THEY HAD WIND TODAY

And The Boats Went Scooting.

By Telegraph to Reflector.

New York, Oct. 20.—Today's contest between Columbia and Shamrock was the most interesting of the series so far. Shamrock crossed the starting line at 11:00:31 with Columbia 1 minute and 13 seconds to the rear. The wind was blowing 21 miles an hour and the yachts made 5 miles in the first half hour. At this time Shamrock was 55 seconds ahead with Columbia gradually lessening the distance between them.

When the outer mark was reached Columbia had taken the lead by a few seconds, Columbia passing at 12:18:20 and Shamrock at 12:19:02.

At the ten mile to finish point Columbia had three-quarters mile lead. Wind increasing.

Columbia won the race coming out five minutes ahead. This gives Columbia the victory, she having won three straight races, and keeps the cup in America.

This is a Market.

Of course we do not want to disparage smaller markets, as even Greenville was once small and had to make a beginning, but we cannot help from feeling just a little amused sometime at seeing some markets boasting of selling 50,000 or 75,000 pounds in a week. Only today we read in one paper where a certain warehouse had a big sale of 6,000 pounds on one floor. Bless your soul, here in Greenville they sometimes sell a quarter million pounds in a single day and foot up a million in a week. And yesterday one warehouse, the Liberty, had a break of 90,000 pounds. We believe that was the largest break ever had on any North Carolina warehouse floor.

Mr. F. S. Maulsby Dead.

Mr. F. S. Maulsby died Thursday night a few minutes before 12 o'clock. His death was a surprise to all, as he had been sick but a short while and had only taken his bed Monday. He was suffering with an abscess but no one thought his condition serious until that night.

Mr. Maulsby was about 43 years old. He moved to Greenville from Fayetteville a little more than two years ago and engaged in the saloon business. His remains were sent to Fayetteville for interment. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge of Fayetteville and the lodge here accompanied the corpse to the depot and sent Rev. I. A. Canfield as an escort. Mr. S. P. Hardwick also accompanied the remains to Fayetteville.

Warren-Fleming.

Cards are out for the marriage of Dr. William Edward Warren and Miss Eva Mae Fleming in the Baptist church at Pactolus on Wednesday morning, Nov. 1st, 1899, at 7:30 o'clock. They will beat home after Nov. 8th.

Died.

A little son of Mr. W. G. Smith, about two miles from town, died Thursday night with a yellow chill. The boy was about 10 years old and had the chill Thursday morning.

Where Greenville Loses.

We heard a traveling man say at the depot here that he knew of a number of other traveling men who go to Kinston to spend their nights and return to Greenville on the morning trains to look after their business here, and go back again on the evening train, for no other reason than that Greenville is without hotel accommodations.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER, 20, 1899.

How much worse was the treatment of the Cubans by Spain than the treatment of the Boers by England, or to come nearer, than the treatment of the Filipinos by America.

Mr. R. R. Cotton, of this county, himself a practical farmer and a member of the Board of Directors of the State prison, recently made a tour of inspection of the several State farms and made a report of his investigations at the meeting of the Board in Raleigh last Tuesday. His report made excellent reading, and showed the exact condition of things at each farm. It also showed in a number of particulars that there might be improvement in the work and management of the farms and that the convicts might be better clothed and cared for.

The Cook Question.

Says the Greensboro correspondent of the Charlotte Observer: I notice that the Statesville Landmark is offering long-taw advice on the cook question and cheerfully suggests that the people here get something better than the negro cook. Can't. "No Irish need apply," because there are no Irish to apply. As for the rest, everybody else is at the cotton mill or at school. 'Spec a man to do his own cooking. The Landmark wasn't exactly offering advice, beloved, but criticism. Such a continuous and protracted howl has gone up from Greensboro on account of the cooks saying that we expected the next thing would be an appeal to the North Carolina Legislature to pass a law compelling the cooks to stay in Greensboro. Anticipating this we mildly suggested that the colored sisters had a right to go North or anywhere else they want to. Let them go in peace. And we have little sympathy with the whine that we can't do without them. The remedy? Let more white girls learn to cook. There are hundreds and thousands of this class seeking employment everywhere. But they all want to be teachers, stenographers, seamstresses, salesladies, milliners, etc., etc. Let these young women be taught that to be capable of managing the culinary department of a household is not a disgrace but an accomplishment that any sensible woman should be ashamed not to possess. If such a state of affairs existed fewer girls would be getting married who know how to paint a little, do a little fancy work and drum on the piano, but are entirely ignorant of the duties of a housekeeper, and who, instead of making home attractive makes it a place that the average man wants to flee from as he would a pestilence.

In the second place, more men must learn to be domestic servants. Women are taking their places and crowding them out in other lines. Why can't a man learn to cook and keep house—and make a business of it—as well as to do other things? He can and there is no good reason why he shouldn't.

It will be a happy day when we are freed from the thralldom of the lazy, vicious, sloven black cooks. The old mammy of slavery days has departed and her daughter is unlike her. Few of them are good cooks, most of them are lazy, vicious, sloven and insolent, and nine-tenths of them steal and feed one or more persons out of the kitchen of their employers.—Statesville Landmark.

SPINNERS PREFER ROUND-LAP BALES.

The Demand in New England and Abroad Largely in Excess of Last Year's

The spinners of New England having learned by experience of the advantages conferred by its use, are heavy buyers of The American Cotton Company's Roundlap baled cotton. One Massachusetts mill alone bought 25,000 Roundlap bales the latter part of September, and purpose hereafter using no cotton packed by any other method if it can get enough Roundlap bales to supply its spindles. Another Massachusetts mill has bought 8,000 Roundlap bales this season, and twenty-five other New England mills have ordered smaller lots.

The European demand for The American Cotton Company's bales is largely in excess of last season's. Early in October 8,000 Roundlap bales for Liverpool were shipped from Galveston in one steamer. Shipments go forward regularly to Genoa, Havre, Bremen, and Barcelona.

The war in the Philippines is proceeding this way: A body of troops march out and takes possession of a town. There is no fighting of consequence. The Filipinos fire a few volleys—sometimes wounding two or three Americans soldiers and occasionally killing one—and retreat. The Americans occupy the town which the Filipino forces have vacated and Otis sends a report to Washington telling of the great success of our forces in capturing the place aforesaid, always adding that great loss was inflicted on our side while the casualties on our side were few. Then in a few hours or a few days the troops vacate the town which they had captured with such a flourish of trumpets and march back whence they came or march somewhere else. When they have gone the Filipinos come out of their hiding places and occupy the town as before—and there you are. Our warfare in the Philippines is an exact counterpart of Spain's warfare in Cuba—barring possibly the cruelty to the natives—about which we all used to laugh so much.—Statesville Landmark.

Editor J. P. Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, has returned home from Europe. He has printed some interesting notes of his trip.

Happenings in North Carolina.

J. A. Weddell, of Tarboro, shot and killed a half-witted negro Wednesday night. Another party had sent the negro to Mr. Weddell's late at night, and the negro's actions were so strange that he was mistaken for a burglar. The coroner's jury exonerated Mr. Weddell from crime.

A man who was taking two car loads of hogs north from Sweetwater, Tenn., had bad luck Monday. The hogs were taken out of the cars at Spencer and all of them that had not died on the way died during the day. It was quite a loss to the owner.—Salisbury Sun.

ONE AFTER ANOTHER.

And The Column Keeps Moving.

Mr. R. Greene is having an addition built to his residence on Third street.

Mr. J. B. Cherry is having his dwelling on Fifth street enlarged and improved.

Mrs. Lou Rountree and Mrs. S. A. Charlotte went to Ayden Thursday evening.

Miss Pearl Herring, who was visiting Mrs. H. L. Coward, left Thursday evening for her home in Greene county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cherry returned Thursday evening from Baltimore where Mr. Cherry had been for an operation on his eye. His friends are glad to know he is getting on well.

J. B. Worsley and son, of Asheville, arrived here this morning to spend a few days. This was Mr. Worsley's old home, but it has been twelve years since he was here. He says Greenville looks like another town to him.

The Best of All.

A gentleman who has been in every tobacco stemmery in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, told THE REFLECTOR that the plant of Strause Brothers at Greenville was the best equipped in either of these States. In fact he said he had never seen a better plant anywhere.

Thus They Were Married.

An exchange prints the following marriage ceremony which was said by a Tennessee Squire a short time ago: "Wilt thou take her for thy pard; for better or for worse; to have, to hold, to fondly guard till hauled off in a hearse? Wilt thou let her have her way, consult her many wishes; make the fire every day and help her wash the dishes? Wilt thou comfort and support her father and mother, Aunt Jemima and Uncle John, three sisters and a brother?" And his face grew pale and blank; it was too late to jilt; as through the floor he sank he said: "I wilt."

Population in 1900.

The population of the United States in June, 1900, will be, according to the estimate of the Treasury Department, about 77,676,000. This figure, according to an article by Henry Farquhar in the National Geographic Magazine, is too large. The population at the time named, he thinks will be over 75,000,000 and under 76,000,000. Attention is called to the decline of immigration in recent years, affecting the estimates of population. In 1884 as many as 518,592 immigrants were recorded and in 1892 the number rose to 623,084, but with 1893 a decided decline set in and in 1898 there were but 229,299 immigrants. In the decade 1870-80 the aggregate of immigrants was 2,812,191; in 1880-'90 there was an increase to 5,246,600; in the nine years ended June 30, 1899, the total was 3,750,000. It is assumed that the immigration during the current fiscal year will reach 351,000—an excessive figure, it seems. Mr. Farquhar does not think the natural rate of increase of the population has declined.

Gala Week in Richmond.

The week of October 31st will be gala week in Richmond, the occasion being the launching of the United States torpedo boat Shubrick on the 31st instant. Great preparations are being made by the citizens of the capital of the Old Dominion to celebrate the event.

Admirals Dewey and Schley and President McKinley will be present, and the launching will be preceded by a trades' parade, partaking of the nature of the Mardi Gras and will be followed by a great display of fireworks and tournament and races. The fireworks will be gorgeous in the extreme, in fact the most magnificent ever seen in a Southern city, and will cost over $1,700.

The railroads offer one fare for the round-trip, including an admission coupon to the races and tournament. A large crowd will undoubtedly invade Richmond during that week.

Sentence Confirmed.

At the spring term of Pitt Superior Court Lorenzo Brown was convicted of rape and sentenced to be hanged on the 9th of July. His case was appealed to the Supreme Court and that tribunal sustained the sentence of the lower court. The day of execution will have to be named again and only executive clemency can now save Lorenzo's neck from the gallows. An effort will be made to have the sentence commuted to imprisonment for life.
