The Theatre From The Inside.

That there are five thousand theatres in America, and that one million and a half people attend them each week-day night, spending seventy millions of dollars a year on theatre-going, are the surprising facts with which Mr Franklin Fyles, the dramatic editor of the New York Sun, will open an important series in the next issue of The Ladies' Home Journal. The series will be called "The Theatre and Its People," and will run through seven numbers of the magazine, lavishly illustrated with pictures made by twelve different artists. The articles will treat of every phase of the theatre, the play and the actor, from the inside, and will tell how a theatre is managed; the actual money which plays have made; how an actor is trained and what the actors are actually paid; how a play is written and what the authors receive; how a play is rehearsed; the first night of a play; how the actresses "make up" and what they use; and in a minute way the two last articles will show what goes on behind the scenes on the stage during a performance. It is a curious fact that this will be the first time that the theatre and the actor have ever been exhaustively treated in a magazine, and that there is no book on the subject in existence.

A Death Struggle In Jail.

A dispatch from Asheville says that Sunday night when Jailer W. J. Lee went to turn two prisoners from the bathroom to the main cage of the county jail, John Moore, a negro who was awaiting trial on a larceny charge, sprang upon him and attempted to crush him to the floor. The negro endeavored to pinion the jailer's arms, but the officer worked one hand free and grasped his pistol. The negro saw the movement and caught the weapon so that, though the jailer made three attempts to fire the pistol, he could not do so. He gave his hand a sudden twist, breaking the negro's hold, and then fired, the bullet entering the negro's left side. In spite of the wound Moore tried again to throw the jailer, who then fired a second time, the bullet entering Moore's left shoulder. The negro fell to the floor and in half an hour was dead. Coroner Sevier held an inquest, and the jury rendered a verdict that Jailer Lee had killed Moore while in the performance of his official duty and in the protection of his own life.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Adopt a New Ordinance and Amend Two Others—Some Special Taxes Repealed—Alderman Whitfield Resigns.

The Board of Aldermen had quite a long and busy meeting Thursday night, being in session until 1 o'clock.

There were reports from the various committees and officers that showed the work being done in their departments.

Chapter 2, section 16 of the ordinances relative to fast driving on the streets was amended by adding the words "or in a reckless manner." So those who are careless in handling their horses, as well as those who drive too fast, will be subject to the penalty of the ordinance.

Chapter 2, section 5, relative to persons under 21 years of age visiting barrooms, was also amended by adding the words "nor any pool or billiard room." The boys hereafter must not be found in any of these places.

The special tax of $10 against side shows in connection with a circus was repealed, so that now the whole exhibition is included in the one tax of $50.

The special tax of $50 on venders of oils from a tank or wagon was repealed, and the Standard Oil Company's wagon was classed with drays and subjected to dray tax according to the number of horses used.

A petition was presented asking that persons boarding boys or girls who are attending school within the town, and having no other boarders but pupils of the schools, be exempt from the license tax on boarding houses. This was granted.

The following new ordinance was presented and adopted:

That all persons owning property facing or fronting on Evans street between Third and Fifth streets shall pave the sidewalk in front of his or her property with brick, stone or cement. This shall not apply to sidewalks now covered with plank, except that said sidewalks shall not be repaired with plank or timber when pronounced in bad condition by the Street Committee, but shall then be replaced by brick, stone or cement as above required. Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined $5 for each day such violation continues after written notice from the Chief of Police or Street Committee.

This ordinance shall be in force from and after its adoption.

Alderman N. H. Whitfield, of the Fifth ward, tendered his resignation as a member of the Board, which was accepted. The election of his successor was postponed until next meeting.

The present office used by the Mayor and also by the Board for holding its meetings, being in such a dilapidated and uninhabitable condition, the Board decided to rent an office elsewhere. A room in the upper story of the building erected by J. B. Cherry & Co. for Frank Wilson's store was selected.

It's one thing to teach a hired girl her place and another to keep her from leaving it.

ON BOARD TRAIN,

July 7th, 1899,

Burnt Offering.

After services at the Methodist church last Sunday morning the congregation witnessed what may not improperly be called a burnt offering. It makes one think of the old time religion of the Old Testament. Before undertaking to build their magnificent new church, our Methodist friends wished to lift every dollar of indebtedness and begin again with a clean new balance sheet. Mr. Oliver Davis held a note against the church for $500 in connection with Oakland High School property and Mr. George Gray held another note for $800 or more advanced on the parsonage. The principal and accumulated interest of both notes combined amounted to something near $1,500. Mr. Gray said to Mr. Davis, "I'll surrender my note, if you'll surrender yours, and we will thus free the church from debt." Mr. Davis consented and made it a "go." The notes were surrendered to pastor Detwiler. Last Sunday morning after the sermon and prayer and the last hymn, the pastor held the notes before the congregation and in a few words, as related above, told how he came to hold them, declaring that he intended to set fire to them before the eyes of the people. He stated facetiously that it was not the first time perhaps that these brethren had seen their money go up in smoke, but added that it was his prayer that the smoke from these burning notes would ascend as sweet incense before the Lord. So saying he asked the congregation to sing the long meter doxology and then touched a lighted match to the papers. And so in truth a burnt offering was made before the very eyes of all the people while they sang "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."—Gastonia Gazette.

Biggest Show 'Cept One.

A circus was coming to a Southern town, says the Portland Transcript, and every barn and fence within a radius of 25 miles or more had been covered with the usual lurid announcements. An old-time colored man and a dudish yellow boy were gazing at the bills and wondering.

"Barnum and Bailey's circus. The biggest show on earth." read the old-time darkey, pricking up his ears.

The boy read again the legend of the show-bills.

"You don't know what you is talking about, nigger. Dat show kaint tech John Dobbinson's. He used to come froo here, and da was a show wuth seeing. Dat was de bigges' show on dis earf sho' nough."

The old man had evidently not seen a circus for many years. ELderly colored people throughout the South like to talk about John Dobbinson.

"Read it for yourself, then," said the boy. "I tell you that thing says this is the biggest show on earth."

The old man proceeded to spell out the big letters. He waded through "Barnum and Bailey," and after a rest began on the remainder of the sentence:

"B-i-g-g-e-s-t-s-h-o-w-o-n-e-a-r-t-h-S-e-p-t. 1.

"I knowed it? I knowed it!" shouted the old man, jumping up and down in his glee. "De bigges' show, 'cept one? Dat was John Dobbinson's!"

One reason for the lack of prosperity in the South is shown by the following item from a Georgia newspaper. "An old negro man living ten miles in the country walked to town a few days ago, bringing a sack of bones on his shoulder, which he sold to Mr. Billings for six cents."

In Charlotte one day this week the writer noticed four able-bodied negroes who spent an entire afternoon laboring to get the chorus to the minstrel song, "All I wants is my black baby back." That seemed to be their sole object in life for the time being.

There are two classes that never add anything to the wealth of the community: One is those who are always out of employment and refuse to work; the other is composed of men who work but spend their time in unprofitable employments.

There is many a farmer or tenant who will spend a day fishing and never think of his grassy crops; and many a business man who will spend the day at the base ball park and let his store go. Often this is legitimate amusement and recreation, which is needed.

City Cotton Crop—6,000 Bales.

Hon. J. M. Kirk writes from Moravia, Texas, to the Schulenberg Sticker under date of April 10th last: "My farmer friends, look at every cotton platform as you pass by and you will see the present (square) bale standing on its head with from two to four great gaping wounds at the mercy of those who want to pilfer. The number of bales in Texas taken from the original runs up into the thousands. I remember during the session of the last Legislature, when, the bill known as the Compress Bill was being discussed in the committee room, a gentleman from Galveston, who was opposing the measure, in answer to a question asked by me (one of the Committee) how many bales of cotton were made by the compresses in Galveston that were taken from the original bales compressed there. He answered 'About six thousand bales.' And yet there are those who decry the American Cotton Company's Roundlap bale, from which there is not one ounce of waste and which reaches the mill exactly as it leaves the press.

Governor Wolcott, of Massachusetts, recently appointed a dead man to the office of Medical Examiner in District No. 3, Barnstable County. The appointee not unnaturally failed to qualify, and the Governor's attention having been called to this fact he renominated the deceased physician. The Executive has just learned that the man whom he intended to honor died in April last.

The corn crop for 1899 is now roughly estimated at 2,500,000,000 bushels, exceeding the remarkable crop of 1896. A Chicago dispatch says that Kansas will lead all, with 340,000,000 bushels estimated; Nebraska will have 310,000,000; Iowa 260,000,000, and Illinois, 230,000,000.

Miss Lillie Harris left this morning for Baltimore and from there will return to Sanford where she has a position with Mrs. B. C. Pearce.

No Small Thing.

Mr. D. J. Lynch, one of the numerous general contracting agents in the employ of the Great Wallace Shows, has perfected arrangements for the coming of that mammoth institution, to Greenville on Friday Sept. 29.

The layman has but little, if any conception, of the vast amount of detail which attaches to the conduct of one of these great circuses.

A reporter had a talk with Mr. Lynch, who enumerated a schedule of his contracts and the variety, size and number of his orders, are almost past belief. It is for this reason that the contracting agents have to travel three and four weeks ahead of the show. It is necessary to give the feed man, the grocer, the baker, etc., time in which to prepare for and have on hand enough supplies to meet the increased demand occasioned by the show.

Then the almost endless number of contracts for the department of subsistence, must be seen to carefully. The Great Wallace Shows has six hundred and six people on the pay roll, and this vast number of people requires and efficient and well-organized commissary department to properly handle its dining service.

They Find Us.

The rush of work and duties inside THE REFLECTOR office for some days past has hardly given us time to get outside at all. But we are glad that many of our subscribers come right on to the office to pay up their subscription and renew. There are others we hope will be coming along soon to take a receipt. When you get your tobacco check cashed look us up.

Dress Goods and Trimmings.

Style. No need of making any mistakes in styles if you trade at the right place. And if this store was not entitled to that designation, we would not be doing the business we do. You are not supposed to be "up" on every late fashion plate and change, but wear. And we do so keep up to date. It is not enough for us to sell you anything and everything. We are impelled by business honesty and principle to sell you the latest and most stylish goods. This is our duty as a progressive merchant and we aim to meet the same on all occasions. Our stock is in style, new style, this season's style. When you buy here, therefore, be assured of one certain basic fact: you are procuring the latest, you are wearing what was made to wear at just this time, and, therefore, the most fashionable to be had.

A Nice Town.

Foreman W. F. Burch, of THE REFLECTOR, spent night beforelast in Ayden and found the people in that nice little town busy and hustling. The town is constantly growing and improving. It has the best schools of any town its size to be found. A very interesting revival meeting is in progress in the Baptist church there. He wishes to thank those clever merchants, J. R. Smith & Bro., for special courtesies shown him while there.

A Negro Shot.

Mr. W. A. Darden, of Greene county, was in town today. He said as he was passing Dr. Hornaday's, on his way here, the latter told him he had just extracted a ball from the throat of a colored man named Henry Nobles. He said that Mr. J. M. Patrick, a brother of President D. W. Patrick, of the A. & N. C. railroad, did the shooting last night. He did not know the cause of the trouble.

Publicity for the Merchant.

The merchant who makes constant use of the advertising columns of a newspaper naturally engages the constant attention of the reading public. His announcements are read and commented upon, and the quality and price of the articles he advertises are discussed. In fact, he is the autocrat of the latter day breakfast table. The interest aroused by his newsy bulletins invariably results in a steady increase of patronage. Publicity is what the merchant needs, and the speaking columns of a megaphone newspaper provide it for him in abundance. —Philadelphia Record.

The Oxford Seminary, President Hobgood writes, opens with a boarding patronage 20 per cent. larger than at any previous opening in the long history of the school.

You cannot help seeing the large advertisement of J. C. Cobb & Son, top of third page. And just like seeing that adv. you cannot help trading with them when you go to their store. They have an immense stock and their goods are cheap.

New Pavements.

C. S. Forbes and C. T. Munford are both having cement pavements put in front of their new stores. This kind of pavement is becoming popular and it is a great improvement to the business portion of the town.

Taxes, Taxes!

The tax book for the town has been turned over to me and I am now ready to write receipts for the tax payers. I can be found every afternoon at the store of J. S. Smith. The dog tax is also due and if you want to keep the police from shooting your dog, you had better apply to me at once and get a badge for your dog. September 8th, 1899.
