No Wood Buildings—Telegraph and Telephone Poles Protected.

At a meeting of the Town Council held Monday afternoon two more ordinances were adopted. The first reads as follows:

That it is hereby declared unlawful for any person to drive any nails or tacks in the telephone or telegraph poles situate on any sidewalk or street of the town, or to tack or paste any signs or advertisements thereon, without the permission of the owner of said poles first having been had and obtained and all persons violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars for each and every violation.

The second ordinance relates to wooden buildings and reads as follows:

That it shall be unlawful to erect any wooden building within one hundred and twenty feet of Evans street at any point between Second street on the north and Fifth street on the south.

FIRE NEAR ROCKY MOUNT.

Joe Bunn Dies From Injuries.

Sunday night about 11 o'clock the dwelling of Mrs. Turner Battle at Cool Spring, a few miles from Rocky Mount, was destroyed by fire. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gordon Battle, of New York, was on a visit there at the time, and she failing to come out of the burning building with the members of the household a young man named Joe Bunn rushed in to rescue her. He found the lady asleep in the upper story and picked her up in his arms to carry her down. As he was about to descend the stairs Mrs. Battle awoke, and realizing the situation asked to go back to her room to get some jewels. While they were after the jewels the flames spread so rapidly as to cut off the exit by the stairway and they had to jump from the second-story window. The lady escaped with only slight injuries, but in the delay of getting her out safely the young man became dazed by the flames and smoke, and when he jumped received such injuries as to cause his death. He died about noon Monday.

Convict Brantley Escapes.

Weldon, May 6th.—Edward Spivey, a guard at the Halifax State farm, was put in charge of a squad of nine convicts. Among the number was Brantley, who helped to murder the Aurora merchant, Mr. Bonner, a few years ago. Brantley asked the guard for a chew of tobacco. Spivey threw the tobacco to him, but instead of picking up the weed, Brantley sprang upon the guard, took his gun, and escaped, with four others. Joe Jordan, white, serving a life sentence, stood still and refused to follow Brantley. The negroes also refused to go. One of the escaped convicts was captured last evening. Brantley is still at large. He shot one of the bloodhounds. It is expected that he will be captured to-day. Spivey has been suspended until the prison authorities can investigate the matter.—Charlotte Observer.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.
Washington, D. C., May 8th, '99
Secretary Alger, who has just returned to Washington, is lacking in many of the characteristics that go to make an ideal Secretary of War, but he attempts to make up for all of them with gall, of which he has about as much as any man who ever held a cabinet portfolio. And his latest is a little beyond all his previous exploits in the gall line. He has actually gone so far as to dictate to Mr. McKinley, if the public talk of his henchmen can be believed. According to the Algerites, Alger is not satisfied with the white-washing given him by the War Commission and the alleged vindication given him by the report of the Military Court of Inquiry, which Mr. McKinley has just approved and ordered published, but demands that Gen. Miles shall be deposed from the command of the army. In addition to having demanded this of Mr. McKinley, Alger is said to have told him that if he did not issue the order transferring Miles from Commander of the army to one of the Military Divisions, he would, as Secretary of War, issue it himself, thus forcing Presidential action one way or the other. It is not surprising that Mr. McKinley should have concluded to go to the Virginia Hot Springs and try to clear out his system by a few hot baths. But it is Algerism he will have to clean out to accomplish anything.

Boss Platt's edict has gone forth that New York shall have but one candidate for the Speakership, and that Payne, Ray and possibly other members of the delegation, who have either positively or partially announced themselves as candidates, will be forced out of the way to give Sherman the unanimous support of the delegation. This, and rumors that Sherman had made a deal with Hanna caused quite a marked boom in Sherman stock, and Sherman is now in favor in sporting circles.

Treasury officials have refused to allow an item headed "traveling expenses" in the personal accounts of Roger C. Spooner, Special Indian Agent "temporarily" in charge of the Indian warehouse in Chicago, because the aforesaid traveling expenses were incurred by Spooner in going between his home in Wisconsin and his office in Chicago, and are not considered to have been necessary to the proper performance of his public duties. Spooner is a brother of Senator Spooner and

Beauty Is Blood Deep.
Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cascarets, Candy Cathartic clean your blood and keep it clean, by stirring up the lazy liver and driving all impurities from the body. holds his position by a trick. The position of Superintendent of the Indian warehouse is supposed to be under Civil Service Rules; also to be vacant. Nearly a year ago, Senator Spooner carried an order to Secretary Bliss, from Mr. McKinley, telling him to provide a good place for his brother. It was done by appointing him as Special Indian Agent and putting him in temporary charge of the warehouse in Chicago, where he has been ever since, filling a position that is in the classified service, without ever having even taken an examination. Still, there are some otherwise level-headed men who will get "nutty" when the Civil Service Rules are spoken of as the humbug they really are.

Mr. McKinley seems to be developing a disposition to play Czar. He ordered Representative Henderson, of Iowa, Chairman of the Republican Caucus Committee that recently completed a financial bill, when he called at the White House with a copy of the bill, to change it before it was submitted to the republicans of the Senate Finance Committee, who it seems must approve it before it is made public. Col. Henderson is a peppery sort of a fellow occasionally, but being a candidate for Speaker of the House he did not care to quarrel with Mr. McKinley, so he only called his attention to the fact that every clause in the bill had been put there by unanimous vote of the Committee. The order to change it was reiterated by Mr. McKinley.

It has been decided by the republican leaders that an extra session of Congress shall be called, probably early in the fall, but in order to give themselves an opportunity to change their minds, should it be deemed advisable later to do so, they will not say more than that an extra session is probable. The fact of the matter is that they are getting uneasy over the political outlook. A short time ago they were figuring on a walk-over for McKinley next year, but now they are frightened. One of them said: "Mr. McKinley will, of course, be a candidate for renomination, but it is by no means certain that he will win. The scandals under his administration have made it difficult for his friends to defend it. Alger, Shafter, Eagan and others, who have figured prominently in the administration, have not added to Mr. McKinley's reputation or improved his chances for renomination. Conservative observers believe that Algerism and Eaganism will prove to be a heavier lead than Mr. McKinley can carry, and that even if he should be nominated again, he would be defeated.

The Philippine situation continues to be a combination of dickering and fighting, although the administration claims that the submission of Aguinaldo is now fully assured, but they do not say when. His subjugation has been a sure thing from the first, but it has already cost more, both in money and blood than it will ever be worth to the people of this country.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew airily remarks that "the Republican party will adopt a plank condemning Trusts." ### An Alphabetical Rhyme.

Dr. Cyrus Edson contributes a paper to the North American Review on the question: "Is Drunkenness Curable?" and ends the article by reciting an alphabetic rhyme, describing all the stages of alcoholism from the first sip to a drunkard's grave, which he learned from a patient, a young man of great ability and fine moral perceptions, who was an incurable inebriate. The doctor said that his eyes would stream with tears as he recited the following verses, describing his own case and career. It is the most truthful and graphic picture of the kind that has been printed:

- A stands for Alcohol; death-like its grip;
- B for Beginner, who takes just a sip;
- C for Companion who urges him on;
- D for the Demon of drink that is born;
- E for Endeavor he makes to resist;
- F stands for Friends who so loudly insist;
- G for the Guilt that he afterwards feels;
- H for the Horrors that hang at his heels;
- I his Intentions to drink not at all;
- K for his Knowledge that he is a slave;
- J stands for Jeering that follows his fall;
- L stands for Liquor his appetite doth crave;
- M for convivial Meetings so gay;
- N stands for No he tried hard to say;
- O for the Orgies that then come to pass;
- P stands for Pride that he drowns in his glass;
- Q for the Quarrels that nightly abound;
- R stands for Ruin that hovers around;
- S stands for Sights that his vision bedim;
- T stands for Trembling that seizes each limb;
- U for his Usefulness sunk in the slums;
- V stands for Vagrant he quickly becomes;
- W for Waning of life that's soon done;
- X for Xit, regretted by none;
- Youth of this nation, such weakness is crime,
- Zealously turn from the tempter in time!

The Advertiser's Opportunity.

Opportunism in political life is admitted to be a legitimate accessory of party control, and it would seem not unwise for a man in public life to take advantage of favorable occasions to improve his chances for success if he be not compelled to act against the dictates of his conscience. The same may justly be said of the merchant, with the difference that he may be an opportunist at all times without incurring odium. In fact, it must be the steadfast purpose of the business man to constantly look for promising occasions. He should note what the public wants, and, having perceived the opportune period, he should prepare to supply the particular demand. It is then that the boundless influence of advertising comes into play.—Philadelphia Record.

A hot "time in the old town" of Durham is certainly anticipated this summer. The Sun gives the following particulars:

"On West Main street, just across the street from Brown & Strickland's undertaking establishment, can be seen a nice tent. Inquiry revealed the fact the tent belonged to the above mentioned firm, and is to be used in connection with burials during the summer months. It is to be put up to keep off the hot rays of the sun while a burial is in progress, and also in digging a grave. All that is required is to put up the tent over the spot where the grave is to be dug, and then persons are safe from the penetrating rays of the sun."

For real thoughtful consideration, certainly of the living, possibly of the dead, the Durham funeral directors deserve the premium.—Raleigh Post.

No Cure Constipation Forever.
Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

The fairest estimate of the cost of our war undertakings on land and sea is obtained by a comparison of the outlay for the army and navy for the year preceding the outbreak of hostilities with the expenditure for the year following.

This shows an excess of expenses for the army in the past year of $193,441,605, and an excess for the navy of $52,586,280—a total of $235,027,885. If the $20,000,000 paid for the Philippine Islands be added the net cost up to the end of April amounted to $266,027,885. Expenditure in the Philippines will largely increase the amount, but how much the shrewdest guessing would fail to disclose.—Philadelphia Record.

HEADACHE
"Both my wife and myself have been using CASCARETS and they are the best medicine we have ever had in the house. Last week my wife was frantic with headache for two days, she tried some of your CASCARETS, and they relieved the pain in her head almost immediately. We both recommend Cascarets."

TETTER ON THE HANDS.

For several years I was a sufferer from tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well. MRS. M. E. KING.

A queer Examination. Difficulties of the service examinations are multiplied in the requirements set down by law of applicants for positions in the mail service of China.

In the first place an applicant must have strength and courage. To acquire these he goes through a very queer method of training. He wanders through mountains and valleys, forests and caves. The exact time to be occupied in a trip is fixed by law and a heavy fine imposed for unnecessary delay. He must repeat these trips at night, and if he listens to the bad spirits and thereby fails to appear at the required time at a certain place he is sure to lose his rights to a position.

This is not all. He is obliged to carry an enormous weight for many miles and return with it within a given time. No allowance is made for his inability to defend himself against thieves and highwaymen, his road usually leading through a district thick with bandits.

In training the candidate eats very little—though he is used to this—and he tries every straining exercise. Then comes his real examination under the direction of government officials. He is taken into a long room, where, suspended from a high beam with strong ropes, are very heavy sacks filled with rocks.

The candidate must give a swinging motion to all these sacks and then run to and fro between them, carefully guarding against a blow by one of the weights.

Curiosities of Journalism.

A paper in India recently published the following explanation: "This is only the beginning of our paper. We were not sure how much matter was required to fill it up, and, thinking we had sufficient, we did not exert ourselves much to get any more. We therefore beg that our readers will excuse us this time for the space left blank, and we promise to do better and get more in the future."

Still more curious was the announcement of a paper which came out for the first time with two columns blank. The editor making the bold announcement that "a large quantity of exceedingly interesting matter has been left out for want of space."

When the native editor wants a holiday he suspends publication until it is convenient to resume, and, taking his readers into his confidence, informs them plainly why the paper was not issued on the expected dates. "With the consent of our readers, we now propose to take our annual holiday. We are sure none of them will begrudge us our relaxation."

A Couple of Rat Stories.

George Purcell tells some stories about mining cool that are interesting. Purcell says a rat, when caught in a trap, will cut off a limb to escape. One day he caught a rat with a blacksmith's pinchers. He had only time to fix the pinchers on the rat's tail, but with sufficient grip to hold the rat for a time. He intended taking the rat to a feed box in the barn, where its fighting qualities could be tested by a ferrier. The rat, hanging by its tail, turned around to free itself from the pinchers. Finding that the pinchers were heavier than its teeth, it turned its head to its own tail. It cut with its teeth a ring around the tail and then sprang jump. The rat pulled off the pinchers, leaving the tail covered in one ring. Purcell and the ferrier. It is necessary to say that the rat escaped.

Miners believe that rats leave a falling mine. M. W. Kerrigan met a horde of rats one day when he was entering a mine. He attempted to kill them with a stick, but as fast as he knocked one out another took his place. He was accompanied by a dog, and the dog was so badly bitten by the rats that he sought shelter behind Kerrigan. Seeing that the dog was badly injured by the attack of the rats, Kerrigan took him outside the mine to have his injuries attended to. Kerrigan then returned to the workings, but was surprised to find that the entry in which he had met the rats had fallen in during his absence.—Pittsburg News.
