THAT PUBLISHING HOUSE DEAL.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Your elaborate quotation in yesterday's paper, from the Winston Sentinel giving the opinion of Evangelist Schoolfield on the "Publishing House Deal," is like a good many other things that go the round of the press where men give "my opinion" upon matters where "my opinion" don't go very far with people who are properly informed. Mr. Schoolfield may be good authority on some questions, for instance "How to do Evangelistic work" but when he, and others of his ilk, arrogate to themselves to sit in Supreme Judgment on the constituted authority of a great church, and then with unblushing modesty prescribe a line of action for "every Methodist preacher in the land"—bah! the whole thing is ridiculously absurd! It is the same sort of intelligence that in civil matters does not respect Courts of Justice but gives us instead "mob law" and lynch law. It is the same sort of intelligence that seeks to prejudice the public mind against Wake Forest College because forsooth, it accepts trust money from Mr. Rockefeller of the Standard Oil Company, or against Trinity College because it is endowed by Mr. Duke, a member of the American Tobacco Trust, or against our State University because it does not pronounce a particular religious Shibolet. All such things may deceive some people, but the more intelligent can abide by a better established truth.

Without any expression of opinion about that "Publishing House Deal," per se, I am,

Yours truly,
N. M. WATSON.

The plate glass front on the new Munford store was put in today. The building will be completed in about two weeks more.

No Race Yet.

By Telegraph to Reflector.

New York, Oct. 13.—The chances for a race today between Columbia and Shamrock are slim, owing to fog and light breeze.

Later.—The race is declared off.

Outrageous Act of Boers.

By Telegraph to Reflector.

Capetown, South Africa, Oct. 13.—A British armored train from Mafeking was blown up and destroyed last night by Boers at Veyburg. The loss of life is not known, but it is feared that it is heavy as as the train had aboard the last refugees who were fleeing from Transvaal and Cape Colon and numbered two hundred, including women and children, besides a number of armed guards. The news of the outrage has aroused the population to a pitch of frenzy.

Brother Killed.

Mr. James Meadows, one of our tobacco buyers, received a telegram Thursday night from Oxford bringing him the sad information that his brother, John, had been killed that day. The only particulars given was that his death was caused by the accidental discharge of a gun while he was riding in a buggy.

The Meeting.

It was a sweet gospel invitation delivered by Rev. J. N. Booth in the Baptist church last night, the foundation of his sermon being the 17th verse of the last chapter of Revelation, "The Spirit and the bride say come," &c. An after meeting was held in which several manifested an interest in their salvation.

The subject for tonight is "Weighed and Found Wanting." Service begins at 7:30.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER, 13, 1899.

There has been more building done in North Carolina during the past six months than during any previous six months of her history.

In every large town or city in the State, during the past six months, contractors have hardly been able to get enough material or mechanics to do their work, so great has been the demand for both labor and material. We do not remember ever was a period in our State's history when a mechanic could more easily get work or buy more with his wages. And not only skilled mechanics find plenty of profitable work, but all kinds of laborers and workmen can get plenty of work at fair wages. This is easily proved by a visit to almost any town in the State.

But while the above is true as to the towns, the rural sections have not heretofore been so blessed, but at least the country—the farmers—are feeling its effects and becoming more hopeful and encouraged. The great increase in the price of cotton is a great God-send to our country and to a class of people who need all they can get. This increase is now fifty per cent. over the price of cotton at this time last year, and it may be still greater. Our farmers have waited long and suffered patiently. For years they have been raising cotton and selling it at a price that hardly paid expenses. Now, at last they can sell at a profit and feel that their labor has not been in vain.—Pittsboro Record.

A Worshiped Idol Shattered.

"Hero worship" generally spoils the hero. It spoiled Hobson. It has spoiled Dewey. Anybody else is at perfect liberty to worship before this naval idol as much as he or she pleases, but as for us, our opinion of the admiral has fallen below zero. For months past a committee at Washington has been passing round the hat.

Hark, hark, the dogs bark,
The beggars are coming to town,
Some in rags, some in tags,
And some in velvet gowns.

The beggars have been coming to town, this time the velvet-gown clad beggars altogether. They have been begging for a house and lot in Washington for the hero of Manila to spend his last days in. Yesterday Admiral Dewey went before this committee and said he not only would accept this house in Washington, but he wanted it quick, and he wanted it in a certain place, and he wanted enough left after it was paid for to pay for the bedsteads, the bed-ticks and the bureaus and chairs which would be necessary to make it habitable.

Now the admiral is drawing $13,000 annual salary, has been getting good wages all his life, and for 20 years has had nobody to support but Dewey, his son, we presume, being able to take care of himself. He will soon receive big prize money for sinking the Spanish ships at Manila—perhaps $100,000. And yet he grabs at this gift of $50,000 which has been begged for him, like a dog jumps at a bone thrown to him. He says if it was a gift of the rich people alone he wouldn't take it, but since there are over 40,000 names on the list of contributors he considers it a gift from the people of the Union, and will accept it. Well the names of the donors that have been published are those of the Goulds and Rockefellers and the rest of the millionaires. A great part of the money comes from them, and the admiral ought to be ashamed to take it.

For our part, commend us to old Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, and Gordon, of Georgia. Both these whitehaired veterans of the Lost Cause recently, after their houses had been burned down, refused to accept new buildings offered by their old comrades and admirers.—Charlotte Observer.

A woman in New Jersey, who married a divorced man, made the business harmonious by employing his first wife as cook, which means that the ex-first wife will continue to run the institution.—Wilmington Star.

ROUNDLAP BALE IS WORTH MORE.

Why a Texas Farmer Compress Man Wishes Success to the American Cotton Company's Package.

The following letter from Mr. J. Adoue, of Calvert, Texas is interesting as showing the attitude toward the American Cotton Company's Roundlap bale of a man who is a cotton farmer as well as the owner of a square bale compress:

"Dear Sir: A few days ago I noticed a bill introduced in the Legislature proposing to tax your company 40 per cent. of its gross receipts. I presume the bill is intended to confiscate your property or drive you out of the state.

"Your machinery compresses the cotton in a smaller and better package than the present compresses. You are in the field now offering to save the cotton growers fully $1.00 per bale by reason of compressing the cotton at the gin and the saving of bagging and ties, and yardage, etc.

"No doubt it is the intention of the Legislature to protect the present compresses from your iniquitous competition and as a compress man I want them to do it.

"As a farmer, however, I hope you will not be driven out; I want to continue to sell you my cotton at about $1.00 per bale more than if put up in square bales.

Yours truly,
(Signed) J. ADOUE.
CALVERT, TEXAS, Feb. 24, 1899."

irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual organs. It cures "whites" and falling of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For Change of Life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer another minute with certain relief within reach? Wine of Cardui only costs $1.00 per bottle at your drug store.

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rev. J. W. SMITH, Camden, S. C., says: "My wife used Wine of Cardui at home for falling of the womb and it entirely cured her."

Home For Admiral Schley.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The Woman's National Industrial League tonight took initial steps to raise a fund with which to purchase a home in Washington for Admiral Schley. An executive committee, with Mrs. Charlotte Smith as chairman, was appointed to push the movement, and the Citizens National bank of Washington, was designated as the institution to which subscribers should send their subscriptions.

Derelict on the Coast.

Beaufort, N. C., Oct. 11.—Captain Sabison, of the schooner Hattie J. Dorman, from Bogue Inlet, bound north, passed on October 9th, seventeen miles south of Cape Lookout light, a large derelict, with nothing but the stock of the foremast standing. There was a flag-pole left, but no flag attached. She was apparently abandoned, as there were no signs of life on board. She is supposed to be the schooner Carrie A. Lane, which was lost off Frying Pan during the recent gale.

Incivility Among Employes

Corporations and institutions generally that control a large number of employes ought to insist on civility as part of their duty. A clerk ought to be expected not merely to sell goods, but to be civil in doing it (politeness is not asked, simply civility), so that not merely the intercourse of life may be pleasanter, but that character might become sweeter and sounder.

We are much behind the civilized nations of the world in this particular. Indeed, there is in Europe a servility that is even more unpleasant than the common incivility of this country. Between the two the latter is preferable. But it is not necessary to be servile in order to be civil. The difference is wide indeed, and we of all people need have no fear that in emulating the one we shall be in danger of falling into the other. But certainly we do need to cultivate the one. It is a quality based on respect. And in this we are lacking.

We do not have proper respect generally. We speak evil of dignitaries. We flout authority. We swagger and push as if we must assert ourselves continually. And this is a sign of weakness. One who is sure of himself is not self-assertive.—Indianapolis News.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

The homes of Gen. J. S. Carr and Judge R. W. Winston at Durham were visited by burglars Tuesday night. About $4,000 worth of jewelry was stolen from Gen Carr's family.

At a rock quarry near Raleigh a horse backed a cart over the edge and had a fall of 50 feet. The animal was erally burst open in the fall.

As to Permanent Advertising.

A high authority makes the wise suggestion that "advertising should be planned on the presumption that it is going to be permanent." In other words, it should be considered as a distinctive and systematic part of the merchant's business. Sporadic trade announcements cannot be continuously beneficial. It is true that they often bring about a spurt in sales; but when they have run their brief course they and the wares described in them are forgotten by the public. On the other hand, the continued publication of business announcements in a newspaper which, because of its reliability and excellence, has become popular and influential with the public in general will produce constant and satisfactory financial returns.—Philadelphia Record.
