STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Union county had a cotton bloom on the 14th.

A Forsyth county farmer was bitten on the finger by a puppy. A few days later the man was taken with lock jaw and died.

The Benbow House at Greensboro was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon. The loss was about $100,000 without a cent insurance. The Benbow was one of the best hotels in the State. It will be rebuilt at once.

On Friday the Teachers' Assembly at Morehead elected the following officers for the next year: President, D. Matt Thompson, of Statesville; first Vice-President, J. Allen Holt, of Oak Ridge; other Vice-Presidents, F. P. Hobgood, J. H. Joyner, Miss Mary Arrington, T. P. Harrison, J. R. Bridgers, J. C. Horner, W. D. Weeks, J. B. Carlyle.

Marriage Licenses.

Last week Register of Deeds Moore issued eight marriage licenses, four for white couples and four for colored.

WHITE.

W. H. Claytor and Mary Worthington.

J. L. Starkey and Cottie G. Hearne.

W. S. Elks and Addie Gardner.

J. J. Satterthwaite and Jennie Ward.

COLORED.

Bennett Climmons and Lena Brown.

Sherman Johnson and Jady Edwards.

Henry Grimes and Arrena Whichard.

Edgar Tyson and Willie Ann Edwards.

The University.

The growth and expansion of the University should be a matter of pride to every North Carolinian. In efficiency, patronage and public favor it is now second to none in the South. Its requirements are exact, its standard rigid, its tone of life high and manly. Its academic roll is the largest in the South, and in all its history it has never been so close to the people, and so able to serve them. Ambitious and needy boys should remember its motto is equality, opportunity and self-help.

We Need All These.

If public spirit in Greenville would join in the race and keep pace with private enterprise there would be some permanent improvements that the town would be proud of. Electric lights, water works and better streets all ought to be close followers to the many building improvements. And it should not be overlooked that factories and a modern hotel are among the town's greatest needs.

A. O. of A.

Egyptian Council, Ancient order of Amoreans, held its annual election of officers on Thursday, June 15th, and the following were elected:

W. C.—J. Z. Gardner.

V. C.—D. C. Moore.

J. C.—F. C. Harding.

Chaplain—J. T. Matthews.

Sec. & Treas.—D. S. Smath.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

National banks are now generally soliciting subscriptions to the Dewey home fund.

William H. Fisher shot his bride of six weeks at New Orleans and then killed himself.

Suit has been begun at St. Louis for an accounting of the proceeds of the sale of the Drummond Tobacco Company's plant to the Trust.

The body of Augustin Daly, who recently died at Paris, arrived at New York Saturday.

Members of the Chicago Board of Education are threatened with arrest for contempt of Court for not accepting employe certifications of the Civil Service Commission.

Five men were killed in the explosion of a powder mill at San Rafael, Cal.

Opportunity not Lacking.

Merchants in small towns are constantly complaining of a lack of opportunity, says Profitable Advertising, yet it is just such localities that the greatest opportunities in the world to make hits are found. Take a town of 5,000 inhabitants, where a little daily newspaper regularly serves the population with the latest news, and then suppose some enterprising grocer, dry goods dealer, clothier or other business man should suddenly commence to advertise in metropolitan style—why, it would create a mild sensation. His store would be visited by hundreds who never before had patronized him.—Press and Printer.

Died

George Ann Allen, June 13th, 1899. God has plucked this bright and lovely daughter from us. It is for a purpose none of us dare divine. He alone can pour balm upon our crushed and sorrowing hearts. The holy joy is ours of knowing that her eyes look down upon us and watch for our coming and that she will receive us when life's dark day is done.

It was so sudden, our white lips said,

How we shall miss her, the dear daughter dead,

Who will take the place of the precious fled?

But God knoweth best.
MAGGIE HEMBY.

Approaching Marriage.

The marriage of Mr. James L. Fleming and Miss Louia White will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock in the Baptist church. They will leave on the morning train for a bridal tour to Asheville and other points in the western part of the State and upon their return to Greenville will hold a reception at Hotel Macon. No cards were sent out to persons living in Greenville, but all friends are invited to attend both the marriage and the reception.

Both Lose Their Mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pollard, of this town, have just sustained a double bereavement. Mrs. Allen Hardee, mother of Mrs. Pollard, died Saturday night at her home in Contentnea township, and Mrs. Fannie Pollard, mother of Mr. Pollard, died Sunday night at her home in Farmville.

S-say on Clothes.

We are writing about Clothes because we are "THE KING CLOTHIER." It is our "line" and we are proud of it. The Child, the Boy, the Youth, and the grown-up Man, all have a prominent place in our mind. Our CHILDREN DEPARTMENT was somewhat disfigured by the fire but we still have some rare bargains in it that are the real stuff. For instance we can sell you a BOPS 2-PIECE SUIT for 65 cents or a PAIR of PANTS for 10 cts. Now ain't that Bargains? If you see the goods you'll agree with us. These Suits fit, they are stylish, strongly sewed and made of good material. There is a great future for the boy who wears our Clothes. Provided his habits are as correct as his clothes. And in Mens Wear, too, we are "roosting on the highest limb." The fire destroyed a great many of our Suits but we have them from $2.50 up. We can fit you.

"Breathes there a man so stout or slim That clothes fall off fitting? Let him take heart, for if he tries In our store he'll find his size. No shape or style do we omit To fit men who are hard to fit."

We guard the QUALITY of our stock with sleepless vigilance. Never is a poor article allowed in our stock. New line of MONDAY, JUNE 19, 1899.

The lynching of the negro Lewis Patrick by a mob in Carteret county, one night last week, adds another disgraceful blot upon the history of our State. From what can be learned of the lynching there were only a few people connected with it, and the bulk of the citizens of that county condemn the affair as severely as do the people of the State generally. The perpetrators of this lynching are equally as guilty of murder as was the man who took the life of the merchant Weeks. Patrick seems to have been implicated in that crime, and the mob that took his life have not only steeped their hands as deep in crime but have also intercepted the law in taking its course in dealing with a criminal and prevented justice being done. Doubtless there were others beside Patrick connected with the murder of Weeks which would have developed in a full investigation before court, but this hasty action of the mob blots out the possibility of bringing them to justice. The lynching is greatly deplored.

When the Morganton bank collapsed the State had $6,000 deposited there for the use of the asylum at Morganton. Now an argument is on between the State Treasurer and the trustees of the asylum as to whether the State or the asylum should lose the money.

The Best Sort of Advertising.

It is true that all the many methods of advertising now in vogue have some value. The use of posters, circulars and cards is not entirely unproductive of expected results; but for prompt, direct and profitable returns newspaper advertising is pre-eminently above all other mediums at the command of the busy and wide-awake tradesman. There are two features of a newspaper by which the advertiser may estimate the value of its advertising space—its circulation and its prestige. A newspaper which is extensively circulated and which exercises an influence upon its readers must, therefore, be the most desirable agency through which a merchant may exploit his wares.—Philadelphia Record.

The Opportunity of the Southern Newspaper.

Not long ago, says The Columbia State, a newspaper correspondent sent out from Greenville a dispatch to The Atlanta Constitution telling of the success and prosperity of the cotton mills around that town. The figures were attractively presented and the article was well written. That dispatch has been reprinted and commented upon far and wide by all kinds of papers as an evidence of the condition of cotton manufacturing in the South and as an omen for future development. There is no telling what may be the results of that advertisement.

This recalls a similar incident. About six weeks ago, a paragraph was sent to The Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, from Charlotte, telling what Charlotte's condition was in 1880, and showing what has since been accomplished in the growth and prosperity of the city by the building of factories, and this single paragraph has given Charlotte more advertising than it had received from any other source. It was copied in all the leading papers of the country, and in many of them it was made the subject of editorial comment. Even yet the article turns up in an occasional exchange.

The Observer is in full accord with The State when it says that correspondents can learn something from these incidents, and so can editors. The State expresses the correct idea when it says that instead of devoting so much space and energy to accounts of crimes and descriptions of criminals, why not write up the resources, advantages and developments of your town, county or section? There can be no excuse for suppressing the truth about crimes which are deplorably frequent, but there is such a thing as overdoing the matter. The publication of the details of lynchings and murders does not seem to have a deterrent effect, though it doubtless sometimes aids the ends of justice. But there is one thing certain—a great deal of good is accomplished by the presentation of the agricultural and industrial advantages of our section and the consequent encouragement of investment.—Charlotte Observer.

Sharp Negro.

A colored man named, Joe Brown who lives near Warrenton, has been playing quite a smart trick on Mr. W. N. Ellis, the shuttle block saw mill man. He sold a small load of wood to Mr. Ellis nearly every day, so Mr. Ellis suspected something wrong and set a watch Friday night in his yard, which has a good deal of timber on it. He was caught in his trick of getting wood from the yard at night and then driving back in the morning and selling to Mr. Ellis the wood he had stolen. He is now in jail awaiting the criminal court.—Warrenton Record.

Strange Things Happen.

During the Confederate reunion at Charleston Miss Janie Meares, daughter of Captain Thomas D. Meares, of our city, visited the South Carolina city, and there lost a handsome and valuable pearl brooch, with a diamond setting. There were from 30,000 to 40,000 visitors in Charleston at that time, and as a matter of course Miss Meares never expected to hear of her brooch again. The old adage of "the unexpected always happens," comes up here, however, for, strange to relate, the young lady yesterday received her lost jewel.

Its recovery was brought about in a most singular manner. A young lady of Charleston is now visiting Wilmington, and Miss Meares mentioned to her that she had lost her brooch when she visited Charleston. The Charleston young lady said that a friend of hers picked up a jewel of the description, and it turned out that it was the one lost by Miss Meares. The jewel was returned to her, and she is happy over its recovery. It was picked up on the streets, and was lost while Miss Meares was getting on or off a street car.—Wilmington Messenger.

Anti-Trust Laws of Texas.

Following is an epitome of the anti-trust laws of Texas, just enacted:

Every combination of capital or its equivalent for the restraint of trade, whether organized under the laws of Texas or any other State, doing business within the State, is deemed a trust or monopoly.

The giving away of any article or selling it for less than cost for the purpose of preventing free competition in manufacture or distribution is prohibited.

Refusal to buy or sell to any person because he is not a member of the combination is prohibited.

Violators of the act are subject to a loss of their charters or prohibited from doing business within the State and are subject to a fine of $200 to $5,000 for each offense. Each day's business is a separate offense.

Prosecutors are given one-fourth of the penalties. All court business may be set aside for the trial of a case under the act.

Purchasers of articles manufactured by violators of the law cannot be obliged to pay for them.

Better Known Than You Think.

In studying the map of the United States the other day we discovered a fact which was unknown to us and we venture to say, had never been thought of by many geographical students. The discovery is, that it is farther from the eastern limit of North Carolina to the western limit, than it is from the northern limit of North Carolina to the Dominion of Canada. If you don't believe this statement take your map and rule and go to measuring.—Burlington News.
