A Sad Picture.

On a soft, clean pallet in a corner of the police office last night two little children—girls, aged four and two, respectively—pillowed their curly little heads and slept the sleep of childhood and innocence. Kind hearts that beat under blue, brass-buttoned uniforms had made the bed and had darkened the room, leaving only one dim light there; had, given the little ones milk and bread and had put them to sleep with the tenderness of a mother's love and care.

The picture which one looked at in the office was a beautiful and touching one—beautiful as a study and touching as an illustration of the kindness of heart of the men who wear the uniforms.

It was the old story—a drunken father, neglected children.

The man, D. B. Patterson, came here yesterday from Concord, bringing with him his two little children, whom he was taking to Maxton. He left his wife in Concord. He got drunk soon after reaching here and was seen late in the afternoon, staggering about the streets, carrying the youngest child and leading the oldest. Just before being put up he fell in the gutter in front of Jordan's with the youngest child. Bystanders picked the child up.

The man, on getting up, took the child again and staggered down the street, people looking on the sad sight with pitying eye. It was but a few minutes after when the police arrested Patterson and took the children from him. He was put in the Tombs, and the little ones cared for in the office. Last night Chief Orr 'phoned Chief Harris, of Concord, to tell Mrs. Patterson to come or send after the children. Chief Harris 'phoned in reply that he had told her of her husband's conduct toward the children and that her cries and prayers for them were heartrending.

All through the night policemen kept watch over them.—Charlotte Observer.

Worked all Night.

The workmen under Mr. Linticum who are hastening to complete the store to be occupied by Pulley & Bowen, worked all night long Tuesday night and only knocked off long enough to get breakfast this morning. They will have the front of the store finished so the firm can move in this evening. The other stores in the block will be finished by the end of the week.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, August 28, '99 Tom Wyatt is staying here at his father's this week.

W. H. Rouse, who lives about a mile of here, has a very severe case of typhoid fever.

T. C. Nelson has been making some additions to his house, also the Misses Wesson are adding some new rooms to their boarding house.

"Crowd Drawing Prices." You can get the best Patent Flour at B. F. Manning & Co.'s for $4 per barrel, and this extra offer is drawing the crowds.

We have a new firm here by the name of Dixon & Stokes. Some of the boys call it Winterville Supply Company. It is composed of G. R. Dixon and N. T. Stokes, who bought out Mr. Beacham and are doing business at his old stand.

The Winterville Cigar Co. informs us that many of the business men of Greenville are handling their cigars, and appreciate the fact that it is a home enterprise, and not a combine. We are proud of such friends and trust that they will not only have a big cigar patronage, but have much success in all their trade.

MORE HISTORY.

Our friend, Wm. Worthington, of Ayden, has given us the following about his Lightwood Rim and Hub cart: He has a pair of cart wheels made by J. C. Cox in 1867, and the only work that has been done on them is the putting in of an iron axle, (they were first used with wooden axle). These wheels have been running 32 years, and he says were valued on tax list at $10 this year. We wish to thank Mr. Worthington for this bit of history, and will appreciate any points from others. HISTORIAN.

His Work at Washington.

At the morning service Sunday, Rev. J. N. Booth, tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church to accept a call from the church at Greenville. This news will be received by our people with regret. Mr. Booth expects to leave for his new field of labor October 1st, and will carry with him the best wishes and prayers of all Christians in our city. Since his pastorate here the church has been greatly strengthened and built up and when he leaves the church will be out of debt and a commodious new bell placed in the tower. This popular man of God and estimable wife, wherever their lot is cast, have our best wishes. They will always receive a cordial welcome in Washington.—Washington Messenger.

Make Hay.

Some farmers say that the storm riddled their fodder and that the army worm has eaten the grass up so it is not fit to cut for hay. So in some sections forage will be short. This should lead those farmers in sections where the worm has not visited to make plenty of hay and have some to sell.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30, 1899

A little 8-year-old Durham county girl was the victim of a criminal assault by a negro on Monday. That makes three such crimes committed in North Carolina in less than a week. It is horrible that they should occur, and the law ought to provide that speedy justice be administered for such offenses. It ought to be so that when such a crime occurs a court can be held at once to try the offender. Then there would be fewer lynchings.

The investigation that has been going on at the Roanoke farm developed such brutality on the part of Supervisor Summerell that the Governor has ordered that he be dismissed at once. It also developed in the investigation that one of the convicts had been whipped to death by an overseer and the latter is to be prosecuted for murder. Summerell should also be prosecuted for his inhumanity and dealt with as his cruelty deserves.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington City, Aug. 30, '99. Many of the close friends of President McKinley expect him to retire to private life at the end of his term, declining to be a candidate for re-nomination. Various reasons are assigned for this, the principal ones being that the President has broken in health under the burdens of his office, that Mrs. McKinley finds the many cares of the White House too great for her strength; and the President personally doubts the disposition of the American people to re-elect a chief executive.

It appears that shortly before Elihu Root was appointed Secretary of war a conference of some importance was held in which a number of leading Republicans from New York and elsewhere took part. The qualifications of Mr. Root were discussed at length, and those present took occasion at the same time to consider the general political situation and the prospects for 1900. It developed that the administration has been watching closely the trend of politics in the New England States, and has been far from content with the lukewarm support given the expansion and general Philippine policy by the press and Republican Senators and Representatives in the East. Reference to these conditions was made, and it is stated that the President remarked that unless stronger assurance were forthcoming of zealous support in the hitherto reliable Republican states, he would not feel disposed to be a candidate for re-election. The gentlemen who attended the conference made a number of suggestions along the line of convincing the President that he is the logical candidate for next year, but they left the White house under the distinct impression that Mr. McKinley does not desire renomination under present conditions, and they are given as authority for his determination not to run again. They were not opposed to his candidacy, and hope yet to induce the President to accept renomination. They state, however, in private, and to their intimate friends, that Governor Roosevelt probably will be the choice of the convention; and will have the warm support of the present administration and approval of Mr. McKinley.

The enlistment of practically all the 35,000 provisional army will tax the resources of the Treasury Department to provide funds for the large expenditures made necessary. In spite of the glib assurances of Republicans that "there is plenty of money in sight," it is known that the Treasury officials are not a little disturbed, and already have been casting about to discover new articles for taxation for international revenue. The Republican party managers would like to avoid another bond issue "popular" or otherwise. They also would like to be able to promise the people that some of the troublesome stamp taxes will be abolished in the near future. They cannot do both, with an army of approximately 100,000 in the field. They can avert more bonds only by imposing more taxes, and certain articles now are on the list as probabilities. Drugs will be called upon to stand additional burdens, and the wisdom of a heavy tax on all firearms is being considered.

Says Negroes Must Go.

Gen. M. C. Butler, former United States Senator, has written for publication a letter dealing with the race problem. It is called forth by the recent whipping of negroes at Greenville.

"I am no apologist for lawlessness at the hands of any class," he says, "but public meetings and denunciation will not cure this disease. It is in the blood and will break out somewhere else. You must strike at the root to eradicate it. The poor white men who have to earn their bread by the sweat of their faces cannot compete with cheap negro labor. To attempt to do so implies their degradation and ultimate destruction or expatriation. One race must go to the wall, and with the kindest feelings of good to the negro, I must side with my own race. Two races cannot live together in peace, on terms of equal, civil and political rights, and the sooner we realize that, the better for both races.

"The separation of the races is the only solution to the terrible problem. It is very easy for Tillman and others to denounce the lawlessness of the 'one gallus, wool hat crowd.' Let Mr. Tillman and the others who join him as the guardians of the negro put themselves in the poor white man's place and walk between plow handles from sun-up till sun-down in competition with negro labor at $5 a month, a peck of meal and three pounds of bacon a week.

"Some justification for this lawlessness may be dug from the depths of poverty into which cheap labor has plunged many worthy whites. Cheap labor is the curse of any country. The trials of white men for whitecapping would be a farce and lawlessness would not end. The government of the United States ought to appropriate $100,000,000 and duplicate it as often as necessary to assist the negroes in settling a colony to themselves. This was done for the Indians when they could not live at peace with the whites. A temporary inconvenience by the negro leaving the country might result, but the whites would meet the emergency.

"The wild harangues of men who openly advise the murder of the Tolberts and keeping the negro in a state of quasi-slavery deserve the execration of right-thinking men. That is not the way to bring peace and order into a country.

"The methods of the negro do not justify an attempt to lift him up by increased wages. So long as the races are in immediate contact on present terms, lynchings, whitecappings, mob law, every form of lawlessness, will constantly menace society, obstruct progress and keep up a state of anxiety."—Columbia, S. C., Dispatch.

The wife of a Wellington (Mo.) farmer dropped an earring while feeding her chickens last week, and the jewel was quickly gobbled up by one of the fowls. Unable to pick out the particular chicken, she killed them all, one by one—twenty-seven in number—but failed to recover the earring. Then she began to look around, and found it in the grass, where the old hen had dropped it.

irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual organs. It cures "whites" and falling of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For Change of Life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer another minute with certain relief within reach? Wine of Cardui only costs $1.00 per bottle at your drug store.

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rev. J. W. SMITH, Camden, S. C., says: "My wife used Wine of Cardui at home for falling of the womb and it entirely cured her."

Found an Owner.

Talking about that turkey, Register of Deeds Moore says he took her up, advertised him in THE REFLECTOR, and the owner went after it before the ink got dry on the paper. That was quick enough for a little ad. to do its work.

Always Safe and Profitable.

As an integral branch of the present expanding system of domestic trade advertising is becoming each day more of a necessity to the merchant. The competition with which he must contend constantly requires the use on his part of every legitimate expedient by which he may successfully cope his business rivals. The chief and most profitable agency he can adopt to bring him the needed patronage is judicious advertising in a notably popular and entirely trustworthy newspaper. Investments in that sort of advertising are always safe and profitable.—Philadelphia Record.

Next Monday Labor Day.

Monday, September 4th, is Labor Day, and will be more generally observed here this year than has been the custom in previous years.

This is due more particularly to the fact that by legislative enactment at the last session of the General Assembly Labor Day has been set apart, as a State holiday to harmonize with the Act of Congress, which declared the day a National holiday some years since. This holiday falls on the first Monday in September of each year.—Raleigh News and Observer.

JUST FOR FUN.

"Do you know that your mouth is all a-wry, Colonel?" "I do, suh; I don't believe in wiping that kind of stuff off."

Barber—"Don't you think, sir, I'd better go over the chin again?"

Victim—"It won't be necessary; I've got it almost down by heart now."

Mrs. Henpeck—"Dear! dear! I left my watch up stairs on the bureau and I feel too tired to go after it." Henpeck—"Well, if you'll just wait around long enough, it'll run down."

Happenings in North Carolina.

George Sloan, cashier of the Wilmington Savings & Trust Company, has suddenly disappeared from that city. It is thought that it his account is short the amount is small.

James Lanier, a midget or Ral-eigh, while playing fireman and sliding down a pole fell a distance of fourteen feet and sustained a fracture of the skull that is thought will be fatal.

Numbers of Charlotte people were terrified by a storm early Sunday morning. In an hour 2 1/2 inches of rain fell and lightning struck several houses. One colored woman was killed and her house set on fire and destroyed by the lightning.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

St. Agnes Convent at Sparkill, N. Y., was destroyed by fire Monday morning. Four of the inmates lost their lives and more than three hundred children were imperiled.

The Governor and Supreme Court of West Virginia have joined the colored people in an invitation to Booker T. Washington to revisit his old home at Charlestown, and accept a public reception.

Before you start to school come to the Reflector Book Store and get what you need in the way of tablets, pencils, pens, paper, ink, etc.

Three prisoners, all colored, were brought here and turned over to Sheriff Mooring Tuesday evening. Two of them came from Edgecombe and one from Greene.

The Reflector Book Store has 200 pieces of sheet music to give away. Any little girl studying music can have a piece for the asking. She must call at the office.

A Spotter of Railroad Men.

There are such things in this country as "railroad spotters," men who spy on the actions of railroad conductors and other employees, with a view of trying to catch them doing something they ought not to. We are told that one of these men was in Durham last night, and registered at one of the hotels as being from Chicago. The gentleman who told us is not a railroad man, nor is he connected with a railroad in any capacity, neither is he a hotel man. He claims to know what he is talking about, however.

These "spotters" sometimes board trains and try to beat conductors. If they are successful, then they report the conductors. Railroad men have enough to answer for any way, it strikes us, without tempting them to do wrong. Such a course may be sanctioned and encouraged by the great railroad systems of this country, but it does not seem exactly right.—Durham Sun.

Wheeler Pleased With the Situation.

Manila, August 29—Gen. Wheeler has been ordered to report to MacArthur and will be given command of Funston's brigade. He will proceed to San Fernando tomorrow. He expressed himself as much pleased with the situation. He says Otis will make rapid progress when he gets more troops. The country, he says, is more favorable for military operations than he supposed.

Birthday Party.

Frank Wilson, Jr., had a birthday party Tuesday night at the home of his father in South Greenville. A large number of his little friends were present and it was a fine time they all had.
