At the Opera.

"The Two Orphans" presented Friday night at the Opera House by Dews' Fun Makers was the best of all. A good audience, considering the drawbacks, was present and were delighted. Miss Dews as "Henrietta," one of the orphans, was perfect in her character and elicited well merited applause. She is an exceptionally fine actress. Miss La Belle as "Louise," Henrietta's blind sister, was far above anything we have seen here in some time. A difficult role to assume. The other characters were well sustained. The specialties were very good and Mr. Woodford was again called back three times. "I'll never forget it as long as I live." He is a warm number. Mr. Gilbert is too funny for anything and is great as the "guardian angel." Miss Le Belle again pleased the audience by her singing. This company we can recommend to the public as they do what they promise. Their department while in our midst has been of the best, both on and off the stage. To-night they give their farewell performance for this engagement presenting the 5-act drama "The Way of the World," for the benefit of the Osceola band. Everybody should turn out.

To My Friends.

I was burned out Thursday night but I can be found next door below D. W. Hardee's grocery store and would be pleased to serve my many friends and customers.

MRS. L. GRIFFIN.

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly, and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative. In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package. CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. ## CORPORATIONS MAGNANIMOUS

Both the Old Dominion Company and Atlantic Coast Line Offer to Help Greenville.

During the progress of the fire Thursday night a telephone message was sent to Washington to see if we could get the fire department of that town to come to our assistance. The Washington firemen were anxious to come but it is happened that there was not a car there in which their apparatus could be brought. Learning of this Mr. John Myers, agent of the Old Dominion Company, told them he had a steamer at the wharf which was at their disposal free of charge. An inquiry showed that the firemen could hardly reach here by steamer in time to be of assistance, but all the same it showed the willingness of the Old Dominion Company to do all in their power to help us.

During the day Friday Mr. J. R. Moore, agent of the Atlantic Coast Line here, received a telegram from Mr. H. M. Emerson, General Freight and Passenger Agent, expressing the regret of his company at learning of the destructive fire that had visited Greenville, and offering a rebate of 25 per cent of the freights on all building materials for rebuilding the burnt district that are shipped here over the Coast Line between now and December first, next.

Corporations are often accused of being soulless, but these two incidents show the interest that both Old Dominion and Coast Line feel in the welfare of Greenville, and our people will not forget such magnanimity.

A WORD FOR THE SUFFERERS.

Go Pay Them What You Owe Them

It is not necessary to say that many business men of Greenville lost heavily by the fire Thursday night. One has but to note the heavy individual losses sustained and the small amount of insurance to realize this. Besides what they have already lost many of them are to suffer further by being thrown out of business until more buildings can be erected. Now it is the duty of every person who had accounts with and owes any of these business men to go at once and pay them. Even though any individual account may be small, these little put together may go a long way towards encouraging and helping them to brave the tempest that sweeps over them. THE REFLECTOR appeals to your manhood, to your feeling for a fellowman in disaster, and urges you to look after such matters as this. Do not let any account you owe these men go unpaid.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

The Guilford county Superintendent of Health put in a bill at $50 a day for vaccinating people. The County Commissioners refused to pay the bill.

The cruiser Raleigh is now at Wilmington.

The Greensboro Patriot has just issued a mammoth illustrated edition that is one of the handsomest ever sent out in this State.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, May 6th, '99. We had quite a dusty wind Wednesday evening.

Bring your sewing and fitting to Mrs. Sarah Carroll and sister.

Farmers are taking advantage of this nice weather to set out tobacco.

Have been unable to get a phone message to Greenville since the fire.

A. B. Beacham, from Aurora, brother to the Mr. Beacham who is in the merchandise business here, came in last night.

R. L. Jones of this place, who makes the Jones Cultivator, just returned last night from Washington and other points, where he has been taking orders.

Mrs. H. M. Dixon's mother, Mrs. Williams, from Wharton, and her brother and little niece Emma, came down to see her Tuesday night. Mr. Williams returned next morning, but Mrs. Williams and Emma will stay awhile.

Sorry to know that fire has destroyed so much for the merchants of Greenville, but one good thing about it is that it can't destroy their reputation. Just so you can burn up our cigars, but we want their good reputation to be indestructible.

TOBACCO FLUES.—The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. are using a special fastening to join their tobacco flues, thus you are safe from the risk arising from joints coming apart by heating and cooling of the flues. They are using fine material and can deliver flues at any time. Prices are guaranteed to be as low as any. Come or send your orders at once.

BETHEL DEPARTMENT.

CONDUCTED BY C. H. JAMES.

BETHEL, N. C. April 28th, '99.

At the regular town election the following officers were elected: Mayor, S. A. Gainer, Commissioners, S. T. Carson, J. R. Ward, Cortez Barnhill, D. W. Corey and Henry W. Martin. They are all able men and Bethel expects good government. Wonder what they will do first?

James Keel, of Keelsville, who has been attending Bethel High school for some time has accepted a position with Blount & Keel, of Mt. Olive, N. C. Prof. "Mack" says Jemie was a good boy and he hated to part with him.

The "tater" crops around Bethel are looking fine. M. O. Blount and S. T. Carson expect to make the first shipment.

Mr. J. R. Carson and wife spent last Sunday with relatives near Pictolus.

Miss May Porter, of St. Louis, Ky., has accepted a position in Mrs. M. G. Bullock's millinery store. She is very pretty and we are glad to welcome her.

The people of Bethel are in deep sympathy with Greenville in her destructive fire but we feel sure that it will not be long before all her ruined and damaged buildings will be replaced by finer and larger ones and she will again be one of the prettiest and most progressive little towns in the state.

Advertising rates are liberal and can be had on application to the editor or at the office.

SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1899.

AGAIN WE SAY, TAKE COURAGE.

Just after the big fire of February, 1896, that swept away the upper portion of main street, THE REFLECTOR tried to speak a word of encouragement to those who suffered most thereby. Now that a similar disaster has visited another section of the business portion of the town we would again undertake to encourage those upon whom the blow falls. Men, take courage! Look up! Don't gaze in despair at the mound of ashes that marks the destruction of your business prospects, but turn your faces again to the conflict determined that out of these ashes shall rise the phoenix of your success. Have faith in God and in yourself and never give up. And to those so fortunate as to escape the disaster, let us urge you to extend the encouraging hand to the unfortunate. Many a man's life has been turned and brightened just by a little act or a word at the right time. Let this disaster cement the ties of business relations between us. The misfortune of one is felt more or less by all, and the prosperity of one is to a certain extent participated in by all. Let us therefore work together for each other and for Greenville.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents.

Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c. $1. All druggists.

What You Can Do.

When a man goes into business he has some cards printed, and when he meets an acquaintance therefore he pokes out a card and says: "When you're down my way, drop in." That's advertising. The trouble is that you can't repeat that operation often enough personally. What you can do is to put the card and the remark, more or less elaborately expressed, into a paper, and have it handed to hundreds all in one day.—Chicago Apparel Gazette.

A clergyman called on a poor parishioner in a village, whom he found deeply lamenting the death of an only son—a boy about four or five years of age. In the hope of consoling the afflicted woman, he remarked to her that one so young could not have committed any grievous sin, and that no doubt the boy had gone to heaven. "Ah! sir," said the simple-hearted creature, "but my poor Tommy was so shy, and they'll be all strangers there to him."

To Cure Constipation Forever.

Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic, 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., May 5th, '99

Mr. McKinley doesn't like portions of the report of the Military Court of Inquiry, and it is said that the Court, which adjourned a week ago, will be reconvened to revise the objectionable parts of the report before it is approved by Mr. McKinley and made public. It seems that in their criticisms of certain officers, the members of the court, doubtless unintentionally, trod upon Mr. McKinley's toes.

Some of Boss Hanna's tricks in the Speakership muddle are leaking out. One of them was his hint that the Speaker ought to be a western man. It was thought strange at the time that he should have dropped that hint. But when it is known that several days afterward he had a private conference, in New York, with Representative Sherman, its strangeness disappears. It was a bluff to bring Sherman to his knees, and obtain pledges from him. Whether it succeeded is not certain, but there are reasons for believing that it did, and that Sherman, who was first known as Czar Reed's candidate, will be taken up by Hanna, the administration, and the trusts, and elected Speaker. Friends of Hopkins of Illinois, and Henderson of Iowa, both of whom had been led to expect administration support are getting very suspicious. They will not talk for publication now, but if the Hanna-McKinley support is given to Sherman they will probably do some talking that will not be enjoyed either by Boss Hanna or Mr. McKinley, and they may not confine their animosity to talk. The republican majority in the next House will not be large and a few vigorous kickers can make lots of trouble for those in charge of the administration programme.

Senator Pettigrew, who has been traveling extensively since Congress adjourned, is now in Washington. He said of his observation of the political situation. "Bryan will be nominated by acclamation. His nomination cannot be prevented. I spent several weeks traveling through the South and talked with people in the small towns. In every state, and especially in Louisiana and Texas, I found the sentiment for Bryan overwhelming. Members of the Board of Trade of New Orleans were not favorable to him, but out in the country districts Bryan's name was mentioned with the highest praise. In South Dakota and the northwest there is the same feeling. I believe, too, that half of the delegation from New York will be for Bryan. You know they elect delegates by Congressional districts in New York, and that will insure the expression of the sentiment of the people." The Senator expressed the opinion that the populists would hold the first National Convention next year and would nominate Bryan. Speaking of the letter of the Gov. of South Dakota, asking for the discharge of the volunteers from that state, and of the Philippine policy, Senator Pettigrew said: "In his letter to President McKinley, Governor correctly represented the sentiment of the people of our state. I consider the life of one of the brave boys from South Dakota as worth more than all the Filipinos living. There is no justification for killing these people anyway. The possession of these islands is worth but little from any point of view; we can't make much out of a race whose labor is paid at the rate of 4 cents a day. Our entire policy regarding them is wrong, and though men who oppose it are denounced as traitors, I believe the time will soon come when they will be looked upon as the true patriots."

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets.

Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

Sound of the Voice.

In experimenting with the compressed air pipes of Westphalian coal mines Mr. H. Schob has found that the greatest distance to which the sound of the voice can be conveyed in a straight line was between 1,500 and 1,700 feet. In other instances a pipe of about 1,000 feet in length gave the best results, the sound of one being better than that of two.

Dr. Denis in Snow.

The Prince of Peasants is said to owe his wealth chiefly to the trade in snow, of which he has a monopoly. The snow is brought at night in baskets on mule back from the mountains to the coast and shipped to the Italian cities, where it is sold at 2 and 3 cents a pound.

Two Dear Sent.

Sarah Bernhardt while in London dropped into a bookseller's shop one morning. "I sold her quite a pile of books," said the proprietor, "and she seemed pleased. As she was going out she took hold of my pencil and asked me something in French which I did not understand. Seeing that I failed to catch her meaning, she looked about on the counters, then, quick as a flash, she took up a volume of one of the very best sets of Scott, bound in tree calf, opened it at the very center, wrote something quickly, calmly tore out the leaf, handed it to me, smiled, and went out."

The astonished bookseller looked at the leaf and discovered that Sarah had written a pass for two to her performance that evening! Magnificent, but it was not a cheap entertainment for the bookseller.

TETTER ON THE HANDS.

For several years I was a sufferer from Tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well. MRS. M. E. KING. Burlington, N. C., May 27, 1896.

How They Made Mummies.

A body might be mummified in three different ways, and the price varied accordingly. In the first and most expensive method the brain was extracted through the nose by means of an iron probe, and the intestines were removed entirely from the body through an incision made in the side with a sharp Ethiopian stone. The intestines were cleansed and washed in palm wine, and, after being covered with powdered aromatic gums, were placed in Canopic jars. The body was then filled up with myrrh and cassia and other fragrant and astringent substances and was laid in natron for 70 days. It was then carefully washed and wrapped up in strips of fine linen smeared with gum. The cost of mummifying a body in this fashion was a talent of silver, or about £240.

In the second method the brain was not removed at all, and the intestines were simply dissolved and removed in a fluid state. The body was also laid in salt or natron, which, it is said, dissolved everything except the skin and bones. The cost of mummifying in this manner was 22 mina, or nearly $90.

The third method was employed for the poor only. It consisted simply of cleansing the body by injecting some strong astringent and then salting it for 70 days. The cost was very small.—“Budge's Guide to First and Second Egyptian Rooms.”

The Lost Rose.

There is a ticket chopper at the Park place station of the elevated railroad who could not take a prize in a beauty show in any climate and whose marked aggressiveness of mien fails to soften the effect of nature's handiwork upon his visage. A lady crossing the platform in a hurry dropped one of two large red roses that graced her corsage. It was promptly pounced upon by the chopper, who, seeing that its owner had no intention of returning to reclaim it, fell to fondling his prize with so evident an air of delight that a group of three or four brakemen, fellow employees, who stood near by waiting for an up town train, found a vast amusement in “gazing” him.

At the instant they did so a tired looking woman, dragging a shabbily clad little girl by the hand, approached the box. The child, whose great eyes were sunk deeply in her pale little forehead, broke loose from her mother's hand, stopped stock-still and began staring hungrily at the rose. In an instant it was in her possession and the great eyes had gone out of mourning. In two seconds the unlovely chopper was glowering at other arriving passengers more belligerently than ever, and his friends, the brakemen, had forgotten to jeer.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Two Posers.

Lewis Carroll, the author of “Alice in Wonderland,” was fond of puzzling his friends with curious problems. One of them was the question, When does the day begin? If a man could travel around the world so fast that the sun would always be directly above his head, and if he were to start traveling at mid-day on Tuesday, then in 24 hours he would return to his original point of departure and would find that the day was now called Wednesday—at what point of his journey would the day change its name? The difficulty of answering this apparently simple question has cast a gloom over many a pleasant party.

Another problem was as follows: A rope is hung over a wheel fixed to the roof of a building; at one end of the rope a weight is fixed, which exactly counterbalances a monkey which is hanging on the other end. Suppose that the monkey begins to climb the rope, what will be the result? It is very curious the different views taken by good mathematicians. One says the weight goes up with increasing velocity; others say that it goes up at the same rate as the monkey, while another says it goes down.

Coronals

This word is used throughout the Australian colonies in connection with a coroner's inquiry. It does not figure in any dictionary that I am aware of, not even in Professor Morris' “Austral-English.” It seems distinctly journalistic. How does the “I” come in, for one could understand the expression “a coronal inquiry”? Is it a variant of “corony + al”? Perhaps some what akin to the formation of “barony” from “barony + al.”—Notes and Queries.

He Didn't Need It.

Could the funny sayings and incidents at the tenants' dinner in Scotland be collected, they would make an unrivaled book of humor. Mistakes of amusing and sometimes embarrassing nature occur frequently at such functions. One story is told of a guest at a Scottish tenants' dinner who tasted ice cream for the first time on that occasion. He pushed a large spoonful of the frozen mixture into his mouth and jumped from his chair with agony expressed on his face. He let out a yell and cried out, “Ow, ow, ma rotten teeth!” and could not be induced to eat any more.

At another Scottish dinner of the kind a good old farmer was seated next to the hostess. She served him a bit of savory omelet, which seemed to cause the old man deep discomfiture. His idea of an omelet had always been a dessert with sugar, or fruit or jam, and after tasting the savory before he he turned to the hostess and said, “Weel, ma lady, I canna compliment you on your puddin's.”

The late Duke of Devonshire tells a story of a tenant farmer at a dinner on his estates who was asked by the duchess if he would take some rhubarb, a dish she was fond of. The farmer was surprised, but answered politely, “I'm muckle obleeged to your grace, but I dinna' need it.”

Pneumonia.

A bright chap who has traveled much told me that some years ago he met a man where he had camped, in the mining districts of California, who could make the New York doctors ashamed of the regular practice in a case of pneumonia. Said he: “It stands to reason. The claim of the man is this: Unless some part of the digestive process is clogged pneumonia is impossible, and it is even quite difficult to take cold if the circulation of the fluids of the body is free.

“His method is simplicity itself. In the first place, to start with, he gives a big dose of physic and puts his man into lots of blankets, and then he gathers all the bottles he can find in the camp and fills them with hot water and heats every part of the man but his head. As soon as he thinks the physic is out of his stomach, he makes him sip hot water. Just as soon as he sees a drop of perspiration on his forehead he will say: ‘I've got you, old man. Keep the heat going until the pills operate freely, and don't let him take cold.’ I have seen bad cases where they would have choked to death in less than an hour and at work in two or three days. He didn't consider it a question of concentration at all. It was only a question of cleaning the man out and keeping him warm.”—New York Times.

He Failed to Pass.

General Benjamin F. Butler was one of a commission to examine young applicants for admission to the bar, and before him came a youth who failed miserably on all that pertained to jurisprudence, case law, civil law, summary law, unwritten law and due process of law. Finally Butler, who rather liked the chap and wanted to see him through, asked: “What would you like to be examined in? You have failed in everything we have suggested.”

The reply came, “Try me on the statutes; I'm up on them.”

Butler shook his head solemnly. “My young friend,” he said, “I'm afraid you won't do. You may be ever so familiar with the statutes, but what is to prevent a fool legislature from repealing all you know?”

Could Apply the Parable.

It is not always safe to talk in parable to the young, as the following school board story shows: A correspondent states that one of his pupils caused him some annoyance by uncouthness of speech, dirty boots, and so on, so, says our correspondent: “I drew a verbal portrait for the class of the man who did not shine in the world of polite society. ‘You cannot fail to know him,’ said I, ‘for he never cleans his boots nor washes before meals. He speaks and drinks when his mouth is full and generally has his knife in place of his fork.’”

“Gradually the lad whom this story was deemed to profit showed an awakening interest and put out his hand to speak in a very bold way. ‘Well,’ I said, ‘I have heard of your father’s name.’” —London Chronicle.

Greenville has long needed a good modern hotel. That need will now for a time be felt more than ever. THE REFLECTOR hopes that some of the property owners in their plans of rebuilding the burnt district will consider and supply this need. The man who does so will be a public benefactor and put money in his pocket also.
