THE RACE ON.

By Telegraph to Reflector.

New York, Oct. 16.—The Columbia crossed the line at one minute and forty-five seconds past eleven o'clock and the Shamrock one second later. The wind is blowing at a ten knot rate, the course being due east. Good prospects of a finish.

2 P. M.—The Columbia passed the outer mark a mile and a half in the lead.

3 P. M.—The Columbia rounded the the outer mark at 1:55, the Shamrock at 2:03.

4 P. M.—The Columbia wins at 3:55, a half a mile ahead.

New Typy-Setting Record.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct 14.—William H. Stubbs, a compositor on the Baltimore Sun, broke the world's record for machine type-setting in a contest for a wager of $450 a side with William Duffy of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The contest was held in the Philadelphia Times office. Stubbs set 66,617 ems in five hours and thirty-five minutes, or an average of 11,940 ems an hour. Duffy set 55,026 ems in five hours and twenty-three minutes.

The previous record was 10,800 ems an hour, made in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch office four years ago.

A printer setting type by hand that can average eight thousand a day is considered a fair printer.

Cotton Mills Give the Advantage.

The price of cotton is higher in North Carolina than in New York, and nearly all the cotton now raised in this State is manufactured here.

This would have seemed incredible a few years ago, when most of the North Carolina cotton was shipped to Norfolk and New York, where the price was always higher than it was in this State. This change is very significant and means a great deal.

In the first place it greatly benefits our farmers, who now have almost at their doors a better market than they can find elsewhere. Thus, at less expense and trouble and at a higher price they can now sell their cotton to the factories here at home. It is now no longer necessary, as it was formerly, for our farmers to haul their cotton to some large town for shipment to the North, paying heavy freights and several middle men to handle it. They can now haul it to some cotton mill in the neighborhood and sell it direct without any extra expense.

It is therefore to the best interests of the cotton planter to encourage the building of cotton mills all over our State, so as to have a home market and stimulate the demand for their cotton. And of course every cotton mill creates a demand and makes a home market for all other produce raised by the farmer. —Chatham Record.

High Lights.

No man ever calls twilight the "gloaming" except when he is deeply in love.

When a woman saves street car fare one day she rides twice the next day.

With our eyes fixed on future pleasures we trample on small joys close at hand.

As soon as man has attained knowledge he finds his time is short for using it.

When a man sows wild oats he does not have to worry lest the crop will be short. —Chicago Record.

Some men are born for luck. B. B. Denning, who sailed from Honolulu August 5th, for San Francisco, had a valise which contained $50,000 worth of notes and bonds. Shortly after his arrival at San Francisco the valise mysteriously disappeared and he supposed it was stolen. A few days ago he received notice that the valise was on the Pacific mail wharf among the uncalled for packages. It had been shipped back to Honolulu by mistake as part of the effects of the Purser of the vessel. It isn't often that a valise containing such valuables makes two ocean trips and passes through so many hands without being interviewed by some interested prospector.

Fairly Accurate.

"I wish you'd go into this joint and tell my husband his wife is waiting for him out here," said the hard-featured woman who was standing in front of the saloon.

"Yes'm," replied the newsboy. "How'll I know 'im?"

"If he's looking as he generally is at this time in the evening," rejoined the woman, "he's wearing a thirteen-inch collar, a pair of high-water pants, and a jag about four sizes too large for him."

A Newman, Georgia, news item conveys this startling intelligence: "Millions of grasshoppers fell in showers throughout a wide section in this part of the State last night. The insects came down like hail, and many persons were awakened by the patter of them against the window panes and on the roofs. In many places the ground was covered with grasshoppers, some of them of great size. The unwelcome visitors soon spread over the farms, playing havoc with everything in the fields. They are thought to be of the Texas variety. Reports from every town between here and West Point, a distance of about fifty miles, say there was a rain of hoppers during the night. In many places the insects swarmed in residences, and made life uncomfortable for the housewives. It is supposed that they were blown eastward from Texas by the wind. In Lagrange Judge Longley heard the hoppers beating against the window, and he fired his pistol thinking burglars were trying to break the glass."

READ THE BIBLE 11 TIMES.

Began From Curiosity and Continued Through Interest.

A stout, elderly man was noticed gazing earnestly at a display of "Bibles in all languages" in a show window. A stroller passing halted to see what this man was gazing at and remarked that there was a fine assortment of Bibles.

"Yes," said the man, "but I have one at home older and bigger than any of them." There did not seem to be any connection between the age and size of a Bible, so for lack of anything further to say the stroller asked the man if he had ever read his big Bible through.

"Yes," was the reply. "I have read it through 11 times."

"Holy Moses!" ejaculated the stroller. "What do you think of the Bible after reading it through so many times?"

"Well, the Bible is all right. I will tell you how I came to read it through the first time. An old friend of mine when I was a boy one Sunday preached a sermon from the text, 'For a man shall be judged according to the deeds done in the body.' I asked him if that text was to be found in the Bible, and he said, 'Of course it is.' I said I did not think it was, and he proposed that we both read the Bible through to find it. We did not find it, but I found so many things which interested me that I kept on reading the Bible till I have gone through it 11 times." —Portland Oregonian.

Stood by His Dad.

Once when John Van Buren, son of President Van Buren, was making a speech in behalf of his father, an old Democrat rose in the audience and upbraided him as a bolter. Few men were more effective on the stump or quicker at repartee than John, and he replied to the charge with an anecdote something like this:

"One day a man on horseback came up with a boy who was contending with an overturned load of hay. Instead of tossing the hay back in the wagon, the boy was energetically tossing it hither and thither, regardless of where it landed.

"The traveler halted and said: 'My young friend, why do you work so furiously this hot weather? Why do you not toss the hay back in the wagon and be more deliberate in your labors?'

"The boy stopped, wiped the streaming perspiration off his face on his shirt sleeve, and, pointing to the pile of hay on the roadside, exclaimed, 'Stranger, dad's under thar, and then he set about work more furiously than ever.'"

Got Even With Randolph.

One night when traveling through Virginia John Randolph stopped at an inn near the forks of two roads. The innkeeper was a fine old gentleman, and, knowing his distinguished guest was, he endeavored during the evening to draw him into a conversation, but failed. But in the morning, when Mr. Randolph was ready to start, he called for his bill and paid it. The landlord, still anxious to have some conversation, tackled him again:

"Which way are you traveling, Mr. Randolph?"

"Sir," said Mr. Randolph, with a look of displeasure.

"I asked," said the landlord, "which way you are traveling?"

"Have I paid you my bill?"

"Yes."

"Do I owe you anything more?"

"No."

"Well, I am going just where I please. Do you understand?"

"Yes."

The landlord by this time got somewhat excited, and Mr. Randolph drove off. But to the landlord's surprise in a few minutes he sent one of the servants to inquire which of the forks of the road to take. Mr. Randolph, still being within hearing distance, the landlord yelled at the top of his voice:

"Mr. Randolph, you don't owe me one cent; take whichever road you please!"

A Habit.

The lawyer asked the witness if an incident previously alluded to wasn't a miracle, and the witness said he didn't know what a miracle was.

"Oh, come," said the attorney. "Supposing you were looking out of a window in the twentieth story of a building and should fall out and should not be injured. What would you call that?"

"An accident," was the stolid reply.

"Yes, yes; but what else would you call it? Well, suppose you were doing the same thing the next day; suppose you looked out of the twentieth story window and fell out and again should find yourself not injured. Now, what would you call that?"

"A coincidence," said the witness.

"Oh, come, now," the lawyer began again. "I want you to understand what a miracle is, and I'm sure you do. Now, just suppose that on the third day you were looking out of the twentieth story window and fell out and struck your head on the pavement 20 stories below and were not in the least injured. Come, now, what would you call that?"

"Three times?" said the witness, frowning a little from his apathy. "Well, I'd call that a habit."

And the lawyer gave it up.—Gentlewoman.

A Law That is a Dead Letter.

"There is one law in the State that is practically a dead letter," said Capt. Bradley, of the Supreme Court Library yesterday. "It is section 3841 of The Code, which provides that every person using weights, measures, balances, steel-yards, etc., shall take them to the standard keeper of the county once every two years to have them tested and stamped. The section imposes a fine of $50 for failure to comply with the law, $25 to go to the standard keeper and $25 to the county, but no body seems ever to be fined. If the law were suddenly rigidly enforced the standard keeper would become a plutocrat in short order. And it is a good law too."—Raleigh News and Observer.

A Windfall Fishermen.

Beaufort, Oct. 13.—The large threemasted schooner Carrie A. Lane, lumber-laden from Apalachicola, bound for Nork, Conn., Capt. Schoolfield, sprung a leak, shifted her cargo, cut away her mast and was abandoned during the recent gale, the British steamer Rhodessa, rescuing the crew on September 26th, 70 miles southeast of Cape Fear. The vessel drifted in. She was sighted, boarded and safely anchored yesterday, three miles off Brown's inlet, by Capt. Scott's crew, who were seine fishing on the beach. Only part of the deck load was gone and the cabin burned. Otherwise the cargo and hull of the vessel are good. They have wired for a tug and will tow her into the harbor. The find is a valuable one, the fishing season being the poorest in years. Capt. Scott's crew are all poor men and it is quite a windfall to them.

THE FURNITURE MEN

Making The Pucker.

Little 3-year-old Bessie ran flying down the front steps with an agonizing cry of "Papa! Papa!" Her father had started downtown, but he stopped and waited. "What is it, Bessie?" he asked. "I want to kiss you good-by," she said. "Well, I'm waiting for the kiss," he said. "I'll give it to you," she replied, with trembling lip and quivering chin, "just as soon as I can make the pucker."

During a revival in Davie county E. D. C. Pope was converted. He was the owner of a government distillery, and immediately after his conversion he went to his distillery and tore the stills from the furnace and destroyed what beer and mash there was in the tubs. What whiskey was on hand was in the government warehouse, and he had no right to trouble that without stamping it. He will have to account to the government for the beer as though he had converted it into whiskey and this will cost him about $32.

A SHOWER OF STARS.

The Comet Will Collide With the Earth November Fourteenth.

Astronomers tell us that we are to have a tremendous shower of stars about the 14th of November. It is the occasion of the crossing of the earth's orbit by Biela's comet, which occurs every 30 years. One astronomer predicts more than the shower of stars. He says that the comet will come in contact with the earth at this visitation and that the earth will be destroyed in the collision. We, however, are assured by a French astronomer that should the comet collide with the earth, there would be no injury to the earth but that the damage would be entirely to the comet. However the shower of stars will be expectantly awaited and there will probably be little sleep on the night of the 13 and 14 for fear the spectacle escapes us.
