MARRIAGES THREE.

One in Church, Two at Home.

WHICHARD-RENFREW.

In the Methodist church Tuesday evening Mr. Clarence B. Whichard and Miss Emily Cathrine Renfrew were joined in holy matrimony.

The bridal party reached the church a little past 9 o'clock, and Mrs. J. L. Fleming beautifully rendered the wedding march as they entered.

The ushers were Dr. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse, Messrs. S. M. Schultz, W. F. Burch, A. F. Kennedy and D. J. Whichard.

The bride entered with her maid of honor, Miss Lucy Johnson, and the groom with his best man, Mr. H. Walter Whichard.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. M. Watson and was very impressive.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. V. H. Whichard, where many friends called to extend congratulations.

They received several very pretty and serviceable bridal presents.

COBB-NORMAN.

At 8:30 o'clock this morning at home of Mr. J. S. Norman, brother of the bride, in South Greenville, Mr. J. H. Cobb and Miss Ellen M. Norman were married in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Bilbro, of Ayden.

The couple left on the morning train for a bridal trip to Baltimore and New York. They will remain in the latter city to attend the Dewey reception.

BARBER-ABRAMS.

At the home of the bride, two miles from Greenville, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. A. W. Barber and Miss Mary Abrams were married, Rev. C. L. Little performing the ceremony.

THE REFLECTOR extends best wishes to each of these couples.

Prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church tonight, come and bring some one with you. Mathew 5:16.

Is now taking in the situation around Manila. Now let Uncle Sam relieve Otis and give the Old Buttermilk Ranger a half chance and you'll very soon hear the insurgents calling for the calf rope. The name Buttermilk Ranger was given to our cavalry during the '60s. An army to be victorious must have confidence in their leader. Take the record of General Jackson. Why the soldiers under him knew no such thing as defeat, and to just say that Jackson's in the rear was enough to throw consternation in the camp of the enemy. Confidence is just as important in the commercial world, and the mere mention of the name creates a panic in the mercantile arena. We cannot understand how we can always get in the rear of their prices, but this is easily explained. For we have a leader that knows every hog path that leads to the different manufacturing plants of this country, and keeps posted. In this way you see we only buy from first hands, thereby saving the middle man's profit. Our buyer will soon arrived in Greenville and then—

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1899

"DEWEY" WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19, '99.

The chief interest in the National Reception to Admiral Dewey in this city, will center round the illuminated parade on the evening of October 2, and the presentation of the sword voted by Congress to the Hero of Manila, on the afternoon of the next day. A large amount has been raised by popular subscription and arrangements have been made that will render the occasion unique among the many receptions to distinguished men which Washington has witnessed in the past.

The Olympia, with Admiral Dewey on board will arrive at New York from Gibraltar on Thursday, September 28. The ceremonies in New York will occupy Friday and Saturday, September 29 and 30.

On Sunday evening, October 1, the special train from Washington conveying the reception committee will reach New York and the party will spend Sunday night there. The special train will start from New York on its return trip on Monday, with Admiral Dewey and the detachment of sailors from the Olympia on board, so as to arrive at the Pennsylvania depot in Washington between seven and eight o'clock on Monday evening, October 2.

A number of requests have been sent in from committees in Elizabeth, Trenton, Philadelphia, Chester, Wilmington, Baltimore and other towns along the route, asking that arrangements be made for short stops of the triumphal train, in order to give the citizens an opportunity to greet the great sea captain. But it is unlikely that any of these requests will be acceded to, as to do so would much protract the time of the journey, and the Admiral's state of health renders him unfit to endure such a continuous strain.

As the train pulls into the Pennsylvania depot in Washington, the roar of artillery will signal the arrival of the distinguished guest, and Pennsylvania Avenue will burst into a blaze of light from the Capitol to the Treasury Department. As at present planned, the State, War and Navy buildings, the Peace Monument, the Hancock Statue, the fountain at the corner of Ninth street, and the dome of the Capitol will be outlined with fairy lamps. Pennsylvania Avenue itself will appear as a long arch of parti-colored fires, red fire being burned at 200 places along the route, while 12,000 batteries on each side of the street throw streams of tri-colored stars in such a way as to form arches of fire.

As Admiral Dewey emerges from the Pennsylvania depot at Sixth street, escorted by the reception committee, he will enter his carriage and take his place at the head of the parade. The Olympia's men, headed by the United States Marine Band, will take position immediately behind him, and the procession will start westward up Pennsylvania Avenue to the Treasury Building. Here the Admiral will leave his carriage, and take his position on the reviewing stand, past which the procession will file. Besides the military and naval organizations of the District of Columbia, the militia from a number of the surrounding States will be in line, and there will be a magnificent showing made by the secret societies, and other local organizations. The illumination of the Avenue will last for the two hours that the parade is estimated to take in passing the reviewing stand. General Miles will be the Grand Marshal of the parade.

Next day, Tuesday, October 3, the magnificent sword of honor voted by Congress will be presented to Admiral Dewey by Secretary Long of the Navy Department. The presentation will take place at the east front of the Capitol, late in the afternoon, upon a stand to be erected extending out from the east steps. This stand will purposely be small, accommodating no more than 200 members of Admiral Dewey's party and the invited guests. President McKinley will sit beside the hero of Manila upon the stand, while the cabinet officials and other distinguished persons will occupy places about him.

But though the stand has purposely been kept small, the interesting ceremony to be performed upon it is likely to be witnessed by a larger crowd than has assembled in that huge plaza before, even at the most largely attended Presidential inauguration. A railroad rate from all points to Washington of one and one-third fare for the round trip is assured, while tickets will be good for long enough time to allow a stay of four or five days in Washington.

The sword of honor to be presented to Admiral Dewey was voted by Congress last summer, and has been made at a cost of $10,000 by Tiffany, of New York. With the exception of the steel blade, and the body of the scabbard, the material used is 22 carat gold. On the pommel is carved the word "Olympia," with the sign of the zodiac for December, the lucky month in which Dewey was born. Around these is a wreath of oak leaves. Below this is the coat of arms of the United States, and of Dewey's native State, Vermont, with its State motto, "Freedom and Unity." The guard is beautifully wrought in the shape of an eagle with outspread wings. On the front of the scabbard are the initials "G. D." and under them "U. S. N." On the blade of the sword is engraved the inscription: "The gift of the Nation to Rear Admiral George Dewey, U. S. N., in memory of the victory at Manila Bay, May 1, 1898."

What Paper Costs.

Ladies who go shopping have little idea of the cost of their trip, even in such a minor detail as the cost of paper for the packages they have sent home. A Baltimorean has recently compared the weight of paper with the food supplied to the purchaser. In one day's purchases it is said that the paper wrapping amounted to about 10 per cent of the total. In a list of supplies costing about $1.40 he found that the paper which was weighed with the provisions cost 14 1/2 cents.

Died.

The death angel visited the home of Mr. J. H. Harris last Friday night, and claimed their little seven year old son, Eddie, for his victim. He with six others of the children were down with typhoid fever. His remains were interred in Reedy Branch church yard Saturday evening. Rev. W. L. Bilbro conducted the funeral services. The strickened parents have our sympathy. The remaining six are all improving.—Free Will Baptist.

Having a... at an insane asylum... the editor of The... asked the medical director... He said the most important thing was to avoid any attempt on the part of the preacher to accommodate himself to his audience as if they were different from other people. He said: "If you attempt to adapt yourself to their condition, they will instantly discover it, and they will hate you."

BUCK'S -- STOVES.

Are the best made. If you don't think so, just match them. The makers claim them to be the best stoves built. Match them in beauty, durability and broadness of guarantee, and we will give you the best stove in our store.

Little girl, are you under 14 years old? If so see how many words you can make out of the letters contained in "BUCK'S STOVES AND RANGES." If you can get more words than any other little girl we will give you the beautiful little range on exhibition at our store on October 1st.

Make all the words you can but do not use any letter more times than it is contained in the sentence.

Weathington Pardoned.

Today Sheriff Mooring received a telegram from U. S. Attorney General Griggs informing him that the President had pardoned E. L. Weathington and he could be released from custody. Weathington was a United States prisoner who was sentenced to six months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $200. He has been in jail nearly five months.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, Sept. 20, '99

Winterville Cigars are going this month like hot cakes.

Relief agent Crump is here in Mr. Green's place for a few days.

Glad to know that the sick in the community are improving so rapidly

"Bud Joe" goes to Greenville this morning to work in the REFLECTOR office a few days.

Thomas McGlohon and little daughter, of Grifton, paid our town a nice little visit yesterday. They were the guests of W. L. House.

"Substantial Savings" You know money saved is money made. You would have saved money by buying Wire Fence some time ago before the advance, but as it is still fore it gets any higher.

MONEY IN IT.—Bring your cotton to Winterville, the booming cotton market. Having special advantages, we propose to give the farmer the benefit of them, and strain the market as heretofore. The first bale of this year's cotton sold here for 6 cents, and brought $37.08. B. F. MANNING & CO.

The old adage "Least said is soonest mended" is no doubt true, yet it is our purpose to keep saying and doing more all the time, and if there is any mending to be done, we are not above that either. Would be glad to have our customers say more too. If it is in our favor, we will appreciate it and use it as an advertisement. If it is against us will try to profit by it, and remedy the difficulty.
