names Mr. C. A. Tucker as executor. Mr. Tucker is principal legatee in the will, a bequest also being made to Miss Nancy Bell, and aged maiden lady who lived at the home of Mr. Knox.
