

WINE OF CARDUI

For Mothers!

THE discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

the wonderful new constitutional cure for RHEUMATISM. The other two per cent. were not curable, or failed to take medicine according to directions. Thousands have been cured. In view of the fact that many physicians think that rheumatism is incurable, and that most remedies fail, it must be true that RHEUMACIDE is the greatest medical discovery of the age. DONGOLA CASE.

Three More Arrests Made.

Sunday morning three more colored men were brought here and placed in jail, charged with being implicated in the recent murder and arson at Dongola. They were Jim Dixon, Ben Johnson and Cephus Langley and make five colored and one white man now in jail for that crime. The prisoners were strongly guarded when brought in and both these and the preceding arrests have caused much excitement.

Some strong evidence is developing against some of the parties arrested.

A large crowd was here today for the purpose of attending the preliminary trial. They thronged in and about the Court House and around the jail all day waiting for the trial to begin.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the six prisoners were taken before justices of the Peace Albert Horton, R. L. Joyner, B. M. Lewis, H. Harding and J. A. Lang. Solicitor L. I. Moore made the motion to the court that the case be postponed for hearing until Monday of next week at 10 o'clock A. M., giving as a reason that there was other evidence that the State wished to develop, and that by doing into trial now it might also be unjust to some of the prisoners, therefore he hoped that in the interest of both sides the Court would grant the motion.

The court concurred in the opinion of Solicitor Moore, and the defendants all agreeing to a postponement of the case the motion was granted. The prisoners were turned over to the custody of the Sheriff and all witnesses were notified to be present next Monday morning.

TIME FOR CALMNESS.

Do Not Add Another Crime to the List.

In the large crowd that was here today to attend the preliminary trial of the Dongola murder and arson case there could be heard some occasional mutterings of lynching, and the report became current that if the guilt of any of the prisoners was established such would be taken in hand at once and dealt with. THE REFLECTOR is not prepared to say there was really such an intention in any part of the crowd, but hopes there was not. At any rate, as long as such a report got out, we wish to urge upon the people to let the law take its course. This is no time for rashness and another crime should not be added to the list already against the county.

The public can rest assured that if the preliminary trial establishes the guilt of any or all the prisoners a special term of court will be asked for to try them and the execution of the law will be speedily carried out. Therefore let all be calm and give the law a chance to take its course.

Must Rebuild With Brick.

The new town charter gives the Aldermen power to prohibit the erection of any wooden building on the business portion of Evans street. That means Greenville will have no more such disastrous fires as the one on the 4th inst.

MURDER AT BETHEL.

Constable Killed by Mob of Negroes.

Saturday night another murder was added to the already large criminal record of Pitt county. The first news of the affair that reached Greenville was late Sunday afternoon when officers arrived here from Bethel bringing three colored prisoners to be committed to jail. The names of the prisoners were Hoyt Moore, Cully Moore and William Wilkins. The officers who brought these prisoners gave the following particulars:

Saturday night several negroes congregated on the street in Bethel and became disorderly. Constable Elijah Bryan went up to quiet the crowd and told them they must disperse. One negro remarked threateningly that nobody in that crowd could be arrested, when Constable Bryan took hold of him and told him consider himself under arrest. At this the three men named above and Bob Moore, who has so far evaded arrest, made an assault on the officer, he being struck on the head with a rake and cut several times with knives. Another white man, Lollie Speight, went to the assistance of officer Bryan, and he was also cut severely but it is not thought fatally.

A posse went in search of the assailants of the officer and caught three of them Sunday, bringing them here to jail.

Constable Bryan died about 9 o'clock Sunday night from the effects of his wounds.

BACK IN JAIL.

Condemned Man Recaptured.

Sunday evening a week ago Lorenzo Brown, colored, who was confined in jail under sentence of death, made his escape from prison. Yesterday (Sunday) evening, about the same hour, the negro was placed back in his cell, after having had just one week's liberty. He was captured at LaGrange. Sheriff Mooring received information Saturday from the Chief of Police at LaGrange of a suspicious character being there, and the description given fitted Brown so well that the Sheriff wired that the man be held.

Deputy Sheriff Mason left early Sunday morning for LaGrange, and arriving there found that the right man had been taken. He brought Brown back at once, reaching here just before dark.

That Hotel.

People are telling THE REFLECTOR that our reference in last issue to the need of a good hotel was the right key note. There are excellent sites for it now and one should be built. You men who own the land of the burned district think of this matter. This is the time for the hotel.

Somebody's Chance.

There is a chance to make money for the man who will get a quick move on him and go to manufacturing brick here. Greenville is going to rebuild and the new buildings will be of brick, hence there will be a heavy demand for them.

Regular monthly meeting of Hope Fire Company tonight.

GOOD PEOPLE!

You all know that I was burned out at the big fire on the night of the 4th. But while I am temporarily out of doors I would ask you all not to forget your old friend

FRANK WILSON,

The King Clothier.

In a few days more I will have something interesting to tell you in this space, and it will be of a nature as to make you as grateful to me for the bargains I will give you as I feel to you for the liberal patronage you have given me in the past.

TO MY FRIENDS.

I am not able to personally thank every one who helped move my goods during the fire on the night of the 4th, so I take this method of telling you all how much I appreciate the assistance rendered me.

My store is all torn up at present, but in a few days I will have everything straight and be open again, then I invite one and all to call on me.

JAMES B. WHITE.

NOTICE!

We wish to return sincere thanks to the people who so kindly rendered us assistance during the fire, Thursday night, by helping us remove and care for our goods.

What Some Women Do.

In Texas a woman has the contract for carrying the mail from Kille to Seim Hall.

In Boston are two large advertising agencies, the members of both firms being women, and all their employees women.

An entire block of houses in New York was papered by a young woman who takes the contract for such orders from builders.

A successful ranch owner in Kansas is a woman. There is a saying to the effect that in Kansas there is no interest, no profession, no trade and no deal without a woman in it.

The woman manager of a California insurance company is credited with the largest salary paid to any woman—$10,000 a year.

Rheumacide is a thorough, permanent, constitutional cure for rheumatism. The acids in the blood which cause the disease are thoroughly eradicated. Is also the best blood purifier, laxative and tonic.

Divorces Too Easily Obtained in North Carolina.

Divorces have become of too frequent occurrence and are too easily procured in North Carolina. Before the war between the States very few divorces were granted in this State. In many counties there was not one divorce in several years. But now there is scarcely a term of court in any county when at least one divorce is not granted, and in many counties there are several divorces obtained at every court. Nor are these divorces by any means confined to the colored people, for, unfortunately, there are now too many divorces among our white people.

Divorces were made more easily procurable by the Legislature of 1895, which passed an act giving a divorce to the husband or wife because of abandonment by the other and living separate and apart for two years, provided such abandonment occurred prior to the passage of that act. And our last Legislature amended and extended that act so as to give a divorce if the abandonment was for one year, and occurred prior to the 1st of January 1899.

Under the act of 1895 hundreds of divorces have been obtained in this State, and now under the act of the last Legislature hundreds more will be obtained.—Chatham Record.

We are naturally afraid of the man or woman who knows and talks so much about the evils of neighbors and people generally. One cannot help inferring great wrongness in their heart. How did they acquire so large a fund of the evil words and deeds wrought by their neighbors? They must certainly have a taste that makes the hearing of such things sweet or they would not have heard so much. If they had a distaste properly strong against such things they could not, and would not, be wronged by hearing so much moral filth. People would not go to them with such garbage. Those who have such vile stuff carry it and dump it out not where it will be resented but where it will be accepted with thanks. The depraved vultures of the community whose vile inwardness loves vice and revels in it are the ones who have a large fund of the wrong doings of men use it in tale bearing. The size of this class of vile folk who go about with an energy worthy of a better cause, seek whatever is scandalous and rotten and calculated to injure all that is pure and beautiful and good, is too large and constitutes the basest and most corrupt element in society, however fair and beautiful their outward life and felicitous their speech. Be afraid of it.—Rev. P. R. Law in Lumberton Robesonian.

The Ground Will Get Even With You.

The very best advice we have read, outside of the Bible, in many a day is this bit of injunction. Never allow yourself to "hate the very ground" any one walks on. The ground is never to blame. And some day the ground will embrace the object of your enmity and you too.—Monroe Enquirer.

Out in Kansas City three months ago a churchgoer wrote to a newspaper that he would pay no more pew rent at his house of worship unless some guarantee should be given him that his view of the minister should be unobstructed. Out of this missive grew an anti-hat campaign, with the result that on Sunday last the feminine members of the church capitulated and removed their new spring headgear at the opening of the service.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A PLEASANT, SIMPLE BUT SAFE AND EFFECTUAL CURE FOR IT.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases causing a pressure on the heart and lungs, and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surface of the stomach. To secure prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic, Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., says: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of the stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

Laughs Better Than Tears.

I bless all the apostolic college of humorists. The man that makes me laugh is my benefactor. I do not thank anybody to make me cry. I can do that without any assistance. We all cry enough and have enough to cry about. God bless all skillful punsters, all repartecists, all propounders of ingenious conundrums, all those who mirthfully surprise us with unusual juxtaposition of words. Thomas Hood and Charles Dickens and Sydney Smith had a divine mission, and so have their successors in these times. They stir into the acid beverage of life the saccharine. They make the cup of earthly existence, which is sometimes stale, effervesce and bubble. They placate animosities. They foster longevity. They slay follies and absurdities which all the sermons of all the pulpits cannot reach.—T. De Witt Talmage.

Welcome Punishment to Bobby.

A little boy went to church with his mother. The service was somewhat long and utterly incomprehensible to the child. Consequently he fidgeted. His mother reproved him several times. At last she leaned toward him. "Bobby," she whispered, "if you act badly I'll never bring you to church again." A gleam of hope dawned in Bobby's weary eyes. "Mamma," he said eagerly, "how bad will I have to be?"—Exchange.

Forest Reservations.

The 30 forest reservations of the United States embrace an area of 40,000,000 acres in 13 states and territories. Seven are in the state of California, the largest of which, the Sierra forest reserve, includes 4,006,000 acres. Within the past 35 years it is estimated that 11,000,000,000 feet board measure of timber on public land have been destroyed by forest fires.

TETTER ON THE HANDS.

For several years I was a sufferer from tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well. MRS. M. E. KING.

NOTE THE NAME

Religious and Irreligious Fishes.

Fishes are supposed to have no religion. Probably they are greatly maligned in that as well as in other respects. St. Anthony, as you know, used to preach to them and make their eyes glitter and their hearts beat by his eloquence. A Jewish story is told—I cannot, unfortunately, lay my hands on the passage just now—of a fish which leaves the sea on Saturday and does not return until Sunday, so as to be able to keep the Sabbath.

Other fishes, unlike their puritanical brother, do not observe the sacred day. The Koran gives a story of some very naughty fishes in David's time. Knowing that the Israelites were forbidden to catch fish on the Sabbath, the wicked creatures came out of the Red sea in unusual numbers and kept in sight of the people all through the day in order to tempt them. On the approach of night they returned to the sea again. In a fatal moment some of the Israelites yielded to the piscine blandishments, caught several of them and had them for dinner. Whereupon David cursed the Sabbath breakers, and God, to show his displeasure, changed them into apes and pigs. For three days they remained in this unpleasant condition, when a violent storm arose and swept them into the sea.

The fish which brought the tribute money to our Lord is supposed to have been a haddock, which had strayed into the lake of Genesaret. There are several legends which tell of miraculous finds in fishes.—Paris Messenger.

Hunting Tigers in Persia.

The people of different countries have different ways of hunting the tiger. Traps, pitfalls, spring guns and nets are called into play. The Chinese are said to employ the mirror to lead the animal into a trap. The tiger's curiosity is excited when he sees his image in the glass, and he immediately proceeds to investigate the mystery. The Persian manner of conducting the hunt, as this is described in Chambers' Journal, is more sportsmanlike.

A spherical, strongly woven bamboo cage, with intervals of a few inches between the bars, is erected in some spot near the haunts of the tiger. This cage is firmly and securely picketed to the ground. Inside, a man provided with several sharp and powerful stabbing spears, or with a keen and pointed sword, takes his post at night, with a dog or a goat as his companion. There he wraps himself in his blanket and goes to sleep.

In due time the tiger makes his appearance, the man is waked by his four-footed companion, and after vainly snuffing and prowling round the cage to find an entrance the tiger rears against the walls.

The man instantly takes advantage of the brute's unprotected position, and with a resolute stroke of the spear of the sword puts him to death.

Why He Failed.

The Michigan Tradesman suggests, in the course of an anecdote, the reason why a certain old fashioned tradesman came to fail. When one of his creditors reached the place, after this catastrophe, he found the merchant working hard to figure it all out.

"Land, but I don't see why I should fail!" he kept on saying. "Mebbe, though, I didn't collect sharp enough."

"You have a heap of goods round here," said the other, looking about him.

"Yes, more or less."

"When did you take the last inventory?"

"Inventory? Take everything down?"

"Yes."

"And make out a list?"

"Yes."

"And dust off the shelves and mop the floor?"

"That's it."

"And clean the windows and paint the front of the store?"

"Yes."

"I never went into that. I was going to one day about 15 years ago, but they had a wrestling match in town, and I forgot the inventory. Mercy on me, but I can't understand why I should fail!"

Diamonds may be black as well as white, and come in blue, red, yellow, green, pink and orange, but there is no violet diamond, although in addition to emeralds, rubies and sapphires, rubies and sapphires of that color.

SUGAR OF MILK.

A Material Little Known Generally Much Used with Babies.

Of the great variety of drugs and chemicals which play an important part in the commerce of the world little is known by the general public. The importation into the United States of balsams, barks, beans, flowers, gums, herbs and leaves gathered from every part of the globe foot up in value annually to nearly $50,000,000, while the exports of similar products from this country have now reached a total of about $10,000,000. Even the hundreds of different names on the list with which the importer and wholesale drug dealer are familiar there are scores which are almost perfect strangers to the lay mind. Amongst these are opium, quinine and other well known drugs will be found cathartides, cocculus indicus, crystallase, Iycopodium meligan, catch, baena, canule and others of equally enigmatical character.

In this latter class might almost be mentioned sugar of milk, which occupies one of the most important positions in the drug transactions of the present day. The title of the drug would imply common knowledge, though, as a matter of fact, few understand its important uses. Time was when every ounce of this drug was imported from Europe. Today, thanks to American enterprise, it is manufactured in the United States on such an extensive scale that not only is the enormous domestic demand supplied by the homemade product, but large quantities are annually exported. When it was imported, the wholesale price was 30 cents a pound. Now it has declined to 8 cents.

History says that sugar of milk was first prepared in 1619, although not introduced into medicine until 1698. It is used almost entirely by pill manufacturers on account of its neutral, filling properties. It is absolutely neutral, inodorous and with a slightly sweet taste. As a vehicle for all manner of pulverized medicines it is perfect. Acids and drugs of all kinds with which it may be mixed do not have any effect upon it nor it upon them, and in the human stomach it is most easily dissolved.

It is manufactured from the whey of cow's milk, and is really a by-product of milk. The process is one of evaporation and recrystallization. Switzerland once had a monopoly of its manufacture. Now Hindis leads the world, while a large factory has been started in New York state, which promises of producing as much as its western predecessor. Such has been the success of the American industry that the product is shipped even to Switzerland, where it is able to compete satisfactorily with the European makers.

In crystal form it resembles rock candy, being white in color. The growing demand for it has been caused by the development of patent medicines in pill and tablet form, where bulk is desired. It is said to be exported in the form of powdered sugar for the reason that low freight rates are thus secured. Otherwise as a drug the cost of ocean transportation would be largely increased.—New York Tribune.

A Whale on a Mountain.

A geologist made a most interesting discovery in southern California the other day. He was digging on the top of a mountain of no mean height when he unearthed a portion of the petrified head of a whale. The piece, which was about 30 inches long, was evidently from that part which joins the vertebral column. It was 12 inches wide, 18 inches thick and weighed some 350 pounds. There is only one solution to the mystery—that whale came up on to the mountain in the days when Noah was cruising about in his mighty battleship. Just how his lordship came to be imbedded in the sandstone in which he was found is not so clear. No other portions were found.

A Bill of Red Tape.

Great is the red tape. A telegraph repairer was sent out from Great Bend, Ind., the other day to locate a break in the line. He was to follow the line down the hillside, and when he found the break he was to report to the office. He found the break in the line, and he reported to the office. He found the break in the line, and he reported to the office.

Close Their Engagement.

Dews' Fun Makers closed their week's engagement here Saturday night and gave general satisfaction. They presented "The Way of the World" to the largest audience of the week. It was well acted and well received. They are a first class company and deserve success.

CARD OF THANKS—I wish to return sincere thanks to the many friends who were so kind to me during and since the fire of the 4th inst. I am now in the building near where the post office was on Fourth street, and will be ready to see you all as soon as the insurance adjuster can get through with my stock. MRS. M. D. HIGGS.

Sunday was anything else but a quiet day in Greenville. Seven prisoners being brought in for capital offenses caused more than one day's share of excitement.

The thunder storm early Sunday night interfered with the service at the churches.

The Fun Makers Company, who played here all of last week, left this morning for Washington.

There were people here Sunday from nearly all the neighboring towns. They came in carriages, in buggies and on bicycles.

STRAWBERRIES.—Three quarts for 25 cents. Phone 46. Cabbage, Turnips, Onions. Wait for our wagon. OLLEN E. WARREN.

SHELTER ORDINANCE.

They Must all Come Down.

At a special meeting last Thursday afternoon the Town Council adopted the following:

No person, after the 10th day of May, 1899, shall erect, maintain or keep on or over any street or sidewalk of the town any sign, shelter, shed or post without the consent of the Board of Councilmen or Aldermen, and any person who shall permit such obstruction to remain after having had three days notice from the Mayor to remove the same, shall upon conviction before the Mayor, be fined $5 for every day such obstruction is permitted to remain, and every day such obstruction remains shall constitute a distinct violation of this ordinance.

Appreciated.

From neighboring towns have come many expressions of sympathy for Greenville in her loss by the fire, all of which our people fully appreciate.
