SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1899.

Troubles of The Cigarette Trust.

After years of sturdy fighting against the Tobacco Trust it begins to look as though D. H. McAlpin were about to win the great struggle of his life.

From Wall Street come more and more persistent rumors of dissension among the friends of the trust, and though the men most concerned smile and say nothing, the rumors will not down.

That there have been important resignations from the directorship of the trust—better known as the American Tobacco Company—cannot be denied, for they are matters of record. That these resignations are significant, Wall Street insists, and the alleged differences are regarded by many as signs of the disintegration of one of the greatest "grab-all" corporations in the world. Wholesale resignations, talk of a rival trust and reports of internecine quarrels suggest that one of the oldest and boldest of the trusts is about to break up.

And while all this is going on the sturdy, shrewd old Scotchman, D. H. McAlpin, watches quietly but closely the signs of collapse of the organization that for years aimed to drive him from the field because he would not yield to its demands.

While such men as Pierre Lorillard and George D. Finley, Harrison I. Drummond and David Keller are leaving their desks and getting outside of the ring McAlpin is flooding the country with enormous advertisements of tobacco and cigarettes, "Not made by a Trust." From every highway and byway, from every fence and billboard, the "Not made by a Trust" sign stares the monopoly men in the face.

McAlpin bided his time and just kept fighting quietly, but persistently, for ten years.

Now it would appear that his time has come.

In his fight he has been ably seconded by public sentiment, the sentiment that revolted against the dominion of the clique over so important an industry as the cigarette and plug tobacco trade has become in this country of smokers.

When Duke and Lorillard and the other great manufacturers came together in 1890 and proposed to control the cigarette and plug tobacco trade McAlpin was offered a share in the enterprise. He refused. Then the offer assumed the aspect of a threat and the refusal became a defiance. The Trust offered the tempting bait of economy in advertising. With no competition this most serious portion of the running expenses could be eliminated, they argued.

"I'll advertise," said McAlpin. Then the screws were put on. It was thought that the task of wiping this recalcitrant one out of existence would be easy, but McAlpin went along and fought valiantly.

McAlpin is still a power in the tobacco industry. His "no trust" goods are known in every corner of the country where tobacco is used.

What of the Tobacco Trust? Pierre Lorillard, president of the P. Lorillard Company of Jersey City, resigned his office a week ago. Report had it that he had resigned as treasurer of the Continental Tobacco Company, which controls the P. Lorillard Company.

George D. Finley, auditor of the Continental, followed. He was also the former secretary and treasurer of the Pierre Lorillard Company. Two other resignations were that of Harrison I. Drummond, of St. Louis, vice-president of and a director in the Continental Tobacco Company, and that of David Keller, of Louisville, Ky., formerly secretary of the same company.

The storm is raging chiefly around James B. Duke, the founder of the trust, who is said to have been driving with too tight a rein. A director of the American Tobacco Company, referring to these troubles, said:

"There have been complaints from certain officers of some of the manufacturing concerns that entered the trust that Mr. Duke has driven with too tight a rein. Several of them have charged that some of Mr. Duke's acts were extremely arbitrary. Other and graver differences, of which I do not feel permitted to speak, exist."

Train Cut His Arm Off.

Early yesterday morning about two miles from Selma, one of the Southern trains ran over the right arm of Frank Price, a white man, completely severing it from his body. He was drunk and down with his arm across the track. He was found half an hour later and taken to Selma by an engine. He walked around awhile before Dr. Nobles could be called to dress his wounds.

Then he went to the depot and sat down. He had not been there long when a negro man came along with the lost arm, which he had found on the track.

The sight of the lost member infuriated Price and he "cussed out" the negro and started for the doctor's office, the negro following with the arm. On the way Price stopped and "cussed out" the barber, who, he said, sold him the whiskey.

"It is a novel sight," said the man who brought the report of the accident to this city, "to see the man walking about the street and a negro coming along behind with his lost arm."—Raleigh News and Observer.

To Cure Constipation Forever.

Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

Four hundred persons are believed to have been drowned in the floods in Texas. The monetary loss is placed at fifteen millions of dollars, about eight millions of which is the cotton crop. A hundred families well to do a few days ago, are now penniless.

Go Slow.

We don't mean by that to encourage laziness, or inaction, as the snail's pace, but we do mean to warn against the break-neck gait and the rush which ends in sure and certain "heart failure." The daily papers bring us daily accounts of the sudden collapse of people who rush through life like they were going to a fire.

The cry of "give, give," "get, get," is repeated day by day, and no matter what the response the cry is again uttered. It would be well if the men of this age would realize that it is not necessary to be very rich. "To owe no man" is glorious, but beyond that we need not want to go. The head with a crown on it is not the only "uneasy" one. The business burdened man staggers beneath the oppressive load, and when he falls in the struggle, for a better name the doctors call it "heart failure." What is that victory worth which causes the heart to fail? Sixty miles an hour is too fast, and yet they are arranging schedules for quicker going. Start to the depot in time to catch the train at an easy gait, and avoid inducing "heart failure" by means of a rush. Get up a little earlier in the morning and don't lose your breath going to the office. Take time to write plainly so the printer and postmaster may understand what you do write. Take time to look over your little debts, and not too much time in paying them. Take time to think of your fellow man, his rights, and the golden rule; and not so much time in discussing his shortcomings and evil rumors. Take time to eat and escape the cruel slavery of all dyspeptics. Take time to rest and don't begin the day tired. Take time to read and learn as well as live. Take time to visit and so kill out the selfish spirit. Take time for thinking and so avoid blundering.

Go slow, but onward, upward, heavenward. A steady gait and you will "get there," a spasmodic "hop, skip and jump," and you will lose breath, and the doctors will say you died of "heart failure."—Durham Sun.

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

BEFORE THE MAYOR.

He Deals Out Justice Well.

Mayor J. G. Moye had three cases before his court this morning and many spectators were present to witness the proceedings. His Honor impressed both the spectators and the defendants before him with his ability in conducting the court, and his dealings with offenders shows a determination on his part that the order and peace of the town must be preserved.

John Clark, for disorderly conduct and using profane language within the hearing of ladies, was assessed $7.50 and costs.

W. H. Harrington and Will Edwards were up for affray. Harrington pleaded guilty. After hearing the testimony the court decided that Edwards was equally guilty and the judgment was a fine of $5 and costs each.

J. H. Cheek and Paul Metrick were given a hearing for having an affray. Cheek pleaded guilty. The trial developed that Cheek had thrown some water on Metrick, Metrick applied some unprintable epithets and Cheek struck him. They clinched and a few blows passed. Metrick was also adjudged guilty and a fine of $5 and costs each was entered.

The total fines and costs in the three cases amounted to about $40, a good collection for the town in one morning.

TYPE AND PRESS.

WHO WANTS IT? SPEAK QUICK.

THE REFLECTOR recently purchased two printing office outfits and has a quantity of surplus material that will be sold cheap. There is a cylinder press large enough to print a nine column paper, in splendid condition, and a quantity of Small Pica, Long Primer, Brevier and Nonpareil body type. We can furnish a complete outfit large enough for a six or seven column paper.

Specimens of the body type are shown in this advertisement, the type being taken from the case just as it runs, so it shows for itself how well it prints. This is the Small Pica size of which there is 1 pair of cases.

Then here is a paragraph set from the Long Primer size. We have 4 pairs of these cases. In buying this type you do not get something that is worn out and cast aside, but a good serviceable type, capable of much wear.

Here is something a little smaller, Brevier size. There are 2 pairs of these and it is a bargain for somebody interested in printing. It may not come but once in a lifetime that an opportunity is given for buying type as cheap as we will sell these lots.

Again we have 1 pair of cases of this Nonpareil size, a very useful type in any printing office. Cases will be sold with the type of all sizes. Any printer who can use any or all of this type can make us a spot cash offer. While we prefer a customer for a whole outfit, press and type, one case of type will be sold if no more is wanted.

We're waiting for you, one and all,
To give a friendly tip!

Our counters are piled high with goods,
Fresh, beautiful and fine;
Our shelves are stocked with novelties
In each and every line.
Come one and all, and come at once,
Don't let your chances slip,
And as a present we will give
You all a friendly tip!

For one and all, for old and young,
For every choice and taste,
We have the goods to suit and please,
So come, and come in haste
We'll bring delight to every heart,
A smile to every lip,
OUR STOCK IS FINE, OUR PRICES LOW,
This is our friendly tip!

They Return Thanks.

Recently a subscription list was taken around by representatives of the Red Hawks Fire Company asking for donations to purchase parade and drill caps and belts for the members. The donations were sufficient and the caps and belts have been procured, of which the boys feel proud. Willis Clark, Captain of the company, requests THE REFLECTOR to return the thanks of the members to every citizen who contributed to the fund, and to say that the boys will be ready whenever their services are needed.

The Best Game Yet.

At Tarboro Monday the best game of ball of the season will take place between Tarboro and Wilson. Both sides have fine players and it will be a warm number. The game will be called early enough to be finished in time for parties from this section to return home on the evening train. Let a crowd go up.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, July 8, '99

We are glad to note that Mrs. W. B. Nobles is able to be up again.

Ike Sugg is going to Greenville this morning to spend the day with his brother Charlie, just returned from Washington City.

We had a short but pleasant call from Major Harding, R. W. King, A. L. Blow, and C. T. Munford Thursday evening, on their way back from Ayden.

W. J. Wyatt received a telegram Thursday evening that his sister who lives in Raleigh was dead. He took the train for Raleigh that night.

The Cigar Co. sent 6000 Cheroots to Vanceboro one day this week, and is shipping several thousand more cigars this morning to Conetoe, Robersonville, and other points.

Have you any cart or wagon? If so what are they made of and how old are they? Were they made by John C. Cox or the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.? If they have lightwood hub and rim would thank you for a reply and will publish it with your name signed.

A. G. COX, MFG. CO.

The Wire Fence business is getting on a boom again. G. W. Parker is the man who will be pleased to wait on you. He also manufactures a safety adjustable Hame Hook which will be sure to hook you if you see it, that is you will certainly buy a pair.

R. L. Jones and family have their furniture all packed up and will take the train this morning for their old home. Mr. Jones moved here from Aurora a few weeks ago. We have appreciated his short stay with us very much, and regret to see him leave.

A. G. Cox is offering his entire Saw Mill Plant, consisting of 30 H. P. Engine, 35 H. P. Boiler, saw fixtures, good Cotton Gin & Power Press, and Brick Mill with full privilege to operate it where it now stands. This is all in running order and is situated suitable to Rail Road.
