HYDROPHOBIA'S VICTIM.

Horrible Death of Eleven Year Old Boy. Train of Terrors Caused by Mad Dog.

Ten weeks ago Preston Oglesby, the eleven year old son of Mr. Levi A. Oglesby, of Wildwood, a small station on the A. & N. C. railroad in Carteret county, was bitten by a mad dog, and last Saturday he died with hydrophobia, the result of the dog's bite.

The story of the dog's wild rush through the village is horrible in its train of terrible results, and that one animal can cause such destruction only proves the danger which is possible to come from dogs.

The story of this mad dog's running and biting is as follows:

Some ten weeks ago this dog came rushing through Wildwood, and biting a horse, hog and ox. These animals died within three weeks.

The horse was bitten through the nose, and while feeding, afterwards, the matter from the horse's nose got into the feed in the trough which some chickens ate. The chickens were seized with spasms and nearly died.

A chicken, belonging to a colored family was killed by the dog, and the family ignorantly thought to save the chicken by cooking it, and the whole family died from eating

Young Oglesby, who died Saturday, was bitten on the face but the wound had healed and the boy was thought to be all right.

But Friday last the boy became sick, and death came the next day, as related above.—New Bern Journal.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

The most amusing thing that has taken place during court was that of Mun Helton. He had no lawyer and conducted his own defence. He examined the witnesses in great style, and when through with Sheriff Boyd on the stand said, with all the dignity of a prosecuting attorney: "Stand aside, sheriff." He won his case, and the judge advised him to quit his devilment and go to practicing law.—Lenoir Topic.

Reports coming from the country says the crops were never in better condition, or the prospect for a good crop greater. In the South Creek section corn is far advanced, so much so, some of the farmers are laying by their crops. And as for cotton, one farmer has promised to present us with the first cotton bloom, and says: "The entire crop outlook in the county is better than it has been in years."—Washington Gazette.

Archie Huffstetter, aged 27, a blind inmate of the poor house, and Sallie Ingle, a widow, aged 37, with four children, who was until recently an inmate of the same institution, were married Saturday night at 10 o'clock, by Esquire Philip Carpenter. The mother of the groom is also an inmate of the poor house.—Lincolnton Journal.

LOST.—Many golden opportunities have been lost by those who suffer from rheumatism. By taking Rheumacide now they will be permanently and positively cured.

S-say on Clothes.

We are writing about Clothes because we are "THE KING CLOTHIER." It is our "line" and we are proud of it. The Child, the Boy, the Youth, and the grown-up Man, all have a prominent place in our mind. Our CHILDREN DEPARTMENT was somewhat disfigured by the fire but we still have some rare bargains in it that are the real stuff. For instance we can sell you a BOPS 2-PIECE SUIT for 65 cents or a PAIR of PANTS for 10 cts. Now ain't that Bargains? If you see the goods you'll agree with us. These Suits fit, they are stylish, strongly sewed and made of good material. There is a great future for the boy who wears our Clothes. Provided his habits are as correct as his clothes. And in Mens Wear, too, we are "roosting on the highest limb." The fire destroyed a great many of our Suits but we have them from $2.50 up. We can fit you.

"Breathes there a man so stout or slim That clothiers fall of fitting? Let him take heart, for if he tries In our store he'll find his size. No shape or style do we omit To fit men who are hard to fit."

We guard the QUALITY of our stock with sleepless vigilance. Never is a poor article allowed in our stock. New line of

MAKING A PAPER READABLE.

How the People May Aid the Editor to This End.

The people of every community, both in town and country, can be of great service to the editor and help him materially in publishing a more valuable and interesting paper, and with little time and trouble on their part. Do you ask in what way? By furnishing him with items of news and the contribution of timely and practical articles for publication. For instance when persons leave town, or return or have friends visiting them, they should in some manner apprise the newspaper of the fact. The telephone is in a newspaper office for that purpose, or the news can be sent by postal card or letter.

A great many people have an unnatural modesty about doing this, but they need not have, for the editor is glad to receive anything suitable for publication that is really news. He cannot find out what is going on without some source of information. His power of intuition may be ever so keen and well developed but he must needs be told the news before he can tell it to others. Failure to so inform him, whether due to want of thought or indifference is the reason many personal items and other minor matters fail to appear in the paper.

The fact is the editor would greatly appreciate it if informed of every item or occurrence of local or general interest which comes under the notice of friends of the paper. Social and personal news is always interesting and a newspaper wants to get it. Another point: In case of a marriage or death, the newspaper should be promptly notified, giving all the facts, dates, etc. from which a suitable notice may be written. But alas! how many people ever do it!

The editor is left to hustle around and gather information the best he can and then if a wrong initial or date is used or the article is not exactly what some body thinks it should be he is censured for the sin of omission. But if there is any merit in the act of commission—that is to say if he does anything particularly pleasing—he seldom ever hears of it.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

Courtship in Germany.

"When a girl has arrived at what is considered a marriageable age in Germany her parents invite young men to the house," writes Charlotte Bird, of "Girl Life in Germany," in the July Ladies' Home Journal. "Two or three are invited at the same time so that the attention may not seem too pointed. But no young man is ever invited to the house until after he has called at least once, and thus signified his wish to have social intercourse with the family. If he call several times in too close succession it is taken for granted that he has 'intentions' and he may be questioned concerning them. Generally an engagement is made public as soon as the arrangements can be made. This is done by means of the newspapers and formal announcements on cards. The man supplies a plain gold band ring for each. This is worn during the engagement on the ring finger of the left hand. From this time the contracting parties are bride and bridegroom. Among conservative people even the affianced couple is scarcely allowed to be alone, a chaperon being provided whenever the young people go out. A betrothal may last several years, until the bridegroom can become settled in life, but in most cases the marriage soon takes place. Just before the marriage the bans are published in the church, either on two successive Sundays or, if the time be short, twice on the same day. In the latter case a notice is posted in a public place notifying all concerned of the wish of the couple to marry."

In the Philippines.

Gen. Otis in a cablegram to the War Department at Washington sums up the situation in the Philippines as follows:

"Rainy season. Little inland campaigning possible in Luzon. We occupy large portion. Tagalog country, lines stretching from Imus south to San Fernando north, nearly 60 miles, and to eastward into Laguna Province. Insurgent armies have suffered great losses and are scattered; only large force held together about four thousand in Tarlac Province and northern Pampanga. Their scattered forces in bands of fifty to five hundred in other portions Luzon; in Cavite and Batangas Provinces could assemble possibly, two hundred, demoralized from recent defeats; mass of people terrorized by insurgent soldiers, desire peace and American protection; no longer flee on approach our troops unless forced by insurgents, but gladly welcome them; no recent burning of towns; population within our lines becoming dense, taking up land cultivation extensively; kept out Manila much as possible, as city population becoming too great to be care for. Natives southeast Luzon combining to drive out insurgents; only hope insurgent leaders is United States aid. They proclaim near overthrow present administration to be followed by their independence and recognition by United States. This is the influence which enables them hold out; much contention prevails among them and no civil government remains; trade with ports not in our possession—former source insurgent revenues, now interdicted; not certain of wisdom of this policy, as people in those ports are without supply of food and merchants suffering losses; mediate restoring trade privileges, although insurgents reap benefits. Courts here in successful operation under direction of able Filipinos. Affairs in other islands comparatively quiet awaiting results in Luzon. All anxious for trade and repeated calls for American troops received. Am giving attention to Jolo archipelago and Palawan Islands. Our troops have worked to limit of endurance. Volunteer organizations have been called in; replaced by regulars, who now occupy salient positions. Nebraska, Pennsylvania and Utah now taking transports and Sixth infantry sent to Negros to relieve California. These troops in good physical condition: sickness among troops has increased lately, due mostly to arduous service and climatic influences. Nothing alarming. Of the 12 per cent of the command reported sick, nearly 6 per cent in general hospital, of whom 3 per cent have typhoid and 17 malarial fever; twenty-five per cent have intestinal trouble; remaining fifty five per cent have various ailments, fourteen of which due to wound injuries. Many officers and men who served in Cuba break under recurrence Cuban fever, and regular regiments lately received are inadequately officered.

Suppose.

Suppose a lady should come into your store and ask if you had any good canned peas. Naturally you would answer yes. Very probably you would reach up and get a can of Baltimores. But would you content yourself with simply laying it on the counter, with the remark: "Baltimore brand, sifted small early June peas, ten cents a can?" Wouldn't you in every case say something like this: "These peas are delicious, madam. They are very small and tender, and I never tasted anything better?" That is exactly what you ought to say in your advertisements. A splendid way to write advertisements is to imagine a customer standing before your counter. Put in your advertisement exactly what you would say were she standing face to face with you.—Grocery World.

Given Laudanum.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foley had a very narrow escape from death yesterday. The nurse, a girl about fourteen years old gave it a dose of laudanum, how much and in what way no one knows. It was discovered by Mrs. Foley that the child was under the influence of something. Dr. Moye was called in and soon found that the child was in a precarious condition. He called in Dr. Bagwell and by the united and skillful efforts of both they succeed in what might be a restoration of the child to life. Signs of improvements were noticed about 11 o'clock last night and we learn that the child has continued to improve since.

TYPE AND PRESS.

WHO WANTS IT? SPEAK QUICK.

THE REFLECTOR recently purchased two printing office outfits and has a quantity of surplus material that will be sold cheap. There is a cylinder press large enough to print a nine column paper, in splendid condition, and a quantity of Small Pica, Long Primer, Brevier and Nonpariel body type. We can furnish a complete outfit large enough for a six or seven column paper.

Specimens of the body type are shown in this advertisement, the type being taken from the case just as it runs, so it shows for itself how well it prints. This is the Small Pica size of which there is 1 pair of cases.

Then here is a paragraph set from the Long Primer-size. We have 4 pairs of these cases. In buying this type you do not get something that is worn out and cast aside, but a good serviceable type, capable of much wear.

Here is something a little smaller, Brevier size. There are 2 pairs of these and it is a bargain for somebody interested in printing. It may not come but once in a lifetime that an opportunity is given for buying type as cheap as we will sell these lots.

Again we have 1 pair of cases of this Non pariel size, a very useful type in any printing office. Cases will be sold with the type of all sizes. Any printer who can use any or all of this type can make us a spot cash offer. While we prefer a customer for a whole outfit, press and type, one case of type will be sold if no more is wanted.

Conferring With the Public.

It would be well for the merchant to remember that he talks to the people through his advertisements. Each day that he advertises in a newspaper which circulates extensively he may be considered to be in conference with his patrons. Not having them before him at the moment, he uses the advertising columns in order to tell them what he wants them to know; and if he tell it in a proper manner his information and suggestions will be heeded, to the advantage of his customers and himself. Naturally, an abundant show of confidence ought to characterize the business announcements by which the clever and discerning tradesman puts himself into direct communication with the purchasing public.—Philadelphia Record.

The James City Affairs.

There is some interest in the result of the third attempt by Sheriff Hahn to eject the negroes who live in the negro town of James City, near New Bern, and who refuse to pay rent or leave. It is learned from New Bern people that the negroes, who formed into a mob to resist the Sheriff last week, engaged in dances and orgies quite in the Voodoo style and that they were really like savages in their behavior during their dancing. Only negroes reside in James City.

According to the latest report of the Tax Department of Greater New York, the original total assessment of real and personal property has shrunk from over eleven billions of dollars to less than three and one-half billions. The enormous reduction is in the personal estate, which has been reduced on the assessment rolls from over $8,000,000,000 to less than $554,000,000 by judicious "swearing off." Less than one per cent. of real estate valuations were deducted on hearings by the Tax Commissioners, and it is upon this class of property that the burden of taxation will chiefly and necessarily fall. Personal property has wings, and flies away when the taxgatherer appears.—Philadelphia Record.
