SUPERIOR COURT.

April Term in Session.

The following cases were disposed of since last report:

Joe Wilson and Anthony May, temporary larceny of horse and buggy, guilty; six months each in jail with leave to Commissioners to hire out.

Grant Warren, assault with deadly weapon, pleads guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of cost's.

Jesse Taft, larceny, guilty.

Dorsey Barnhill, larceny, not guilty.

Henry Fleming, larceny, guilty; James Tyson, larceny, pleads guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

Reuben Council, assault with deadly weapon, pleads guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

Van B. Riddick, murder, not guilty.

POSTPONED.

The Cantata Monday Night.

Owing to the rain and very disagreeable weather, the Cantata advertised to be given in the opera house tonight has been postponed to Monday night, 10th. Those who bought seats for tonight can hold them for Monday night. The young ladies composing the roll of the entertainment have worked hard to bring the different scenes up to the highest success, and some who have seen the rehearsals say it is going to be one of the best entertainments our people have had the opportunity of attending. Give the young ladies a full house Monday night.

Big Lumber Deal.

General M. W. Ransom has sold to the Cummer Lumber Company, of Norfolk, Va., the timber from about 2,600 acres of land lying in Northampton county, for $40,000 cash. General Ransom also has large bodies of timber land in Halifax county, but this is not included in the deal. He also has on hand $30,000 worth of cotton, which is equivalent to so much cash, as this cotton has been baled and is ready for the market.

General Ransom is one of the few rich men who believes in investing his wealth in lands, thus bearing a large proportion of the taxes of the State and also giving employment to a great number of people. He could easily invest in United States bonds and thus avoid paying taxes, but he loves his native State too well for that and delights in farm life. He is perhaps the largest land owner in the State and farms on the largest scale. Our sister county is fortunate in having such a citizen, but Halifax claims him as well, for he has large interests in this county as well as in Northampton.—Weldon News.

Odd Fellows.

At the last meeting of Covenant Lodge I. O. O. F. a committee was appointed to confer with a committee from Helena Lodge, D. of R. to make arrangements for celebrating the 80th anniversary of Odd Fellowship. F. M. Hodges was appointed delegate to the Grand Lodge and J. White alternate.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

W. Lofton, a farmer near Mt. Olive, keeps a herd of 100 goats.

Two cases of smallpox (colored) have been discovered a few miles from Newbern.

It cost the government $8,529.40 to try and convict the two Asheville bank wreckers.

J. B. Byers, ex-Treasurer of Cleveland county, committed suicide Wednesday afternoon.

The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., of Winston, has been sold to the Continental Tobacco Co., the new trust.

Mr. F. S. Duffy and Miss Kate Bryan, daughter of Judge H. R. Bryan, were married at Newbern Wednesday evening.

The Directors of the Insane Asylum, at Raleigh, held a meeting Wednesday and re-elected Dr. Geo. L. Kirby as Superintendent.

Three cases of smallpox have developed in the detention house at Kinston and they were removed to the pest house. There are no cases in the town.

While two men were out hunting near Salem they found the body of a baby girl in a creek. The body had been wrapped in cloth and a flat iron tied to it to make it sink.

Iredell Williams is starting a new industry in Wilson county. He is stocking his pond, nine miles from Wilson, on the Nash road, with gold fish, and next year he will have these beautiful piscatorial pets on the market for sale.

Excess Baggage.

"Madam," said the conductor, as he punched the ticket of a Titusville lady, "I am very sorry, but you can't have your dog in this car. It's against the rules."

"I shall hold him in my lap all the way," she replied, "and he will not disturb any one."

"That makes no difference," said the conductor; "I couldn't allow my own dog here. Dogs must ride in the baggage car. I'll fasten him all right for you—"

"Don't you touch my dog, sir!" exclaimed the young lady excitedly. "I will trust him to no one." And with an indignant tread, she marched to the baggage car, tied her dog and returned.

As the train was approaching Mayville and the conductor came along, she asked him:

"Will you tell me if my dog is all right?"

"I am very sorry," said the conductor, politely, "but you tied him to a trunk, and he was thrown off with it at Corry."—Titusville Courier.

A New Scheme.

The green goods men are not giving up their practices, although as fast as a new scheme is evolved it is exposed and broken up. Parties here have recently received letters on a new plan entirely, but they are not biting.

After referring to the "clumsy" methods heretofore adopted and exposing them, the writer, who signs himself the "Oldest Steel Plate Engraver in the U. S.," unfolds this plan:

"Now, compare these methods with my proposition: Firstly: I am not addressing an ignorant farmer. Secondly: I do not want you to send me one cent. What I want to know is whether you will be willing to co-operate with me in the disposal of my goods providing I prove to you beyond all doubt, that my work is all I claim for it, that it cannot be told from the genuine, even by experts. Understand, I do not want you to invest one dollar until you have examined my entire stock from one to one hundred thousand dollars, compare them with the genuine and in fact submit them to any test you see fit, then after you are thoroughly satisfied on every point, you can decide whether you accept my proposition or not. To convince you of the safety of the business I will, upon receipt of telegram—as per enclosed note—send you a sample of my work and I will also appoint a place to meet you, so that you can personally examine my entire stock.

"If for any reason you decide not to co-operate with me, I trust as an honorable man, you will honor the protection that the word 'confidential' insures to all communications, and not be so heartless as to destroy my life's work, so kindly burn this and let the matter drop.

"P. S.—For obvious reasons I have omitted all names, dates, etc., from this letter.—Greensboro Record.

Comparative Rates.

Advertisers are prone to fall into the error of considering one newspaper's rates high because an inch costs a dollar, and another's low for the reason that an inch can be bought for twenty-five cents. The former may be the low rate and the latter the high one. A cheap pair of shoes very frequently proves to be dear at the price, and a newspaper that puts a low value on its space is quite certain to get every cent it is worth—and more.—Profitable Advertising, Boston, Mass.

The Neptune Company, the great Swedish wrecking corporation, has announced to the Navy Department that it is not possible to raise and repair the vessels of Cervera's fleet sunk near Santiago.

He Should Try Fumigation.

An amusing incident, at least to the bar, occurred in Federal Court late yesterday afternoon.

Mr. M. M. Mott occupied a seat in the bar, his elegant overcoat hanging over the back of his chair. He got up and stepped outside of the enclosure a moment or two to speak with a client.

During the interim a defendant was called for trial, who proved to be a greasy young darkey. His counsel called him to him and told him to sit down. Seeing Mr. Mott's vacant chair, he popped into it. In about two minutes Mr. Mott stepped back, took a look at his overcoat upon which the darkey had planted himself, then with one stride he reached the chair, yanked the negro up, seized his garment and holding it at arm's length, made straight for a rear room.

It was suggested that he send it out to "fumigating headquarters," where it could be performed on as in cases of smallpox.—Greensboro Record.

Pea Culture in Northampton.

The acreage planted in field or cow peas has greatly increased in this part of the State during the past few years, and farmers find it profitable. It seems to require different varieties of peas for different soils. In the Rich Square section the Unknown or Wonderful pea thrives best. A short distance from Rich Square a wheat field can be seen now where the difference in the wheat on land where the Unknown pea and other varieties were grown last year is so great that it can be distinguished half a mile distant. The wheat is much better at this time where the Unknown pea was grown. A prosperous farmer of large experience accounts for this difference in this way; the Wonderful pea retains its foliage longer, roots deeper and stands dry weather better, therefore a greater enricher of the soil. The writer experimented with six varieties of field peas last year and found the Wonderful the most productive.—Patron and Gleaner.

A Baby for Sale.

Robbie had longed long and earnestly for a baby brother and a pair of white rabbits. The answer to both wishes came on the same morning, but it was not quite satisfactory, for there were two baby brothers and only one rabbit. The next day his father found the following notice tacked to the gate post:

FOR SALE.

"One nice fat baby or I will swap him for a white Rab-Bet."—Tit-Bits.

Our Friends.

Judge: Dolly—I went around to the different persons I know of and asked them what I should give up during Lent.

Madge.—The idea.

Dolly—Well, the minister said French novels, the dentist mentioned bonbons, the doctor cautioned me against cigarettes and late suppers, mamma begged me to stay away from the theater, papa told me to dismiss Charley, and Charley tried to coax me to give away Fido.

Madge—What are you going to do?

Dolly—I've decided not to keep Lent.

Getting Trade To Town.

A Harmony (Minn.) correspondent of the Advertising World writes to that publication as follows:

The business people of this town of 600 inhabitants get together one day in each week and offer a prize of $5 to the farmer who drives the greatest distance to the town on business. He must be a farmer and he must come on business. No tramps will be considered. He must market a few hogs or kine, or some products of the farm, or he must come and do some trading—either buy some hardware or general merchandise, get a shave or patronize the dentist or the doctor. He must prove conclusively the distance he came, and the farmer who has made the longest trip gets the purse. It has proven a great drawing card for the town, and men came with their families forty-five miles distant. The matter is advertised in the Harmony News.

In the United States District Court in Richmond the grand jury brought in a true bill against Moritz Becker for obtaining fraudulent naturalization papers, and a separate indictment was brought in against I. Becker, Sam Stern and M. Rosenbloom for conspiracy in obtaining the said papers from the Husting's Court of Richmond.

Not the Only One.

Mr. Whingleby—Oh, you needn't feel so upish. You're not the only girl in the town.

Miss Flashleigh—No, I'm not the only girl in town who has publicly announced that she wouldn't have you if you were the last man on earth.—Chicago Daily News.

The methods pursued by the trusts in forming their combinations are disreputable and dishonest, and as soon as the combination is formed, the stock watered and the confiding public gulled. As an instance of trusts' methods the Denver Post cites that the worsted woolen trust recently took in the leading mills, for which it paid $13,000,000. It was openly stated the time that $4,500,000 of that amount was water and given as a bonus, as the mills were really bought in for $7,500,000. The trust then figured up the business and the profits out of this so-called investment of $12,000,000 and found that the public would stand another squeeze. Forthwith it increased its capitalization from $12,000,000 to $41,000,000. Now there is on an original investment of $7,500,000 a watered capitalization of $35,500,000, and the people using worsted goods will have to pay interest and dividends on the whole capitalization, nominal and real. After awhile these immense profits will be reduced, and then the trust bubbles will begin to burst. And the people will not be sorry when the bursting time comes.—Charlotte News.

INTENSE SUFFERING. FROM DYSPEPSIA AND STOMACH TROUBLE.

Instantly Relieved and Permanently Cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A New Discovery, But not a Patent Medicine.

Dr. Redwell relates an interesting account of what he considers a remarkable cure of acute stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia by the use of the new discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

He says: "The patient was a man who had suffered to my knowledge, for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and create gases in the stomach; he had pains like rheumatism in the back, shoulder blades and limbs, fullness and distress after eating, poor appetite and loss of flesh the heart became affected, causing palpitation and sleeplessness at night.

I gave him powerful nerve tonics and blood remedies, but to no purpose. As an experiment I finally bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. Almost immediate relief was given and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances, fully cured.

There was no more acidity or sour watery risings, no bloating after meals, the appetite was vigorous and he has gained between 10 and 12 pounds in weight of solid, healthy flesh.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are advertised and sold in drug stores, yet I consider them a most valuable addition to any physician's line of remedies, as they are perfectly harmless and can be given to children or invalids or in any condition of the stomach with perfect safety, being harmless and containing nothing but fruit and vegetable essences, pure pepsin and Golden Seal.

Without any question they are the safest, most effective cure for indigestion, biliousness, constipation and all derangements of the stomach, however slight or severe."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are made by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., and are sold by druggists everywhere at fifty cents per package.

TETTER ON THE HANDS

For several years I was a sufferer from tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well. MRS. M. E. KING. Burlington, N. C., May 27, 1896.

ENDORSED BY TEACHERS.

Paine's Celery Compound counteracts the Nervous Strain of the School Room.

"I know of nothing so good as Paine's celery compound," says Miss May Sherwin, for the past 17 years principal of the largest public school in Bloomington, Ill., "to counteract the nervous strain incident to a constant life in the school room.

"I have myself used Paine's celery compound," she continues, "with most satisfactory results. It is a splendid nerve tonic."

The discoverer of Paine's celery compound was himself one of the greatest teachers that ever lived.

Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., held a famous professorship in Dartmouth college, and was a lecturer in other great universities all the while he was engaged in that momentous study which led to the chief accomplishment of the medical research of this century—the development of Paine's celery compound.

The general complaint now among intelligent women is that they are hurried and driven and fretted almost out of their senses by the demands upon their time and strength.

No wonder, then, the average woman has lost the capacity for sound sleep, good digestion and the freedom from aches and pains that follow healthy organic functions.

Many years of suffering might be avoided, weary months of lost time put to good service, and thousands of lives saved if persons who do not sleep well and those with over-worked brains and nerves would take Paine's celery compound. In the cure of nervous diseases this remedy has again and again demonstrated its power to combat these tenacious ailments.

It is to general poor health that we are to look for the cause of headaches, rheumatism and neuralgia, and to overcome these troubles it is the general health that must be raised. Sick headaches that recur so periodically with most women and are so grievous an affliction should be treated as due to lowered nervous tone, and a thorough invigoration of the body should be undertaken with Paine's celery compound.

The best test of the wonderful value of Paine's celery compound is to use it. Any woman will soon be convinced that it is the one remedy that can make and keep her well and healthful and strong.

PUNISHING AN EDITOR.

The Curious Method Adopted in a South American Country.

Curious methods of punishing indiscreet editors are in vogue in some countries. In "South American Sketches" Mr. Crawford describes the interesting experience of an editor who had been unfortunate enough to give offense to the ruling powers by the freedom of his criticisms.

The editor was arrested and confined in a narrow passage between the cages of two jaguars, notorious for their bad tempers and their intense dislike for human society.

The intervening space was so regulated that neither of the ferocious animals could get its paws quite to the middle line between the cages, so that a spare, active person, if very careful to follow the classical advice about the advantages of steering a middle course, might manage to pass without special injury, though the achievement would be both exciting and dangerous.

Our editorial friend happened to be stout, and therefore was the more easily reached by the occupants of the cages. As if to add insult to injury, he was given a chair on which to sit and at the same time was furnished with a copy of his own paper, the issue which had brought him into trouble, in order that he might meditate upon its contents.

He tried to sit motionless and bolt upright, feeling those sleepy, cruel eyes fixed upon him. At the slightest movement or the rustle of the paper uneasy mutterings arose from the cages, and a paw would stretch stealthily toward him. Leaning quickly to the other side, he was sure to be met by the ugly claws of the second jaguar. It was a case of Scylla and Charybdis.

Every few minutes the jaguars became wildly excited and clawed fiercely at the shrinking editor, who, do his best, could not escape those rending toe nails. His clothing was torn to shreds, but except for a few scratches he was not really injured.

The Money They Bring.

Statistics in regard to the amount of money brought to this country by European immigrants show that the German is the richest, with an average of $52.50, while the Englishman is a close second, with $52. The Frenchman has $47.25 and the Belgian $45, while the Irishman brings but $15, the Russian $12.50 and the Italian $10.

Probably the Italian takes more back to his native land, however, than any of the others.—New York Tribune.

French judges and judicial officials are prohibited by the etiquette of their profession from riding in an omnibus.

About 400,000,000 pounds of soap are used in Britain yearly.

WHAT IS GOOD.

"What is real good?" I asked in musing mood. "Order," said the law court; "Knowledge," said the school; "Truth," said the wise man; "Pleasure," said the fool; "Love," said the maiden; "Beauty," said the page; "Freedom," said the dreamer; "Home," said the sage; "Fame," said the soldier; "Equity," said the seer. Spake my heart full sadly: "The answer is not here." Then within my bosom Softly this I heard: "Each heart holds the secret; Kindness is the word."
—JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY.

When I think of the towel, the old-fashioned towel, that used to hang up by the printinghouse door, I think that nobody in these days of shoddy can hammer iron to wear as it wore. The tramp, who abused it, the devil, who used it, the make-up and foreman, the editor (poor man), each rubbed some grime off while they put a heap on. In, over and under, 'twas blacker than thunder, 'twas harder than poverty, rougher than sin; from the roller suspended, it was never bended, and it flapped on the wall like a banner of tin. It grew thicker and rougher and harder and tougher, and daily put on an inkier hue, until one windy morning, without any warning, it fell to the floor and was broken in two.—Burbette.

Monday Night.

There are to be a number of interesting features in the Cantata to be given by the young ladies, under the direction of Miss Bessie Jarvis, Monday night. "The Gypsies' Festival" will be bright and sparkling. The Scarf Phantastics will be something entirely new. The farce "Six Cups of Chocolate" will show the amusing spectacle of six girls with but a single thought, all being in love with the same boy. "The Lotus Eaters" in fifteen scenes will be a whole entertainment in itself. "The Bachelor's Dream" will be fine, and all the other scenes will be unusually attractive. Don't miss it.

They Should Know It.

Will Greenville have a fair next fall? If so something should be done about it now so the farmers can have an eye to competing for premiums while cultivating their crops.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE NEW WAY.

WOMEN used to think "female diseases" could only be treated after "local examinations" by physicians. Dread of such treatment kept thousands of modest women silent about their suffering. The introduction of Wine of Cardui has now demonstrated that nine-tenths of all the cases of menstrual disorders do not require a physician's attention at all. The simple, pure taken in the privacy of a woman's own home insures quick relief and speedy cure. Women need not hesitate now. Wine of Cardui requires no humiliating examinations for its adoption. It cures any disease that comes under the head of "female troubles"—disordered menses, falling of the womb, "whites," change of life. It makes women beautiful by making them well. It keeps them young by keeping them healthy. $1.00 at the drug store.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

W. I. ADDISON, M.D., Cary, Miss., says: "I use Wine of Cardui extensively in my practice and find it a most excellent preparation for female troubles."
